ELIMINATE CHARGES OF PERSONAL DISHONESTY AGAINST Z.O.A. LEADERS

Opposition Makes Public Letter of Judge Julian W. Mack

The Committee for Z. O. A. Reorganization, representing the opposition formed at the recent Washington conference, made public yesterday the text of a letter addressed by Judge Julian W. Mack to Julius Simon under date of June 15, eliminating from the opposition charges against the administration any accusation of personal dishonesty. The letter read:

"A few days ago when a sub-committee of the so-called Committee on Peace and Reconstruction (of which you are a member) met with some members of the group that had a conference in Washington, attention was called to the use of the word dishonest in the preface to the proceedings of that convention. I stated to those present and none of the Washington group dissented, that I had not seen that preface or the pamphlet before it was published, that so far as I knew, and I believe I did know, no one had ever made a charge of "dishonesty" in the sense in which it was now pretended that the word had been used in the preface, namely, of accusing anyone of misappropriating funds of the organization for his private pecuniary gain.

"I stated that the word very clearly meant, and by its reference to the resolutions could only have meant, dishonesty in practices in connection with Zionist affairs—practices analogous to those which have just come to light since the Washington Conference, like the famous telegram in reference to crediting dues of formerly enrolled members who had not paid this year,

RAINS IMPROVE CONDITIONS IN JEWISH COLONIES

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Moscow, June 19.—The crops in the Crimea, especially in the Jankoy area where most of the Jewish colonies are located, have considerably improved as a result of the recent rains.

London, June 19.—A telegram from Dr. Joseph A. Rosen, head of the Agrojoint, was received by Felix M. Warburg, reporting on the conditions in the Jewish colonies.

Dr. Rosen stated in his telegram that reports from the colonies with regard to the new crop are reassuring.

JOSEPH BARONDESS, JEWISH COMMUNAL LEADER, ZIONIST AND LABOR CHAMPION, DEAD

Was Former Commissioner of Education; Leader of all Shades of Opinion Voice Grief

Joseph Barondess, communal leader, Zionist, labor champion, orator, peace-maker and active member of many Jewish organizations in New York City, died yesterday morning at Mount Sinai Hospital, following two operations. Mr. Barondess, who was in robust health until recently, was taken to the hospital about a month ago, suffering from kidney trouble. Mr. Barondess would have been 61 on July 3.

The funeral will take place at 1 p.m. today from Meyer's Funeral Parlor, 76th street and Amsterdam avenue, New York City. Interment will be at the new Mount Carmel Cemetery, Newtown, L. I.

A stormy petrel in the Jewish labor movement at the beginning of the Jewish immigration from Eastern Europe to the United States, Mr. Barondess became one of the most popular figures in the Jewish community in New York, zealously championing various causes to promote the welfare of the immigrant population and participating in manifold activities along the lines of social work, education, protection of Jewish rights abroad and in the Zionist movement. Recently, he was elected president of the Jewish National Fund in America.

Mr. Barondess attained a particular position of distinction in many Jewish movements through his activities to bring about peace wherever controversies arose. His deep resonant voice appealing for the traditional Jewish "Sholom" was a dominant factor in many dramatic conclusions of raging controversies. A memorable occasion when Mr. Barondess appeared in his role of peacemaker was the Joint Distribution Committee conference held September 12, 1925, to organize the $15,000,000 United Jewish Campaign, when the Zionists and non-Zionists were engaged in a bitter controversy over the Jewish colonization project in Russia. He assumed a similar role in the Wise controversy in December of the same year.

Arriving in the United States in 1883 from Kamienec-Podolsk where he was born July 3, 1867, he was one of the pioneers of the Jewish labor movement in the United States. He was the founder of the Cloak Makers' Union which he headed until 1892. He was the organizer and founder of the Hebrew Actors Union, the Hebrew American Typo-

JEWISH LIFE IN RHINELAND
CONTINUOUS FOR 1,500 YEARS

(G. T. A. Mail Service)

Cologne, June 3.—“Jews have lived in the Rhineland for over 1,500 years,” Dr. Brodnitz, the president of the Central Union of German Citizens of the Jewish Faith, said in his opening address to the Rhineland Conference of the Central Union opened here today. Several hundred persons were present from all parts of the Rhineland and from other districts. Representatives of the government and municipal authorities, the police president of Cologne and others greeted the delegates. The vice president of the Central Union, Dr. Bruno Weil, and the director, Dr. Ludwig Hollaender were present.

“During the whole of the 1,500 years,” Dr. Brodnitz said, “the Jews of the Rhineland had identified themselves closely with its history. From the Rhine, hundreds of years ago, Jews had, because of the anti-Jewish persecutions, emigrated to the East. But despite the persecution, the emigrants had assured themselves that their bodies would be brought back to the old home for burial.”

Dr. Bruno Weil said that in all periods of German history they found Jews in Germany. The Constantine edict of the year 321 spoke of a long established settlement of Jews in Cologne. This was the case in Aachen (Aix-la-Chapelle) Mayence, Metz and Speyer. In the first thousand years of German history, it appeared that there had been friendly relations be-

PALESTINE ARABS, MOSLEMS
AND CHRISTIANS, UNITE
FOR CONGRESS FRONT

London Paper Sees Joint Move
Against Zionist Policy
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, June 19.—The possibility of a united Arab front in Palestine, including both Moslems and Christians, loomed large today when it was reported that a new move was under way to secure the participation of Christian Arabs in the forthcoming Arab Congress.

The Christian Arabs who had intended to create a separate organization and not participate in the forthcoming Congress have reached an agreement with the Hasseini group, it was reported. By this agreement, Moslems and Christian Arabs will join in the Congress to be held here next week.

London, June 19.—The move for uniting Moslems and Christians in the forthcoming Arab Congress is viewed by the “London Daily Express” as an attempt to create a united Arab front against Great Britain’s Zionist policy in Palestine.

Commenting upon the announcement, the newspaper declares editorially that Great Britain, which has the greatest number of Moslems in its Empire, must not create the impression that it is backing the Jews against the Moslems, particularly when the Christian Arabs also oppose Zionism, declares the anti-Zionist paper.

NEW ENGLAND VOTES CON-FIDENCE IN Z.O.A. LEADERS
(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Springfield, Mass. June 19.—After an all day debate delegates attending the convention of the New England Zionist Region at the Hotel Kimball here voted confidence in the leadership of the Zionist Organization of America headed by Louis Lipsky. The vote was 118 to 9.

Two orthodox congregations of Cincinnati, O., ratified at a joint meeting the agreement to merge. A committee was named from each congregation and empowered to consider plans for building a temple for the merged synagogues.

The congregations involved are Ahavath Achim Synagogue and the Tifereth Zion Synagogue. The two groups have a membership of 350.

between the Jews and Christians. With the year 1,200 there had started a half-century of distress and persecution of the Jews, which lessened only gradually during the two last centuries and ceased in theory in 1869. They were indissolubly bound up with German soil which for two thousand years had been their fatherland.

TWO RABBINIC BODIES IN JOINT SESSION CONSIDER
PROBLEMS OF ORTHODOXY

Groups at Variance with Union of Orthodox Rabbis
(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Mount Freedom, N. J. June 19.—The Orthodox rabbinate in the United States is not united, it was disclosed at the joint convention of two bodies of Orthodox rabbis, Keneseth Ha'Rabbanim and Degel Ha'Rabbanim, which opened here at the Fairmont Hotel in the presence of eighty rabbis from various parts of the United States.

Rabbi Jacob Eskolsky of New York and Rabbi Mendelson of Newark were elected chairmen of the convention. Rabbi Wolvele Margolies of New York, Yudolowitz of New York, Barishansky of Washington, D.C., and Horowitz of Pittsburgh, were elected honorary presidents of the convention.

The agenda of the three days sessions which will come to an end on Wednesday evening, includes a discussion on the outstanding problems of Orthodox Jews in the United States, such as religious education, adherence to the religious laws with regard to the purity of family life, necessary safeguards for the observance of the Sabbath and the supervision of the sale of kosher meat. It was stated that the last point will evoke a heated discussion as the two groups which have joined in the convention are greatly at variance with the Union of Orthodox Rabbis in the United States and Canada, an older organization, on this point.

Recent rulings adopted at the convention of the Union held last month in Belmar, N. J. called forth a strong opposition among other Orthodox rabbis who are not members of the organization. The purpose of the convention is not warfare but peace and a united Orthodox Jewry, it was repeatedly declared in the addresses of Rabbi Eskolsky, Barishansky, Margolies and others.

The conflict, however, came to a head when Rabbi Eskolsky, in his opening address, revealed that members of the two organizations received “threatening letters” from the Union of Orthodox Rabbis, warning them not to participate in the proposed meeting. The conveners of the conference were declared “destroyers of the faith.” Rabbi Eskolsky charged the leadership of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis with arbitrary methods and with a determination to institute a dictatorship in the Orthodox rabbinate in the United States.

He also charged that Rabbi B. Revel, head of the faculty of the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary, and other members of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis, have written to the rabbis in Palestine asking them not to confer rabbinic degrees upon American stu-

ORDER BRITH ABRAHAM PLANS TO ERECT NATIONAL CENTER IN NEW YORK CITY Structure to Cost Approximately $1,000,000;

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 19.—A decision to construct a National Independent Order Brith Abraham Center in New York City was taken up by the delegates assembled at the second day's session of the convention of the Order here yesterday.

The proposed center will cost approximately one million dollars. One half this sum is to be borrowed from the reserve endowment fund of the Order and the other half will be raised through assessments of one dollar per year on each member, sales of certificates and bonds to the public and through loans from individual lodges. President Silverstein declared that the vote of the convention would stimulate local lodges to build centers in their respective communities.

At the session which decided to remove the restrictions hitherto imposed on members of Class A from joining Classes B and C, the vote was 436 in favor of removing the restrictions to 140 against and came after a hot contest.

A resolution calling for the appointment of a propaganda committee to consist of ten members from ten lodges, whose principal function will be to organize new lodges was adopted. Members will be assessed five cents to cover the expense of this work. Other resolutions approved the work of the American Jewish Congress and assessed members three cents each for the Congress; commended Ort and assessed each member two cents toward its support; voted a contribution of $500 from the charity fund of the Order for maintenance of the I.O.B.A. in Hadassah hospital in Palestine.

Support for Jewish education in America was expressed in a resolution adopted. The efforts of the administration to lessen the hardships entailed by the present immigration laws were approved.

Public opinion of America was called upon to protest against the outrages upon Jews in Roumania and other European countries.

Max Silverstein and Max L. Hollander are slated for re-election to the offices of Grand Master and Grand Secretary at the election of officers, which will take place this morning.

dents who have previously studied in American Yeshivas and later proceeded to Palestine to complete their studies there. Fear of "competition" was said to have been the motive for this.

Cabled greetings were read from Rabbi Chaim Sonnenfeld of Jerusalem and the Union of Orthodox Rabbis in Poland. The first session was closed with a moving address in Hebrew by Rabbi S. L. Horowitz of New York.

and charging them to the district, which had no power to be responsible for them.

"I further added that dishonest practices include false statements and abuse of power, things that were specifically charged in the addresses and in the resolutions of the conference.

"It further authorized the members of the sub-committee of your organization to repeat the statement that I had made, at any time and at any place, not as a matter of compromise of any kind, but purely as a matter of justice both to those who either felt themselves or pretended to feel themselves accused, as well as to those responsible for the publications of the proceedings of the Washington Conference.

"Entirely apart from any statement made in that preface I personally repeat again that I have never heard anyone accuse any member of the administration of financial dishonesty in the sense of misappropriating any funds for his own pecuniary gain."

SAYS NO DISCRIMINATION INTENDED AT PIRAEUS

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, June 19.—The Greek Consul General here in a statement issued to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency representative commented on the JTA despatch from New York concerning the discriminatory treatment accorded American Jewish travellers at Piraeus.

Dr. Leo S. Honor and Mrs. Kriger were not admitted at Piraeus because they were without Greek visas, the Consul stated. Hundreds of Jews who received visas in Jerusalem were admitted to Greece, he declared.

Following addresses by Abraham Wernick of Philadelphia, Rabbi S. Joshua Kohn of the West Philadelphia Jewish Community Center and E. J. London, Field Secretary of the New Jersey Jewish Welfare Board, a campaign for a Jewish community center in Wildwood, N. J. was launched at a dinner held at the Metropolitan Hotel.

The Center is planned to meet the religious and educational needs of the community, numbering approximately one hundred families. The movement is sponsored by the Hebrew Progressive Club, Daniel Baker, president; in co-operation with Congregation Beth Judah, Ed Berkowitz, President Abraham Konowitch is President of the Joint Committee. Irving Shenberg acted as toastmaster.

The appointment of a Jew to the Chicago Board of Education is expected. A vacancy will soon exist on that board. The last Jewish member of the board was Jacob Loeb, who was president of that body for several years. His term expired about seven years ago.

graphical Union No. 83.

In 1910 he was appointed Commissioner of the Board of Education by Mayor Gaynor and reappointed to this post by Mayor Mitchell in 1914. While in this position he was active in the fight in behalf of teachers who sought the right to continue in their profession after marriage.

During the World War Mr. Baroness was active in relief campaigns, speaking throughout the city for the war work drives.

He served on the Committee of Jewish Delegations which effected the incorporation of provisions for the Jewish minority rights in the Treaty at Versailles and participated in framing the Zionist proposals to the British Government on the Jewish National Homeland in Palestine. As vice-president and acting chairman of the Administrative Committee of the American Jewish Congress, he was active in the campaign against restrictive immigration. He appeared before Congressional Committees on immigration matters and obtained special permission for the admittance of hundreds of Jewish immigrants to Canada who had been barred from the United States by the quota laws.

Among his many positions in Jewish organizations he was chairman of the board of directors of the Deborah Sanatorium for Consumptive Relief, honorary president of the Federation of Ukrainian Jews in America, vice-president of the Herzliah Hebrew Academy, a member of the board of Hias, the Brooklyn Federation of Jewish Charities, Machzikei Talmud Torah, former Nasi of the Order Sons of Zion, the I. O. B. B., I. O. B. A. and the I. O. B. S.

Expressions of grief were voiced by leaders of all shades of opinion within the Jewish community.

ABRAHAM CAHAN, Editor "Forward."

"I knew Mr. Baroness since the winter of 1889, when we were making preparations for founding the Arbeiter Zeitung. There were times when our paths diverged, but the period during which we were not on terms of close friendship is small compared to the many years of most cordial and warm relationship.

"During the last few years I saw him quite frequently. He would drop in to see me at my office as a rule to ask for some favor in behalf of some one of the many applicants who were always knocking at his door. Sometimes, we would spend a day or two together at the seashore.

"He certainly was one of the most charming and warmhearted members of our community. An affectionate man, always ready to serve a good cause. We will all miss him keenly. It is almost impossible to imagine our immigrant population without his handsome face and kindly smile among the conspicuous personalities."

RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE, president, American Jewish Congress.

"I am deeply pained to learn of the passing of Joseph Baroness. No Jew in our generation has devoted himself more eagerly and devotedly to the interests of his people than Baroness. He was a child of his people who throughout his life retained a lovable, child-likeness naivete. He was leonine in his courage when the honor of the Jewish name or the security of Jewish life was involved. He deserved well of his people and the Jewish masses knew him for their own."

THE ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE OF THE ZIONIST ORGANIZATION OF AMERICA:

"The death of Joseph Baroness is a decided blow to many elements of American Jewish life. His untimely death has created a profound sorrow among all Zionists who knew of the important part that Mr. Baroness took in the development of Zionism in America. First a prominent labor leader, he devoted himself to the interests of the Zionist movement for many years. Mr. Baroness was the embodiment of generosity and devotion to social ideals. His record and his activity were an inspiration to the Zionist youth."

JOHN L. BERNSTEIN, Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society of America:

"The death of Mr. Joseph Baroness is an irreparable loss to the whole of Jewry. His interest during his whole life in everything that tended to promote the best interest of the Jewish people has been a blessing to Jewry at large. To his very last day he has given all his energy to Jewish education, to the Jewish immigrant and to the upbuilding of Palestine. In his death the Jewish people have lost a great champion."

RABBI ISRAEL LEVINTHAL, Rabbi Brooklyn Jewish Center and Chairman Committee for Support of the Hadoar.

"Joseph Baroness was a unique figure in Jewish life. There is no one that can take his place. This is not the time to give a detailed estimate of his many sided activities in behalf of his people whom he loved so devotedly and so passionately and in behalf of every worthy cause for the amelioration of humankind. He was the dreamer par excellence. From the first day that he came to America he dreamt and labored to turn his dreams into realities. His work for Palestine, for the revival of Hebrew culture, for the support of the Hadoar, the Herzliah High School and the hundred and one other causes were all the outcome of the dreams that he entertained of a finer, nobler and better Jewish life. He was the personal friend of every man in need. His office was a sort of house of refuge for everybody who needed help. No favor was too great for him to do to help a fellow man. "The world is poor in his going. Israel is indeed orphaned in his passing."

RABBI WOLF GOLD, vice-president of the Mizrahi Organization:

"Mr. Baroness was one of the noblest persons in the city of New York. He was a person who was always willing and ready to sacrifice personal matters for the sake of the Jewish people in general and the community in which he lived. He was one of the greatest friends a person could claim. His devotion to the people was of the rarest kind I ever knew.

"Of late Mr. Baroness became very religious and it was his greatest hope to spend his last years in Eretz Israel."

Sixteen Southern cities are represented at a meeting of the Southern Interstate Conference of Young Judea, which opened its three day session at Jacksonville, Fla., Monday.

Mayor John T. Alsop, Jr., of Jacksonville, greeted the delegates. Rabbi Hirschon of Tampa, Ben Zion Selig, New Orleans, president of the conference and Dave Hersbon, Atlanta were among the speakers.

Cities represented include: New Orleans, Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, Houston and Waco, Texas; Miami, Tampa, Columbus and Rome, Ga.; Savannah, Shreveport, Memphis and Chattanooga.
