JERUSALEM. A slight decrease is reported in the Jewish population of the agricultural colonies. Haifa is the only city in Palestine where the Christians predominate.

WEIZMANN HINTS AT ARAB FEDERALISM, TELLS ZIONISTS TO PREPARE.

BERLIN, Jan. 18, (Jewish Telegraphic Agency) The important acknowledgement that the idea of a Federation of Arab states, including Palestine and Transjordan, is gaining ground, and the advice to Zionists to be prepared to fit into the new scheme and derive the greatest possible benefit to the Zionist movement, was made by Dr. Chaim Weizmann, President, at the semi-annual meeting of the Greater Actions Committee of the Zionist Organization in session here.

Dr. Weizmann denied that he had negotiated regarding Zionist participation in the proposed Federation of Arab States. He declared he had not seen Emir Abdullah, the Transjordanian ruler, since the latter's visit to London a few months ago.

Confidence in the leadership of Dr. Weizmann and Nahum Sokolow was proposed and passed. The Committee bringing in this recommendation proposed also that separate action by individual members of the Zionist Executive Committee should not be countenanced, thus disapproving of the individual acts of Vladimir Jabotinsky, who announced that despite his opposition to phases of the leaders' work, he proposed to remain a member of the Executive.

Jurisdiction over the financial institutions of the Zionist Organization will be vested in the future in members of the Executive Committee, the various members being placed at the head of the administrations of the different Zionist Funds such as the Palestine Foundation Fund, the Jewish National Fund, the Jewish Colonial Trust, etc.

JABOTINSKY QUILTS EXECUTIVE AND ZIONIST ORGANIZATION

Founder of Jewish Legion Resigns Following Disagreement With Weizmann and Adverse Vote On Petlura Affair.

Berlin, January 19 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency). Vladimir Jabotinsky, founder of the Jewish Legion and for three years member of the Executive Committee of Zionist Organization, resigned from the leadership as well as membership of the Organization at the last session of the meeting of the Greater Actions Committee Thursday.

Mr. Jabotinsky communicated his resignation to a special committee before which he was to explain the nature of the negotiations he had with agents of Petlura, the Ukrainian insurrectionary. The committee is said to have passed an adverse vote on his connection with the Petlura-Slavinsky affair. Simultaneously, a letter from Jabotinsky was read by Deputy Gruenbaum of Warsaw, who presided, in which he declared that the Executive Committee, having decided in favor of identical action on the part of all members, he felt it was best for him to resign and reserve for himself freedom of action and criticism of the Zionist leaders' policies.

Mr. Jabotinsky's resignation has not come as a surprise to circles acquainted with the internal events of the Zionist Organization. There has been a serious conflict between Dr. Weizmann and Mr. Jabotinsky ever since the former accepted, on behalf of the Zionist Organization, Winston Churchill's interpretation of the Balfour Declaration, as set forth in the White Paper of June 1920.

Jabotinsky has been demanding a free hand in the political negotiations, without being bound in each case by the majority vote of the Executive. Particularly, Jabotinsky desired changes in the Palestine Administration, a firmer attitude towards the British Government and different dealings with the Arab leaders. Above all, he favored that the Zionist leaders should put forth the greatest effort to secure the establishment of a Jewish Legion as part of the Palestine Garrison. Dr. Weizmann did not support heartily Mr. Jabotinsky in any of these demands.

While friends and opponents alike consider that it had become impossible for Jabotinsky to remain on the Executive, they regard it as a grave mistake on his part to have left the Organization entirely. It is maintained that by withdrawing from membership in the Zionist Organization he vitiated whatever changes he might have had for constructive criticism, had he remained a soldier in the Zionist ranks.
