Warsaw, August 6 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service) The secular Jewish schools will not be able to reopen with the beginning of the new school year, anunces the Administra- tion of the schools to-day, unless the Jewish population provides sufficient financial support. The position at present is critical, and unless some change takes place soon thousands of Jewish children will be deprived of their educational facilities.

The Board of the Warsaw Municipal Council rejected an application of the Central Jewish School organization for a subsidy of 25,000 Zlotis (about $5000). Hitherto, the Jewish schools were supported by Jewish relief organizations of America.

GERMAN JEWISH STUDENTS DEFINE THEIR VIEWS: REFLECT BOTH NATIONALISM AND ASSIMILATION

Berlin, August 7 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service)

To fight for equal rights in the country on the ground of self-respect, is the aim of the German Jews organized in the Central Union of German Citizens of the Jewish Faith, declared Dr. Berlak at the conference held this week at Wuerzburg of the Union of German Students of the Jewish Faith, an affiliated body. Today the fight must be extended, he went on, to reject the doctrines of Nationalist Judaism, in the same way as we reject absolute assimilation.

In political party questions in Germany, a second speaker, Dr. Fuchs, declared, the Union is neutral, but it is pledged to oppose all anti-Semitic parties. The German Jew, he continued, is a part of the German people since the period of the Emancipation. Jewish Emancipation, however, is possible only in a liberal German State and therefore the work of the German Jews is to fight for the preservation of such a liberal German State.

WHO BOMBED JEWISH SYNAGOGUE IN TRANSYLVANIA? J. T. A. REPRESENTATIVE VISITS TOWN

Joszashely, July 29 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service) The J.T.A. representative in Cluj, who visited the town of Joszashely, has found the Jewish population here in a state of indescribable panic over the blowing up of their synagogue. The whole of the interior of the synagogue building has been destroyed. The Ark of the Law, the Scrolls of the Law, the Reader's desk, and the sfts have all been blown to atoms. The only article which has remained is the clock, with the hands still pointing to the time of the explosion, when it stopped -- 11.8 p.m. The Jews of the town were sitting Shiva at the entrance of the synagogue, mourning. The synagogue, which was built only two years ago by the generosity of a Jew in the neighbourhood, Max Pollacsek, was the place of worship of the Jews not only of Joszashely, but also of the neighbouring village of Gurahoncz. For years, the Jewish populations of the district were without a proper place of worship, being too poor to erect a synagogue. The disaster which has robbed them now of their synagogue has therefore hit them harder than can be described.

"It was the most beautiful synagogue in the world", said one greybeard to the J.T.A. representative. "It had no equal anywhere. In Joszashely and Gurahoncz there are together only about fifty or sixty Jewish families, poor working people intellectuals of the district, in their branch of the Hackenkreuzler organization, having been insulting us and stirring up the peasants against us. But this outrage we did not expect."
NEW JEWISH EMIGRATION SOCIETY FORMED: TO OPEN UP NEW FIELD OF COLONIZATION AND IMMIGRATION.

Berlin, August 4. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service)

A Central Federation for regulating Jewish emigration and colonization is being established here, following on a series of conferences of Jewish social workers held under the chairmen-ship of Dr. Lwowitch, of the O.R.T.

The idea which has led to the formation of the new Federation is that with the closing of the countries of immigration, it is necessary first to ensure a place of colonization before the emigrants are to leave the countries in which they are domiciled.

Reports on the situation were made by Dr. Singalowsky and Mr. Litwek. It was then decided to establish a Society for Emigration and Colonization whose aim should be the opening up of new immigration possibilities for that section of the Jewish population of Eastern Europe which must emigrate. The Society will strive to influence all other organizations which are active in the fields of emigration and colonization.

JEWS NATIONALITY IN CZECHO-SLOVAKIA: OFFICIAL PRESS AGENCY ON THE RIGHTS OF NON-NATIONALIST JEWS

Prague, August 4. (JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY, Mail Service)

The official Press Agency here, the Czecho-Slovak Korrespondenz, issued a statement on the position of the Jews in the country.
The Jews of Czecho-Slovakia, says the Press Agency, are recognized as a nation, but the assimilationists, too, are not hindered in their activity. The Czecho-Slovakian Constitution provides for no counting of heads of the national minorities for taxation, and the Jews are consequently at liberty to declare themselves members of whichever nationality they choose. With regard to the question of schools, the Constitution recognizes the language of a particular nationality so that in the case of the Jewish schools, public funds can be obtained only if the language of instruction is Yiddish or Hebrew. Demands for public Jewish schools with German, Czech, Slovakian or any other language of instruction would be in contradiction to the Constitution, unless it is a question of purely religious schools.
In the whole of the Constitution there is ... a word said about a Jewish nation, but grounded is given for regarding the Jews as a national minority. Above all, the Constitution declares that all citizens are equal before the law, irrespective of race, language or religion. It allows that the Jews may regard them-seves of Jewish nationality, but it does not say that they must so recognize themselves. Officially, the Constitution knows no Jewish nationality. "The political Jewish question" is a very complicated one,"the communiqué states,"Czecho-Slovakia is not pledged to any Jewish clause, because the responsible authorities knew that such a pledge in regard to Czecho-Slovakia was superfluous. The Czecho-Slovakian Constitution offers all groups of the population lawful opportunities."
