SAMUEL. EINSTEIN. DEEDES. TO SERVE ON ROSENBLUM MEMORIAL COMMITTEE

Sir Herbert Samuel, Professor Albert Einstein, and Sir Wyndham Deedes have consented to serve as members of the Committee which is to have charge of the building of the Sol Rosenbloom Memorial at the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, Palestine, according to an announcement made by Dr. Stephen S. Wise.

In a letter to Mrs. Rosenbloom, who established a fund for the erection of the building in memory of the late Sol Rosenbloom, Sir Herbert Samuel wrote: "I am deeply impressed by the generosity of your gift and by the wisdom of its allocation. I am glad to be in a position to accept your kind invitation to be a member of the Committee which is to advise on the administration of your most generous gift to the Hebrew University at Jerusalem."

"It is certainly a magnificent memorial which you are raising to your late husband, worthy altogether of the great interest which I know he took in the work of building a National Home in Palestine. Although I feel quite unworthy to act as a member of the Advisory Committee, I find myself unable to refuse; the more so as it will give me great pleasure to do anything to keep alive the very warm memory that I retain both of yourself and your late husband," Sir Wyndham Deeds wrote.

In his letter Professor Einstein declared: "I beg to offer you my joyous appreciation of the fitting memorial which you are building to your late husband, and for the gift which you have made to the Jewish people. Such an attitude will do much to bring our people to spiritual blossoming once again, and to win honor for the Jewish name. I gladly accept the appointment as a member of the Advisory Committee for the Sol Rosenbloom Hebrew University Memorial."

DAILY DIGEST OF PUBLIC OPINION ON JEWISH MATTERS

[The purpose of the Digest is informative: Preference is given to papers not generally accessible to our readers. Quotation does indicate approval.—Editor.]

The Decision of the Jewish Writers of America to Back Land Settlement Work in Russia

The decision of the Jewish Writers Club of New York to take active measures in the direction of helping the Jewish land settlement work in Russia, is commended by the "Day" in its June 5 issue.

The decision of the Jewish Writers Club, made in response to an appeal from Jewish writers in Russia, is termed "a correct, timely action" and the paper states further:

"The Jewish writers in Soviet Russia have declared that the whole Jewish life in that country is being reconstructed on new, fruitful foundations. We knew that before. The largest, most important part of the Jewish press, and many Jewish writers individually, placed themselves in service of the great work.

"But it is not enough. Even more has to be done, and the Jewish writers of America have decided not only to continue, but to renew with an added tempo and zest the activities among the Jewish masses here for the fruitful realization of the wonderful opportunity which is offered to Russian Jewry today.

"The Jewish writers are eager to add their energy and the influence of their word, to put their hand to the task of bringing to full fruition this historically-important work. The Jewish writers will rouse the Jewish masses to continued energetic relief activity."

Says New York's Achievement in the U.C. Shows Jews Enjoy "Drives"

"To raise more than $6,000,000 for relief in Europe is a magnificent achievement for New York City," declares the "Jewish Times" of Baltimore, in its May 28 issue.

"There is no doubt," the paper proceeds, "that New York's success will be the motive force which will develop an equally marvelous response throughout the country to the tragic cry for help that comes from millions of stricken Jews.

"New York was supposed to be 'fed up' on drives. There seems to be some color of truth to the statement of Dr. Goldsmith at the Social Service Conference last week, that people enjoy drives and 'being driven.' He spoke of the 'exhilaration of the drive, the thrill of distant appeal, the compensation of ministering to suffering or help achievement for away.' The history of Jewish philanthropy in America shows that all that is necessary is for Jews to understand a cause, and the response is unquestioned and immediate."

Hebrew Paper Objects to Apologies for Petlura

Severe criticism of those Jews who are trying to clear Petlura of the guilt of the pogroms that took place under his regime in the Ukraine, is voiced in the New York Hebrew paper "Hadoar" in an article by Menachem Ribaloof.

"He (Petlura) was a shrewd fellow," we read. "He acted with calculation and deliberate knowledge. When he understood that pogroms against Jews were not practical, he gave the command, and there were no pogroms. When he found it expedient he received a Jewish delegation to whom he promised many things. On the strength of his democratic past and by his 'liberal' speeches, through various shrewd tactics he fooled us and many were led to believe that he was indeed innocent.

"Others have endeavored to convince us that he was not guilty. Because of these Jewish ministers in his cabinet there are and will be heard here and there apologies for Petlura, but this is a national shame. The Jews did not and will not forget the era of blood and now is the time to open again the book of recollections and to reveal to the entire world what happened to us during those terrible days in the Ukraine.

"Schwartzbard publicly sanctified the name of Israel. He now has placed before the tribunal not himself but all the pogrom perpetrators wherever they may be. It is we who are the accusers."

The National Farm School Shows the Way

The effort of the National Farm School, which held its conference in New York last week, to develop the movement from the city back to the soil on a nationwide scale, is discussed editorially by the "American Hebrew," which observes, in its June 4 number:

"Up to the present the National Farm School has devoted itself chiefly to educating Jewish lads who possessed the agricultural urge. Under the inspiration of Mr. Erlanger, who is the National Chairman of the School, a broader, a truly national field, is to be opened. It is hoped that as a result of the conference the interchange of ideas among representative educators and agricultural experts will tend to promote the ideal of the School on national lines. At present, the National Farm School is the only institution of its kind that offers to young men, who have neither the means nor educational requirements for pursuing agricultural courses in State schools, an intensive three years' course of twelve months a year in practical and scientific farming without charge for tuition or board. The nation requires, and should maintain many such schools."

Urge Catholic-Jewish-Negro Counter Action Against Klan

An arraignment of the Klan from the Jewish, Catholic and Negro points of view is contained in the June-July-

August number of the "North American Review."

The warning to the Klansmen that they are "playing with fire which may burst into a conflagration that will consume them," is made by Rabbi Joseph Silverman, who predicts that—

"They (the K.K.K.) may unwittingly create the very things they fear. Their opposition to Catholics, Jews, Negroes, non-religious citizens and aliens in general may create a combination for self defense which does not now exist."

That the Catholics, Jews, Negroes and all liberal elements in the country ought in fact to proceed to create such a combination, is the conviction of Dr. W. E. Burkhardt Du Bois, noted writer and leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who contributes an article from the Negro standpoint.

"It does not make any difference what the Ku Klux Klan is fighting for or against," Dr. Du Bois says. "Its method is wrong and dangerous and uncivilized, and those who oppose it, whether they be its victims like the Jews, Catholics, and Negroes, or those who are lauded as its moral sponsors like the white Southerners, the American Legion and the Anglo-Saxons, it is the duty of all these people to join together in solemn phalanx against the method which is an eternal menace to human culture."

While Martin J. Scott, writing for the Catholics, believes with Dr. Silverman and Dr. Du Bois, that the Klan continues to be a great menace, Prof. William Starr Myers, of Princeton, takes a somewhat different view.

"It is true," he remarks, "that the Klan still has its devotees and exerts its strength in certain localities, but all fear of its power has vanished except with regard to politics where, by skillful use of propaganda and prejudice, it is able to throw its weight for or against the candidate of either of the two major parties and thus can exert an influence far greater in proportion than its actual numbers otherwise would warrant."

The Strauses

The career of the Straus family is dwelt upon editorially by the Orlando (Fla.) "Sentinel" which comments on the late Oscar Straus.

"The United States has recruited many statesmen from those who descended from the loins of Judah." The Straus family was not only great in brains," the "Sentinel" states, "but great in patriotism and philanthropy. Nathan became one of the Nation's most noted business men, and Oscar added the legal profession to his life's career and became a great lawyer.

"Obtaining wealth, they were ever alert in giving alms to America, and relieving distress when found, Nathan for years being recognized as this country's greatest philanthropist. Oscar was great in many ways and his charity was not on such a large scale, but great just the same considering his lesser wealth."

WOMEN TO AID NATIONAL FARM SCHOOL; MRS. FELS DISCUSSES SINGLE TAX

The National Farm School conference at its sessions at the Hotel Biltmore, New York, adopted a resolution pledging the support of the women delegates in forming an auxiliary to assist financially and otherwise in the expansion of the National Farm School at Doylestown, Pa. It was decided that the school should become co-educational.

Woman's achievements in farming were described by the women who have won success in that field. Miss Sophie Irene Loeb presided.

Mrs. Marie J. King, owner and manager of St. Ives Jersey Farm, Salmon, Idaho; Miss M. Van Rensselaer, Director of the College of Home Economics at Cornell University and Mrs. Dora Stockman of the State Board of Agriculture, East Lansing, Mich., delivered addresses.

Mrs. Mary Fels, famous Single Tax advocate, addressed the conference. Miss Loeb, the chairman, in introducing the speaker said that on her recent visit to Palestine she encountered at every step the work of Mrs. Fels.

"All my efforts," Mrs. Fels declared, "have been connected with land. It is my deep conviction that no social problem can be solved without carrying out the ideas of Henry George and of my late husband. Only when the community will claim for itself the values created by the community, will not permit landowners to tax the population and will leave to the landowner only what he has earned by his private work on the land, will social conditions be improved.

"By giving employment on the land to the unemployed, instead of charity, we are helping him without degrading him," Mrs. Fels declared. She spoke of the many efforts made by the late Joseph Fels to give the unemployed work on vacant lots. "Mr. Fels established farm colonies in England which proved very effective. When, in the year 1921, he came to London and saw the wretched conditions under which the unemployed were huddled together in the Poplar district workhouse, he purchased a large stretch of land in London and later in Hollesly Bay and placed there a large number of the unemployed. The farm colonies had an advantage over the cultivation on vacant lots in that it also offered an opportunity for artisans, storekeepers, etc. However, Mr. Fels very soon found that this effort was bound to fail because of the many taxes levied on the agricultural producer. The farmer had to pay for transportation to the city and had to pay to the duke who happened to own the land of the

CORRECTION

In our Digest of June 6 under the heading "German Jewish Paper Proposes Communion, etc." there was an unfortunate error in the second sentence referring to the attitude of Herr Paul Nathan of Berlin in Russia. It was of Jewish land settlement in Russia. It was Herr Nathan, one of the leaders of the Hilfsverein, the German Jewish relief organization, but the "Juedische Wochenblatt," a Jewish weekly of Berlin, that viewed the reports regarding the favorable prospects for Jewish land settlement in Russia as exaggerated.

JUDGE REBUKES KLAN FOR STIRRING UP RACIAL PREJUDICE IN GEORGIA

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Tybee, Ga., June 5.—An effort by some persons in Georgia to "drive Negroes, Catholics and Jews from the State" was charged here in a speech before the Georgia Bar Association by Judge James K. Hines of the State Supreme Court in attacking organizations that seek to regulate the morals of Georgians and to stir up race prejudice. Although no names were mentioned, it was generally accepted that the speaker was referring to the Ku Klux Klan.

"There has grown up in recent years a movement to proscribe individuals because of their religious beliefs and deny to them the right to hold office or exercise the religions unmolested, upon the ground that they entertain a religious faith which the members of the movement do not approve," said Judge Hines.

"There is a spirit abroad in the land to proscribe Jews, to deprive Catholics of the right to hold office and to enjoy its emoluments because of their religious belief. Many good people have joined in this movement, being misguided by the ostensible principles announced by their leaders.

"Religious strife is thus being stirred up. Race prejudice is thus being aroused. Neighbor is set against neighbor because of their faiths. Thus these natural and inalienable rights guaranteed to the people of this State are being denied. For what purpose? The leaders of this movement are capitalizing religious hatred and race prejudice in order that they may gather golden shekels from the people who follow them."

CATHOLIC PRIEST DIRECTOR OF AMERICAN RESEARCH SCHOOL IN JERUSALEM

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Washington, June 5.—The Rev. Roman Butin, a member of the Marist Society, Professor of Oriental Languages and Curator of the Museum at the Catholic University of America, will sail at the end of June for Palestine where he will assume the post of Annual Professor and Acting Director of the American School of Oriental Research at Jerusalem for the year 1926-1927.

The school is supported mainly by American Institutions. The aim of the school is scientific, to extend the knowledge of the geography, history, archaeology and languages of Biblical Lands and to carry out explorations and excavations.

The Association also supports a similar school in Iraq at Bagdad. Each of the schools is governed by a permanent Director, assisted by an Annual Professor selected from among the leading American Biblical or Semitic scholars. The permanent Director of the American School at Jerusalem is Prof. W. F. Albright of Johns Hopkins University. Prof. Albright will spend the coming year in the United States and Dr. Butin will act as Director during his absence. Under Prof. Albright the American School of Jerusalem has excavated the old site of Gibeon of Benjamin, modern Tell-el-Ful, and is now cooperating with the Xena Theological Seminary in bringing to light the ancient city of Kiriath Sepher in Southern Palestine.

Prof. Butin is the first Catholic priest to be elected to that office.

ZIONIST CONVENTION WILL RAISE POLITICAL ISSUES

Convention, since it is an indication of the progress of the Zionist movement.

It is understood that the deliberations are likely to bring to the surface a number of political issues involving Jewish claims under the Palestine Mandate, vis-a-vis the Mandatory Power. The raising of these issues is prohibitive, in view of the fact that the Convention occurs almost simultaneously with a session of the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations in Geneva, where a special delegation of the Vaad Leumi of Palestine has proceeded for the purpose of laying similar claims before the Commission. Both the position of the Vaad Leumi and the World Zionist Organization, it is expected, will be strengthened by action that may be taken by the Zionists of America.

Louis Lipsky, Chairman of the Organization, who returned Saturday on the Leviathan from London, where he conferred with Dr. Weizmann and other leaders of the movement, with respect to the proposed loan for Palestine and other matters, will report to the Convention.

market place another halfpenny for each basket he brought in. He also had to pay rates to the government, which rose with the increasing production. This led Mr. Fels to Henry George and to the adoption of the Single Tax idea.

"I am happy that in the last few years the Single Tax movement has taken root in almost every country of the world and that the vacant lot cultivation, farm colonies and especially the school gardens have been started in many countries, including Palestine, where I saw with a great deal of satisfaction the school garden supervised by Miss Deborah Kallen."

The high productivity of the American farmer, his abandonment of the farm because of the low return on his investment, the way in which he suffers from low prices by producing bumper crops and the need for reasonably stabilizing the price of farm products were some of the things discussed by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois at the morning session.

Mr. Lowden pointed out that the aggregate capital of the farmers, which was $47,000,000,000 in 1919-1920, decreased to $32,000,000,000 last year, on the basis of figures compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Luther Burbank attended the session to hear Gertrude Farquharson Boyle's address on "Luther Burbank as an Inspiration to Youth in Agriculture."

INCREASE IN PALESTINE IMMIGRATION CERTIFICATES FOR APRIL-SEPT. PERIOD

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service)

Jerusalem, May 7.—Besides the 2,500 immigration certificates which the High Commissioner has decided to allot immediately to the Palestine Zionist Executive on account of the half-yearly Immigration Schedule April-September, the Government will be prepared to consider applications made by the Executive before the end of June for additional certificates for issue during the period in question, it was learned here.

In accordance with the representations of the Palestine Zionist Executive, it is understood that the Government is content to leave to the discretion of the Executive the allocation of the certificates as between skilled and unskilled laborers.

The Zionist Society for Iraq has notified the Palestine Zionist Executive that more than 70 Jewish families have applied for permission to proceed to and settle in Palestine.

The majority of these applicants have relatives in Palestine and are in possession of modest means ranging from £E.30 to £E.200 per family. The Executive has been asked to forward a number of certificates for these immigrants.
