RABBI ZIRELSON RESIGNS FROM SENATE AS PROTEST AGAINST ANTI-SEMITISM

Senator Startles Roumania with Sharp
Attack on Government's Inertia
Toward Kooliganism

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, Dec. 2.—Rabbi Zirelson, leader of Bessarabian Jewry, who represented the Bessarabian Jewish community in the Roumanian Senate by virtue of his office, resigned from the Senate, following a remarkable address in which he attacked the leaders of the Roumanian anti-Semitic movement.

By a vote of 80 to 17, the Senate decided to accept his resignation and also not to publish the text of Rabbi Zirelson's address in the Official Gazette.

In the declaration in which Rabbi Zirelson announced his resignation, he declares that he directed his remarks against "persons who are engaged in inciting propaganda," but not against the Roumanian people. He merely intended to brand the anti-Semites, he declared.

TWO FEATURES OF JEWISH NATIONAL PROBLEM SOLVED, FOREIGN MINISTER SAYS

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Dec. 2.—Two features of the Jewish problem in Poland have been settled to the satisfaction of the Jewish population, according to a statement issued by Foreign Minister Zaleski, to the representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency here.

The Minister informed the correspondent that he replied to a question from Lucien Wolf, secretary of the Anglo-Jewish Joint Foreign Committee, that the question of the so-called group of "men without a country," involving a great number of Jews who have been resident in Poland for a long time but who have not been granted facilities to naturalize was settled by virtue of the recently issued circular concerning the acquisition of citizenship. Also, the numerus clausus was settled by the withdrawal of the secret circular of former Minister of Education Glombinski, he declared.

It is expected that Mr. Baron will distribute gifts to his 2,500 employees on the occasion of his birthday and will make numerous donations to hospitals and various charities.

Last year, on his seventy-fifth birthday, he donated the amount of £50,000 to various London hospitals.

HOUSE OF COMMONS VOTES TO ENDORSE PALESTINE GOVERNMENT £4,500,000 LOAN

Figures on Palestine Reports Given
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, Dec. 2.—The stability of the Palestine situation was attested when the House of Commons voted yesterday for the resolution introduced by the government to authorize the exchequer to guarantee a loan of £4,500,000 ($22,500,000) to the Palestine government for the construction of a Palestine harbor and other improvements in the country.

The resolution was introduced by Col. Leopold H. Amery, British Colonial Secretary and was supported by Lieutenant Commander J. M. Kenworthy, Liberal, who was returned to parliament as a Laborite. Kenworthy, supporting the resolution, enthusiastically praised the Palestine government for its support of the efforts of the Jews who, he stated, have poured wealth into Palestine. He also asked for a guarantee that the government will prevent the evils of land speculation.

Ronald McNeill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that the treasury will not sanction the guarantee until it is satisfied with the soundness of the loan. Major R. G. Glynn, conservative M. P. supporting the resolution, stated that he was glad that the Palestine loan will be devoted to the construction of harbors. "By developing the country, Britain can best prove

PALESTINE GOVERNMENT NOT TO CHANGE ITS ELECTION ORDINANCE

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Dec. 2.—A delegation of the Vaad Leumi, the National Council of Palestine Jewry, was received yesterday by Col. George S. Symes, Chief Secretary of the Palestine government. The delegation intervened with the government concerning its demand to introduce changes in the Palestine municipal election ordinance.

Col. Symes stated that all proposals to amend the ordinance were rejected by the government in view of its wish that the municipalities to be elected under the new ordinance meet for the purpose of discussing the budgets for 1927. The only amendment which the government will introduce into the ordinance is that applicants for citizenship will be granted the right to vote, Col. Symes stated.

JERUSALEM CELEBRATES 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF JEWISH NATIONAL FUND

Isaiah Prophecy Recited to Define
Purpose of Fund for Palestine

Land Purchase

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Dec. 2.—"The Lord shall comfort Zion, He will comfort all her waste places and He will make her wilderness like Eden and her desert like the Garden of the Lord, joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving and the voice of melody. Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city. Shake thyself from the dust."

These prophetic words of Isaiah (51, 52) were recited in Jerusalem, the place where they were pronounced, at a celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Keren Kayemeth, the Jewish National Fund, the Zionist agency for the purchase of Palestine land as the inalienable property of the Jewish people.

A thousand persons, including representatives of the Palestine government, of national, communal, civil, religious, political and cultural organizations, as well as representatives of foreign governments and delegates from the Jewish colonies in Palestine, were present at the celebration. The chapters 51 and 52 of Isaiah were recited in Hebrew.

M. M. Ussishkin, head of the Jewish National Fund, in reviewing the work of the Fund, declared that it was impossible to remain satisfied with the present achievements of the Fund in redeeming the soil of Palestine. He appealed to Jews throughout the world, urging the necessity of hastening the Fund's activity, declaring that "history cannot wait. A time may come when Jews will be prepared to acquire the

ELLSBERG RESIGNS FROM UNITED STATES NAVY

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Washington, Dec. 2.—Lieut. Commander Edward Ellsberg, U. S. N., who is a member of the Construction Corps stationed at the New York Navy Yard, has resigned, according to an announcement by Secretary Wilbur. He gave no reason for his desire to resign, but it was assumed at the Navy Department that he plans to enter private business.

Commander Ellsberg devised the plan under which the submarine S-51, which was rammed by the City of Rome off Block Island a year ago, was raised and towed to the navy yard at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Failure on the part of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur to promote Lieutenant Commander Edward Ellsberg to the rank of Commander in recognition of his heroism and leadership in the salvaging of the submarine S-51 was sharply criticized by Congressman Emanuel Celler of the Tenth Congressional District of Brooklyn, in a letter to the Secretary of the Navy made known on September 14 last.

The recommendation for the promotion of Lieutenant Commander Ellsberg and his comrades, Lieutenant Henry Hartley and Boatswain Richard Hawes, was made by the United States navy authorities and strongly approved by Admiral Plunkett, in charge of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, the station of the above mentioned naval officers.

In his letter to Secretary Wilbur, Congressman Celler declared that unless the Secretary would advance the officers as recommended, he would introduce into Congress a resolution authorizing the president of the United States to advance Lieutenant Commander Ellsberg to the rank of Rear Admiral and to promote the other two.

"It seems that the reasons advanced for this failure properly to reward these heroes is the Department's policy

CHRISTIAN MASS MEETING FOR JEWISH RELIEF TO BE HELD IN CATHEDRAL

A mass meeting of the American Christian Committee for Jewish Relief will be held Sunday evening at eight o'clock in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine to open a campaign for funds for the relief of Jews in Eastern Europe.

The meeting is at the invitation of Bishop William T. Manning, who expressed great interest in the work, and will be the first meeting in the cathedral in behalf of the Jewish people.

The speakers will be Bishop Manning, for the Episcopalians; the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, for the Evangelical; Major General John F. O'Ryan, former commander of the Twenty-seventh Division, for the Catholics, and Louis Marshall, for the Jews.

"I am especially glad," said Bishop Manning in issuing the invitation, "for this meeting to be held in the cathedral in behalf of the suffering Jews of Eastern Europe. It is the first time that a meeting in behalf of the Jewish people has been held in the cathedral and the cause is one which should appeal to all generous-hearted people of whatever religion."

Dr. Cadman said the work of the Christian Committee for Jewish Relief was one of the most important now being undertaken in the United States.

POLISH ZIONISTS FELICITATE MARSHALL AND BRANDEIS ON SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Dec. 2.—Felicitations to Louis Marshall, president of the American Jewish Committee, on the occasion of his forthcoming seventieth birthday on December 14, will be despatched by the Executive of the Zionist Organization of Poland, according to a decision of the body taken yesterday.

The Executive also decided to congratulate Louis D. Brandeis, Justice of the United States Supreme Court and former leader of the Zionist movement in America, on his recent seventieth birthday.

The greetings of the Polish Zionists to Louis Marshall makes particular reference to his declaration, as head of the American Jewish Committee, before the League of Nations, supporting the demand for recognition of the rights of the Jewish people to Palestine.

not to recommend the promotion of officers as a reward for service. It is difficult to understand this policy if any such exists. Already some twenty of the enlisted men engaged in salvaging the S-51 have been promoted. Furthermore the record of officers who have been promoted for meritorious service is not short," Congressman Celler wrote.

DIGEST OF PUBLIC OPINION ON JEWISH MATTERS

[The purpose of the Digest is informative: preference is given to papers not generally accessible to our readers. Quotation does not indicate approval.—Editor.]

Lewis Browne on Russia

Lewis Browne, author of "This Believing World," who just returned from Russia, summed up his impressions in an interview with the Newark, N. J., "Jewish Voice." The paper reports:

"Jewry in Russia is endeavoring to create a Yiddish nationality (this must not be confused with a Jewish nationality) something which apparently has numerous defects. Study of Hebrew is taboo and Russian Jewry doesn't appear to be overconcerned with its racial history up to the present time," Dr. Browne declared.

"As to Jewish colonization—his opinion—'undoubtedly the only thing to be done in Russia today, but I dare say that if the conduct of private business were made easier probably 90 per cent would go into commercial pursuits.'"

The Index

The publication of the first volume of the "Jewish Daily Bulletin" Index continues to be a subject of comment in various papers.

The "Jewish Record" of San Antonio, Texas, finds the Index "of in-valuable aid to nearly everyone," not only for "the ease in which information may be found, but because of the wide berth of subjects that have hitherto taken much time to locate." The paper further remarks:

"The Index is a careful compilation of the data printed in the 'Daily Bulletin,' besides an additional survey of such relative subjects as Anti-Semitism, Immigration, Relief, Palestine and Zionism. A number of cross references are given to further aid in conserving energy and time. For instance, if one is interested in seeing the trend of thought on any given subject, there it may be found completely digested from the various newspapers and reviews in the world, enabling one to learn authoritatively and understandingly instead of groping around blindly.

"To the lecturer, writer, researcher or social worker it should be priceless and to the casual reader it will prove a valuable aid in refreshing his memory in the signs of the times, whether the information sought is current events, biographical data or one of the larger subjects pertaining to Jewish life."

The Chicago "Sentinel" has this to say:

"The gathering of Jewish news has been revolutionized since the founding of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency which has alert correspondents in all parts of the world. The dissemination of this information through the 'Jewish Daily Bulletin' makes it possible for every interested Jew to know exactly what Jewry is doing in every corner of the globe. In order to make this information even of greater value the 'Bulletin' has just issued an Index

DE HAAS COMMENTS ON DR. PRITCHETT'S REPORT

(Communication to the Editor)

Sir:

Nathaniel Baron Rothschild was fond of a rather quaint phrase of his own invention, "considering the authority whence this comes." Its appositeness occurred to me in reading Dr. Pritchett's report to the Carnegie Endowment as quoted in the "Times" on Monday.

Dr. Pritchett was formally head of M. I. T. and one of Boston's shrewdest and most responsible men, who has all Massachusetts at his finger tips, after glancing at the report said to me: "it is the kind of report one could expect from Dr. Pritchett." The question is, therefore, of Dr. Pritchett's authority. He has not, as far as I know, hitherto been regarded as an economist specially qualified to pass judgment upon the possible evolution and development of any country, be it Palestine or Paraguay. There are, indeed, very few men in the whole world who are qualified scientifically to give such judgments.

As distinct from opinions which anyone may indulge in, the report, as quoted, betrays no particular knowledge of the economic possibilities, mineral resources, commercial or trade possibilities of Palestine. There is a considerable literature on that subject that goes back for a half century and that includes public and private documents prepared for and by the British government, not to say the Turkish and German governments and including reports prepared for the Standard Oil Company and a number of other American organizations deeply and wholeheartedly interested in business.

I do not propose to elaborate upon this phase at this time except to say as against Dr. Pritchett, there is a world of data that from the economic point of view and from the point of view of those who understand that states are built up by enterprise, commerce, trade and industry, are well worth studying. That Palestine is being developed invertedly does not alter the fact that Dr. Pritchett made a report for the Carnegie Endowment, which made his opinions "first class news." Although I am an omnivorous reader I do not recall that the Carnegie Endowment has anywhere been particularly interested in the economic development of any country.

The tone of the report, however, is not without interest. From the day the Balfour Declaration was issued it has begun the fashion in certain circles to express dislike of the Jews by patting the Arabs on the back. It is just as well to recall the fact that between November 2, 1917 and January, 1919, an effort was made by an American non-Jewish group, aided by Mr. Henry Morgenthau, to bring about the condition by which all the subject graces living in Asia Minor, from the Black Sea to the Persian Gulf, should come under the tutelage of an American semi-philanthropic organization. Although it was "nipped in the bud" one result of this was the celebrated King-Crane report drawn up in the summer of 1919 and to this the Pritchett report is perhaps unconsciously a friendly echo.

For the enlightenment of American readers I may state that during my fairly long sojourn in Palestine, Arabs, Englishmen, and Jews frequently alluded to the fact that the "Deux et machina" of the anti-Zionist agitation in Palestine was an American non-Jewish lady resident in Haifa.

We may expect some repercussion in Palestine from the Pritchett report because a good deal of the Christian Syrian opposition to Zionism has been American in origin. I speak here whereof I know. I spent a good deal of the time while I was in Palestine, in meeting all sorts of types of non-Jews and I do not hesitate to say that a great deal of the agitation against Zionism is fictitious. In many cases it had not even expressed the real opinion of its exponents. It certainly did not express the judgment views and interests of the half dozen men who by their wealth, tradition and position can be regarded properly as the exponents of Arab opinion. Indeed, I found, and it represents the consolation for a lifetime of effort, that in Palestine the Jew stands upon a unique ground—he has the whole-hearted respect of the Moslem Arab. The world contempt for the Jew was only mouthed—it is an unmistakable language—by Christian Syrians and in most cases by the holders of American passports and even these gentry, as often as not, end their tirades by offering to sell out "lock, stock and barrel." Now, I do not say that there are not Arabs in Palestine. Christians and Moslems who do not in some measure feel crowded by the increase of the Jewish population, but it does not represent a large number of a serious element.

The whole picture of the Orient and particularly of Palestine has been falsely drawn for public consumption so long that one could understand that fear, which Mrs. Oliphant, the novelist, expressed thirty years ago, of chimney

OVER $1,000,000 MONTHLY IS RECORD OF UNITED JEWISH CAMPAIGN

Over one million dollars a month is the record of the United Jewish Campaign since September, according to results reported to national headquarters during September, October and November, as has been the case since the local drives began a year ago. The exact total of new subscriptions for the three Fall months is $3,449,000, making the campaign total, as of December 1st, $18,849,000, a statement from the national headquarters of the campaign declared.

"This remarkable record is a great tribute to American Jewry," declared David A. Brown. "It proves what I have always contended, that if you go to the Jews of this country with an appeal that is right, with a cause that is worthy, the response is certain, the response is bound to be adequate to the fullest measure."

"And this is a cause that is worthy. Nay, more it is a holy cause, and the Jews of America and Canada are responding to it in a manner that is unprecedented in our history."

"It is fitting that I should repeat what I had occasion to write last January when, from a number of sources a warning came to me that the Jews of America are tired of giving, tired of asking, I then said:

"There are no more generous people in this country than our people. Not only have they given vast sums for European relief, millions for local charity and more millions for hospitals, Y. M. H. A.'s, synagogues, temples, and other Jewish institutions, but they have given enormous sums for non-Jewish institutions of learning, music and art."

"In addition, they have played their part with all other citizens of this country in meeting the demands for general charity and other social needs in the cities in which they live."

"Tired of asking? Since when have the Jews become tired of service to their people or any other people? For to ask is to serve in some human cause. Service is part of the religion of the Jews. No Jew is a Jew unless he serves mankind. Tired of asking? Never—as long as there is suffering. Never—as long as there is need for human service. Never—as long as there is love in our hearts for those less fortunate!"

The dedication ceremonies of Brith Shalom Community, Bethlehem, Pa., Center began on December 1, and will continue throughout the week, ending on Sunday evening with a banquet. Dr. Cyrus Adler, president of Dropsie College, Philadelphia, president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, and Judges Stern and Lewis, of Philadelphia, will be present. The Center, which was erected at a cost of $25,000, has an auditorium, stage, dining room, classrooms, a gymnasium and swimming pool.

The B'nai Israel congregation of Jacksonville, Fla., has pledged $50,000 toward the $250,000 fund needed for the construction of the new Jewish community center.

The pledge was made during the 25th annual banquet at which plans for the new structure, which will include a recreation hall, place of worship and school, were submitted. Ground will be broken, it was announced, on the site within a month. The new temple, according to Rabbi Ben-Zion, will be ready for the New Year services next September.

DR. NATHAN ON JEWISH COLONIZATION WORK IN RUSSIA

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service)

Moscow, Nov. 18.—Dr. Paul Nathan, the representative of the Hilfsverein der deutschen Juden at the Jewish Colonization Conference here, stated to the representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency here that the Jewish Colonization movement in Russia is one which deserved the greatest attention and all possible sympathy. The transference of a considerable number of Jews to agriculture, Dr. Nathan said, would create for them not only a sound economic basis but also a healthy mental attitude. "Under present conditions the Jews ought to make every effort to transfer their activities to productive work. It is not to be expected that all Russian Jews would become farm workers. Side by side with the land settlement work, they should also pay attention to the development of handicraft among the Jews and should make efforts to bring the Jewish workers into big industry.

"If the Soviet Government," Dr. Nathan went on, "continues to be as friendly to the Jews as it has been so far, the Jews will have every opportunity of becoming productive. It is especially important that more and more Jews should leave the old Pale of Settlement and disperse themselves over the whole length and breadth of the country. This would not only improve the economic position of the Jews, but it would also protect the Jews from those terrible catastrophes which overwhelmed them during the War and the Civil War because they are living concentrated in compact masses. These catastrophes," he said, "would not have been so immense if all the Jews were not herded together in one area. Wars and disturbances are likely also in the future and efforts should be made that the Jews who are generally the first to fall victims to disturbances and catastrophes should suffer from them as little as possible. This can be only if they are not all concentrated in one spot," he declared.

With regard to the question of whether Jewish colonization in Russia could be said to be in competition to the Zionist movement, Dr. Nathan said that there could be no question of competition. From the national point of view he believes that Palestine will not become a Jewish home. "Britain will never give up Palestine to the Jews and even if she did the Jews would not be able to retain it, because they would always be a minority there," he concluded.

to the Arabs that she has recognized her tremendous obligation and that she is determined to fulfill it," he stated.

land, but the land may not be available."

Mr. Stubbs, director of the Lands Department of the Palestine government, brought the greetings of High Commissioner Lord Plumer. "The inception of the Jewish National Fund is the practical expression of the desire of the Jewish people to revive the land of their forefathers. The Palestine government has constantly before its eyes evidence of the great work which the Jewish National Fund is performing in the country and it appreciates the benefits which accrue to the country as a whole from the restoration of land which was previously waste and the Fund's work to reclaim malarious swamps into land suitable for Jewish settlement." Mr. Stubbs added his personal appreciation of the Fund's work, with which he is in close touch.

Greetings were brought by Rabbi Uziel on behalf of the Chief Rabbinate of Palestine, Col. Frederick H. Kisch on behalf of the Zionist Executive, Dr. David Yellin for the Vaad Leumi, M. Kaplan Kaplanski on behalf of the Keren Hayesod, Dr. Judah L. Magnes for the Hebrew University and others. A message was received from Dr. Chaim Weizmann and from the Zionist Executive in London.

The concluding address was delivered by Chaim Nachman Bialik.

United States Reclamation Service, called upon Dr. Weizmann and told him of the information he had gathered on the agricultural and economic possibilities of Palestine, as a result of his recent visit to that country. tified. Palestine, which many thought to be a liability, is turning out to be an asset, he said.

Sir Frederick Wise asked the parliamentary secretary of Overseas Trade as to the value of the imports into Palestine from the British Empire.

Arthur Samuels, head of the Department for Overseas Trade, in reply to this question stated that the total amount of goods imported from the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland amounted to £432,435, from the British dominions £71,024 and from foreign countries £3,270,585.

A provision in the will of the late Morris Landau of White Plains, N. Y., who owned a chain of stores and who left a $200,000 estate, directs his executors to continue to pay for land he bought in Palestine, so that if any relative emigrated to Palestine they could use the land without cost. The will was filed with Surrogate Slater yesterday.

Mr. Landau died Nov. 23. He left legacies to various hospitals and other institutions.

stacks and railways defacing the Land of Promise.

The greatest speed I ever made in an automobile was with a seventy-five year old Arab sheik, whose home was East of Hebron and who demanded that the chauffeur "step on the gas," as we made the fairly dizzy and, at high speed, dangerous ride along the often narrow and always winding road from Jerusalem to Bethlehem and beyond Hebron—nothing less than 100 kilometers an hour would satisfy him. And nothing else than the American market price for his goods would satisfy him and that holds true to Ha-maan, the original Philadelphia. And that holds good for the land of the Jebel Druse. One could count leisurely all the human beings that live beyond Beersheba and Akaba. For one, I respect the Arab and his rights but I believe that neither I nor anyone else has any more right to foment opposition to Jewish settlement in Palestine, than I believe Russian Soviets have a right to foment in the minds of Americans opposition to the American Government. I happen to believe in the comity of peoples and I do not believe that even the Carnegie Endowment is privileged to be a disturber not only of Palestine but of the whole East.

When I was a young man and served on the "Pall Mall Gazette," London, its editor, Mr. Cust, resigned because he declined to obey the proprietor, I believe it was then Mr. Astor, to use the publication for creating a political disturbance either in Brazil or Mexico. The incident has always been a lesson to me of what constitutes the privilege of a writer of one nationality in dealing with affairs of people of another nationality even if they be no better and no worse than Egyptians, Syrians, Palestinians, Transjordanians and Jews.
