Bucharest, Mar. 10.—The new Roumanian law concerning religious communities is greatly hampering the social welfare work of the Kehillahs throughout Roumania, it was brought out at a meeting of Jewish members of the Roumanian parliament held here Friday.

PALESTINE IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT EXPLAINS SCHWARTZBARD BARRING

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Mar. 10.—An explanation of why Sholom Schwartzbard, slayer of Simon Petura, was refused permission to enter Palestine was intimated by the Immigration Department of the Palestine government.

According to the department, the refusal was due simply to the fact that the applicant did not comply with the regulations issued by the government with regard to immigrants and visitors.

Schwartzbard could enter Palestine either as a man of means or as a skilled worker whose services were required by an employer in Palestine. Having failed to prove either, his application was rejected.

Vienna, Mar. 10.—The action of the Palestine government in rejecting the application of Sholom Schwartzbard to enter Palestine was lauded by the "Deutsch" (Continued on Page 4)

WARFARE WITH WAHABIS IS PUSHED INTO DESERT; UR OF THE CHALDEES BRITISH BASE

British Aeroplane Operations Center at Spot Where Abraham the Patriarch Was Born

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Mar. 10.—Ur of the Chaldees, the birthplace of Abraham the Patriarch, was made the base for aeroplane operations of the British Air Force in the move to ward off the attack of the Wahabis on Iraq, Kuwait and Transjordania. Almost all of the Squadrons of the air force are out in the field.

Reports from Basra, Iraq, state today that the disturbances on the southwestern frontier of Iraq are more serious than the ordinary tribal forays. The Royal Air Force operations have been carried far into the desert, not affecting the settled population of the country. In the towns there is no sign of apprehension, the reports state.

Several detachments of Indian troops were moved to Shaibah, but the Iraq army is still in its barracks. Among the casualties reported there was a British pilot whose machine was shot down. He succeeded in setting it on fire before he was shot. The British cruiser, Emerald, and the sloop, Crocus, and a special service vessel, the Triad, have landed troops on the Kuwait shore.

SENATE COMMITTEE TAKES UP NATIONAL ORIGINS QUES- TION IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Washington, D. C., Mar. 10.—An executive session of the Senate Committee on Immigration will be held today, Senator Johnson, chairman of the committee announced. The purpose of the session is to consider the attitude to be taken by the committee with respect to the national origins provision of the Immigration Act of 1924 which may be put into effect on July 1, 1928, by a presidential proclamation which, under the terms of the act may be issued on April 1, 1928.

Discussing the issue to be presented to the committee Senator Johnson said:

"We will meet in executive session on Saturday to determine what attitude our committee will take towards these provisions.

"There are various positions that may be taken. First, there are pending before us bills for the repeal of that portion of the Act of 1924. Second, there are suggestions to postpone for another year the proclamation of the President, as was done last year. Third, there are the contentions of those who want to see the national origins provisions made effective.

"It is our hope, after discussing the matter, to reach some conclusion as to which of these propositions shall prevail."

ADOLPH S. OCHS, PUBLISHER OF 'N. Y. TIMES' REACHES HIS SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY

Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the "New York Times," who is now in California on a tour in behalf of the Endowment Fund of the Hebrew Union College, attains his seventieth birthday today.

Born in Cincinnati, March 12, 1858, the son of Julius and Bertha Ochs, he received his education at the public schools. At the age of eleven he delivered newspapers for the "Knoxville Chronicle." In 1878, having served as grocery clerk, druggist apprentice, compositor on the "Knoxville Daily Tribune," reporter and business manager, he was the owner and publisher of the "Chattanooga Times."

Thirty-two years ago he came to New York from Chattanooga. In 1896 Adolph S. Ochs was invited to take over the property of the "New York Times," following the death of George Johns, one of its founders. Three years later he took over a controlling interest in the "New York Times" which he has held from that date.

Mr. Ochs is the holder of four honorary degrees. From Yale University he received the honorary degree of M.A.; from Columbia University, the degree of L.L.D. was conferred on him; and the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature was given him by the University of Chattanooga, and by New York University. He is also a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France.

In addition to his publishing interests, Mr. Ochs is in the forefront of civic, communal and philanthropic activities of the country. He is a trustee of Temple Emanu-El and is chairman of the $5,000,000 Endowment Fund Committee of the Hebrew Union College. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. Among his many public bequests are: $50,000 to Chattanooga University for the endowment of a professorship in city government, $200,000 to the Hebrew Union College Fund and $10,000 and two memorials to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

EDUCATION ASSOCIATION TO ABOLISH ANNUAL DRIVES, BOARD MEETING DECIDES

A committee of one hundred of the Jewish Education Association in New York will attempt to eliminate the annual drive for funds which the association has conducted since its organization six years ago, according to plans adopted at a meeting of the board of directors.

The committee will undertake to place its finances on a permanent membership basis. Jacob Wener has been appointed chairman of the committee.

HADASSAH, WOMEN'S ZIONIST ORGANIZATION, CELEBRATES SIXTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization, is celebrating its sixteenth anniversary. The organization, of which Mrs. Irma L. Lindheim is president, has a membership of 44,000 in the United States, it was stated.

A statement issued by the Hadassah headquarters on the occasion of the anniversary reviewed the work and aims of the organization.

"This organization, founded by Henrietta Scott, has a two-fold aim: in Palestine to establish a system of medical social service; in America to foster Zionist ideals," the statement declared. From modest beginnings in 1913 the organization has grown to such size that it maintains the leading medical system of Palestine. It has four hospitals with laboratories and surgical departments; the rural service has been organized to meet the needs of the farmers and medical circuits have been laid out covering practically the whole of the Jewish area of Palestine. Infant welfare stations have been established throughout the country, a recent report just received announcing the opening of the seventeenth station. These health stations have been of inestimable service in reducing the infant mortality among the backward native population of the country.

"Another aspect of the Palestinian activities of Hadassah is represented by the penny luncheons which are served in the schools of Palestine by Hadassah. This project not only provides the children with a hot luncheon in many cases is their only sustaining meal, but is used as the basis of extensive training in domestic science, the children being taught laws of dietetics and marketing.

"Through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Straus, two health centers, which are being built, one in Jerusalem and one in Tel-Aviv, will house and coordinate the latest preventive health methods in Palestine. The Hebrew name will be simply "Bet-El-Britah," "the House of Health." This emphasis on preventive medicine has been the keynote of Hadassah's work in Palestine. Hadassah's chief aim in its health work is to introduce modern conceptions of hygiene and disease prevention into Palestine."

"The experience of the past six years," stated Bernard Sempel, honorary secretary of the association, "during which annual drives for funds have been conducted, points to the advisability of finding a method of financing the activities of the association which will consume less time and money. Our ultimate aim is to have every Jewish child in our community receive a Jewish religious education."

Fellowship Movement Among Religious Denominations Faces Crisis, Insincerity Charged

(By our Philadelphia correspondent)

Phila., Pa., Mar. 10.—Can there be a fellowship of faiths?

This community is in the midst of one of the most interesting experiments, having for its purpose to answer this question. Like so many other communities, the Philadelphia community is blessed with a number of liberal ministers—using the word liberal in its non-technical sense—who should like to hasten the day when religious differences will be obliterated. This desire is common to both the Jewish and the Christian elements in the community.

Of late this desire has become articulate. Last year experiments were conducted on a small scale—an interdenominational dinner in Logan and an exchange of visits on the part of rabbi and Christian minister in South West Philadelphia. Both experiments were considered a success. Encouraged by these neighborhood efforts something larger was attempted this year. A city-wide interdenominational dinner was arranged with the number of those present limited to five hundred, divided between the Jewish and Christians. All honors were equal and equitably shared. Approximately one hundred people were present. No concerted effort was made to bring the people. Very little advance publicity was given to the event. The Protestant bishop and the President of the Jewish board of Ministers each acting on behalf of his respective groups, felicitated the audience and spoke in glowing terms of the day when man shall take his fellow man no longer. This dinner, too, was declared a huge success.

Simultaneously there was begun in this city a movement called the Fellowship of Faiths. Its purpose, it was explained, was to bring home to the rest of us the infinite good there is in the religion of some of us. First, there were several meetings among the students of the two universities—University of Pennsylvania and Temple University. For a while everything went along quite smoothly. Rabbis, Protestant preachers and Catholic prelates vied with each other and with representatives of other faiths in declaring their fellowship.

On the surface it seemed as if the great day predicted by the prophets was at hand. To one given to closer scrutiny rumblings were in evidence. In one or two cases these rumblings have already become articulate. Thus a number of rabbis discussing the subject minced no

JEWISH SOLDIERS, SAILORS GRANTED FURLONGHS FOR PASSOVER CELEBRATION

Furloughs for Jewish soldiers to enable them to be at their homes during the Passover celebration will be granted according to an order issued by the Secretary of War, Dr. Cyrus Adler, chairman of the Army and Navy Committee of the Jewish Welfare Board, announced. The order issued by the Secretary stated:

"The Secretary of War desires, in order to permit soldiers of the Jewish faith to participate in the celebration of Passover, that furloughs be granted to members of that faith for such time as necessary to permit them to be at their homes, when practicable, or at places where Seder celebrations are held, from noon, April 3, 1928, until midnight, April 7, 1928, provided no interference with the public service is occasioned thereby.

"Matzoth and Haggadahs will be distributed by the Jewish Welfare Board. Commanding Officers will lend assistance to and cooperate with the representatives of this board in such distribution."

The Bureau of Navigation has issued to all ships and stations a similar order with reference to men of the Jewish faith who are in the navy.

There is also a standing order of the United States Veterans Bureau, granting leave of absence for Passover to Jewish disabled veterans who are in a physical condition to travel. The Jewish Welfare Board will arrange for personal visits and other services to those who remain in the hospitals.

The Jewish Welfare Board is cooperating with Jewish Centers and Y. M. H. A.'s for the celebration of the holiday by making available a bulletin which gives information for the conduct of Seder services and the celebration of the festival by means of entertainments and social functions.

FORM HATVANY DEFENSE COMMITTEE IN NEW YORK

A Hatvany Defense Committee to appeal to the Hungarian Government against the sentence of Baron Ludwig Hatvany, imprisoned for attacking the Horthy regime, was formed at a meeting held Friday night in the hall of the Hungarian Literary Society, New York.

Emil Ludwig, friend of Baron Hatvany, declared in his address:

"We say an injustice has been done, and we appeal to the Hungarian Government not to have this man suffer six years of imprisonment. Rather than judge him by the articles for which he was condemned, we would have his Government accept his five books, which show the good work he has done."

words in characterizing the entire movement as a farce and a sham. One rabbi, speaking last week at a public luncheon characterized the Interdenominational Dinner as a "mere gesture" of no value whatsoever.

The climax, however, came the other day when at a stormy meeting of the Presbytery of Philadelphia the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, it has become a matter of public knowledge that Presbyterian ministers of this Presbytery have lent their names to a movement for fellowship among various religions including Shintoism, Buddhism, Unitarianism, Ethical Culture, Judaism, Mohammedanism and other non-Christian religions;

"Be it resolved that the Presbytery of Philadelphia go on record as being unalterably opposed to any fellowship that tends to name Christianity as one of many equally good religions; that we reaffirm our belief that Christianity is a revelation, and so is the full and absolute religion; that the Presbytery hereby enjoins upon its ministers and elders the duty of abstaining from any participation in such meetings and movements."

The Rev. Dr. William P. Fulton, clerk of the Presbytery made the following statement regarding the resolution:

"The Presbytery of Philadelphia has positively prohibited all clergymen within its jurisdiction from fellow-worshipping with non-Christian religions. If they do they must face the consequences. Christianity cannot accept any other religion as an equal."

Simultaneously with this declaration there appeared a letter written by a Christian clergyman in one of the neighborhood newspapers condemning in no uncertain terms the Christian participation in the Interdenominational Dinner. At this writing the incident is causing no the father-in-law of United States Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

The tribute of the entire population to the Jewish champions of liberty is the only case in Austria where the Christian masses, without distinction of party, make a pilgrimage to the Vienna cemetery to pay homage to Jews, depositing wreaths on their graves.

Even Lueger, the anti-Semitic mayor of Vienna, used to pay tribute to Fischhof's memory, exclaiming during a sitting of the Vienna municipality: "No man living can compare himself in service, integrity and character to Fischhof."

The pilgrimage to the Vienna cemetery has developed into a tradition of the German academic youth, including a large number of anti-Semites, notwithstanding the attempts made lately by the Voelkische press to pass in silence the role of the Jewish heroes of 1848. In the processions banners will be carried appealing to the population to take an example from the Jewish heroes in the fight for the nation's freedom.

Commenting on the decision, the newspaper declares triumphantly: "The Jewish National Home, too, considers Schwartzbard a murderer of a Christian, just as the anti-Semites do. The Jewish State rejects, as a demonstration, all Jewry's triumph at Schwartzbard's acquittal."

little discussion in the ranks of the Philadelphia clergy, with the usual echo among some of the laity. Some of the rabbis, though preferring not to be quoted, are not altogether taken aback by this action of the Presbytery of Philadelphia. They are of the belief that the Jews should have taken a similar stand long ago.

What this will lead to, whether these meetings will be abandoned or not; how other parts of the country will react—it is too early to predict.
