

ROUMANIAN PREMIER PROMISES AMNESTY TO 20 JEWISH STUDENTS

Took Part in Protest Against Alleged Unfair Baccalaureate Exams
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, Mar. 9.—A promise to consult the Minister of Justice with regard to granting amnesty to the twenty Jewish high school pupils, who were involved in the events in 1926 leading to the murder by an anti-Semitic student of the Jewish student David Falik, in a Cremovitz court, was made today by Premier Maniu to Deputy Meyer Ebner
of the Roumanian parliament.

Deputy Ebner was received by the Premier, who promised that the question of whether or not the Jewish students would be reinstated in the schools would be decided next week, after the conference which he would have with the Minister of Justice.

The pupils were arrested for participating in a demonstration arranged by pupils of the national minorities in protest against the alleged unfair methods used in the baccalaureate examinations,
when a great number of minority pupils,
including Jews, were flunked.

The pupils were punished in the following manner: Those who had not completed their studies in the high schools were expelled for two years, and those who had completed their course lost the right to enter Roumanian universities for a considerable period.
It was during the trial of the twenty Jewish pupils that David Falik,
a Jewish student, who appeared as a witness, was shot by Nicolai Totu, Hakenkreuzler student.

A petition for amnesty was refused
by the Court of Appeals last week.

Berlin, Mar. 9.—Professor Albert Einstein, Oscar Wassermann and Dr. Leo Baeck and a number of other prominent German Jews, have accepted membership in a committee to organize a Jewish association for world peace.

Plans to organize this association were formulated today at a meeting held under the chairmanship of Oscar Wassermann. One hundred and fifty leading German Jews attended the meeting.

Dr. Albert Einstein, who addressed the meeting, declared that the Jewish religion is the oldest institution, advocating the spirit of peace and brotherly love.

Among those present at the meeting were Consul General Kahn, Dr. Alfred Klee, Gerson Simon, Heinrich Stern,
president of the Association of Liberal Jews in Germany, Rabbi Hildesheimer,

LUBAWITSCHER REBBE IN BERLIN; ORGANIZES MATZOTH DRIVE FOR RUSSIAN JEWRY

Union of Orthodox Rabbis Issues Appeal to U. S. Jewry
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, Mar. 9.—American Jewry was urged to help the Berlin committee in supplying matzoth to Russian Jews for the forthcoming Passover, in a statement made by Rabbi Schneursohn, the Lubawitscher Rebbe, to the correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

Rabbi Schneursohn arrived here from Riga for the purpose of supervising the work of the Central Committee organized for the purpose of sending matzoth to Russia. "The fifty carloads of matzoth allowed by the Soviet government to be shipped to Russia, can only be sent if sufficient funds are supplied by Jews in various countries, especially America," the rabbi stated. "The cost of the fifty carloads would be $50,000, and so far only a part of this sum has been collected."

"When the matzoth reach Russia, they will be distributed in different cities,
with the permission of the Soviet government," the Lubawitscher Rebbe stated.
"If we do not succeed in supplying Russian Jews with matzoth they will be compelled to suffer for eight days."

An appeal to the Jews of America to provide funds for supplying Russian Jews with matzoth for the coming Passover holiday was issued by the Union of Orthodox Rabbis yesterday.

"The sum of $20,000 has already been raised by European Jews for this purpose. American Jews must do their share," the appeal states. "We must give toward the fifty carloads of matzoth which the Soviet government is permitting to be shipped into the country."

The Union of Orthodox Rabbis is cooperating with the committee organized in Germany.

The Union also stated that the shipment of individual packages of matzoth

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Paris, March 9.—Bernard Lekasch, French Jewish journalist, was elected president of the League to Fight Anti-Semitism at a general meeting of the League held last night. Mr. Lekasch was chosen by a committee of twenty to succeed Henri Torres, who resigned.

M. Torres, in his letter of resigna-

Lekasch, who presided, differed with
M. Torres' view, declaring, "the Jews must be ready at all times."

no longer stand the persecutions he suffered at the hands of the presiding judge, Yablokov, and his associates, including Zolotov.

The investigation is being continued
against Judge Matson, and Advocate Kalenin, who, Shusman charged, demanded that he misapply his judicial functions, threatening him with revenge when he refused to join their conspiracy.

A number of anti-Semitic workers in the sugar factory of Brailov were sentenced for persecuting a Jewish worker.
Terms of from one to three years imprisonment were imposed upon them
by the district court of Vinitza.

START CONSTRUCTION OF NEW JEWISH THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY BUILDINGS

Contract Signed by Dr. Adler Prior to His Departure

Construction of the new buildings of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, at a cost of $3,000,000, will begin in a few days, it was learned upon the departure Friday night of Dr. Cyrus Adler, president of the Jewish Theological Seminary, who sailed for Palestine on the steamer "Roma."

Before Dr. Adler sailed, contracts for the buildings to be erected on the site from 122nd to 123rd Street, adjacent to the present Seminary building, were signed.

The first unit will be the Jacob H. Schiff Memorial Library to house the large collection of books of the Seminary, exhibits of the American Jewish Historical Society and an exhibition hall. The Louis S. Brush Memorial Dormitory building, for which the late Mr. Brush left $1,500,000, will be the second building erected.

The third building erected will be for the Teachers' Institute, containing faculty rooms, classrooms and an auditorium, the gift of Israel Unterberg as a memorial to his parents.

The buildings will be uniform in architecture, six stories high and of colonial style.

EINSTEIN LAUDS JEWISH HEALTH HOUSE IN KISHINEFF

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Kishineff, Mar. 9.—If people could travel by telegraph, Professor Albert Einstein said, he would have been present at the opening of the Jewish Health House established here by the Jewish Health Organization, Oze, to engage in medical aid work among the Jewish population of Bessarabia, which is now severely stricken by famine and frost.

"I greet you and rejoice with you in the opening of the Health House. To my great regret, I am unable to be present in person. I should certainly have come, if the technical side of the problem of human transport had been solved by the telegraph," declared the noted scientist, who is the Honorary President of the Oze World Organization.

Messages were also received from Dr. Bernhard Kahn, European Director of the Joint Distribution Committee, Dr. Redcliffe N. Salaman, Hon. Vice-President of the Oze World Organization, and President of the Jewish Health Organization of Great Britain, the Oze Organizations in London, Warsaw, Danzig, Kovno, Riga, and other centres and the International Child Aid Federation in Geneva.

Delegations were present from Jewish social organizations and institutions all over Bessarabia. The Government was represented by Dr. Stadu, Inspector of Sanitation, and representatives attended on behalf of the City Council, the Medical Association, the Kishineff Hospital, the Co-operative banks, artisans' organizations, trading and industrial organizations, the Ort and other bodies.

Chief Rabbi Zirelson delivered an address, emphasizing the popular character of the work of the Oze. The new Health House contains a consulting room for maternal and child aid, a child milk station, departments for the treatment of rickets, scrofula, etc., a modern run-ray treatment cabinet, an ambulatory for school-children, a department for combating infectious skin diseases, a hall for lectures on hygiene, a department of control for sports and athletic organizations.

400 JEWISH FARMERS SETTLED IN SOUTH AFRICA

(J. T. A. Mail Service)

Johannesburg, Feb. 3.—The progress of Jewish land settlement in South Africa was reported to the meeting of the South African Jewish Board of Deputies by S. Rapphaely, president of the board.

Four hundred Jewish farmers on the High Veld had made a success of farming. There were now two Jewish land settlements in Australia, which had a smaller community than South Africa, and they were doing well. The chairman made a statement on the position in Cape Town, which he had recently visited, pointing out the importance of the links between Cape Town and Johannesburg being strengthened. For that reason, he suggested that the next Board Congress should be held in Cape Town.

B. Friede, chairman of the Jewish Employment Bureau, said that the committee would shortly be meeting the Jewish farmers and discuss matters with them. It was an unfortunate fact, he said, that they had large numbers of applicants as office and shop assistants, but very few for industrial occupations.

WANT JEWISH RECRUITS FOR PALESTINE POLICE

(J. T. A. Mail Service)

Jerusalem, Feb. 22.—More Jews will be admitted to the Palestine police force if suitable Jewish recruits are available. Mr. Mavragordato, Director of the Palestine Police Force, stated to J. Ben-Zvi, Palestine labor leader. In response to Mr. Ben-Zvi's question as to why Arabs and Arabic are dominant in the Palestine police force, the Director gave as the reason that most of the crimes in Palestine were committed by Arabs.

According to the latest Palestine Government report, there are 15 Jewish officers and 209 Jewish non-commissioned officers and men in the Palestinian Section of the Police Force, and no Jews, officers or men, in the British Section. There are two Jewish officers and eleven non-commissioned officers and men in the Prisons Staff and one Jewish officer and 106 Jewish non-commissioned officers and men in the Municipal Police. Altogether there are 344 Jews in the Palestine Police and Prisons Force against 1,253 Moslems and 573 Christians.

SAYS PALESTINE NEEDS IMMIGRATION FOR ITS ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Transvaal Administrator in Jerusalem, Impressed with Cultural Revival
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Mar. 9.—Palestine, like South Africa needs immigration for economic development, declared Jan Hofmyer, administrator of Transvaal, who was responsible for the issuance of the South African Pro-Zionist declaration, at a reception tendered him by Palestine Jews, former residents of South Africa.

Mr. Hofmyer, who is visiting Palestine on his way to London, was welcomed to the country by Mr. Gesundheit, speaking for the South African Jews. Mr. Gesundheit urged the Transvaal administrator to continue his efforts in behalf of the Jewish National Home.

In his address Mr. Hofmyer declared that the Jews play an important part in South African life. He has always been interested in Zionism, but what he has seen on his present trip has strengthened his sympathies. Tel Aviv, he described as a wonderful phenomenon, its rapid growth is unequalled and even exceeds the rate of growth of Johannesburg.

Mr. Hofmyer said he was particularly struck by the cultural achievements in Palestine, especially the revival of the Hebrew language which he, a student of languages, had believed impossible. On his visit to the Hebrew University he found its progress to be remarkable.

Upon his return to South Africa, Mr. Hofmyer said he would tell the Jewish residents there that if they cannot come to Palestine themselves, they should support it by investments. The Transvaal administrator was welcomed by members of the Zionist Executive.

Looking at the Roumanian Jewish Situation

By Our Paris Correspondent

Paris, Feb. 23.—The political situation in Roumania as it might affect the Jewish population, and the events in the country last year are the subject of a review published in the "Paix et Droit," the organ of the Alliance Israelite Universelle.

"In 1928 we witnessed the beginnings of a salutory transformation that we would wish to be of long duration for the good of our co-religionists, the review states. The chief event of the year was the retirement of the Liberal Cabinet and the coming into power of the National-Peasant party. This change interrupted the putting into practice of the reforms promised by Mr. Bratiano. Two of them, nevertheless, were obtained and have already entered into effect: the organization of the Mosaic cult and the taking over by the State of the greater number of the Jewish schools.

"It is not yet possible to define the program and the intentions of the present government concerning minorities as a whole. Opinion is very much divided. Patient expectation is necessary. Premier Maniu has liberal views, is firm of character and tenacious in action, but lacks political experience. From the outset he will need diplomacy and sagacity to curb impatient aspirations. . . .

"In the meanwhile, the new parliament, the result of the December elections held for the first time by the National-Peasants, set itself resolutely to work. Right from the beginning attention was concentrated on the attack that was supposed to have been launched against the new cabinet of Maniu. For the Jews the struggle had a special interest, so much by virtue of domestic politics as from the point of view of the solution to be given to the problem of minorities, the Jewish minority included.

"On this matter it was a question of seeing what line the opposition of the Liberals would follow under the leadership of Mr. Bratiano and if an understanding between the National-Liberals, the Populists and the Jorguists would permit a stable existence to a government set in the direction of a completely new system of politics.

"It might have been supposed that a cabinet formed under the extraordinary conditions with which we are familiar and with a strong innovation-program would not remain very long at the head of affairs if the Bratianist party, which is still deeply entrenched in the country, would engage in a struggle at the outset. However, not only did the opposition believe it to be no duty of theirs to give the signal for the attack, but they proceeded to proclaim out-and-out that the Minister of the National-Peasants might count upon its cooperation and its support. Under these circumstances, Mr. Maniu's continuance in power seems assured for many months and it only remains to learn his real

CONFERENCE OF JEWISH SOVIETS MAKES SPRING PLANS FOR COLONIES

19,500 Hectares of Land to Be Sown
in Kalinindorf Region
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Moscow, Mar. 9.—Plans for Spring work in the Jewish colonies in Kalinindorf region were formulated at the second conference of local Jewish Soviets just concluded in Kalinindorf.

The conference decided that during the coming Spring 19,500 hectares of land will be sown. The government has supplied the Jewish colonists so far with 55,000 Pud seed and 20,000 Pud potatoes, it was reported at the conference. The Jewish colonists in the Kalinindorf district possess 2,086 horses, 13 tractors, it was stated. Thirty-six more tractors and 200 additional horses are expected to arrive for the Spring. Those colonists who have no horses will get the new stock to work the fields.

The situation of the Jewish transmigrants in the Krivoy Rog district is serious because of the lack of seed, forage and fuel, according to a report received today.

Difficulties are expected in obtaining seed for the Spring. The horses which suffered during the Winter from lack of forage are not sufficiently strong for the Spring plowing, the report states.

weighing eleven pounds would be permitted, if they did not assume the character of mass shipments. COMMUNICATION TO THE EDITOR

Sir: In your issue of March 5th mention is made that a Jewish chapel was dedicated at the Ohio State Penitentiary, with a further explanation that this is the second Jewish chapel in a penal institution in the United States.

I want to advise you, in this regard, that at the Eastern State Penitentiary, located in Philadelphia, Pa., about eight years ago a Jewish chapel was constructed and dedicated. This is now being renovated by the Jewish inmates at that institution with funds contributed by them.

The prison aid work at the Eastern State Penitentiary, as well as at the country prisons in Philadelphia, is being conducted by the O. B. E., District No. 3.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM PORTNER.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8, 1929.

The Hebrew Institute and the Y. M. & W. H. of New Haven, Conn., are conducting a campaign for $25,000. The purpose of the campaign is to provide a maintenance fund for both institutions. Hyman Jacobs, president of the Hebrew Institute, is chairman of the campaign, and Louis M. Sagal, president of the Y. M. & W. H. A. treasurer.

DOUBTS WORKABILITY OF NATIONAL ORIGINS PLAN
(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Washington, D. C., Mar. 9.—Doubt that the National Origins provision, scheduled to become effective July 1, 1929, is workable, is expressed by Wilbur J. Carr, Asst. Secretary of State.

The Assistant Secretary's position became known when the Senate Committee on Immigration made public the text of the Departments' representations with respect to the National Origins plan, when the committee, in executive session, was considering the resolution to postpone operation of the National Origins plan for one year.

Wilbur J. Carr declared that the Secretaries of State, Commerce and Labor, to whom was assigned the duty of computing quotas under the National Origins provision, were doubtful as to the feasibility of the plan.

"I think they have all of them felt unconvinced that the formula in the law was a workable formula," Mr. Carr said.

intentions in the matter of minorities and the acts which are to follow."

The "Paix et Droit," continuing its review of the year 1928, writes:

"All things considered, compared with the one which preceded it, the year 1928 was fairly calm. All during these twelve months the anti-Semites, twice defeated at the parliamentary elections, reflected in silence and the students showed themselves sagacious, while the political events in the country might have led one to fear that their counter-blows would rebound as usual upon the Jewish population. The death of Jan Bratiano and the accession to power of his brother Vintila, was even calming. In fact, contrary to all expectations, very strong measures were taken by the new Liberal cabinet in time for the factions hostile to the Jews to be reduced to inactivity and for the students to be forced to refrain from all disturbance in the universities.

"It must be stated that after the barbarous Transylvanian excesses of December, 1927, and the lamentable impression that they produced, not only abroad but also in the interior of the country, a reaction must necessarily have set in. The moral and material harm caused by these excesses is still incalculable. Stagnation of commercial transactions and considerable aggravation of the economic crisis, postponement of loans, delay in monetary stabilization, disruption of the budget equilibrium—such were, among others, the immediate consequences of the devastations and the profanations perpetrated. All these regrettable horrors opened the eyes of those who had refused to see, and to recall to the majority of the Roumanians the cruel reality of the situation. More than one is taking into consideration the immense wrong done to the country a year ago by the anti-Semitic agitators. It is to be hoped that the lesson will not have been in vain, in order that the Jews may at least have the consolation of saying with the proverb: 'It's an ill wind that blows nobody good.'"
