Jews Urge Arabs to Show Tolerance in Closing Wall Case; Arab Spokesman Defiant

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, July 18—Under no circumstances does the Palestine nation, meaning the Arabs, recognize the Palestine Mandate nor does it bind itself to any law derived therefrom nor does it recognize the Jewish National Home. This statement was made by Ahmed Zaki Pasha, prominent Moslem dignitary and scholar from Egypt, in beginning the summing up of the Arab case before the Wailing Wall Commission yesterday afternoon.

Prior to his address he read a statement in Arabic in which he welcomed the commissioners in the name of the Almighty and said that lovers of justice hoped that the verdict would be impartial and would bring peace and amity to the city whose name is peace. Claiming to speak on behalf of 400,000 Moslems he said that they were all determined to defend their established rights and holy shrines.

Saying that he had discussed the matter with his colleagues, Zaki Pasha then submitted a series of reservations in which he stated that the Arabs can not recognize the Mandate or the Jewish National Home. He said that his defence will not change any of the rights which the Arabs possess because they are exclusively entitled to decide their own destiny. Any dispute regarding the ownership of the places of worship must be submitted to a competent authority, he declared.

Eliash in Moving Plea

A moving plea to the Moslems to maintain a humanitarian view of the Jewish position with regard to the Wailing Wall and a passionate extolling of religious tolerance were made by Dr. Mordecai Eliash, chief Jewish counsel, in his closing address at the morning session of the hearings of the Wailing Wall Commission.

Pointing out that the Jews have not introduced politics into the question of

Polish Agudists Ask Government Credit for Orthodox Banks

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, July 18—A request that the Polish government furnish credits for the establishment of orthodox co-operative banks was made of Premier Slawek today by a delegation from the Agudath Israel, orthodox organization, which waited on him. The deputation consisted of former deputy Levine, Rabbi Shapiro and ex-senator Mendelson.

While they stressed the serious economic situation of the Jews they also asked M. Slawek to modify the status of the rabbis. The Premier promised a satisfactory settlement.

Anti-Semitic Troubles Break Out in Ploesti; Peace and Order Restored in Borscha

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, July 18—Anti-Semitic disturbances broke out yesterday in Ploesti, a city of 60,000 population not far from Bucharest. A number of Jewish shops were looted and several Jews mishandled. On the other hand quiet and order have been reestablished in Borscha due to the reinforcement of the police force.

Eighteen peasants have been arrested in Borscha on charges of being implicated in the ultimatum that was issued to the Jewish community, early this week, calling on the Jews to leave town before sunset or else take the consequences.

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Vienna, July 18—The Austrian newspapers are quoting an article by minister of the interior Vayda Voevod that appeared in the Bucharest daily, "Adverul," in which he is alleged to have said that the Jews themselves were responsible for the anti-Semitic disturbances.

Government Official Lays Cornerstone of Tel Aviv's New 2-Story Post-Office

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Tel Aviv, July 18—In officiating at the laying of the corner-stone for the new two-story post-office that the Palestine government is building in Tel Aviv, W. Foster, acting postmaster general of Palestine, recalled the time when Tel Aviv, now a city of some 40,000, was so small that its post-office was accommodated in one room.

Meyer Dizengoff, mayor of Tel Aviv, in his brief address, looked forward to the time when all communication between Tel Aviv and abroad will be by air mail. Rabbi Ben Zion Uziel, chief rabbi of Tel Aviv, expressed the hope that communications in the future would tell of peace and tranquility among all the inhabitants of the country.

Publisher of "Yerushalayim"

Examined by Police for Publishing (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, July 18—The publisher of the "Yerushalayim," Dr. Blank, was examined by the police for publishing the paper during the recent suspension of the "Doar Hayom." The charge against him is contravening the press law for which he is liable to a fine of $250 if found guilty.

While the "Doar Hayom" was suspended papers under two different names, one of them the "Yerushalayim," were issued from the "Doar Hayom's" plant.

Government Ending Bukovina Disturbances as Agitation Spreads to Bessarabia

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, July 18—While the government is carrying out its plans to stamp out the anti-Semitic disturbances in Bukovina new anti-Semitic agitation has broken out, this time in Bessarabia. The peasants there are being incited against the Jews by propaganda stating that the Jewish bankers are responsible for the low prices being received for this year's crops. Reports in the Roumanian press indicate that the anti-Semitism of the peasants is in some measure traceable to the difficult agricultural situation.

Disturbances are reported in Teghina Zimislea where the gendarmes have arrested a priest, a school teacher and three students, indicating that the government is actually determined to suppress the attacks of the peasants.

The Jewish community of Kishinev has addressed a telegram of protest to King Carol, minister of interior Vayda Voevod and Premier Maniu regarding the troubles in Bukovina. On the other hand Vayda Voevod has issued a vigorous denial of the reports in the Roumanian papers that there have been new outbreaks in Southern Bukovina. He termed the story that the "Czernowitz Morgenblatt," a Jewish paper had been confiscated, fantastic and declared untrue the report of excesses in Solca.

The notorious anti-Semitic agitators Danila and Nicolai Totu who called on Vayda Voevod today to protest against their being detained in a pig-sty were declined an audience and their immediate arrest was ordered.

Jewish Members of Parliament Ask Punishment for Anti-Semites

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Bucharest, July 18—A request that those guilty of inciting the peasants to attack the Jews and those participating in the attacks be punished was made to Vayda Voevod, Roumanian minister of the interior, by a delegation of Jewish members of parliament in the course of a four-hour conference with him today. During the conference the situation created by the anti-Jewish disturbances in various towns and cities of Bukovina was discussed.

The delegation consisted of Senator Meyer Ebner, Deputies Joseph Fisher and Michael Landan and Dr. I. Marton. The minister promised that those found guilty would be punished.

The Jewish Parliamentary Club has called a conference of all Jewish organizations to meet in Bucharest July 23. At the conference the present Jewish situation in Roumania will be thoroughly discussed.

Michigan Hillel Foundation*Chief Called to Spokane Pulpit

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 18—Announcement has been made of the appointment of Rabbi Adolph H. Fink, director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at the University of Michigan, to Temple Emanu-El congregation at Spokane, Washington.

Rabbi Fink entered the field of student religious work as associate director of the University of Illinois Hillel Foundation at Champaign in 1925. In the Fall of 1926, he assumed the directorship at the Michigan Hillel Foundation where he has remained until the present time.

Delivery of an attack on discrimination against Jewish students by University of Michigan landladies, made at an interdenominational Goodwill banquet sponsored last Spring by the University, drew nation-wide prominence to Rabbi Fink. He delivered the invocation and benediction at the Baccalaureate exercises held in June, in connection with the Commencement program of the university.

Ex-Premier Baldwin's Son*Promises to Back Zionism

Promising to support the Zionist cause in the future, according to a London report to the "Jewish Morning Journal" of Friday, Oliver Baldwin, British Labor member of parliament and son of the Conservative ex-Premier Stanley Baldwin, declared yesterday that he changed his unfavorable attitude toward the Jews during the war when he fought with the British forces in Palestine, and toward Zionism as a result of the movement being recently explained to him by Mrs. Norman Bentwich, wife of the present Attorney General of Palestine, the report states.

Polish League Delegate to Support Jewish Viewpoint on Calendar Reform Plan

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, July 18—The orthodox Jewish point of view against the proposed calendar reform which is to come up before the League of Nations this Fall will be supported by the Polish delegate to the League, Franciszek Sokal. This promise was made today by the Polish vice-minister of foreign affairs, Dr. Wysocki, to a delegation from the central council of the Agudath Israel, orthodox organization. The delegation consisted of Rabbi Lewin, president of the council, and former Senator Mendelsohn.

In presenting the orthodox Jewish attitude toward the calendar reform plan the delegation showed that if it was adopted it would threaten the fixity of the Jewish Sabbath. Dr. Wysocki informed the delegation that he understood and appreciated the Jewish point of view and he assured the delegation that Poland's representative would not support any movement for calendar reform that would affect the Jewish religion.

United States Still Largest*Jewish Immigration Country

Contrary to an opinion that prevails in some circles, the United States of America is still the largest Jewish immigration country. Official figures just issued by the Bureau of Immigration of the U. S. Department of Labor, and which have been carefully analyzed by the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society, most conclusively show that the number of Jewish immigrants arriving in this country is considerably larger than the number of non-Jewish immigrants coming from the same countries in Europe from which these Jews hail, such as Poland, Russia, Lithuania, Roumania and Latvia.

In the month of May, there arrived on these shores 913 Jews, 439 Poles, 100 Russians and 362 from all other nations which are not enumerated, such as Lithuania, Latvia and Roumania because of the small quotas. The official figures also state that from July, 1929 to May, 1930, there came to this country 10,800 Jews, 4,607 Poles, 1,527 Russians and 5,743 of all other nations not enumerated separately. This means that during the period referred to the number of Jewish immigrants was approximately 1,000 less than all the other nationalities mentioned.

When, in addition, the fact is taken into account that in the same period, that is from July, 1929 to May, 1930, there departed from this country 1,726 Poles, 451 Russians, 3,018 of all other nationalities and that only 277 Jews returned to their respective native countries, the number of Jewish immigrants who remained in the country is hence twice as large as the number of immigrants of all other nationalities mentioned which have settled here permanently.

Peruvian Government Denies Negotiations Under Way for Colonizing Jews in Peru

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Washington, July 18—The report from Berlin that negotiations had been undertaken in Germany for Jewish colonization in Peru was definitely branded as false today by the Peruvian ministry of public works in a communication to the Peruvian embassy here, which transmitted this information to the correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

The communication from the ministry of public works came in response to an inquiry sent by the Peruvian embassy as a result of the original publication of the report some weeks ago. The embassy at that time expressed doubt as to the truth of the report, and this position has now been confirmed by the communication from Peru.

Following a report from Berlin which appeared in a New York Yiddish daily, May 9, to the effect that the Peruvian government was prepared to offer 2,000,000 hectares of land in Eastern Peru for exclusive Jewish colonization, inquiries by the Jewish Telegraphic Agency in Berlin showed that a year-old project of a former German marine officer, Captain Perle, to settle Jews in Eastern Peru had been revived by a Dr. Kirschberg, a Jewish lawyer who was cooperating with a group interested in German colonization in Peru.

Unsuccessful attempts were made by Dr. Kirschberg and his associates to interest Jewish leaders in the plan. Later it was reported that the German colonization group, in which Baron von Maltzan, an uncle of the former German ambassador to the United States, was interested, had completed the draft of an agreement with the Peruvian government.

Those backing the project had also enlisted the interest of Lawrence Groves, American commercial attaché in Berlin, who sent a communication regarding the matter to the United States department of commerce. Some days later the proponents of the Peruvian colonization scheme were given an opportunity to put their plan before Jewish leaders at a meeting called on the initiative of the Emigdirekt. At this meeting much skepticism was expressed but there was a feeling that Jewish leaders abroad should be given an opportunity to discuss it. Since then nothing has been heard of it until the denial of the Peruvian government.

Kovel Incidents Were Not*Anti-Semitic, Rabbi Says

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, July 18—The reports of large scale attacks on the Jews of Kovel three weeks ago as reported in the Kovel papers are largely exaggerated and to some extent untrue, according to a statement in today Warsaw Yiddish daily, "Haint," by Rabbi Chaim Moshe Twersky of Kovel. He says that the attacks were not anti-Semitic in origin and that the authorities carried out their duties properly.

Says Success of Jewish National Home Depends on Cooperation of Jewry and Great Britain

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, July 18—Saying that the success of the Jewish National Home depends largely on cooperation between Jewry and the British government, the "Near East and India" in an editorial in the current issue argues that "nothing hinders this cooperation more than the constant holding of a pistol, albeit unloaded at the head of the British government". The "Near East and India," reputed to be close to the British Colonial Office, is criticizing the repeated protests of Jewry against Britain's policy in Palestine.

The magazine says that if the present tactics of the Jews towards Great Britain had been employed in 1917 there would have been no Balfour Declaration. If ever a return to "sweet reasonableness" was necessary, writes "Near East and India," "now seems the time when circumstances compel a careful stock-taking in Palestine in the interests of the Jewish National Home".

Charge British Policy in Palestine Aimed to White-Wash Administration There

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, July 18—The entire present policy of the British government in Palestine is only meant to white-wash the former actions of British officials there, declares a statement issued yesterday by the British Palestine Committee, among whose members are many prominent Englishmen. Because of that, declares the Committee, the government is endeavoring to show that Jewish immigration and Jewish land purchase are responsible for the Arab riots of last Summer.

The committee also criticizes Prime Minister MacDonald for accepting the report of the Shaw Commission on Palestine, which it declares consisted of "second-rate men," while refusing to accept the report of the Simon Commission on India, which it declares consisted of first-rate men. It points out that while the conclusion of the Simon Commission were arrived at unanimously and were all within the sphere of its authority, the conclusions of the Shaw Commission were not unanimous and exceeded its authority.

The Palestine government is also condemned in the report for indicting more Jews than Arabs for complicity in the murders of last August. Though the riots were organized by the Arabs, declares the Committee, 25 Jews against 19 Arabs were arrested in Jerusalem for murder, while in Haifa 42 Jews against 19 Arabs were arrested, though all the Jews in these two cities were later freed.

Arkansas Making Ready for Allied Jewish Campaign in Fall

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Little Rock, July 18—Headed by A. J. Kempner, of Little Rock, leader in all philanthropic effort by the Jews of that state, Arkansas Jewry is making preparations for a drive for the Allied Jewish Campaign to begin on October 15 and terminate on November 1.

Associated with Mr. Kempner, who is the chairman of the Arkansas Allied Jewish Campaign, are Sam J. Storthz, state vice-chairman; M. L. Altheimer, treasurer and S. Lasher Ehrman, secretary. The executive committee is composed of Leo Pfeifer, Rabbi Ira E. Sanders, I. Goldberg, L. M. Samuels, Sam Grundfast, I. L. Safferstone, Herbert Wolf and Ike Kempner. Harry B. Solmsen is chairman for Little Rock. The goal of the Arkansas drive is $36,000.

Enthusiasm for the impending campaign was aroused by the rebroadcasting through the entire state of Arkansas of the addresses delivered at the testimonial meeting in honor of Felix M. Warburg, in New York City on May 27. The rebroadcasting in Arkansas of this historic function was arranged for by chairman Kempner, M. L. Lasher and Leo Pfeifer, all three of whom are veterans of every campaign that has been conducted in this country for the relief of stricken overseas Jewry.

Polish Jewish Council Asks Probe of Kovel Incidents

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, July 18—A demand for a thorough investigation of the recent incidents at Kovel where a number of Jews were injured following clashes with hooligans growing out of a swimming pool altercation was made today by the Jewish National Council of Poland in a memorandum to M. Skladowski, minister of the interior.

The memorandum quotes the "Kovel Voice" which says "that in spite of M. Filipowicz's communicate the attacking party was Christian while the Jews retaliated in self-defence. Among the Jews injured were elderly people, women and children. Naphtali Salz, Hirsch Boxer, Eliezer Beiler and Abraham Biner were badly hurt and seventeen others were slightly injured".

On July 9 Titus Filipowicz, the Polish ambassador to the United States, replying to inquiries made regarding the Kovel incidents by the Federation of Polish Jews in America, reported that the trouble started when "two Jewish youths overturned on the Turia river a boat occupied by two Christians and the latter retaliated by tipping over the Jewish boat." On the next day, M. Filipowicz's investigation showed "a railroad official named Styczynski was severely injured on the head during an altercation with a Jewish passenger" and three days later "a street brawl took place in consequence of which several Jews . . . and two Christians received injuries."

Philadelphia Synagogue in Danger of Being Converted Into Church for Negroes

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Philadelphia, July 18—The synagogue Anshe Tifereth Israel and Masbbaum Talmud Torah are in danger of being converted into a church for the colored residents of that section of the city, it was disclosed today by S. Nathanson and Isaac Lieberman, two of the leading synagogue supporters.

The facts as presented by these men are as follows: Three years ago the synagogue was erected on a lot estimated at $20,000. The cost of building was $60,000 and the cost of equipment $10,000. This was in 1926 immediately following the death of the millionaire philanthropist Jules E. Masbbaum and the Talmud Torah connected with the synagogue and accommodating approximately sixty-five children was named in his memory. At that time it was hoped that some of the wealthier men in that section of the city would contribute towards the maintenance of that institution.

This, it seems, did not materialize with the result that the synagogue was bought in by a local trust company holding a first mortgage of $30,000. All that was left to the officers and members of the congregation were the seven Torahs. This trust company is now endeavoring to resell the synagogue and it is understood that a group of colored people living in the neighborhood are negotiating for its purchase.

Hoover Asked to Name Jewish Assistant Labor Secretary

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Washington, July 18—Mayor William Broening of Baltimore and Rabbi Louis J. Schwefel of Washington, D. C., were the spokesmen for a small delegation which appeared before President Hoover yesterday to suggest the name of Maurice Bisgyer of Baltimore as assistant secretary of labor. Senator Goldsborough of Maryland arranged the appointment with the President who indicated his interest in the proposal, but informed the delegation that he intended to make no changes in the department of labor until the Fall elections.

Rabbi Schwefel recalled to the President Mr. Bisgyer's affiliation with the Republican National Committee under Representative Franklin Fort, as well as his appointment by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur to membership on the National Advisory Committee on Education. Mr. Bisgyer, though a resident of Baltimore, is now secretary of the Jewish Community Center of Washington, and vice-president of the National Association of Jewish Community Centers' Secretaries.

President Hoover asked for more complete information concerning Mr. Bisgyer's qualifications and advised the delegation to submit a memorandum on the subject. In addition to Mayor Broening and Rabbi Schwefel the delegation was composed of state senator Harry O. Levine and Joseph A. Heilperin of Baltimore and Isaac Gans of Washington.

Jews Urge Arabs to Show Tolerance in Closing Wall Case; Arab Spokesman Defiant

the Walling Wall and saying that they are frank and want the commissioners to feel their frankness. Dr. Eliash declared that "the Wall is the eternal sign of the Jews' own preservation and a promise for the future. Wherein is there any irreverence in this attitude? What grievance can the Arabs juxtapose? What can the Moslems lose?"

Dr. Eliash vigorously stated that if fear motivated the Arab opposition to Jewish rights at the Wall "this ghost has now been laid. The sanctity of the Wall prevents our claiming ownership. We believe with the Moslems that things vested in Allah are too sacred for ownership."

Attacks Building Operations

Strikingly, if indirectly, he attacked the Moslem building operations in the vicinity of the Wall. "It is only right," he said, "that we claim that the Wall be inviolable and unchangeable." Refuting the latest attempt of the Moslems to make it appear that the Jewish prayers at the Wall are sinful in Moslem eyes, he said "I warn and beg the other side not to play with religious bigotry. If the Palestine Moslems spread through Transjordan and other Arab countries statements that the Jews contemplate building a synagogue at El Burak when the Jews merely stand at some distance from El Burak for their devotions, they are using a most dangerous weapon."

"If the other side wants to foster hate I know they can. That is why I say it shouldn't be done," he said, looking directly at Auni Abdul Bey, Arab counsel. Dr. Eliash concluded with an appeal to the Commission to consider the widening of the approaches to the Mosque area and also the pavement in front of the Wall for the sake of sanitation, comfort, and for bringing about a solution to satisfy the 400,000 Moslems "with whom you have been threatened" and also the Jews.

Jewish Fighter Wins World's Lightweight Championship

For the first time since Bennie Leonard relinquished the title defeated, a Jewish boxer won the lightweight championship of the world when Al Singer, a youthful fighter from the Bronx, knocked out Sammy Mandel of Chicago in less than two minutes of the first round of what was scheduled as a fifteen round bout. Singer won the title Thursday night before a capacity crowd in the Madison Square Garden. He has been fighting for three years.

Two More Policemen to Face Charges in Beating of Jews

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Yonkers, N. Y., July 18—Two more policemen will face charges as a result of an alleged beating of two New York Jews, one a physician, according to announcement by Irvin E. Klein of this city, attorney for the victims, who also plans to file racial prejudice charges.

Sergeant Orville Perry and Patrolman Charles Smith, both of the Westchester County Park Police, will face charges of disorderly conduct in Court of Special Sessions here, according to the lawyer, for witnessing the alleged beating of the two in a shack in Tibbetts Brook Park Sunday by Patrolman Emmett Howell, and not interfering. This, Mr. Klein claims, "aided and abetted in the assault."

Dr. Philip Cohen and James Cunningham, of New York City, who claim they were beaten up after they smoked in Tibbetts Park Pool here, will relate their version of disorderly conduct charges against them before a jury in the local court, August 5. Their charges of assault against Patrolman Howell are slated for hearing at the same time. Just before that date, the two additional charges against police will be filed, Mr. Klein declared.

Mr. Klein has declared in open court that racial prejudice figures in both the arrest and beating and added that the case had "aroused the interest of the Jewish community of Yonkers." Several active members of the Jewish Community Center are said to be taking an earnest interest in the case.
