INQUIRY COMMISSION OPENS INVESTIGATION INTO PALESTINE OUTBREAK

Charges Against Administration to be Examined

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Oct. 24—Sir Walter Shaw opened the first session of the Commission of Inquiry in the Jerusalem District Court at four o'clock this afternoon.

"The tragic events which recently occurred in Palestine have shocked the conscience of the whole world and has threatened to arrest the peaceful development of this country," Sir Walter declared in opening the sessions over which he will preside. "The events are deplored by every section of the people who are united in the demand that the causes be impartially investigated and a recrudescence of the disturbance be avoided.

"With this object in view, the Secretary of State for the Colonies appointed this Commission for the purpose of inquiring into the immediate causes which led to the outbreak and make recommendations of steps necessary to avoid a recurrence.

"Our duty is to hold a full, complete and impartial inquiry. We are precluded from considering questions of major policy. Such questions do not fall within the scope of our reference. It is a matter of satisfaction to this Commission that the inquiry into the immediate causes of the recent troubles is welcomed by all parties, and the Commissioners therefore feel justified in expecting to receive in the investigation the fullest assistance of all those desiring that these causes be ascertained and wish to contribute to the future peace and prosperity of the country.

"The Commission observes that charges of a serious character have been made by the Arabs against the Jews and the Jews against the Arabs, each attributing to the other responsibility for the events which both deplore. Charges have also been made against the administration. All these allegations, from whatever quarter, will receive the most careful examination in our endeavor to fulfill the purpose of our appointment, which is to ascertain the truth and restore confidence, upon which contentment and progress depend," he declared.

With the opening of the Commission

SHEIK GETS TWO YEARS PRISON AS INSTIGATOR OF HEBRON MASSACRE

Taleb Markah Trial Considered Key Case; Also Fined $50 Plus Trial Costs

By GERSHON AGRONSKY

Staff Correspondent, Jewish Telegraphic Agency

Jerusalem, Oct. 24—A sentence of two years imprisonment and the payment of a fine of £50 plus the costs of the trial, was pronounced on Sheik Taleb Markah, on trial in the Jerusalem District Court as one of the chief instigators of the Hebron massacre in which sixty-six Jews were killed and scores injured.

The trial, which began on October 17, was the center of interest of all Palestine, as it was considered a key case in the trials growing out of the recent outbreak. Judge Defreites pronounced the sentence. Government Prosecutor Sherwell, a British barrister, conducted the case after two Arab prosecutors were withdrawn.

Jerusalem, Oct. 24—Two Arabs, spectators at the trial of Sheik Taleb Markah, were arrested outside the courtroom on Wednesday. The arrests were made on the evidence of a British official who recognized the prisoners as a part of a mob which fired on the Jews in Hebron on the day of the massacre.

Jerusalem, Oct. 24—The alibi of Sheik Taleb Markah to the effect that there were no crowds in the streets while he sat in the cafe, was shaken yesterday by the testimony of Abdul

EDITOR AND CARTOONIST GET MONTH TERM FOR LIBEL

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, Oct. 24—Imprisonment of one month or the payment of a fine of 300 Marks, was the sentence imposed on the Socialist Deputy Schemm, editor of the weekly, "Weckruf," and a cartoonist, Braeutigan, for libel.

The weekly published an article repeating the libelous tale that the German student, Daube, who was killed, was the victim of Jews for ritual purposes. The article was accompanied by a cartoon by Braeutigan which purported to illustrate the allegations in the article.

TO TRY JEWS FOR COLLEC- TION TO REPAIR CEMETERY

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Moscow, Oct. 24—A number of Orthodox Jews of Klintzi, Briansk region, will be brought to trial on the charge of collecting money among Orthodox Jews to repair the gates of the local Jewish cemetery.

The trial was urged by the "Emes," Communist Yiddish daily.

2 ARABS SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR MURDER OF JEWISH WOMAN

12 Arabs Get Life Terms for Arson, Causing Woman's Death

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Haifa, Oct. 24—The second pronouncement of death sentence on Arabs found guilty of murder during the Palestine outbreak, was made today in the Haifa District Court, sitting as the Criminal Assizes, by Chief Justice Sir Michael MacDonnell, sitting with Judge Litt. The same court last week sentenced three Arabs to death for the murder of Isaac Mann, Jewish mechanic of Safed.

Two Safed Arabs, Ahmed Shariffa and Ahmed Selim Zanib, were sentenced to death at noon today for the murder of Hannah Kohen, wife of Raphael Kohen, during the outbreak at Safed on August 28. Two other Arabs, found guilty of complicity in the murder, were sentenced to ten years each.

The trial was the shortest held so far, on the charge of murder. Three witnesses for the prosecution were heard, the son and husband of the murdered woman, and a doctor. The son and husband testified that they witnessed the shooting.

Haifa, Oct. 24—Twelve Arabs of Safed were sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor and two to five years imprisonment for setting fire to the house of Solomon Goldzweig on the day of the riots, when Goldzweig's wife was found asphyxiated in the burned house. The two sentenced to five years were given lighter sentences because of their youth.

Denies Anti-Jewish Discrimination; Promises Measures Against Student Attacks

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Budapest, Oct. 24—Denial that anti-Jewish prejudice exists in Hungary was the keynote of the address before Parliament today by Premier Bethlen. The Premier's address was in reply to the question of Socialist Deputy Peyer as to what Hungary was prepared to do to protect its Jewish population.

No Jewish deputies participated in the discussion.

Count Bethlen and Deputy Peyer were the only speakers. Deploping that the Socialist Party should have chosen a Parliamentary interpellation as a means of solving the Jewish question, a method which he said is frowned upon by the Jewish deputies, Count Bethlen said Hungary is prepared to its duty by the Jewish community. The comparison with Palestine, which is a nation, is unfair.

The government is prepared to take severe police measures to quell disturbances in the universities. Police will be authorized to enter school buildings and the University of Budapest closed, if it becomes necessary.

Parliament voted its approval of the Premier's reply, while Deputy Peyer insisted his interpellation still stands.

Expansion of Activities Under Way,
James N. Rosenberg Announces

The American Society for Jewish Farm Settlements in Russia has granted the Soviet Government a $9,000,000 loan for seventeen years at 5 per cent, states an Associated Press despatch from Moscow. The loan, which will be handled by the Chase National Bank, will be issued in forty quarterly instalments of $250,000 each for ten years, beginning in 1929.

"This is no new matter," declared James N. Rosenberg, president of the American Society for Jewish Farm Settlements in Russia, when interviewed by the representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency on the Moscow despatch.

"The arrangement for a $10,000,000 investment at the rate of $1,000,000 a year for Jewish Farm Settlements in Russia was made over a year ago and a public statement was then issued regarding the matter.

"Dr. Joseph A. Rosen, the head of the work, is at present in this country, and his reports show that there are today upwards of 200,000 Jews settled on over a million and one-half acres of land in Russia and that all the settlers who have been on the land two years or more are self-supporting. The progress of the work has been far greater than we hoped. Plans for the enlargement of our activities are now under consideration," Mr. Rosenberg stated.

Call Conference October 27, Neighboring Countries to Send Delegates
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Cairo, Oct. 24—A conference to which neighboring countries are expected to send delegates, has been called for October 27th by the Palestine Arab Executive, declares "El Ahram" of Cairo.

The Arab paper declares that it is the intention of the conference to consider action against the regulations at the Wailing Wall, which the Arabs claim infringe on the status quo, and the collective punishment ordinance, and the proposed refusal to pay taxes. The conference will also voice its opposition to Jewish immigration, "especially against the youth brought by the Zionist Executive for defense purposes," the paper declares. It will also consider a boycott of British goods.

Jerusalem, Oct. 24—The meeting of Arab women scheduled for Saturday, will be limited to a consideration of the boycott of Jewish merchandise. Relief measures for Arabs who suffered when the troops exerted measures to quell the riots, will also be adopted.

MARSHALL MEMORIAL MEETING NOVEMBER 10

A memorial meeting for the late Louis Marshall will be held on November 10, under the auspices of three organizations of which he was president, Temple Emanu-El, the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, and the American Jewish Committee. All organizations with which Mr. Marshall was connected will be invited to send representatives. The memorial exercises will take place at Temple Emanu-El, Sunday, November 10, at 4:30 P.M.

Dr. Cyrus Adler and Justice Irving Lehman of the Court of Appeals, will deliver addresses.

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Oct. 24—The opening of a new workers' house of the Jewish colony Rehoboth, took place yesterday. This is the first structure to be erected through the joint efforts of the laborers and the colonists and is a symbol for future harmony, declared M. Smilansky. Joseph Ben Gurion, labor leader, predicted the end of the difficulties over the employment of Jewish labor in the colonies.

ATTACK ON JEWS REGRETTABLE. NOT EVIDENCE OF GENERAL SENTIMENT AT HARVARD

Dean of Sophomore Class Deeply
Occurrence; Says Clark Deeply
Apologetic

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Boston, Oct. 24.—The recent incident at Harvard University, when a sophomore, George Clark, insulted Jewish students and a Chinese student during an initiation of the Hasty Pudding Club, is not evidence of the general sentiment of the student body, declared a representative of the club and the dean of the sophomore class, to the Jewish Daily Bulletin correspondent.

George Grenville Benedict, the dean in charge of the sophomore class, said he was anxious to correct an erroneous impression. Dean Benedict stated that the university authorities deeply deplored the occurrence of such a boyish prank. The true Harvard spirit, he said, was indicated by the general gentlemanly reaction against the incident, the attitude of revision shown by the students present at the scene and by the condemnation of the student body.

"It should be known that Clark, the very next morning after the incident, appeared at my office and most genuinely apologized for his folly, expressing deep regret in person to the students whom he insulted," the Dean declared. "It should be remembered that Clark was really a victim of the system of initiations but, of course, this certainly does not excuse him for the very ungentlemanly conduct that he demonstrated. It is my understanding that the reports of the incident appearing in the metropolitan daily papers, were in certain respects exaggerated," the Dean continued.

Similarly zealous about the honor of the university and equally condemnatory of the disrespectful conduct of the one performing his initiation, was George D. Braden, graduate treasurer of the Hasty Pudding Club. Although he spoke informally and unofficially, he stated with firmness, "It is altogether against the policy of the club in any way to further or encourage any such ungentlemanly conduct. It was a disgrace to the honor of our club, which we hold very dear, and shamefully disrespectful to the university."

The Hasty Pudding Club is the oldest of the university," Mr. Braden continued. "It is a social and dramatic society. It has a long history, to be sure, of fun making and joviality, but it has also an excellent record as to honor and character. I wish to indicate that we certainly do not harbor any malice or ill-will toward anyone. We gladly admit Jews to our membership. We have members of the Straus family, Al and Vic Miller, Izzy Zaraf and others, of whose achievements for the university we are duly proud. We don't differentiate among prospective members. Men who have done things for Harvard, who have attained distinction and won

J. D. B. NEWS LETTER

Leonard L. Cohen Succeeds Late
Franz Philippson as Ica President

By Our Paris Correspondent

Paris, Oct. 20.—Leonard L. Cohen, vice-president of the Jewish Colonization Association, as was foreshadowed by the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, has been unanimously elected president of the Ica, by the Administrative Council of the Ica, which has been meeting here, succeeding the late M. Franz Philippson, who died early in July. Professor Salomon Reinach was also unanimously elected by the Council as vice-president of the Ica in succession to Mr. Cohen. M. Max Gotschalk has been appointed by the Brussels Jewish Community as its representative on the Ica Council, in succession to the late M. Franz Philippson. The new president, Leonard L. Cohen, paid a tribute to the memory of the late Louis Marshall.

At the general meeting of the Ica, over which he presided, Mr. Cohen paid a tribute to the memory of the late M. Franz Philippson.

Mr. Cohen spoke of the prosperity of their colonies in the Argentine, the vitality of their agricultural groups in Brazil, Canada, Palestine, and Poland, and of the hopes which have been realized in respect of the new Jewish colonization in Russia. He also referred to the success achieved by their credit work, thanks to the Joint-Ica Foundation, and also to the great progress made in their emigration work, with the assistance of the Hicem.

Leonard Lionel Cohen, the new president of the Ica, is widely known and popular in London Jewry through his long association with the Jewish Board of Guardians, to which he has given over forty years of continuous service, acting as its president for twenty years, from 1900 to 1920.

He was born in London on April 17, 1858, son of the late Lionel Louis Cohen, M.P., also a former president of the Jewish Board of Guardians, whose "Scheme for the Betterment and Improvement of the Jewish Poor" practically formed the Constitution of the Board, and a leading figure in the formation of the United Synagogue, presiding over the first meeting of its Council.

Mr. Cohen joined his father's firm, Louis Cohen & Sons, foreign bankers, which was founded by his grandfather, the late Louis Cohen. He was a member of the Committee of the Stock Exchange, and a director of a number of railway companies. On his retirement from business in 1895, he devoted most of his leisure to charitable work, principally in the Jewish Community. He is a member of the Council of the Anglo-Jewish Association, which he represents on the Joint Foreign Committee. He was one of the founders of the League of British Jews. He is not a Zionist, but he is a member of the Economic Board for Palestine.

ROUT IDEA OF SPECIAL COMMISSION TO CONSIDER PALESTINE POLICY

Official Circles Dismiss Rumors; Unaware of Arab Demands for Immigration Bars

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, Oct. 24.—Official circles here dismiss as speculation the rumors current in certain sections of the London press that Lord Passfield, Secretary of the Dominions, is contemplating the setting up of a Parliamentary Commission to deal with the larger questions of policy in Palestine, such as the future method of applying the Palestine Mandate, declares the diplomatic correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

Official circles, the correspondent says, are not cognizant of any such Commission coming into being.

Competent quarters declare that they are unaware of any demand forwarded to the Colonial Office by the Palestine High Commissioner, setting forth the Arab desires to restrict Jewish immigration to the country. It is taken for granted that the Arabs desire restriction of Jewish immigration, but no official demand has as yet been transmitted.

A number of protests have been received here against the death sentences imposed on the three Arab murderers of the Jewish mechanic of Safed, Isaac Mamaan. They will not, however, make any difference to the carrying out of justice, it is stated. The government is determined to execute its responsibilities in the spirit of equity.

The fact that the new regulations at the Vaiting Wall dispense both the Jews and the Arabs is interpreted as proving the objectivity of the Government, the discontent of both disputants being inevitable.

SYMPATHY DEMON- STRATION IN DAMASCUS

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Cairo, Oct. 24.—Several were wounded in clashes between the police and a crowd of Christian Moslems participating in a sympathy demonstration with Palestine Arabs, in Damascus on October 21, according to a report to the El Ahram, Arab paper of Cairo.

The demonstration which started from the Mosque and the Greek Church, passed the government offices and the offices of the consulates. Damascus papers ceased publication on the day of the demonstration.

DR. JUDAH L. MAGNES RETURNS TO JERUSALEM

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Oct. 24.—Dr. Judah L. Magnes, Chancellor of the Hebrew University, returned to Palestine today, arriving on the same train which brought the members of the Commission of Inquiry.

The father of Attorney General Norman Bentwich also arrived. He was met at the station by the Attorney General.

ab Sheich, partner of the murdered Rabbi Kastel.

Climaxing the day's testimony, Sheich stated that he saw an armed crowd of two hundred pass his shop and the cafe next door, whereas Taleb and his friends said they saw no crowd pass the cafe where they sat. Sheich declared that upon seeing the crowd he ran to the home of Rabbi Kastel, to see if he was safe, but was beaten back. He then ran back to his shop where he fainted.

A witness attempted to prove the alibi of Sheik Taleb Markah that he was in the cafe and later in the office of Abdul ab Sheich when the riots occurred. The witness declared that he did not hear of the riots until Sunday, although he spent several hours in the cafe Saturday with Taleb.

"Do you want me to believe that you were in the cafe two hours with Taleb, without mentioning the riots?" Judge Defreitas demanded. "You are wasting our time. I will never believe you. I think you are deliberately lying."

Sheik Taleb Markah was recalled to the witness stand to testify again concerning his "rovings," between prayer-time and three o'clock Friday afternoon, the day preceding the day of the massacre, the court evidently suspecting his alibi concerning his whereabouts during the demonstrations, which Assistant Police Superintendent of Hebron, Cafferratta testified he incited.

The brother of the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, one of the counsel for the defense, spoke for the first time since the trial opening, questioning the authority of the Sheik in testifying that the small mosques were used for prayer on Friday.

An Arab mounted constable, who visited the Slonim house, the principal scene of the slaughter, after the massacre had occurred, when asked whether quiet had been restored through the efforts of the police, smilingly answered that when the crowd finished with this house, it went to other houses, therefore there was quiet.

ORT FORMS COMMITTEES TO AID RUSSIAN TOWNS

Committees composed of representatives of various Landsmanschaften and members of the American Ort, society for the promotion of trades and agriculture among Russian Jews, were formed to aid in the establishment of textile mills, carpentry, weaving and woodwork shops and other manufactures in cities and towns of Russia and Poland. Announcement of the formation of the committees was made at a meeting in New York presided over by Louis Boudin and addressed by Judge Jacob Panken, Dr. Henry Moskowitz and Gerson Zybert.

The expenditure of $7,000 can give employment to 150 people, Judge Panken declared in his address.

INQUIRY COMMISSION OPENS INVESTIGATION INTO PALESTINE OUTBREAK

of Inquiry's session today and the accompanying discussion as to its functions, comparison is made with the Haycraft Commission, which investigated the Arab outbreak in 1921. At that time there were only two parties to appear before the investigation commission, the Arabs and the Jews. In the present investigation, the Palestine government is the third party and will be represented by counsel. While the Haycraft Commission was appointed by the Palestine government, Sir Herbert Samuel, then High Commissioner making the appointment, the present Commission was appointed by London at the request of the Palestine administration.

While the Arabs seem still undecided as to what attitude to adopt toward the Commission, talk of boycotting and sabotaging the work of the Commission going on, although the Arabs have named counsel to represent them, the Jewish newspapers display an attitude of respect and reserve, but not a negative attitude. Two facts have had a dampening influence, first, the late arrival of the Commission and second, that two members of the Commission are former officials of the Colonial Office.

Jerusalem, Oct. 24.—Sir Walter Shaw, Sir Henry Betterton, R. Hopkins Morris and Henry Snell, members of the Parliamentary Commission of Inquiry, arrived here this morning in a private car from Egypt. They were met at the station by the High Commissioner, Sir John Chancellor, Civil Secretary H. C. Luke, and a deputy of Mayor Fakhri Nashashibi. No one except newspapermen and cameramen were permitted to enter the station, which was guarded by a lorryful of British soldiers.

A short official reception of the Commission was held. They left immediately after for the Hotel Fast which has been reserved for the members of the Commission and their staff.

Secretaries of the Arab Executive were on the platform when the commission arrived. Surprise was expressed that no Zionist representation was present. It was, however, explained that the Arab secretaries were there to greet H. L. Stoker, British attorney who will act as the Arab counsel before the Commission.

Keelam Freedy, government counsel, arrived from Egypt by aeroplane.

Meet to Prepare Jewish Case

Jerusalem, Oct. 24.—Prior to the opening of the first session of the Palestine Commission of Inquiry, the Zionist Executive met last night with the counsel which is to represent the Jews' case at the investigation. Sir Boyd Meriman and Viscount Erleigh have just completed a tour of the country, visiting the scenes of the outbreak.

The two British barristers were retained by the Jewish Agency in Lon-nell in passing sentence, said he is not satisfied that the accused directly caused the woman's death, but the court does not doubt that all the accused conspired to destroy Jewish life and property.

The sentenced men include the two Raneim brothers who were condemned to death for the murder of Isaac Maan, Jewish mechanic of Safed, the first to fall a victim during the massacre.

During the proceedings, the son of one of the accused begged the court to permit him to plead his father's case since all the Arab lawyers in Jerusalem and Haifa had refused to defend the prisoners. The court denied this plea but announced that it would permit the accused to plead their own cases. The only person to do this was the father of the petitioner.

Chief Justice MacDonnell, sitting with Judge Litt, has sentenced nineteen for participation in the Safed massacre.

the applause of the student body, are eligible for membership, regardless of race or creed."

In regard to the initiation, Mr. Braden stated: "Those being initiated are distinctly told not to disturb anybody, except the undergraduate members of the club, who are recognized by the tie. There is no such thing as general interference with any students they may encounter. Because of the unfair and deplorable exaggeration of the recent incident, our club has dropped all public initiatives for the rest of the year, to show the club's protest against what happened. It should be known that this course was adopted by the undergraduate members of the Hasty Pudding Club immediately after the incident and before any such order could have been possibly given by the university authorities."

don. Jonah J. Goldstein of New York, is representing the American section of the Jewish Agency, and Harry Sacher, the Palestine Zionist Executive. Mr. Horowitz is acting as solicitor.

As the inquiry is being conducted by a British Commission and British procedure will be followed, Sir Boyd Meriman will be the spokesman for the Jewish council.

Jonah J. Goldstein, who came to Palestine to act for the Jewish Agency in protecting Jewish interests, plans an extensive tour of the country, especially of places affected, with a view to recommending reconstruction projects. Mr. Goldstein, who is accompanied by Mrs. Goldstein, will return to the United States when the work of the Inquiry Commission has gotten under way.
