EINSTEIN CALLS UPON ALL JEWS TO AID WORK OF PALESTINE REBUILDING

Eminent Scientist in Statement Issued Sees Palestine Playing Role in Development of New World

A statement, expressing his views on the role of the Jew in world life, by Albert Einstein, eminent physicist, has just been issued, was published yesterday by Louis Lipsky, president of the Zionist Organization of America.

The Einstein statement reads in part:

"The rebuilding of Palestine as the Jewish National Home is one of the great movements of our time. It is a movement to aid all individuals, but an entire nation. Your help is asked not for the support of the weak, not on the plea of charity, but for the strong, healthy pioneers eager to work for the renaissance of the Jewish people. Your aid is needed for the aid of the Jews in the defense of their national rights. They are working for world Jewry."

"Such as the movement on the border between the old world and the new, is a movement of a new order. The rebuilding of the Jewish National Home is not the cause of any one party, but the concern of all Jews. This idea has received its organizational expression in the extension of the Jewish Agency; but its inner truth, I believe, can be proved only by the cooperation of all the Jews of the world."

"I am convinced that in the coming year, which has begun so auspiciously, the Jews of America will do more for Palestine than has been done before. I greet the opening of the United Palestine Appeal and hope that it will be most successful."

EINSTEIN MANUSCRIPT ON NEW FIELD OF THEOLOGY RECEIVED IN GERMANY

Receives Wide Publicity in the World Press

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, Jan. 31—At the price of 1 Mark, equivalent to 25 cents, Prof. Albert Einstein's new book on his field theory, entitled "Zur Einheitenlehre der Feldtheorie," forming a pamphlet 6 by 9 inches, is available here today. It was published under the auspices of the Prussian Academy of Science.

The world-famous scientist's present achievement is based on an extension of the theory of relativity and contains a perfect fusion of mathematical laws of the gravity field and the electrodynamic field, bringing them into consonance with one another.

The New York press displays great interest in the publication of Prof. Einstein's manuscript. The New York "Evening World" published Wednesday afternoon a radio photograph transmitted from Berlin via London in two columns of the pamphlet. The "Herald Tribune" published a full text in translation of the treatise in its issue of January 31. The London "Times," cable dispatches state, declares that this regards the new theory as the culmination of field physics initiated by Faraday and Maxwell.

The American news agencies, the Associated Press, the United Press and the Universal Service, report that dispatches from European capitals quoting eminent European and American scientists in elucidation of the new Einstein theory and its significance to the further development of scientific thought, is the best conception furnished by the Jewish scientist.

Congressman Dickstein Frames Measure Following Incident in Washington

JEWISH DAILY BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Congressman Nathaniel Dickstein of New York has introduced a bill into the House on Wednesday which would make it a crime to display a sign like the one shown in a local store window bearing the inscription: "This is not a Jewish store."

The bill reads, "Any person who shall exhibit or display in any public place any sign, poster, or notice containing matter which, because of reference to any religion, creed or race, is likely to create a breach of peace, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both."

Congressman Dickstein stated that his bill is based on an incident which occurred in this city and that it would be of value in removing any possible apprehension that the passage of the bill might be misunderstood as an attempt to impose a religious test. The bill was referred to an appropriate committee of the House, and he said that he had received a favorable report from the committee chairman.

The incident which called forth the bill, as described by the "Washington Times," was as follows:

J. F. Bird, proprietor of a store at 1700 Block of North Capitol St., had his sign damaged and with it the clay, reading: "This is a Jewish-sign shop."

The store is not Jewish.

The sign attracted considerable attention.

EXTENSIVE PUBLIC CAMPAIGN NECESSARY TO ERADICATE PREJUDICE, SEMINAR VIEW

Inter-Religious State of Mind Prime Condition for Better Understanding, says Dr. Philipson

The removal of an inter-religious state of mind is the first fundamental condition for a better understanding between Jews, Catholics and Protestants in the U.S., was the consensus of opinion expressed after two days of meetings, part of the program of the three-day Seminar on Jewish-Christian Relations held at Columbia University under the auspices of the National Conference of Jews and Christians.

The recent public campaign emphasizing the qualities in common which the three faiths have, as urged as an important corollary to the work of eradicating the ignorance and prejudice which now exist. The extent of this ignorance and the manner in which it exists were thoroughly aired in a series of three round table discussions. While the sessions were closed to the press, it is understood that they were marked by spirited debates. Considerable attention was devoted to the Round Table Discussion on "Misrepresentations of Religious Beliefs and Practices," in which Dr. Edmund Davidson Soper, President of Ohio Northern University, and Dr. David Philipson, Cincinnati, took part. At this session the misrepresentation current through the medium of the church, drama, newspaper, school and social agencies was aired. Responsibility was fixed on the agencies distributing, either intentionally or inadvertently, false information concerning the adherents of the several religious groups involved.

The attitude which must obtain in this country, and which the Conference unanimously pronounced, was laid down by Dr. Philipson, in a statement issued to the Jewish Daily Bulletin, in which he stated:

Whatever may be the attitude of modern men to the opening chapter of the Book of the Bible, it is the result of criminal investigation, the fact will always remain that the writer of that chapter, whoever he may have been, possessed of the belief that men were created in the image of God, and that the spiritual descendants of a primal pair. This necessitates the belief in the equality of all men as the spiritual descendants of God and the bodily descendants of that primal pair.
