CONCESSION TO EXTRACT POTASH FROM DEAD SEA WILL SOON BE GRANTED

Colonial Office Investigation Commission Finds Bright Prospects for Revival of Palestine Industry
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, Apr. 4.—The concession for the exploitation of the Dead Sea to obtain potash may shortly be granted by the British Colonial Office, a report in the London "Daily Chronicle" states today.

The number of applicants for the concession has been reduced to two or three and it is probable that they will be united into one concession group. The concession may be given for a period of 21 or 25 years.

A commission of the Colonial Office, which investigated the commercial possibility of the region, reported that there would be no difficulty in extracting 100,000 tons of potash annually from the Dead Sea. The newspaper adds that the commission was extremely cautious in its estimate in the possible exploitation of this inexhaustible reservoir. With the securing of a good management, Palestine can be made a country flowing with milk and honey and the Dead Sea will be a decisive factor in the industrial revival of Palestine's prosperity, the paper states.

FORD MAY BE CALLED TO WITNESS STAND THIS WEEK, SAPIRO COUNSEL SAYS

Ford Mishap Was Not Due to Plot, Detroit County Prosecutor Declares; Ford Reputed to Have Said He Will Appear in Court When Wanted; Sapiro's Brother Arrives from San Francisco with Documents to Be Presented in Court

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Detroit, Apr. 4.—Henry Ford will appear as a witness in the Million Dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit before the end of the week, it was indicated here today by William Henry Gallagher, chief counsel for Sapiro. Gallagher added that he would call for a physical examination of the motor king's reported injuries in a recent accident, if he refused to answer the call to the witness stand.

Ford is reported as having said he would appear on the witness stand, even if he had to be carried into court on a stretcher. According to latest reports from his Dearborn mansion, Ford is improving rapidly since his accident a week ago when he was forced to drive his car into a ditch near here after being struck by an unidentified auto.

Milton Sapiro, brother of Aaron Sapiro and a San Francisco attorney, reached Detroit today in answer to an urgent call from his brother last week and brought with him papers and books containing Sapiro's accounts. These were asked for last week by Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford counsel. Milton Sapiro was admitted to practice in the Federal Court here and will assist his brother for the remainder of the case.

Senator Reed took up his cross-examination of Sapiro on his cooperative marketing organization activities, today marking the opening of the fourth week of the trial. Reed began the day by reading to the jury a speech made by Sapiro to cotton growers in Alabama in 1920. In this speech Sapiro urged the farmers to take over the control of marketing their own products. To this end he urged the growers of Alabama to form a cooperative marketing organization.

Reed and Sapiro clashed again over the matter of answering questions directly. This same argument interrupted the proceedings frequently last week. Judge Raymond issued a sharp rebuke to Sapiro, saying, "I don't care for any more arguments. Please answer the questions as simply as possible."

Sapiro testified that since 1922 he has received about $70,000 in fees from the American Cotton Growers' Exchange. These fees were in return for organizing activities, making speeches and general legal work.

The afternoon's proceedings opened with a shift to New Jersey where Sapiro organized the potato growers and poultry raisers. Senator Reed read lengthy extracts from speeches made by Sapiro urging the need for organization upon the farmers of New Jersey. Several letters were introduced each dealing with the matter of fees for Sapiro's work.

ARABS AND JEWS UNITE FOR FORTHCOMING JERUSALEM MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Both Arab Parties Issue Statements
Favorable to Jews
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Apr. 4.—Jewish and Arab parties will work together in the forthcoming municipal elections in Jerusalem as a result of an agreement concluded here yesterday.

Following protracted negotiations, the Jerusalem Jewish community concluded an election agreement with both Arab parties, that of the present mayor, Nashishibi, and El Hussein. Support for the candidates of both parties is a part of the agreement. Nashishibi and Hussein, who is the secretary of the anti-Zionist Palestine Arab Executive, have made declarations favorable to the Jewish population.

The register of voters from the municipal elections in Jerusalem showed, when completed, 1,463 Moslem voters, 1,227 Jews and 830 Christians.

In Haifa, the Electoral Committee announced on completion of the registration, that 4,590 voters had registered, including 1,915 Moslems, 1,856 Christians and 819 Jews. Appeals from those whose names have been omitted will be heard by the Committee after the register has been published.

DIGEST OF PUBLIC OPINION ON JEWISH MATTERS

[The purpose of the Digest is informative: Preference is given to papers not generally accessible to our readers. Quotation does not indicate approval.—Editor.]

The Yeshiva Cornerstone and Orthodox Unity

The significance of the forthcoming cornerstone laying of the new buildings of the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Yeshiva is discussed by the orthodox "Jewish Morning Journal" of Apr. 4, in the course of an editorial on the subject of the recent report that a federation of Orthodox Kehillahs has been created in England. The paper draws an analogy between the position of the orthodox East-European Jews in England and those in the United States in the matter of organization and observes:

"Precisely in this respect the great East-European Jewish population in the United States, like that in England, is poorly organized. We are strong in numbers here, in social forces and in Jewish life power to be able easily to outstrip the Reform or Conservative synagogue bodies, but it has so happened that the organizations created by us hitherto are weak; many congregations remain away and those affiliated do not display sufficient or effective interest. America learns from England but the East-European Jews of America have little to learn from the East-European Jews of England. Perhaps it is precisely because we lack the example of such a leadership as the younger generation of the Anglo-Saxon race has in the older, that we do not utilize fully the powers at our command.

"This gives a special significance to the effort being made to bring together prominent spokesmen in the field of orthodox Judaism at the occasion of the cornerstone laying for the new buildings of the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Yeshiva. The guests invited who will at this event meet those Jews who are striving to create in New York a central point for traditional Judaism in the new world, will be in the position to fulfill a great duty. The work must and will be performed; the time is ripe for it and it is a special privilege to be able to participate in it. During the next month there must be created a union of orthodox congregations which in itself will be a cornerstone of an edifice with unlimited possibilities."

SAMUEL UTERMAYER ON VISIT TO PALESTINE

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
Jerusalem, Apr. 4.—Samuel Utermayer, well known New York attorney and president of the American branch of the Keren Hayesod, arrived here Sunday afternoon by airplane from Cairo. In the evening a reception was given in his honor by Col. Frederick H. Kisch of the Zionist Executive. Mr. Utermayer also made a flying visit to Haifa and is expected to return to Cairo tomorrow.

The Jerusalem correspondent of the "New York Times" reports that while in Jerusalem Mr. Utermayer announced a subscription of $100,000 for the Hebrew University.

At the dedication of the Hebrew University on April 1, 1925, Mr. Utermayer announced that he would contribute funds for the building of a stadium in memory of his wife.

FRANCE WELCOMES JEWISH IMMIGRATION, HERRIOT SAYS

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
Vienna, Apr. 4.—France heartily welcomes the immigration of Jewish artisans and workers from Eastern Europe, declared M. Herriot, former Prime Minister of France, in an interview with representatives of the Jewish press here.

The French people and the French government are ready to further the interests of the Zionist movement at any time in the most friendly manner, he stated. When asked concerning the forthcoming trial of Sholom Schwartzbard in Paris, he expressed the belief that the trial will disclose to the world the motives of the act.

Canadian Paper Discusses Sapiro-Ford Suit

Regret is expressed in the Jewish issue has been ruled out of the Sapiro-Ford libel suit is voiced by the Toronto (Ont.) "Mail & Empire" of March 22.

The paper recalls with some amusement Mr. Ford's experience on the witness stand in his famous libel suit against the Chicago "Tribune" and expresses the hope that he may be called to testify in the present trial. It then goes on to say:

"Through the 'Dearborn Independent,' a weekly paper owned by Mr. Ford, campaigns have been carried on against the Jews, though it has been patiently explained that the campaigns were not against the Jews but against certain Jews. The paper unearthed old, sensational and discredited documents to show that a clique of Jews was mainly responsible for all the ills the modern world is heir to, including the world war and the soviet republic. The 'Dearborn Independent' writer seemed to think that these Jews were plotting for the overthrow of the whole Christian civilization and the establishment of the Jews upon its ruins as the masters of the world. Innumerable Hebrew societies protested against the articles, but were met with the bland assurance that not the race but certain members of it were being properly exposed. But if Mr. Ford's supposed attitude to the Jews is to be excluded from the record the trial will lose much of its popular appeal. It will, nevertheless, be an important one, since Mr. Ford is alleged to have asserted that Sapiro's false conduct was due to a conspiracy which aimed at controlling

WASSERMANN'S "WORLD'S ILLUSION" TO BE FILMED BY METRO-GOLDWYN

Producers Entertain Noted Novelist (Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Los Angeles, Apr. 4.—Jacob Wassermann, whose "World's Illusion," is to be produced as a moving picture, was the guest of the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer studio, owners of the film rights of his novel.

The writer, who was accompanied by his wife, was entertained at luncheon by Irving G. Thalberg, studio executive; Paul Bern, head of the scenario department, and a number of studio officials.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer plans to produce "The World's Illusion" on a lavish scale. Herr Wassermann is making a tour of the United States before returning to Europe to begin his next novel.

the agriculture of the United States. The motor maker has said simply that the truth of his assertions is their justification, and it is a fact that in nearly all the States the truth is a complete defence in any civil action for libel."

The same attitude on the subject is taken by the Portland (Ore.) "Oregonian," which observes in its March 23 issue: "Here is the real essence of the Sapiro suit—Ford's long warfare of defamation of the Jewish people and their leaders. If his case shall be separated from its actual background, Sapiro will find himself in difficulty."

"A great statesman once said that you could not indict a people. This pompous dictum appears to be incorporated into English and American jurisprudence. If Henry Ford, or any other sees fit to attack a race, or a religion, or a people, or a nation, there does not appear to be anything to do about it except to depend upon the vindication of time, circumstances, history the facts."

The High Point (N. C.) "Enterprise" (March 24) seems to take the view that the responsibility for the anti-Jewish campaign of the "Dearborn Independent" rests on its editor, Cameron, rather than on Ford. We read, in part:

"The suit has served to bring more fully into public notice the man back of the strenuous assault on the morality of a race. That man is not Henry Ford, and nobody who followed Ford's testimony in the Chicago 'Tribune' trial suspected it was he. Editor Cameron was the marshal of the attack and Cameron now says that Ford's instructions to him were to be sure he was right and then to go ahead."

The paper adds: "If Sapiro wins his case, Mr. Ford will be forced to pay. It is conceivable that the Detroit manufacturer would be willing to spend some of his millions in a kind of preaching; up to the present time he has turned very little of that gold loose in the ordinary channels of social service."

Members of the Jewish Veterans of the Wars of the Republic will meet May 30 in the Selwyn Theater to discuss plans for building a national shrine, in the form of a memorial building, in New York City.

DR. WISE CHARGES DISCRIMINATION AGAINST JEWISH STUDENTS IN COLLEGES

Attacks Students Who Change Name and Hide Race; Criticizes Jewish Fraternities

Discrimination against Jewish students in American colleges was charged by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise in his sermon Sunday morning at the Free Synagogue on "The Jew in American Colleges." Acts of discrimination, he declared, have tragically caused the Jewish intellectual to cease to be a Jew and "to become associated with nothing," through his efforts to lose his racial and religious identity.

In the course of his sermon Dr. Wise mentioned specifically Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia as typical institutions where Jewish students and their activities were being discriminated against.

"Not one in 100 of the young Jews in American colleges and universities is sincerely and frankly a Jew," said Dr. Wise. "The young Jew in our colleges is a problem. He is an alien element, a child of a daring race, without ideals or vision. Not 5 per cent of these students go to the synagogue or link themselves in any way to the Jewish religious life. I can see why Christians look askance at this."

Dr. Wise contended that it was "immeasurably more difficult for a Jew to achieve a position in a university than it is for a non-Jew." He declared that only a few Jews got into university clubs here and elsewhere, and those who did get in "usually sneak in" by withholding their racial identity.

At Yale and Princeton, Dr. Wise said, in scanning the list of recent entrants to Greek letter fraternities and clubs and so-called honorary societies he did not see the name of a single Jew. He explained that he knew many Jewish students choose any but Jewish names.

Rabbi Wise attacked Greek letter fraternities. They were "worse than awful," he said, and he regarded Jewish fraternities as even worse, "because they are exactly like the others only more so." These Jewish fraternities exclude Jews whose parents and grandparents were not born in the United States or who may be of Russian Jewish and Polish Jewish origin.

CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT URGES PALESTINE WOMEN TO DEMAND SUFFRAGE

Jerusalem, Apr. 4.—Palestine women were urged to emulate the civic virtues of American womanhood in a message addressed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Women's Suffrage Organization and founder of the American League of Women Voters, to Palestine Jewish women.

In her message Mrs. Catt stated that Palestine was the center of civilization for a thousand years. It must now resume its place. There must be women councillors and leaders in Palestinian towns. She urges Palestine women to show courage in their claims for equality.

ORTHODOX CONGREGATIONS URGED TO ORGANIZE INTO NATIONAL FEDERATION

Nationwide Conference to Meet May 2 Plans or a nation-wide conference of Orthodox Jewish congregations which will be held in New York on May 2 in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the Yeshiva College of America were endorsed at a preliminary conference of Orthodox Jewish congregations of Greater New York held last Sunday at the Central Jewish Institute.

Gedaliah Bublik, editor of the "Jewish Daily News" and chairman of the Congregations Committee of the Yeshiva College Building Fund, presided at the meeting. About 200 congregations were represented.

In pointing to the necessity for Orthodox congregations to organize into one central body of Orthodox Jews, Mr. Bublik asserted that the Reform congregations have a greater influence on Jewish life than is proportionate with their numbers. While the Union of American Hebrew Congregations has a membership of little more than 200 congregations, in all matters of national importance pertaining to Jewish religious questions, the voice of Reform Jews is heard, while Orthodox Jewry is not given proper representation. In defining the term Orthodox Jew, Mr. Bublik took the view that all those American Jews who are not affiliated with Reform congregations stand on the basis of traditional Judaism which is opposed to any change in the ritual of either home or synagogue. The number of such Jews in the United States approximates two millions, he stated.

Harris L. Selig, Executive Director of the Yeshiva College Building Fund, submitted plans for the forthcoming conference on May 2. He stated that over 1,000 Orthodox congregations function in Greater New York and more than 2,000 throughout the country.

The committee calling the national conference is headed by Judge Otto A. Rosalsky and Orthodox leaders of New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Pittsburgh and other cities.

Ruyssen with a view to urging him to raise the question of Sunday closing in Salonica at the next meeting of the International Union of League of Nations Societies.

7,534 JEWS WERE COLONIZED IN ARGENTINE LAST YEAR

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency Mail Service)

Paris, Mar. 18.—A report received by the Jewish Colonization Association here from its Administration in Buenos Aires states that 7,534 Jewish immigrants entered the Argentine in 1926.

Five thousand, eight hundred and eighty-four of these came from Poland, 520 from Russia, 179 from Lithuania and 170 from Roumania.

Three hundred and forty-five of these immigrants were settled in the Ica colonies. Forty-eight families (200 immigrants) were established on small holdings. One hundred and five persons have been regularly employed on farm work during 1926 by these colonists.

The Ica has received a report from the Administration in Brazil stating that the immigrants in the Ica Colonies at Quatro-Irmaos find no difficulty in obtaining employment, and agricultural workers are paid at the rate of 8 to 10 milreis a day. Artisans and other workers earn as much as 12 to 15 milreis a day.

"The Jewish immigration movement to the colonies," the report says, "is a spontaneous one. At present, the newly-arrived immigrants are engaged in preparing the areas reserved for colonization. When this work is completed, suitable agriculturists will be settled on the areas by the Ica."
