YOUNG VIENNA JEWS BEAT BACK ASSAILANTS.

Meet Attack With Counterblows; 20 Pogromists Arrested.

VIENNA, Sept. 17, (Jewish Telegraphic Agency) Young Jews of Vienna, instead of relying on the police, took defensive steps of their own when attacked by a mob of Hakenkreuzler, thereby averting what the Hakenkreuzlers hoped would develop into a pogrom.

Following a mass-meeting of them, the Hakenkreuzler, breaking through police lines invaded the opera district, entering all of the coffee houses of that section, hunting for Jews. Parties of Jewish men and women and those who appeared to be Jews were accosted by the mob, many of the Hakenkreuzlers carrying concealed weapons, and all of them armed with blackjacks.

Seeing that they could count on little assistance from the police, Jewish young men organized to beat back the assailants. A number of the mob were seized by the Jews and turned over to the police. In all, about twenty were arrested.

Another outbreak occurred in a Vienna hotel where holiday services were held. Hakenkreuzler broke into the hall, and the worshippers unarmed and unwarned were forced to flee. The same night Hakenkreuzler toured the city in automobiles, distributing thousands of anti-Semitic circulars of a highly inflammatory brand.

Morris Weinberg and David Shapiro, publishers of The Day, announced that they would purchase "twenty scholarships of $50 each. The purpose of the luncheon was to arrange for the canvass of the city by trades, and businesses, each trade to select its own volunteers to raise its particular quota.

The full letter from President Coolidge follows:

"One of the dangers to America is that those who come here will break with their past. People need something to which they can tie. They need that obedience which is only born of reverence. The sentiment of reverence comes only from knowledge. There is room in our country for everything that is good; there is no restraint here save against evil. Those who come to our shores must bring what they have which is good with them and never cease to cherish it.

"Teach the ancient landmarks to the youth of the Jewish race. Let them learn to venerate freedom by coming unto a knowledge of the truth. That learning and wisdom which has been a sustaining influence to the Jewish race through all the centuries must be preserved for the benefit of mankind. The youth of your people can associate themselves for no more patriotic purpose."
