

PALESTINE SHOWS £1,200,000 SURPLUS FOR FISCAL YEAR JUST CLOSED

Delphiner Will Establish Silk Plantations in Palestine

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, July 9.—The fiscal year just closed shows a surplus of £1,200,000 on the part of the Palestine government, according to a report issued here.

The profits netted by the working of the railways which are run by the government amount to £100,000, the same report indicates.

It is understood that there is a likelihood that the British government will claim a part of the surplus for paying off money advanced to Crown Agents for the Colonies on account of a future loan which will amount to twice the total of the present surplus.

Vienna, July 9.—Max Delphiner, well known Austrian manufacturer, who has a silk factory in Tel Aviv, has announced his intention of establishing large silk plantations in Palestine.

This action follows upon Mr. Delphiner's recent step in reopening his factory in Tel Aviv, which had been shut down by him owing to the high import duties which were in force in Palestine up to recently.

The establishment of his own silk plantations in Palestine will enable Delphiner to reduce the expenses connected with the importation of raw material for his factory.

PETLURA'S WIFE BRINGS SUIT AGAINST SCHWARTZBARD

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Paris, July 9.—The wife of Semion Petlura, who was assassinated by Sholom Schwartzbard, has announced that she will institute a civil trial against Schwartzbard.

In making this announcement to Magistrate Peyre, before whom the case of Schwartzbard will be tried, Petlura's wife stated that she has engaged the attorney Campinchi as her counsel. He will shortly arrange for the trial which will have nothing to do with the prosecution being conducted by the state.

BILL PROHIBITING SHECHITA IN BAVARIA PASSED BY BAVARIAN PARLIAMENT

Jews Hope for Veto from Berlin Government

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, July 9.—The Bavarian parliament has passed the bill which was introduced some time ago prohibiting the shechita, the Jewish method of slaughtering animals.

The Social-Democrats joined with the reactionaries and the anti-Semites in the vote on this bill, while the Communists voted against it.

The only possibility of preventing this measure from becoming a law is a veto on the part of the Berlin government. The Jews are hoping that such action will be taken by the Central Government when the matter will be brought before it.

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service)

Berlin, June 25.—A resolution declaring in favor of the demand made by the Munich Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals that no animal should be slaughtered without first being stunned has been passed by a majority of votes by the Constitutional Commission of the Bavarian Diet. The representatives of the Right, the Social Democrats and a few of the members of the Bavarian People's Party voted for the resolution; the majority of the Bavarian People's Party, the Free Federation and the Communists voted against.

The fact that the Social Democrats have voted for a resolution which if passed by the Diet will mean the prohibition of Shechita in Bavaria has caused astonishment and indignation among the Jews.

The question of prohibiting Shechita

PARLIAMENT REPORTERS BOYCOTT GOVERNMENT PARTY IN ROUMANIA

Order That Jewish Reporters Be Kept Out of Parliament Causes Trouble

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, July 9.—The restriction placed by Premier Averescu on parliamentary reporters, especially directed against the Jewish newspapermen, has resulted in a boycott on the part of all the parliamentary reporters against the government party.

The reporters declared that they will not report any of the speeches in parliament made by members of the government party.

The proposal to forbid the Jews from entering the government building to attend the parliamentary sessions was made by Professor Cuza, the leader of the Roumanian anti-Semites. His proposal was accepted, despite the protests of Foreign Minister Duca and the deputies of the opposition.

As a result of the boycott all the newspapers in Roumania today, with the exception of three government organs, appeared without news of parliamentary proceedings. The papers announced that they will not publish any parliamentary reports as long as the strike of the newspapermen continues and the government does not withdraw its restriction against the press representatives.

EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA RAISES QUARTER MILLION FOR U. J. C. DRIVE QUOTA

With the conclusion of campaigns in Scranton and Pottstown, the Eastern district of Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia, passed the quarter-million in its endeavor to raise its quota of $2,000,000 in the United Jewish Campaign, a statement issued from the national headquarters of the Campaign declared.

The sum thus far pledged by the smaller Jewish communities of Eastern Pennsylvania represents an average increase of about 50% over the original quotas assigned to them at the regional conference held in Philadelphia last March, the statement declared.

The amount of $25,000 was forwarded to the national headquarters by Albert H. Lieberman, chairman of the Eastern Pennsylvania Campaign. This check represented pledges in those communities where campaigns were conducted in the course of the past few months.

Scranton, Pa., oversubscribed its quota of $100,000, the statement reported.

Reports from the West, the statement declared, showed that Seattle, Wash., has exceeded its quota of $160,000 in its combined campaign by $3,088. A total of $48,865 was raised in the state outside of Seattle, with five cities not yet heard from.

Forty-three thousand dollars was raised in Kansas up to July 1.

The standing of the Southern states as of June 30th was reported as follows: Arkansas $78,000, Alabama $140,000, Florida $111,000, Georgia $143,000; Louisiana $185,000, Mississippi $37,000, North Carolina $82,500, South Carolina $15,600 and Tennessee $76,000.

The complete returns of the Flower Day of the Jewish National Fund in New York showed a total raised of $2,003, almost twice the sum raised last year. The results are due mainly, it was stated, to the large number of organizations participating in the work

DAILY DIGEST OF PUBLIC OPINION ON JEWISH MATTERS

[The purpose of the Digest is informative: Preference is given to papers not generally accessible to our readers. Quotation does indicate approval.—Editor.]

Says Communist Press in Russia Is Ignoring Petlura Incident

That the Communist press in Russia is ignoring the story of the assassination of Petlura by Schwartzbard, although besides being a pogrom leader Petlura fought against the Soviets, is the information contained in an article in the "Jewish Daily News" (July 7) from its Moscow correspondent.

The reason for this attitude of the Communist press is explained by the correspondent as follows: "During the tumultuous time of the British strike the paper in Russia carried a brief item that a certain Ukrainian by the name of Schwartzbard shot Petlura. The 'Pravda,' official Communist organ, published an article declaring that Petlura was a counter-revolutionary, making brief mention at the end regarding the pogroms in Ukraine, leaving out, however the word 'Jewish.' The 'Emes,' the organ of the Jewish Communists, did not publish any article, which showed that the Jewish Communists had decided to ignore the matter. On the whole, the first impression made was that Schwartzbard was a patriotic 'Ukrainian' who took revenge on Petlura for his criminal counter-revolutionary activities in Ukraine. Later, an item appeared in the press that Schwartzbard is a French citizen, and this was amazing. Finally, the Jewish Communist press once published an excerpt from the foreign Jewish press to the effect that Schwartzbard is a Jew, who took revenge for the Jewish pogroms. That was all. There is a desire to avoid telling about the attitude of the Jewish press to Petlura. For a long time it was stated in the papers here that the Zionists are with Petlura on the ground that Jabotinsky at one time made an agreement with him aiming to protect the Jewish population from pogroms. Whenever a Zionist, especially in the Ukraine, would be arrested, he would immediately be reproached as being a 'Petlura man.' And suddenly it is learned that the entire Zionist press denounces Petlura as a pogromist and his name is hated even more than in the Communist press. This indicates clearly of course, how false were the charges made by the Jewish Communists that the Zionists were for Petlura. This explains at least in part the attitude of the Communist press to the Petlura incident."

Criticizes Attitude of Yevsekztzia to Jewish Writers

The charge that the Jewish section of the Communist Party in Russia demands of Jewish writers who live in Russia or who want to enter that country, not only submission but enthusiasm for the Communist cause, is made in the "Jewish Daily Forward," New York Socialist paper, by Abraham Cahan, the noted Jewish Socialist leader of America. Mr. Cahan contrasts the attitude of the Jewish Communists with that of the former Czarist government, stating: "At the time of the Czarist regime, whenever a revolutionist escaped from Russia and later desired to return, the Czarist government demanded of him a 'petition for mercy,' that is, a request to be forgiven, and no more. That he should display 'enthusiasm' for the Czarist government, that was never demanded even by the Czar's gendarmes. Such a demand however, is made by the Jewish Communists of Russia. They take a person, who is permeated with anti-Communist feeling or else a person who is absolutely indifferent to political questions, and they compel such a one to become an 'enthusiastic' Communist and to turn literature into political advertisements.

"The Czarist government never extorted such a price. Its iron censorship pertained to what one must not write, not to what one should write. The Jewish Communists however, ostracize true literature; they tolerate only those who are willing to bend their neck and serve those in power."

Objects to Sir Herbert Samuel's Participation in Jewish Agency Extension

The intention, rumored in the press, of Sir Herbert Samuel to visit the United States with Dr. Weizmann for the purpose of helping the Zionist leader to conclude the extension of the Jewish Agency, is criticized by the London "Jewish Chronicle" (June 25), which is known for its opposition to the Jewish Agency plan.

If the reports are true, the "Jewish Chronicle" declares, "it will provide further evidence, altogether unneeded, of his (Sir Herbert's) interest in Zionism."

"The step, if really contemplated," the paper writes further, "is extraordinary if not unique. Sir Herbert may be setting a new and approved precedent for Mandated territories. This does not, however, in the least argue the value or the desirability of resuscitating the Jewish Agency proposals. Indeed, Sir Herbert's recorded views on the Jewish future of Palestine, limited as is their concept to the maintenance and development of the Jewish Communities there, and abjuring all national aims, tend to show that the proposal which he is said to intend actively to champion is not one which should commend itself to Zionists."

The bulk of the estate of Carl Berman of Newark, N. J., estimated at $1,250,000, will go toward the building of the Carl Berman Home for Aged People on the estate he owned at Palm Beach, County, Fla. It was learned when the will was probated in the Essex County Surrogate's office in Newark.

The will contains an initial provision of $150,000 to build the cost to be taken from the balance of the estate, contingent on bequests to others. His widow, Rachel, receives the income of a trust fund of $100,000 for the rest of her life.

The will also contains a bequest of $10,000 to the Hebrew Memorial Orphan Asylum. Five other Jewish charities receive bequests of $1,000 each.

Dr. Weizmann, in London Interview, Replies to Critics of His Policy

(By Our London Correspondent)

London, July 1.—A reply to the charges levelled against him by the opponents of his political policy with regard to Palestine was made by Dr. Chaim Weizmann, in an interview given to the representative of the "Ha'Olam," the official Hebrew organ of the World Zionist Organization, published here.

"I know that the Jewish public would like to hear from me a word or so about the political affairs of the movement. I purposely refrained from speaking on this matter not because I do not ascribe any importance to the political work of the Zionist movement, not because I believe—as some fools and some vicious men ascribe to me—that politics is my 'private affair' and nobody else has any business to interfere. The contrary is true. 'I wish that all of God's people were statesmen' on the condition, however, that they understand that not every hysterical noise is political action and not everybody who signs his name under a document, but even a memorandum to some ministry, is a man of political affairs. . . . Dr. Weizmann stated.

"I am almost ashamed to answer to all the arguments that were made against the policy for which I am responsible. It was said that my policy was by its very nature one of compromise. They make believe that there really are among us people who demand much and people who are satisfied with little and voluntarily relinquish the rest. It is ridiculous to answer such arguments. After all, we all know each other; the work and intentions of every one of us are known. I will therefore limit myself to this short declaration:

"There is no fundamental difference of opinion among the Zionists concerning the beginning, the middle and the end of the Zionist plan. There is, however, a great difference in the measure of responsibility which rests upon us. Some may perhaps speak in high tones and large words because these words do not impose any obligation on them. He, however, whose every word is an obligation, internally as well as externally, is not in such a happy state as to be able to give free expression to the sentiments of the people.

"With us the policy is conducted, as far as we can, in a permanent way and in a manner which is in our opinion truly political. Should we find it necessary to summarize our achievements in this field, we could perhaps point to many improvements and, what is more important, we could also show in this respect, like in the question of the agricultural settlement in Palestine, that there is the confidence of a clearly defined and paved way. In London, in Paris and in Geneva, as well as in Jerusalem, in the Emek and in Beirut, we know what we want and we do all we can to explain to others our needs and our aspirations. Sometimes, we meet much success and sometimes we achieve little or nothing. This is the fate of every policy. At least, we have gained respect everywhere."

Discussing the questions of the Palestine frontier force and the Arab-Jewish relations, Dr. Weizmann declared:

"There are false prophets who come and bring the sad message that the sword and the sword alone will decide between us and our neighbors. These false prophets, while proclaiming this message have not—and cannot have—a sword of their own. To this we say: the Book will decide and the Book we have in our hands."

Referring to the matter of agricultural and industrial development in the country and immigration, Dr. Weizmann stated:

"Our Eretz Israel is a 'working Palestine.' It progresses and sees the fruit of its work, particularly in the field of agriculture. The colonies, the old as well as the new, are no doubt becoming stronger and are on the road to prosperity. Even those in which the situation is not completely firm, can say that they at least see 'the end' and that that end is not far off."

"It is true that not all of the human material which has attempted to find refuge in the agriculture in Palestine was fit for it. We take note of this, certainly with regret and deep sorrow. But we have no right to close our eyes to the fact that a certain part of the new settlers, particularly those of the middle class category and even some of the Chassidic settlers, will be compelled to leave their places. This happens, not because those elements don't want to work; the contrary is true, they have shown and they still show a sacred devotion to the ideal of work and the national resettlement, but there are physical and psychological obstacles over which no effort can avail. Much is due to century-old training which cannot be overcome in one generation. However, after a sort of 'natural selection' will take place, even those colonies will go on an upward road.

"Those left behind in the agricultural process will, therefore, return to the town and will add to the class of 'luftmenschen' which is already there. We consider it our duty to tell the truth from Palestine, that a certain part of this human material which has gathered in the country, together with the fourth Aliyah, is not fit for Palestine and the country is not fit for them. Some of them will, perhaps, be absorbed by the industries and commerce which are now undeveloped and which cannot become too large at present. No matter how much we regret it and how much it hurts us, we must say that some of these people will find it necessary to leave the country," he declared.

BILL PROHIBITING SHECHITA IS PASSED IN BAVARIA

in Bavaria was before the Constitutional Commission of the Diet last March, when a resolution to prohibit Shechita was rejected, but it was decided that the Government should limit the practice of Shechita in accordance with the proportion of the Jewish population in Bavaria.

The action of the Bavarian parliament is a result of a movement conducted over a long period by the Bavarian anti-Semites and the Munich Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. This society sent a memorandum to the parliament on April 7, 1925, which, after quoting authorities tending to show that Shechita is cruelty to animals, said that only one out of every hundred of the population on German soil belongs to the Jewish faith, and a large part of the Jews themselves do not observe the Jewish dietary laws. It is therefore wrong, the memorandum stated, to take into consideration the religious scruples of less than a hundredth part of the population and to ignore the feelings of humanity of the other ninety-nine.

JEWISH COMMUNAL ACTIVITIES

A movement to link the Jewish congregations of Brooklyn into a closer union through an organization of their presidents has been started under the auspices of the Brooklyn Federation of Jewish Charities, following a decision taken at a conference at the Unity Club, Brooklyn.

The conference, called by Meier Steinbrink, marked the first time in the history of Brooklyn that the presidents of conservative, reformed and orthodox congregations assembled together.

Although called primarily for the purpose of aiding the Federation charity ball to be held on Nov. 11, for which subscriptions will close on July 15, it was the feeling that a permanent organization such as contemplated would have a far-reaching effect on Jewish communal life and activities.

A committee to arrange for the presidents' organization consists of Herman Appelbaum, chairman; Samuel Rottenberg, J. H. Cohen and Meyer Yondorf. The presidents will appoint committees in their congregations to conduct the Federation membership drive. Supreme Court Justice Mitchell May is president of the Federation.
