JEW MAY SETTLE IN NABLUS, THE BIBLICAL SCHECHEM, AS RESULT OF EARTHQUAKE

Jewish Workers Now Building Barracks there for Quake Victims
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Nov. 4.—The settlement of Jewish families in the city of Nablus, the Biblical Schechem, the center of anti-Zionist feeling in Palestine, may result from the situation created by the earthquake.

About 100 Jewish workers are engaged in the building of barracks for the victims of the earthquake, carried on by the Palestine government. The presence of Jews in Nablus is noteworthy and may lead to the permanent establishment of a Jewish community in the city.

MODERATE POLICY WINS WITH PALESTINE LABOR

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Nov. 4.—The amalgamation of two influential Jewish labor groups in Palestine, the Hapoel Hazafr and the Achduth Ha'avodah, is being viewed here as a victory of the moderate groups who are desirous of adopting a policy similar to that of the British Labor Party.

The amalgamation of these two groups is a direct result of their common stand at the last Zionist Congress in Basle when the labor representatives were excluded from participation in the Zionist Executive.

UNITED PALESTINE APPEAL LEADERSHIP CONSTITUTED

The administration of the United Palestine Appeal for this year, constituted at the National Conference on Palestine in Cleveland, is as follows:

Judge William M. Lewis, of Philadelphia was re-elected National Chairman, Dr. Stephen S. Wise is Honorary Chairman, Judge Julian W. Mack, Honorary Vice-Chairman, Morris Rothenberg, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Louis Lipsky, Mrs. Irma Lindheim, Dr. David J. Kaliski, and Dr. Joseph Krinsky, Vice-Chairmen, and Abram Liebovitz, Treasurer.

ODESSA TO ERECT MONUMENT TO MENDELE MOCHER SFORIM

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Odessa, Nov. 4.—The municipal Soviet today assigned a sum of 2,600 Roubles to erect a monument in this city to the late Jewish writer, Mendele Mocher Sforim. The grant was made in connection with the tenth anniversary of the writer's death which will be commemorated on December 8.

PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS CREATE NEW POLITICAL SIT- UATION FOR POLISH JEWS

Club of Jewish Deputies is Dissolved;
No Unity Seen
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Nov. 4.—Polish Jewry is entering a new phase in its political situation today as the Polish parliament was dismissed by an order of President Moscicki. New parliamentary elections will probably take place in February 1928. The presidential decree postponed the session of the Sejm after it had met for three minutes to consider the budget submitted by the government. When the opposition parties raised their objections to the fact that only the general sums of the budget were submitted without specifications as provided by the constitution, the session was closed until the end of November. The term of the present Sejm expires on November 28.

Leaders of all political parties in Poland were thrown into excitement by the presidential decree and by the prospects of an immediate election campaign. The dissolution of the present Sejm marks the expiration of the Club of Jewish Deputies in which all factions of the Jewish population were represented.

Speculation has already begun as to the methods and chances of the various parties in the forthcoming election. It is predicted on good authority that in the next Sejm the Jewish deputies will not be united in one club. This is probable in (Continued on page 4)

ZIONISTS IN SEJM SUBMIT DEMANDS TO PILSUDSKI

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Nov. 4.—A memorandum formulating the demands of the national Jewish parties in the Republic of Poland was submitted to Marshal Pilsudski, Polish Prime Minister, by the Jewish deputies who are members of the Zionist group in the Polish parliament.

Among the demands voiced in this memorandum is one that the local kehillahs in the towns and cities should not be limited to their religious character as provided by the present statute. The memorandum lays particular stress on the fact that the government has not met the demands of the nationalist parties with regard to safeguarding the cultural and national characteristics of the Jewish population.

The submission of this memorandum represents a departure in the respect that until now the Jewish deputies did not negotiate with Marshal Pilsudski directly but with vice-premier Bartel or with other members of the government.

GERMAN LIBERALS DECIDE BROADCASTING SABBATH SERVICES IS PERMISSIBLE

Also Adopt Prayer Book including Prayer on Zion
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, Nov. 4.—Broadcasting of the Sabbath Services by radio is permissible, according to the decision of the Liberal section of the Prussian Federation of Kehillahs. This innovation is justified even if one Jew who is unable to go to synagogue desires to hear the service.

The Liberals have also decided to adopt Seligmann's Unity Prayer book with the Hebrew text. This prayer-book includes the references in the prayers to the restoration of Zion which was hitherto omitted by the Liberals.

LONDON EXECUTIVE HOLDS SESSION; CONSIDERS PLANS

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, Nov. 4.—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, and Nahum Sokolow, chairman of the Executive, arrived here yesterday. The Executive went into session to consider plans for the forthcoming year. It was stated that a plan of intensive activity in Palestine and throughout the Zionist constituencies is being considered.

TIBERIAS REFUSES TO GIVE ITS SUPPORT FOR HADASSAH

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Nov. 4.—A request of the Hadassah, American women's Zionist organization maintaining hospitals in Palestine, submitted to the municipality of Tiberias for a subsidy of the Hadassah work was rejected by the city council.

The Hadassah asked for a subsidy in view of its work in the city. The request was turned down by a vote of 4 to 3 in the council, the three Jewish councillors voting for the subsidy, while the mayor, a Jew, cast his vote with the Arabs against granting it.

JEWISH STUDENTS RETURN TO HUNGARIAN COLLEGES

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Budapest, Nov. 4.—Jewish students at the University of Budapest and other Hungarian colleges returned to their classrooms yesterday.

No riots occurred and studies were resumed. The Jewish students returned to their classes at the invitation of the Hungarian government which guaranteed their safety.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER FOR HENRIETTA SZOLD TOMORROW

A testimonial dinner to Miss Henrietta Szold will be given on Monday evening at the Hotel Astor, in honor of her election to the Palestine Executive. Miss Szold, who is the founder of the Hadassah, Women's Zionist Organization of America, is the first woman to be elected to the Zionist Executive. The dinner is being arranged by the Zionist Organization of America.

Miss Szold will be presented with a list of five hundred Zionists who have become life members of the Zionist Organization of America in her honor. Nathan Straus is Honorary Chairman of the Testimonial Committee.

The speakers at the dinner will be Judge Julian W. Mack, of the United States Circuit Court, Mrs. Irma Lindheim, President of Hadassah, Louis Lipsky, Dr. Judah L. Magnes, Dean of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem; Rabbi Hirsch Masliansky, Morris Rothenberg, Maurice Samuel and Dr. Stephen S. Wise.

Among those who were recently created King's Counsel are Nathan Gordon and Max Benfeld, both of whom are well-known in the Jewish communal life of Montreal. Mr. Gordon was at one time the rabbi of the Temple Emanuel-El and also held the position of City Prosecutor for Montreal when he gave up the rabbinate to enter the legal profession. Mr. Benfeld is connected with both the B'nai Brith Lodge of Montreal and the Baron de Hirsch Institute.

A new antiseptic extracted from coal tar products, called "Monosol," was discovered by the Mondson Refining Company, London, of which Henry Mond, a son of Sir Alfred Mond, is chairman.

AMERICAN JEWS HELPED BRITAIN GET PALESTINE MAN- DATE, HAVE RIGHT TO COMPLAIN, WISE SAYS

Concluding Part of Address Delivered by Dr. Wise at Cleveland Conference

Referring to the part played by American Jews in urging that the Palestine Mandate be given to Great Britain and stressing particularly the assistance of the Wilson administration in this matter, Dr. Wise in his Cleveland address developed what might be termed his case against the present British policy in Palestine and the Zionist leadership. Continuing his address Dr. Wise stated:

"One other item of remembrance bound up with the speaker's eager desire that Britain play the greatest part in the redemption of the Jewish people! It was toward the close of December, 1918, in the midst of the sessions of the American Jewish Congress in Philadelphia, over which Judge Mack presided, that, being in London on behalf of the Zionist Organization in relation to the impending Peace Conference, I happened to inform Mr. Balfour, then Minister of Foreign Affairs, about the resolution adopted by the Congress. The term 'mandate' had not yet been introduced into political life—just before the reading of General Jan Smuts' pamphlet. The Congress had urged Great Britain to take a protectorate over Palestine. I informed the then Mr. Balfour, by a virtually unanimous vote, adding that the American Jewish Congress technically represents one-third or one-fourth of the Jews of the United States, actually many more. He inquired: 'Do they desire us to assume a protectorate over Palestine?' My answer, which represented the spirit of American Israel, was: 'Our faith in England is unmeasured; we are prepared to entrust the safekeeping of Palestine to Great Britain.' He seemed to be touched as he replied: 'What a token of confidence in my country and government on the part of your fellow Jews! It does us honor indeed.'

Criticism of Great Britain Permissible

"Am I prepared to assert that such confidence was misplaced? No. I do not believe it," Dr. Wise declared. "If the question were to be opened afresh, I would favor the assumption by Britain of the Mandate of the League of Nations over Palestine. Great Britain has not facilitated the establishment of the Jewish Homeland, has not adequately and consistently facilitated the creation of the Jewish Homeland in Palestine. At Basle I cited instance after instance of the failure of the facilitation. I believe that when I pointed out these things, I spoke for the mind of the Jewish world, not for myself alone. We must have an end of the notion sedulously spread that there is no treason comparable to complaint against or fault-finding touching the failures and shortcomings of the British in Palestine. As an American and a Zionist, I know of no ordinance which denies me the right to speak my mind touching Great Britain's attitude toward the Zionist movement and toward the Jewish resettlement of Palestine in the light of the Balfour Declaration and the San Remo treaty. Nor is the subsequent setting aside of $5,000 or $10,000 in Tel Aviv for the relief of unemployment an answer to my charge. It may for a moment be an answer to the unemployed in Tel Aviv, but it is no answer to the Jewish people, one of the moral if not actual signatories of the covenant with Great Britain. That is no answer. An answer it would be if Great Britain as the Mandatory Government were to cease to regulate the Jewish resettlement in Palestine as if it were a normal, prosperous 'baal-batish' colonization, and begin to deal with the Jewish settlers of Palestine as a struggling, pioneering daring, not to be taxed and overtaxed, not to be burdened and overburdened, but facilitate in their hardy and noble enterprise of transforming Palestine into a livable place and thus to create a Jewish National Homeland. This Jewish minority in Palestine is poor save in the resources of its spirit and requires every facilitation if it is not to fail in its doing of the impossible.

Zionist Leadership Blamed

"The time is come for us to seek an answer to the question—why is land taxed when it is held in non-Jewish hands as if it were virtually valueless and why does it become of high value the moment it passes into Jewish

SIR PHILIP SASSOON IS FETTERED BEFORE DEPARTURE

Sir Philip Sassoon, British Under-Secretary of State for Air, was tendered a dinner at the Hotel Biltmore Thursday night by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

Sir Philip has just completed a tour of American airplane plants and flying fields. He spoke of the great friendship which exists between the American and British air services.

Grover Loening presided. William P. MacCracken, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation and Clement M. Keys, President of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company were among the speakers.

Sir Philip was the guest of Assistant Secretary of War Davis on an air flight to West Point where he was the Academy's guest on a round of inspection. He sailed Friday night on the Majestic for England.

hands?" Dr. Wise demanded. "The explanation is offered that the new appraisal is not valid until it passes from old to new ownerships. This plausible and technical explanation is no defense of Britain's over-taxation of Jewish enterprise, of Britain's laying insurmountable burdens upon our self-sacrificing young pioneers. We may be stilled if we seek to speak out in other lands, but in America we shall speak the truth as we see it, more particularly seeing that—and this is of deepest significance—it is far from certain that the British Government is responsible. For my part, I do not believe that Great Britain is chiefly answerable for the policy of non-facilitation of the Jewish Homeland in Palestine. Has it never occurred to you, my fellow Zionists, that ours may be the responsibility in large or small part. I do Britain the honor of believing that its government is always ready to deal justly with a people, which makes just demands with courage and sincerity. The justest, noblest Government in the world will not deal justly with the people that does not stand up with self-respect for the last iota of its rights.

"Without being an English citizen by birth or adoption, I know enough about England and my own country to know that neither country is prepared to yield assent to those who are not strong or brave enough firmly to demand what in essence is just. This American Government some day may grant independence to the Philippine Islands, — but never until its people voice its just demands in firm and inexorable terms. No government, I repeat, grants more to any people, whatsoever its contractual relations with them, than is demanded by them in the terms of complete self-respect. Given the attitude on the part of the leaders of the Zionist movement of the governorship of a Crown Colony, and into a Crown Colony Palestine would speedily and irretrievably descend. The British Government is too great to ask to be exempted from the fulfillment of its responsibility to the Jewish people with whom, in the terms of the Balfour Declaration, it has made a solemn and irrevocable compact.

Relates Basle Incident

"I happened to be Chairman of the Political Commission at the recent Basle Congress, upon the request of the President of the Zionist Organization of America. In the course of its deliberations the following resolution was submitted to the Commission:

"Having regard to the outstanding political and allied problems relating to the economic development of the Yishuv, and the impossibility of adequate and practical discussion of these problems within the brief limits of the sessions of the Congress, this Commission recommends to the Zionist Congress the election by the Congress of a special committee which shall consist of the President of the Zionist Organization as Chairman and four other members, and which committee shall under the leadership of the President of the Zionist Organization, undertake a full review of such problems, making recommendations for their early solution and discussing such recommendations with the Government of the Mandatory power, with a view to securing where possible the facilitation of the common objects of that Government and the Zionist Organization."

"That resolution, framed and offered by Philip Guedalla, the President of the English Zionist Federation, and seconded by Mr. Abraham Tulin of the American Delegation, was introduced with my own entire concurrence. I did not then feel, nor do I feel today, that as the Chairman of the Political Commission, I could accept the responsibility for Dr. Weizmann's threatened withdrawal from the leadership and the Presidency of the Zionist Organization, which threat, privately made and publicly re-stated, I did Dr. Weizmann the honor of taking seriously and at its face value, seeing that Dr. Weizmann was and is the pivotal figure for the present, in any event, of the Jewish Agency, that is yet to come into being. To put it into simplest terms, I do not withdraw from the fight. Because of the question whether the Mandatory Government or the political leadership is primarily responsible for England keeping the promise of the Balfour Declaration to our ear and breaking it to our hope, I concurred in the proposal to re-explore and re-state the social economic bases of the relations of the Zionist movement and the Mandatory Government of Great Britain. My withdrawal from the leadership of the Political Commission at Basle, which was prepared with virtual unanimity to urge the adoption by the Congress of the resolution referred to, became inevitable after the threat to the Commission on the part of the leader of the Zionist Organization that she would withdraw from the leadership if such resolution were adopted. My considered act in resigning from the Commission was a protest against the attempt to stifle freedom of discussion and to destroy the rights of the Zionists freely to criticize the Executive and Administration. That fight will be carried on.

Will Ask for Change

"At the Convention of the Zionist Organization of America, at the next Congress of the Zionist movement, I shall insist again—and my insistence will yet prevail—that instead of one British subject negotiating on behalf of the Zionist Organization, we have the right in order properly to re-explore and re-state the political, economic bases of the Zionist Movement, to place at Dr. Weizmann's side for a time a group of men, including an American, including a Continental European, including an Englishman, including a Palestinian representing those who have most at stake, that these, under the leadership of Dr. Weizmann, making it unnecessary for him alone to bear the brunt of negotiation with the British Government.

"One thing more must be said. The reign of the fear of criticism must cease, and the terrorization of the critics of the Zionist leadership must cease. You can kill criticism but if you do you kill any moral and spiritual movement such as our own. I demand an end of threats and of terrorization. I threaten, my fellow Zionists, and not to resign but to stay. I did not cease to be a Zionist at Basle. My fellow Zionists, the only Hillul Hashem in Zionism is unworthiness on the part of whomever, unworthiness and its defense by concealment thereof.

Dead Sea Concession Puzzle; Clarity Needed

"As an illustration of the problem of the political conduct of our Zionist affairs, I cite the so-called 'Dead Sea Concession' about which those of us entrusted with the responsibility of leadership in America are deeply disturbed. What ever the nature or terms of the concession, we shall insist that the terms of the Mandate with regard to the control and utilization of the natural resources of the land be fulfilled, that the profits are to accrue neither to an individual Jew nor to a company of non-Jews, in England, and that the gains from this immeasurably valuable concession shall be safeguarded for Palestine and all its people. And if we were prepared to be silent, the American government would not be. Neither would the League of Nations, by virtue of the Mandate of which the British Government operates in Palestine, assent to the exploitation of the chiefest asset of Palestine, in any interests whatever, save those of Palestine. Moreover would the British judgment and conscience approve of an act in violation of the spirit of the Declaration and the Mandate. I believe not, even if the Zionist leadership, if the Zionist Organization, if the American Government, even if you, my American fellow Zionists, choose to remain silent.

"I would not end my word today on the note of fear, despair, hopelessness. I say to you today that we have begun an era of constructive progress in Palestine. I tell you that I believe there may be such hope for Palestine today as there has not been in our day. The day of economic and financial reconstruction has begun. We have a Palestine Executive which is not made up of males and females, not made up of the Mikuchi and Labor and other factious groups, but made up of three responsible representatives of the Zionist movement in its entirety and without regard to partisan affiliation. Let us give our unlimited support to the Palestine Executive because it is for us the symbol of a new order in our Palestine work. But it cannot be made too clear that there must be no interference with the Palestine Executive. It is one thing to name an Executive, another to support it. I declare in your name that, having appointed this new Palestine Executive, there shall be no sabotage thereof by whomever, whether in Palestine, London or New York. You must not weaken it, undermine it, destroy it. Let us give our full and devoted allegiance to Henrietta Gold, Sachse, Kisch, Van Vriesland, who are our Executive, which we named and the Congress confirmed.

Boat Needs Backing

"But over and beyond all else, these are the great and enduring achievements of the past fifty years, and above all of the last ten years, since the Balfour Declaration! There is the old Yishuv, the immortal service of Theodor Herzl, the Balfour Declaration, obtained chiefly through the leadership of Dr. Weizmann, the San Remo Treaty, the Chaimin, the Keren Hayesod. These are undeniable achievements. I would not find a scapegoat today; it were too easy. Moreover, I speak neither for the 'ins' nor 'outs.' I was warned yesterday by a warm friend, 'Dr. Wise, don't rock the boat.' Well, if I had to save the boat with its precious human freight, with its cargo of infinite worth to all of us, I would be willing to rock the boat a little, if the rocking must be in order to save it. The important thing is not to rock the boat or to leave it unrocked, but to save its priceless cargo. That I seek to do. Remember that truth alone restores confidence, not the truth as seen from the viewpoint of three minutes before two on October 30, 1927, in the city of Cleveland, County of Cuyahoga, State of Ohio of the United States, but of that truth, which, will come when I am dust, when you and I shall have become unite.

Zionists Must Go Forward

"For the benefit of those who would understand, in order to warn those who will to misunderstand, I sum up in this sentence: I deal not with the collapse of Zionist ideals; I have dealt with the breakdown of Zionist machinery — a breakdown temporary and partial — and only temporary and partial. True it is that there have been errors and mistakes and blunders of Administration, but these do not alter values which are eternal. Shall we speak the truth to one another, or shall it be spoken of us—as soon it may be? As one of you and one with you. I speak to you and with you, not of you. As for breakdown and failure and even threats of bankruptcy, we know the worst, we confess the worst, and yet we go on believing that we may achieve great things for our people. No errors and no mistakes, no shortcomings and no blunders shall stay our forward march. Constructive progress in the rebuilding of Palestine is to be resumed, not under a new leadership, but under leadership. There must be no regress, no halting, nor yet ignoring of our magnificent triumphs in the last ten, twenty, thirty, forty, and now almost fifty, years, because these successes and triumphs will be ignored and minimized by others and our failures will be magnified. I know your task and mine is the vigilant safeguarding of our hard-won triumphs and the investment of every dollar and every Jewish life in Palestine.

"I make this last appeal to you. We have made heavy commitments and have accepted awful responsibilities. We do not shrink them. We will not default. Our work is to move forward together, we of the Zionist movement and the Mandatory Government; we of the Zionist leadership and those whose confidence we invite and shall yet justify. We and the new Executive of which our own Henrietta Gold is a member, in whose hands we place this treasure of ours, by them to be guarded, cherished, defended, fellow Zionists, having put our hands to the plow, we will not withdraw. We will go forward. "Dabaar of B'nai Israel V'Issac"— "Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward." Dr. Wise concluded.

view of the attitude of the various Zionist groups who have voiced their unconditional opposition to forming a bloc with the Orthodox Agudath Israel, which was formed during the last election.

Lemberg, Nov. 4.—The demand that Zionists in the Republic of Poland separate their Zionist activities from local politics was voiced at the Zionist conference of Eastern Galicia which concluded its three day sessions here.

This demand was formulated by the oppositional group led by Deputy Frostig. The group also demanded a union of all Zionist organizations in Poland, including those from Galicia and Congress Poland, be brought about. This was voted down.

A new Executive was elected, headed by Dr. Leon Reich as president, Mr. Schmarak and Deputies Schreiber and Rozmarin, vice-presidents.

A drive for $42,000 for the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies in Harrisburg, Pa., will be started at a meeting to be held in the Jewish Community center here on Sunday evening.

Albert H. Lieberman, of Philadelphia, regional chairman of the United Jewish Campaign, will be one of the principal speakers. The campaign will be continued for ten days.

Forty-two local and Jewish philanthropic organizations will share in the distribution of the funds.

The local Jewish federation was organized last year, when $40,000 was raised.
