Postal Minister Denies Discrimination Is Practiced

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Jan. 16.—The charge that Polish Jews are discriminated against in the service of the Polish postal administration was made by Deputy Ciolkasz, member of the Polish Socialist Party (PPS) at yesterday's session of the Budget Commission.

The charge was substantiated in a statement made by the Jewish Deputy Rosmarin. He pointed out that in the Warsaw Jewish quarter, Nalewki, where there were Jewish mail carriers even during the Czaristic regime, the number of Jewish postal employees is negligible.

The Postal Minister Miedzinski, in reply, declared that his department does not discriminate against Jewish employees. It is true that applicants for employment must state their race and religion, but the fact of the matter is that Jewish applicants are reluctant to accept the positions of post carriers because of the difficult work and low wages.

CHERNOW, RUSSIAN LEADER, SEES NO JEWISH DANGER IN RUSSIAN SITUATION

Declares Present Anti-Semitic Incidents Not Serious

When interviewed by the representative of the Jewish Daily Bulletin, Mr. Chernow, a foe of the Bolsheviks, stated that he does not consider the present anti-Semitic incidents in Russian towns as being of a serious nature. "There need be no fear that the present wave of anti-Semitism in Russian centers may lead to anti-Jewish attacks. The incidents are the result of the difficult economic conditions prevailing in the country and may be expected as long as the economic situation of Russia is a poor one. As to serious anti-Jewish outbreaks, they can occur only if a general upheaval takes place," he stated.

KOLLENBERG, SLAYER OF RUSSIAN GENERAL, A JEW

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Moscow, Jan. 16.—The young man named Kollenberg who slew General Jacob Alexander Slaschhoff, former Czaristic General who served in the Deniken and Wrangel White armies and later returned to Soviet Russia, is Jewish.

The correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency here is in a position to verify the reports to this effect circulated in the press abroad. It is declared here that Kollenberg, who killed General Slaschhoff a week ago, was motivated by a feeling of revenge for the execution of his brother by General Slaschhoff's troop in a Ukrainian town when the General fought with the White army. Kollenberg is 24 years of age.

No further details are known at present.

When in Jerusalem, he will make a thorough study of several economic projects which are now under consideration, particularly of the Dead Sea concession. Before his departure, Mr. Knabenshue stated, he will attempt to meet with a number of leading Zionists and non-Zionists in New York.

With his appointment, the Jerusalem Consulate was raised to the status of a Consulate General.

PALESTINE SATISFIED WITH NEW HIGH COMMISSIONER.

RABBI BERLIN REPORTS

Jewish Agency Is Only Way Out for Speedy Rebuilding. He Says

The Jewish population of Palestine is highly satisfied with the regime of the new High Commissioner, Sir John Chancellor, stated Rabbi Meier Berlin, president of the Mizrahi, Orthodox Zionist Organization, upon his arrival yesterday in New York.

Rabbi Berlin came for a several months' visit for the purpose of aiding the American Mizrahi in its work. He will also tour the country in the interests of the United Palestine Appeal.

The opinion in Palestine is that Sir John is the best High Commissioner England has ever sent to Palestine. He takes a deep interest in the progress of the country. His first step to reduce the tariff is the best indication of his policy, he stated.

Asked concerning the extension of the Jewish Agency, the Mizrahi leader stated that as the events are unfolding, the result is that the Jewish Agency is the only hope that could be entertained for the speedy rebuilding of Palestine.

NATIONAL FARM SCHOOL OFFERS SCHOLARSHIPS

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.—The National Farm School is offering a limited number of free scholarships for the new term opening April 1st. This announcement was recently made by Mr. Herbert D. Allman, President of the School, who stated that the scholarship offer is open to worthy boys, from all parts of the United States, and entitles the recipients to tuition, board, room and books without cost during the entire three years' course.

The qualifications necessary to compete are: age between 16 and 21 years; best moral character; physical fitness; completion of at least nine years of public school course, or its equivalent; and an honest interest in farming, with the intention of making some branch of agriculture a life's occupation. This latter requirement is particularly stressed.

"Last year," said President Allman, "a similar offer was made. Interest was so great, and so exceptional were the qualifications of the applicants, that an increased number of scholarships was made available, and those who could not enter last year were encouraged to try again this year."

The School located near Doylestown, Pa., has its own postoffice known as Farm School, Pa. The Scholarship Office is located at 1701 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, where further information will be furnished upon request.

The Young Men's and Young Women Hebrew Association of Paterson, N. J., with a membership of over 5,000, is planning to purchase Temple Emanu-El, adjoining the "Y" building.

Temple Emanu-El is now erecting a new temple. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by July.

The new "Y" building, dedicated four years ago, is one of the most enterprising institutions of its kind. Its activities have taxed the facilities of the building. The additional property will give added facilities.

NEW YORK FEDERATION HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING SUNDAY

To Mark Completion of 12 Years of Organized Philanthropy

Completion of twelve years of organized philanthropy under the auspices of the Jews of New York will be marked next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the new Community House of Congregation Emanu-El, Sixty-fifth Street and Fifth Avenue when the annual meeting of the Federation for the support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies will take place. George McAneny, former president of the Board of Aldermen and former president of the Borough of Manhattan, will deliver the principal address. Mr. McAneny is a member of the Regional Plan of New York and Its Environs and his subject will be Communal Planning.

In announcing that Mr. McAneny would deliver the main talk, Sol M. Stroock, president of the Federation, stated that the Jews of New York, through an impartial survey, have been studying for the last two years the communal resources and needs of the New York Jewish community, and also were deeply concerned in the general study being made by the Regional Plan.

Mr. Stroock, president of the organization, who is completing his third term, and Walter E. Beer, treasurer of the Federation, will submit their reports.

The terms of eight trustees-at-large will expire on the date of the annual meeting and a ninth trustee-at-large will be elected to fill the vacancy on the board created by the recent death of Col. H. A. Guinzburg, who also was treasurer of the Federation. The trustees whose terms will expire include Zion de Frece Bernstein, Joseph L. Buttenwieser, Benjamin F. Feiner, Dr. Lee K. Frankel, Jonah J. Goldstein, I. Edwin Goldwasser, Henry F. Samstag and Felix M. Warburg.

The meeting will afford the general public the first opportunity to see the newly-erected Community House of Temple Emanu-El.

Four hundred members of this organization automatically became members of the Mizrachi Organization of America.

ENLARGED JEWISH AGENCY IS IN SIGHT. OFFICIAL ZIONIST ORGAN SAYS

"New Judea" Comments on Decisions of Actions Committee

(J. T. A. Mail Service)

London, Jan. 1.—With the removal of any differences that might have arisen over the report of the Joint Survey Commission, the entry of the enlarged Jewish Agency on its functions comes definitely within sight, writes the "New Judea," official organ of the Zionist World Organization, in an editorial on the decisions of the Actions Committee at its Berlin meeting, to appear in its current issue. There will be widespread satisfaction at this result among Zionists, it says, and in time it may be shared even by those who have been and are most strongly opposed to the policy of admitting non-Zionists to the Agency. Whatever the merits of that policy, there can be no question that the long-drawn-out controversy on the subject within the Zionist ranks has been a source of weakness to our movement. Its removal from the agenda should give all of us more time and energy for pressing problems. The successful working of the enlarged Agency demands a strong and united Zionist Organization; and it is not too much to ask of those who have opposed the scheme that they should loyally accept the decision of the majority and assist in closing up the ranks and in the solution of our internal problems.

The visible growth of the Jewish settlement in Palestine, the magazine writes, is the best instrument of Zionist propaganda, and insofar as the co-operation of non-Zionist elements helps to promote that growth, it will inevitably further the more general acceptance of the Zionist idea throughout the Diaspora. From that point of view the enlargement of the Agency is not merely a necessity dictated by the exigencies of the hour; it is a step in the direction of winning for the ideal of the national rebirth that primacy which it should rightly have in Jewish life. Zionism had necessarily to begin as a militant force, but it has now reached a stage at which its proper function in Jewish life becomes that of reconciliation on the basis of interest in a regenerated Jewish people in Palestine as something at least potentially common to all Jews. Those who would perpetuate the outlook and the tactics proper to the old days of militancy are trying to live in a world that no longer exists.

B'NAI B'RITH WIDER SCOPE COMMITTEE STARTS CAMPAIGN FOR $25,000 IN GEORGIA

Southern District Grand Lodge to Meet in Atlanta, January 27
(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15—The Jewish communities in the South will be asked to contribute the amount of $25,000 as their share toward the $2,000,000 fund now being completed by the Wider Scope Committee of the Independent Order B'nai B'rith, the largest Jewish fraternal organization in the United States for extending the scope of its cultural and fraternal activities.

The campaign for this amount will be started on January 20, with the co-operation of all members of the Order and others who are in sympathy with the I. O. B. B.'s aims and work. Rabbi David Marx of Hebrew Benevolent Congregation, Atlanta, has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the campaign in Georgia. Joseph N. Reisman is state chairman and Frank E. An event of great interest to the B'nai B'rith membership will take place on January 27, when the convention of District Grand Lodge No. 5 will be opened in Atlanta. The proceedings will last until the 29th and will be attended by delegates from the entire district comprising the states of Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. Prominent speakers are expected to address the convention and there will be a dinner in honor of the delegates.

A preliminary survey is now being made under the direction of Henry Alexander, member of the national Executive Committee of the B'nai B'rith as to whether a Hillel Foundation is to be established at the University of Georgia.

The conference adopted $30,000 as the quota for Western Massachusetts' share for the United Palestine Appeal. Nathan E. Goldstein was reelected chairman of the Western Massachusetts drive and Harry E. Ehrlich chairman of the Springfield drive for U.P.A.

Agency Idea Takes Root in Cincinnati

By Our Cincinnati Correspondent

Cincinnati, Jan. 13—It is a sign of the times that a Zionist forum is being held in what was once a stronghold of, speaking moderately, non-Zionism," said Dr. Julian Morgenstern in the course of an address delivered here Thursday, January 10. The occasion was a forum conducted by the local Zionist District to acquaint Cincinnatians with the plans of the Jewish Agency and the union consummated between the Zionist and non-Zionist groups in New York City. The forum was held in the Rockdale Temple, whose rabbi is Dr. David Philipson, the dean of American Reform rabbis, and for many years an active opponent of Zionism.

Rabbi Samuel Wohl, president of the local Zionist District, acted as chairman. The first speaker was Dr. Emanuel Gamoran, president of the National Council for Jewish Education. He eulogized the pact whereby Jews of differing opinions acted for the common good and saw a new hope for Palestine in what he termed the "shidach" between the two groups. He humorously pictured the Zionists as the "chussin" and the non-Zionists as the "kalleh." The one thing that puzzled him, though, was the identity of the "shadchen."

Dr. Morgenstern, who is president of the Hebrew Union College and one of the seven commissioners appointed by Mr. Louis Marshall to act with the Zionists, answered Dr. Gamoran that the "shadchen" was a condition, or rather, a change of conditions that caused a growing urge for Jewish unity. "The world-wide Jewish problem," he stated, "cannot be solved by any one group in any one country. The upbuilding of Palestine is one of the ways for world Jewry to find its place in modern life. Palestine is a challenge to the Jews of the world. A challenge to build, to do, to create something for the everlasting good of mankind."

The last speaker of the evening was Rabbi James G. Heller. He expressed the point of view of those Zionists who, while welcoming the coming of the non-Zionists, still saw the possible danger in the union of two groups with such fundamental differences. To the Zionist, he pointed out, the Jew is a racial and cultural entity that has tried to lead a separate and distinct life among the nations. Palestine they see as the physical symbol of that difference, as the radiating force of that life. Already Palestine has revitalized Jewish life in the rest of the world. The non-Zionists, however, see the Jew as differing in no wise from the rest of mankind, except in religion. Rabbi Heller saw this as an insurmountable difference, were it not for the fact that the non-Zionist attitude is changing and the gap is being bridged.

FAR WEST COMMUNITIES SUFFER FROM ISOLATION, MRS. SLOSS, DECLARES

Prominent Pacific Coast Leader Comes to Attend Washington Conference

Jewish women are greatly interested in the movement for the outlawry of war, declared Mrs. Marcus C. Sloss, prominent woman leader on the Pacific Coast, who arrived in New York from San Francisco on her way to Washington to attend the conference on the Cause and Cure of War.

Mrs. Sloss, who goes as a delegate from the National Council of Jewish Women and the National League of Women Voters to the conference, when interviewed by a representative of the "Jewish Daily Bulletin" at the Savoy-Plaza Hotel, commented on conditions in the Jewish communities on the Pacific coast. Mrs. Sloss, who is the wife of Marcus C. Sloss, former Justice of the California Supreme Court, takes extensive interest in all civic activities in San Francisco and in many Jewish affairs.

"The greatest handicap to Jewish activities on the Pacific Coast one realizes with renewed emphasis when one arrives in the East, where Jewish cultural and religious activities are in full swing, is our too great indifference to national and international considerations," said Mrs. Sloss. "Though it is true that the Jewish communities on the Pacific Coast are endeavoring to meet all the problems that arise and meet them very successfully, the fact remains that the Jewish community of the West suffers from isolation from the large body of Jewish life in this country."

"This condition is obviously the result of distance; but with the present development of communication and the radio, it is high time that the Jews of the Far West overcome this isolation. Jewish life there would become richer and fuller if the contact with cultural trends and accomplishments of American Jews at large would be closer. In this respect, the service rendered by the "Jewish Daily Bulletin" is of inestimable value.

"Greater stimulus would result, I am confident if the leaders of the Pacific Coast communities would more frequently attend the large national conventions," said Mrs. Sloss and also that she hoped and believed that the great convention which meets in San Francisco next month will do much to stimulate the sort of attitude that Californians need will help to foster Western interest in other than local considerations.

The Jewish Education was proved by the large attendance present and by the many questions that were asked.

A new attitude towards Jewish education is proved by the leaders of the drive for $90,000 for the Bureau of Jewish Education which is to start here on January 23. All the officers are members of Reform congregations and the honorary chairman of the drive is Dr. David Philipson. Mr. Sidney Weil is executive chairman for the drive, Mr. Carl Pritz is assistant chairman, and Mr. Jacob Mack is treasurer. Every rabbi in town has enlisted to help with actual work and it is hoped that much more than the required sum will be raised. Mr. Robert Senor is president of the Bureau and Dr. Jacob Golub is executive director.

Mr. William J. Schroder, who is, among other things, chairman of the Jewish Community Council of Cincinnati and an ardent worker in Jewish causes, has been elected president of the Cincinnati Board of Education for the fourth consecutive year.

Word comes from Columbus, the state capital, that the newspapers have been featuring Benjamin Bertram, of Cincinnati, as the best dressed member of the new state Senate. Mr. Bertram was recently appointed a colonel on the staff of Governor Denison, of Kentucky.

Pittsburgh Holds "Federation Day"

Pittsburgh, Jan. 13.—The seventeenth annual "Federation Day," sponsored by the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of Pittsburgh, was celebrated Sunday evening in the local Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association, with the leading social and welfare workers conspicuous members of the large audience. Irvin H. Lehman, president of the Federation, presided, and in a short message showed that the local Federation stands high in comparison with similar organizations in the United States. He also announced that both the new Montefiore Hospital and the new Irene Kanimann Settlement building would be ready for occupancy April 1.

Abraham Oseroff, assistant to the late Leon Ruk, former treasurer of the society, reported the sum of $57,881 collected during the past year, and an expenditure total of $57,802; $4,525 has already been collected for the current year. Dr. Ludwig B. Bernsheim, executive director, and president of the Social Workers' Club of Pittsburgh, made clear that the Federation's work in the past has centered around the child. "Sickness and unemployment cause most poverty among Jews," he went on, "and yet we find but a small percentage of Jews in jails, prisons, and similar institutions." He said that efforts would be made to establish a community health center and a child guidance clinic in connection with the new Montefiore Hospital. "There are but 50 Jewish social workers in this city," said Dr. Bernstein, "but they are most capable to care for the work here."

Rabbi Goodman A. Rose, of Beth Shalom, gave the invocation, and Rabbi Samuel H. Goldenson, of Temple Rodef Shalom, concluded the program with an address on "The High Cost of Charity," in which he showed that Jewish charity must be expensive, coming as it does from the very soul of the giver. Charles Simon, a violin prodigy, rendered several numbers.

Lucis J. Afelder, Max L. Blum, Lee R. Foster, Edgar J. Kanimann, Raymond M. Kanimann, Leo Lehman, Bernice Neuman, and Abraham Seder, were elected directors of the Federation to serve until 1932.

The Federation helps support nineteen constituent and beneficiary societies. They are the Montefiore Hospital, the Home for the Aged, the Jewish Family Welfare Association, the Irene Kanimann Settlement, the J. M. Ginsky Orphanage, the Emma Farm Camp, the United Business Service, the Council of Jewish Women, the Jewish Big Brother Club, the Hebrew Free Loan Association, the Bureau of Preventive and Corrective Work, the Pittsburgh Bureau for Jewish Children, the Free Burial Association, the Pittsburgh House of Shelter, the Ladies' Hospital Aid Society, all of Pittsburgh, and the National Farm School, Doylestown, Pa.; the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives at Denver, the Bureau of Jewish Social Research, New York, and the Training School for Jewish Social Work, New York.

Leo Rothberg, investigator in the city law department and former magistrate, has been appointed police magistrate of the third ward. His appointment was confirmed this week by city council.

Mr. Rothberg, a civic worker for over 39 years, is a director of the Beacon Club, Sentinel Club, and Squared Hill Board of Trade, in addition to being a member of several societies, including the B'nai B'rith, Knights of Pythias, and Y. M. H. A.

The B'nai Israel congregation will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary with a week's celebration beginning March 17 and ending Sunday, March 24. Various events are planned, including a "Sisterhood Night," an "Inter-Congregational Night," and "Community Night." Rabbi B. A. Lichner is spiritual leader of the synagogue.

At a recent meeting of Congregation Beth Israel, Houston, Texas, Rabbi Henry Bernsheim, who has led the congregation for 25 years, was unanimously elected rabbi of the congregation for life.

The premises occupied by the Young Israel of Washington, D.C., New York City, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning. A campaign for funds to obtain new quarters is being started.
