CHARGE AGAINST JEWISH SENATORS WITHDRAWN ON FLOOR OF DANZIG SENATE

Investigation Proves Accusations Without Foundation

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Danzig, Mar. 20—A formal declaration on the floor of the Free City's Senate, withdrawing charges brought against the Jewish Senators Yewlowski and Dr. Kersznitz, was made by Dr. Zihm, Nationalist Senator and former vice-president of the Senate. Dr. Zihm was compelled to declare that he withdraws his accusations against the Jewish Senators because they had been found groundless by an investigation commission of the Senate.

The charge brought against the Jewish Senators by a number of anti-Semitic Deputies was that they had given false oaths and had favored the commercial agreement between the Free City of Danzig and the Republic of Poland for their own private interests.

The Jewish Senators started libel proceedings against the Danzig deputies when they published articles framing the charges against them. Steps were taken to lift the immunity of the deputies to enable the suit, and the Jewish deputies also asked the legislative body of the Free City to lift their immunity in order that the defamers would be free to start a counter-suit.

It was stated at that time that it would be unlikely that immunity would be lifted since the majority of the deputies did not believe the ridiculous accusations brought against the Jewish Senators and considered court proceedings unnecessary. An investigation commission was then named to study the case.

Vilna, Mar. 20—Twenty Jewish schools, with an enrollment of 9,000 pupils, decided to call a strike in protest against the failure of the Vilna Kehillah to pay a subsidy to the schools.

CONTROVERSY IN WARSAW TAILORS' UNION RESULTS IN OPEN CLASH

Many Injured in Fight Between Communists and Bundists

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Mar. 20—A fight which broke out in an open clash resulting in the injury of many, with one in a serious condition, developed in the Tailors Union in the capital.

The fight developed between the Communist and Bundist workers in the Tailors Union, following the declaration of a strike by the Communist locals. The workers belonging to the Jewish labor party, Bund, opposed the strike, declaring that present economic conditions make a strike inexpedient. Drastic measures against the Bundists who refused to go out on strike were taken by the strikers, during which a number of workers were injured. A reporter of the Bundist organ, "Volkszeitung," is in a serious condition as a result of the injuries he received.

In protest against the methods of the Communist workers, the Bundist tailors declared a one-day strike. A proclamation was issued by the Central Council of the Bundist unions urging workers to "fight the red splitters of the union movement" and to "fight the reds who bankrupt the unions morally and politically."

ACADEMICIANS REFUSE NEW APPOINTMENT TO LENINGRAD ACADEMY

Academy of Sciences Rejects A. Deborin, Jewish Philosopher

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Moscow, Mar. 20—The appointment of A. Deborin, Jewish philosopher, to the Academy of Sciences in Leningrad, met with opposition on the part of some members of the Academy, led by Professor Pavlov. The name of Professor Deborin was rejected along with that of V. M. Fritche, literary critic, and N. Lukin, historian.

Opposition to the three candidates named by the Soviet authorities developed among the forty members of the Academy when the Soviet authorities proceeded with its plan to increase the number of academicians from forty to eighty, instituting a new department of social sciences and making certain changes in the methods of some of the existing departments.

Along with the representatives of the physical sciences the new academicians included a number of Communists. Some of them, including Nikolai Bukharin, editor of "Pravda," M. N. Pokrowsky, foremost Marxist historian, and Dr. Ryzanov, head of the Institute of Marx and Engels, were admitted with little or no opposition.

It was stated that the President of the Zionist Organization will not proceed to Palestine where he had expected to go for the Passover season, unless he has substantially recovered during the coming fortnight.

An announcement issued by the Zionist Executive states that Dr. Weizmann's health is improving and that he hopes to adhere to his original arrangements for visiting Palestine.

The ruler expressed praise for the fight conducted by Ibn Saud, leader of the Wahabis, for Islamism.

DEBATE SETTLEMENT OF BESSARABIA VICTIMS IN SOUTH OF FRANCE

Fear Opposition of French Anti-Semitic Press

(J. T. A. Mail Service)

Paris, Mar. 28.—The recent announcement that the Jewish Immigrant Aid Committee was considering the possibility of establishing several hundred Jewish famine victims from Bessarabia as farmers and agricultural workers in the south of France was greeted here with varied opinions.

While the recent report of the position of Jewish immigrants in France who have been placed on the land as agricultural workers was pointed to as a favorable indication of the proposed undertaking, the opposition of the French press, headed by the anti-Semitic "Action Francaise," when a somewhat similar proposal was put forward some years back, it is feared may come up again.

The possibility of settling Jewish agricultural workers from Bessarabia on the land in France was considered in 1925, M. Andre Spire going on a mission to Bessarabia in this connection. He stated on his return that he had arranged for a first group of a hundred Jewish agricultural workers from Bessarabia to proceed to the southern parts of France for the purpose of settling on the land there.
About 36,000 Jewish families, he said, could be settled gradually in France in such small groups. There was no question of any Jewish mass settlement in the country, but it could be arranged for one Jewish family to be settled in every French village.

Immediately, the French press, particularly the anti-Semi- "Action Francaise," published an attack on M.
Spire, protesting against any intention

SAYS TURKISH JEWS MOST FORTUNATELY SITUATED MINORITY

No Anti-Semitism, Passivity Jewish Safeguard, Says Former Liberal Leader

The Jewish minority in Turkey, least of all other minorities in that country, has reason to fear persecution at the hands of the present regime. This is the opinion of Dr. Riza Tewfik, former liberal Turkish leader and scholar, now curator of the Antiquities Museum at Amman, Transylvania, in America on a lecture tour.

The passivity on the part of the Jewish community, particularly the action of the Jewish notables in renouncing their minority rights, which world Jewry has condemned, Dr. Tewfik views as an act of wisdom, the best safeguard against discrimination and persecution. The Jews have never shown any attempts at political independence, unlike the Greeks and the Armenians. For that reason they have never suffered at the hands of the Turkish government, he said.

Although an opponent of the present dictatorship and an exile from the country to whose political and cultural development he has devoted his career, Dr. Tewfik maintains that the government places no disabilities on the Jews.

The action of the Jewish notables, he termed an inevitable result of the present political philosophy of Turkey which insists that there be no nationalism in the land except Turkism. As an opponent of this philosophy, Dr.
Tewfik renounced life professorship at the University of Constantinople and a life membership in the Turkish Senate.
Turkey, he says, fears the possibility of foreign intervention, should national minority rights prevail. At the same time, however, he maintains that Jewish cultural and religious life is unaffected by the renunciation of minority rights.

Politically, the Jewish group fares no worse than any other Turkish citizens.

Dr. Tewfik denied that the Elsa Niego case and the prosecution of the nine Jews who participated in a demonstration against her murderer is an instance of anti-Semitism. The Niego murder is a regrettable incident which received publicity because a Jew and a Turk were involved; similar crimes in which the principals are Turks are no novelty in Turkey, he said. The prosecution of the Jewish demonstrators, he sees as an attempt to quell what might be termed anti-Turkish propaganda and is in line with the present Turkish nationalistic doctrine.

While the passivity of the Jewish community is politically fortunate, Dr.
Tewfik maintains that its satisfaction with general conditions in the land has prevented it from producing a single outstanding leader. Even in commerce and industry where the Jews are influential, they are not outstanding.
Proud of the fact that he is perhaps the first Turk to have received his primary education in a Jewish school, Dr. Tewfik expressed his admiration for what the Jews have been able to accomplish in other lands.

DR. HOLMES PREDICTS SUCCESS FOR ZIONIST EFFORTS IN PALESTINE

Will Plead for Support of Work
Among Jews and Gentiles

Enthusiastic over the Zionist work in Palestine, Dr. John Haynes Holmes, minister of the New York Community Church, returned Tuesday on the steamer Aquitania after spending three weeks in Palestine, where he went as the representative of Nathan Straus.
"I think it is one of the greatest things I ever saw," Dr. Holmes said of the rebuilding work. Difficulties are being encountered because of the fact that the land has been devastated for thousands of years, but these difficulties can be overcome if the Jews of the world, especially American Jews, continue to contribute toward the upbuilding work. Contributions should not come from Jews alone, Dr. Holmes declared. Support for this cause should also come from liberal non-Jews, persons interested in social experiment.

The most serious problem in Palestine is the relation between the Jews and the Arabs, Dr. Holmes pointed out, declaring that he met all the Zionist leaders, talked with the chiefs of the Arabs, was in conference twice with the High Commissioner and interviewed the Commissioner's secretary and two deputies. "It is my impression that the government considers the interests of the Arabs first and keeps aloof from the Jewish movement because it is not yet convinced in the future of this work."

Notwithstanding the complaints of the Arabs, the general Moslem population feels that they are benefiting by the Jewish work in Palestine. The Jews are also trying to cooperate with the Arabs by opening public institutions to Arabs as well as Jews, and seeking cooperation.

One of the things that gave Dr.
Holmes the greatest confidence was the manner in which the newer arrivals in Palestine deal with the Arabs.
He said that the lately established communities insist on fair dealing and equal opportunity, and that even the nurses who go into the hinterland are instructed to give as careful attention to the Arabs as to the Jews. Gradually, he thinks, the fear of the Arabs is being broken down.

Rhode Island Legislature to Decide on Disbursement of Touro Fund

By J. T. A. Correspondents

Newport, R. I., Mar. 20—The Rhode Island Legislature will decide at the present session whether the $10,000 Touro fund of 1822, which has grown to approximately $87,000, shall be used for the payment of current expenses of the Synagogue Jeshuat Israel of Newport or whether withdrawals shall be authorized only for repairs to the synagogue building and premises.

The Touro fund, left by Abraham Touro of Boston more than a century ago is known as the "foundation rock" of the Newport synagogue, believed to be the oldest Jewish house of worship in the United States. The will provided that the fund should be used "for the purpose of supporting the synagogue."

A law, giving the State administrative power over the fund, had for years authorized withdrawals "for repairs upon the synagogue buildings and premises, and upon the wall enclosing the Jewish burying ground at Newport." At the same time, the State Legislature gave the Newport Representative Council power to draw upon the State Treasurer for amounts to be expended.

Last year, through the efforts of Councilman William A. Peckham of Newport, a resolution, provided that legislative action be sought to obtain use of the Touro fund for the synagogue's running expenses, was approved by the City Council and enacted into State law by the General Assembly.

At the present time there is another act before the Legislature, introduced by the late Representative Fletcher W. Lawton, which provides that the fund shall be used "for the buildings and premises used in connection with the synagogue." Some time before this legislation was introduced, the Jewish Community House was erected on Touro Street, across from the synagogue building.

This new proposed legislation brought forth protest from a group led by Herman Mines, who say that they will seek to save the fund from depletion and see that it is kept for the purposes intended by the donor. It is also contended that the proposed change is being made without the voted approval of the congregation members.

In accordance with the movement, Representative Herbert Bliss has introduced legislation to repeal the amendment, resulting from the Peckham resolution which threw the fund open for the payment of the synagogue's operating expenses.

COMMUNISTS IN PARIS CAUSE SERIOUS JEWISH STUDENT ROW

Interrupt Debate; Police Called to Outbreak; A Number Injured

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Paris, Mar. 20—A number of Jewish students were injured, some of them seriously, in a row which broke out during a debate last night in the hall of the "Petit Journal." The police were called out to quell the outbreak and a number of students were arrested.

Trouble started when a number of Communist students interfered with the speakers, including Zalman Shneur, Dr. Leo Motzkin, David Einhorn and Dr. M. Krainin.

Women fainted during the excitement which arose when the police attempted to separate the fighting students. Many of the students resisted the police, and in the struggle the injuries occurred.

REVIVES QUESTION OF POLITICAL AMNESTY

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, Mar. 20—The granting of amnesty to political and military prisoners was again the subject of an interpellation introduced in the Roumanian Parliament by the Jewish Deputy Jacob Pistiner.

The Deputy pointed out that all other countries have released their political prisoners, while the present government has not fulfilled its promise to release prisoners held for offenses committed during and after the War. Many of them have been held in prisons for over ten years, he declared.

ANTI-SEMITES FAIL TO CURRY FAVOR WITH JEWISH JUDGE

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Vienna, Mar. 20—An attempt to curry court favor by expressions of anti-Semitism failed when the plea was made before a Jewish judge.

The defendant in an action brought by a Jewish railway conductor for an assault made on him, turned to the judge exclaiming, "I am an Aryan and I don't want to be troubled by Jews." The district judge who was hearing the case, a Jew, imposed a fine on the defendant.

of bringing Jews from Bessarabia to settle in France. The Ministry of Agriculture thereupon issued a statement in which it said: "Many papers have announced that a recruiting of Bessarabians or of Russian refugees in Roumania was being organized and that a mission had been sent to Bucharest for this purpose. The Minister of Agriculture announces that no official belonging to his administration has been charged with any mission of this kind."

The position of Jewish immigrants in France who have been placed on the land as agricultural workers was declared to be very satisfactory in a report issued by the Hicem (Hias-Ica-Emigdirekt). The statement dealt with an inspection tour in Vaucluse, where a large number of Jewish agricultural workers were employed, carried out by a delegation consisting of Dr. M. Krainin of the Hicem, Mr. J. Mirkin of the Ica, and Mr. R. Grinberg of the Central Jewish Immigrant Aid Committee.

This agricultural employment work has been conducted for the past two years by the Central Jewish Immigrant Aid Committee. The Committee had hitherto considered its activities only as a trial, and had refrained from expressing any appreciation of the results or prophesying the future of the undertaking. Now, the report said, the Committee is able to express an opinion on the work accomplished and can forecast its favorable future.

Visiting a large number of farmers who employ Jewish labor, the delegation was able to establish that the working conditions and the life of the Jewish workers are with very few exceptions most satisfactory. They also convinced themselves that the Jewish agricultural labor placed by the Committee enjoys an excellent reputation in the country. The members of the delegation felt that the work must be continued, and promised to ask their respective organizations to interest themselves in the future of the Jewish agriculturists in France.

are being made to enroll all Jewish youths between the ages of 16 and 21 in the organization.

Max Rebeck, member of the I.O.B.B., is working in conjunction with Mr. Chernack in organizing the Pawtucket Chapter. Wilfred B. Felga, member of the Supreme Advisory Council, with headquarters in Omaha, will address the newly enrolled youths of the chapter at an early meeting.

Utica, N. Y., Mar. 20—The planned construction of a new Jewish Center in South Utica, undertaken in connection with Temple Beth El's building project, is meeting with obstructions as the result of objection from residents in the vicinity of the site chosen regarding sidelines and frontage of the proposed building.

Steel for the $200,000 structure had already been ordered, as preliminary approval had been given by the Bureau of Buildings of the City. Plans have been completed for the structure, and the home on the site purchased for a temple was razed.

The new temple will stand on a corner of Utica's main thoroughfare. Directly across the street is the First Church of Christ Scientist, and on the same side of Genesee Street is the First Presbyterian Church recently erected.

The Zoning Board of Appeals has given several hearings to Beth-El's plea for permission to proceed with the work. It was pointed out serious financial loss will be suffered by the congregation if the plans are materially altered and the steel ordered is unfit for use.

The synagogue board had practically decided that the building could properly be erected on the lot without action of the board so far as sidelines are concerned, when a question was raised concerning a rear fire tower stairway. This matter will require adjustment.

At present the congregation is without a rabbi, since the resignation of Rabbi Isidor E. Hoffman to take charge of the Hill Foundation work at Cornell University in Ithaca. He was recently installed as rabbi of the Congregation Beth-El there.

Several guest rabbis have been visitors in the city recently. Beth-El is at present holding services at 1608 Oneida Street. The new structure will be ready by Rosh Hashonah, it is expected.

New Haven, Conn., Mar. 20—It is proposed to start a drive for $25,000, the money needed to proceed with the plans for a new Center building.

A central location has already been purchased on which a building will be erected as soon as the funds can be secured for that purpose.

Palestine are to bring full returns, the gift already made must be continued and even increased, he said. At present, Dr. Holmes said, adequate funds are not available, and much of the work already begun has been curtailed.

"I have a feeling that this Zionist cause must succeed," Dr. Holmes declared. "Nothing impressed me so much as the devotion, sacrifice and labor for the cause which I have seen all the way from the high officials in the movement down to the humble workers on the land. In Jerusalem there are thousands of Jews who are literally laying down their lives on the altar of this great cause."

"No one can understand Zionism if he sees it only in Jewish terms. He must see it as a great human adventure and heroic endeavor to prove that the social ideals of the race can be made real on the earth. The failure of Zionism would mean a failure for us all, just as a victory for Zionism is a victory for all," he stated.

"The present situation is critical, the minister pointed out. 'Things done or not done now may determine all the future. I have come to feel intensely the pressing need of certain things—thus, the support of Zionism in America and elsewhere must be greatly increased in everything that goes to making up a great constructive enterprise, such as knowledge, skill, labor, devotion. I shall plead with all men, Jews and Gentiles, to give to this cause as never before.'"

Philanthropies was emphasized at the twelfth annual meeting of the Federation held here.

The federation has advanced beyond the mere giving of relief in 1928, and has launched a program of active rehabilitation, the annual report showed.

Elimination of about $20,000 of the deficit during 1928 was effected. The report of the federation showed that over $125,000 had been expended in comparison with $24,000 in 1917. The campaign for funds last October reached its objective of $135,000.

The appointment of a service club to assume the responsibility of soliciting a steady flow of funds necessary to carry on the work was suggested.
