"FORWARD" EDITOR SEES LITTLE HOPE FOR EUROPE FROM AMERICAN JEWRY.

Native Born Indifferent, Others Exhausted, He Declares.

BERLIN, July 10, (J.T.A. Correspondence) Little may be expected of American Jews toward lifting politically Europe's Jewry to its feet again, in the opinion of Ab Cohan, editor of the Jewish Daily "Forward", of New York, who is now in Berlin.

In reply to the question if European Jewry could continue to count in the future on material and political aid from the Jews of America, Mr. Cahan said:

"So far as the political aid is concerned, this was in my opinion a dream from the very beginning. I do not believe that it will be more successful in the future.

"Unfortunately the prospects for material aid are but little better. The native born American Jews have shown an inexplicable indifference towards European Jewry. Only the workers, the Jewish masses, and the Jews of German origin, so-called "German Yahudim", have displayed an amazing amount of brotherly self-sacrifice. But now they too have become exhausted."

The strongest impression he had received in Europe, Mr. Cahan said, was that of the fight against the reactionary movement in Bavaria. Karl Auer, the Social Democratic leader in Bavaria, often erroneously reported as a Jew, had told him that 4000 Bavarian workers were organized to fight against the National Socialist (Fascisti) peril.

MILITANT JEWRY FOUND ONLY IN EAST EUROPE, SAYS PUBLISHER.

BERLIN, July 10, (J.T.A. Correspondence) Jewish self consciousness is virtually non-existent in Italy and France, and the hope of a military Jewry is to be found only in the East European contries, Morris Weinberg, publisher of the New York Day (Tog), declared in an interview with the J.T.A. here.

Mr. Weinberg is touring Europe to study immigration problems.

"I am afraid" he said "that later generations of American Jewry will constantly lose more and more of their Jewish consciousness. In Italy and France, too, I have found a Jewry which is, nationally speaking, dead. But in Poland, Austria and neighboring countries, I have met a Jewish generation which represents our national future. Men like Deputy Gruenbaum, Senator Dr. Thon and others symbolize not only Jewish feeling but also Jewish power."

Regarding the immigration question, Mr. Weinberg said it was not true to say that hundreds of thousands of East European Jews want to go to America. Apart from those persons who wish to join their relatives in America, there are in Eastern Europe about 50,000 to 60,000 young people who are industrious and capable and form a splendid element for emigration, he said.

CATHOLIC EDITOR DENIES POPE BLAMED JEWS

Pittsburg, July 26 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency). Denial of the authenticity of the report appearing in the general press recently that the Pope in a private conversation with a prominent personage had blamed the Jews for the outbreak of anti-church feeling in Russia and declared that the Jews were responsible for the treatment accorded to the heads of the Catholic church there, is made by R. R. Hull, Associate Editor of "Our Sunday Visitor", a Catholic periodical.

The denial is in a letter to the JEWISH CRITERION of this city. No Catholic news agency has carried any such news, says the Catholic editor. The report he declared is the work of "busybodies who are at work trying to stir up enmity between Jews and Catholics in this country. "It is certainly wrong to lay the responsibility for Russian Bolshevism on the Jewish race and no informed Catholic would do so".

The letter of Mr. Hull confirms the Jewish Telegraphic Agency's own Rome report, which also challenged the truth of the alleged Vatican statement.

McADOO LEADS FORD IN MICHIGAN POLL

Grand Rapids, Mich. July 26 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency). In Ford's own state, Ford is outdistanced by McAdoo in a poll for the presidency conducted by Senator Ferris of Michigan.

Senator Ferris admitted that he had sent out a questionaire to Michigan Democrats and that the result had been in McAdoo's favor rather than of the State's native son.

"I believe", said Senator Ferris, "the Democrats would be making a grave mistake to nominate Henry Ford".
