No Statement on Palestine Until After Commons Debate Next Week, MacDonald Says

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

London, Nov. 12.—The British government will promulgate no ordinances based on the White Paper until after the parliamentary debate on Palestine has taken place, Premier MacDonald told the House of Commons today in reply to two questions directed at him by Major Walter Elliot, Conservative and B. Braken, Laborite.

Immediately following this statement, Lloyd George, Liberal leader, formally asked for a debate on the Palestine question. Mr. MacDonald said that the subject had been discussed in the usual channels and mentioned Monday or Tuesday of next week as the probable dates for such a discussion.

Before this the Prime Minister had declared that there had been some misunderstanding of the White Paper issued after the receipt of the Simpson report and "it has been misinterpreted in some essential points," he added. In view of these misinterpretations the government "does not intend to proclaim any ordinances before a discussion has taken place," he declared. "I must repeat," he continued, "that the government intends to carry out its obligations under the Mandate to both sections of the population."

When asked by Ormsby Gore whether the deduction could be drawn from the Premier's statement that the government was prepared to modify the draft of the White Paper and whether the Premier would make a statement to that effect, Mr. MacDonald said that he preferred to wait for the debate.

Earlier in the day William Lunn, parliamentary under-secretary for the Colonies, replying to an inquiry from Major Nathan, announced that a full day would be given for a debate on Palestine next week. In the course of the debate the government is expected to explain in full its financial policy relating to Palestine, the details of which are still under consideration, Mr. Lunn said.

Revisionists to Protest Ban on Tel Aviv Meeting

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Tel Aviv, Nov. 12.—The Zionist Revisionists are planning to appeal to High Commissioner Chanceller against the district commissioner's refusal to permit them to hold a protest meeting in Tel Aviv unless they furnished a cash deposit and a written guarantee holding themselves responsible for any possible disorders.

Palestine Stirred by Report of Oil Near Dead Sea

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Nov. 12.—A report that a vast oil field has been found near the Dead Sea created a sensation throughout Palestine today. The Hebrew daily, Doar Hayom, said that an English oil company, closely linked with the Standard Oil interests, had uncovered a hitherto unknown oil field on an acreage of 2,000,000 which had it been quietly assembling for more than a year. The paper further asserts that D. A. Sutherland, a well-known mining engineer, has been representing these English oil interests during a year of prospecting in the vicinity of the Dead Sea.

Inquiries at the government offices today by the Jewish Telegraphic Agency concerning the report in the Doar Hayom elicited an unequivocal denial. Government officials explained that the report appeared to be based on the granting of a prospecting permit to Mr. Sutherland. Such permits are available to any qualified engineer, it is understood.

Haifa Bay Drainage Project, Costing $125,000, Completed

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Haifa, Nov. 12.—The undaunted attitude of Palestine Jewry in the face of the British White Paper and the determination of the Jews to continue their work of upbuilding the country despite all obstacles was manifested here today at the ceremonies attending the completion of the great drainage scheme on the Haifa Bay lands of the Jewish National Fund.

The entire project, which will rid these lands of mosquitoes and malaria, cost $125,000 and employed 250 men since it was started in July 1929. It involved the construction of a special canal to carry rain and spring water towards the River Kishon.

M. M. Ussischkin, head of the Jewish National Fund said, "we know that the British government, standing in the shoes of Turkey, is against us, but nevertheless our courage is undaunted. The comedy of the last thirteen years is over. We know that Great Britain wants to make Palestine the land of Ishmael and not the land of Israel. But we shall win for Palestine to us is our very life."

The other speakers, including the labor leaders, Isaac Ben Zvi, M. Mohl and M. Razily, spoke in similar vein of the practical work "that is the best means of parrying the political blow." Recalling that Justice Louis D. Brandeis in 1919 told him that mosquitoes and malaria were the greatest enemies of the Palestine workers, Mr. Razily said, "we have gotten rid of both."

Jewish Students Still Barred in Vienna Commerce College; Authorities Plan Vigorous Steps

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Vienna, Nov. 12.—While Jewish students at the World Commerce University were still prevented from attending classes by the anti-Semitic students, the university authorities and the ministry of education made plans to take vigorous measures against the trouble-makers who earlier in the week ousted their Jewish classmates, a number of whom were injured in the ensuing clash. The university officials today ruled that all students entering the college buildings must show their registration cards. By this measure it is hoped to bar non-student anti-Semites from the premises.

Meanwhile the anti-Semitic student leaders have repeated their demand for extension of the privileges accorded to the student groups at the University of Vienna where the anti-Semitic German student society is permitted to be the sole representative of the students. Since membership in this society is based not on Austrian citizenship but on an avowal that one belongs to the German people and speaks German, many Jewish students are barred.

The failure to grant this privilege at the World Commerce University led to the disturbances Monday and Tuesday which were aggravated when the anti-Semitic students took exception to the granting of a permit by the university president to a number of Jewish students to hold a meeting in one of the classrooms.

Jewish Students Hurt in Berlin University Riot

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Two Jewish students, one a girl, were badly beaten and had to have medical attention for their injuries, following a renewal of rioting between Socialist and Fascist students on the grounds of the University of Berlin today. A number of girls participating in the fray were trampled upon.

The trouble, which began when the Hitlerite students sought to prevent the distribution of leaflets protesting against an admission charge for a university social affair, took on a serious aspect when some of the students began swinging clubs and firing revolvers. The police at first were helpless as they are not permitted on the university grounds without the permission of the college authorities.

After Rector Deismann's appeal to the students had not broken up the riot, the police were called to disperse the crowd. Ten of the Hitlerite students were arrested. The Hitlerites in attacking their Socialist colleagues appeared to single out those students who looked Jewish.

Would Hold 17th Zionist Congress in Montreal

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Montreal, Nov. 12.—A proposal that the 17th World Zionist Congress set for February 5, 1931, be held in Montreal, which was made by H. Wolfosky, editor and publisher of the Jewish Daily Eagle, is viewed with favor by many local Zionists, and it is expected that such a request will be cabled to the Zionist Executive in London after the next meeting of the national council of the Canadian Zionist Organization.

Mr. Wolfosky gives the following reasons for holding the Congress in Montreal: first, American Zionists would be able to attend the Congress in great numbers and speak openly but with proper restraint on the British government's Palestine policy; secondly, visas for European and Palestinian delegates would be more readily obtained, because Canada would be glad to have the international gathering. Mr. Wolfosky also stresses the sentimental value of holding the Congress in a British dominion.

Polish Jewish Paper Urges Z. O. Congress for Warsaw

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Warsaw, Nov. 12.—The proposal that the forthcoming 17th Zionist Congress be held in Warsaw, the greatest Jewish metropolis in Europe, is made today by the Nash Przeglond, a local Jewish paper published in Polish. Emphasizing that Polish Jewry is most directly interested in Palestine, the paper points out that the Jews of Poland are also affected by the White Paper.

The Nash Przeglond says that holding the Congress in the United States, as has been suggested, would cost too much and would prevent many European delegates from attending because of the distance.

Opening of Model East Side House Recalls Jewish Founder

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Aaron Rabinowitz, one of the founders and vice-president of the Real Estate Exchange and a member of the State Board of Housing, who, together with Lieutenant-Governor Herbert H. Lehman had conceived the plan of model housing on the East Side, has now the satisfaction of seeing the project in successful operation. The new cooperative apartment house, in the heart of the lower East Side, occupying two square blocks and sponsored by the State Board of Housing, welcomed its first tenants yesterday.

Aaron Rabinowitz has now realized a dream he fostered many years ago, when, out of the squalor of the East Side which was his childhood home, he emerged to make his way in the world. The year 1923 found him head of Spear & Company, and it was not many years later that his great capacity for work and his absorption in real estate values won him the authoritative position of advisor and judge of real estate property. The proper assumption was that he became rich with enough to retire and for that reason turned Spear & Co. over to his two brothers. But the actual reason was that now Aaron Rabinowitz was in a position to realize his dream. If he was going to see a model apartment house, livable, clean, roomy, airy, built for the convenience of the lower East Side residents, he must devote himself completely to the task at hand, and as a consequence, Spear & Co. was consigned to the attention of his brothers.

It was Mr. Rabinowitz's eloquence at a meeting of prominent personalities in Governor Roosevelt's offices that inspired Lieutenant Governor Lehman to go "fifty-fifty" on the project with the understanding that he was not interested if it would be a "profit-making" proposition.

Zeire-Zion to Hold Convention in Cleveland in December

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Cleveland, Nov. 12.—The coming convention of the Zeire-Zion Hitachduth will be held in Cleveland, opening on December 5th and closing on December 8th, according to a decision of the central committee made public yesterday.

The convention will mark the closing of the party's ten years of existence in America. The various developments of the Zionist movement and an analysis of the entire situation will be the chief topic of discussion at the convention. The American Zeire-Zion leaders, M. Greenberg and A. Rebelsky, as well as the members of the Palestine delegation, Joseph Baratz and David Ben Gurion, will address the convention on these questions.

Simultaneously with the convention a meeting of the youth Zeire-Zion movement, Gordonia, will also be held.

Meetings in Halifax, Washington Ask White Paper's Withdrawal

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Halifax, Nova Scotia, Nov. 12.—Leaders of the local Christian community were among the chief speakers at a protest meeting held here yesterday by the Jews of this city against Great Britain's new Palestine policy. A resolution adopted by the gathering demands the repeal of the White Paper and the opening of the gate of Palestine to Jewish immigration and asks that only officials who favor the Balfour Declaration be given administrative posts in Palestine.

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Washington, November 12.—The United States was called upon to demand the withdrawal of the Passfield White Paper by Charles Edward Russell, noted writer and one-time Socialist candidate for governor of New York, in a speech bitterly attacking Great Britain at the protest meeting of Washington Jewry at the Jewish Community Center here last night.

"If it is right for the United States to send marines to Nicaragua to protect the investments of banking firms, then it is right for the United States to defend the investments of its citizens in Palestine," said Russell. Russell urged the Jews to continue the present worldwide wave of protest as the most effective weapon at their disposal, assuring them of the sympathy of enlightened non-Jews. "Be not only strong and resolute in your protest—be insistent," he declared. "It seems to me that you hold the power to sway in this country. You should have thousands of protest meetings such as this one. All Jews should protest and insist upon justice and rights. No government could be deaf to such an appeal."

Jacob de Haas attacked Great Britain's system of colonial administration in Palestine, which he said frustrated the carrying out of the Balfour Declaration and the Mandate. Other speakers included a number of local rabbis, Isaac Hamlin and Isidore Hershsfeld, who acted as chairman. A resolution was adopted protesting against the action of the Labor government in issuing the White Paper.

Mrs. Leon Mandel, Wife of Mandel Bros. Founder, Dead

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Leon Isabella Mandel, 80, wife of Leon Mandel, founder of the Mandel Brothers department store, is dead here. Her oldest son, Frederick Leon Mandel, died in Paris last September. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Ida Mandelbaum, Mrs. Louis Strauss, Mrs. Joseph Wineman and Miss Florence Mandel, a son Robert Mandel, two brothers, Samuel and Isaac Foreman, seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday with Rabbi Louis I. Mann officiating. The burial will be at Rosehill.

Lipsky Urges League to Let Jews, Arabs Rule Palestine

If the Mandate over Palestine is to be transferred to any other authority than Great Britain, the League of Nations could make no wiser move than to place the country under the control of a joint commission of Arabs and Jews, according to a suggestion made last night by Louis Lipsky, former president of the Zionist Organization of America, in an address delivered at the Washington Heights Y. M. H. A., in which he discussed "The New British Policy in Palestine."

Pointing out that the territory of Palestine takes in the 16,000 square miles of Transjordan as well as the 9,000 square miles of what is now known as Palestine, Mr. Lipsky declared that the settlement of the Palestine question should be based on a consideration of both lands. He expressed the belief that Jewish aspirations would be fulfilled and Arab economic interests would be amply protected if the present Palestine and Transjordan areas would be reunited into one territory.

Jewish Aviatrix Crashes on Paris to Tokio Flight

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Paris, Nov. 12—Mlle. Lena Bernstein, noted French-Jewish aviatrix, who undertook a flight from Paris to Tokio, Japan, has been forced to halt her flight near Bagdad, Iraq, as a result of her aeroplane's crashing, the French Air Ministry announced today. Mlle. Bernstein was slightly injured.

Mlle. Bernstein, who is widely known for her endurance and distance flights, took off from Paris on Saturday. She had planned to stop the same day in Littornio, Italy, but failed to arrive there. Since then her whereabouts were unknown and she had been given up as lost.

Lena Bernstein, who is only 25 years old, immigrated to France from Russia. Her feats in aviation have been highly praised by fliers.

Einstein Coming Here for Three Months Research Visit

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Berlin, Nov. 12—Professor Albert Einstein, world famous scientist, will sail for the United States, November 30th, on the S. S. Belgenland and will proceed straight to California without stopping at New York. He will spend three months on scientific work and research at the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pasadena where the Mount Wilson observatory, probably the greatest in the world, is located.

On this, his second visit to America, (he was here in 1921), Dr. Einstein will be accompanied by Mrs. Einstein, a woman secretary and Dr. Walter Mayer, noted mathematician at the University of Vienna, who was recently given a scholarship by the Josiah Macy Foundation to act as Dr. Einstein's assistant.

Year's First Orange Shipment Leaves Tel Aviv for England

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Tel Aviv, Nov. 12—The first large consignment of oranges from this year's bumper crop left here today for England. The shipment consisted of 27,000 boxes which are being shipped via Jaffa, Port Said and Haifa. The shipment for the entire year is expected to reach 2,500,000 boxes.

Average prices are expected in the English market as compared with the low prices of last year. The price is better this year owing to the reduced Spanish crop.

Bread Strike Is Called by Conference of Detroit Jewish Workers' Organization

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Detroit, Nov. 12—A bread-strike has been called here against the Jewish master bakers to compel a reduction in the price of bread. The strike is a result of the failure of the Jewish bakeries to submit to a demand for a reduction in prices from the radical Jewish groups in the city.

Action was taken at a conference of 16 Jewish labor organizations. A. Nezdin of Arbeiter Ring Branch 156 was chosen chairman of the conference. Acting with him on a committee of seven which submitted the ultimatum to the master bakers are M. Weiner and H. Holstein of the Russian-Polish Verein; Mrs. Sarah Levin of the Chaltuzos Pioneer Organization; A. Binkow of the Odesser Verein; Luba Rosen of the Ladies Branch of the S. P., and Mrs. Friedenberg.

It is pointed out in the demand for lower bread prices that bread baked for Jews is still selling at high prices while everything else has dropped in price, including flour. Non-Jewish baked bread, it is pointed out, has long ago been reduced in price.

At a number of bakeries where strike pickets are stationed, fights broke out on Sunday and Monday, but in general a peaceful attempt is made to force reduction in the price of bread.

Honor Des Moines Rabbi After 25 Years of Service

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 12—After twenty-five years of service as spiritual leader of Congregation B'nai Jeshurun, Rabbi Eugene Mannheimer was presented with a silver tea service by the members of his congregation last week. Some 125 members of the congregation attended a dinner honoring the rabbi. M. O. Kahn, president of the congregation, presided and presented the rabbi with the gift.

The beginnings of the congregation 57 years ago were recalled by Max Shloss, 75 years old, the only living charter member of the congregation. Jack Campbell, who has sung in the choir of the synagogue for forty-three years, was also a speaker at the dinner.

Jewess Leaves $250,000 to Tuberculosis Sanatorium

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Saranac Lake, Nov. 12—No special plans have yet been made for use of nearly a quarter of a million dollars left to the Northwoods Tuberculosis Sanatorium of Saranac Lake in the will of the late Mrs. Minnie Hayman of New York, widow of Al Hayman, prominent theatrical man.

According to Maurice M. Feustman of this village, treasurer of the institution, the money bequeathed to the Northwoods Sanatorium, amounting to $240,652, may go toward a fund being raised to provide for the erection of a model sanatorium building on the old Branch farm overlooking Lake Flower in Saranac Lake, where land was obtained last year.

The Northwoods Tuberculosis Sanatorium was founded in 1919 as a semi-charitable, non-sectarian institution by a group of friends here and in New York City by friends of Dr. Edgar Mayer of Saranac Lake as a tribute to his work in the field of tuberculosis. Dr. Mayer is consulting physician of Northwoods as well as superintendent of the National Variety Artists Sanatorium here.

Edwin Mayer of New York is president of Northwoods Sanatorium. Mrs. Moritz Rosenthal of Riverdale, is vice-president, and James A. Miller of New York is secretary.

Arab Executive Pressed to Convene Arab Congress

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Nov. 12—Strong pressure from many parts of the country is being brought to bear on the Arab Executive to call the members of the last (the seventh) Arab Congress to discuss what action the Arabs should take on the new British policy in Palestine. The failure of the various factions to agree on a unified program has thus far prevented the Arab Executive from taking a public stand for which it has been sharply criticized by all sections of the Arab press.

Meanwhile it is reported that the Arab Executive has already drafted its observations on the White Paper and they may be published tomorrow unless it is decided to await the action of a full meeting of the Executive. A delay may also be caused by the Executive's desire to change the tone and contents of its observations in view of the government's release of 1,500 certificates for Jewish immigrants under the labor schedule.

Polish Jews in Palestine Honor Consul Zbyszewsky

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Jerusalem, Nov. 12—The Polish-Jewish immigrants in Palestine have decided to inscribe in the Golden Book of the Jewish National Fund the name of Dr. Zbyszewsky, former Polish consul-general in Jerusalem, who has been transferred to a new post in Chicago. The Polish Jews of the country found in Dr. Zbyszewsky a good friend who was sympathetic to the work of Palestine upbuilding.

Mack Says No Action Should Be Taken on Weizmann Resignation Until Zionist Congress; Enthusiastic at Material Development in Orange Growing, Industrial Growth and Colonization Work

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Judge Julian Mack, of the U. S. District Court, returning on the Bremen Tuesday from a tour of Palestine and Europe, hastened almost directly to the offices of the Zionist Organization of America to confer with Robert Szold, president of the American Zionists.

"I'm seeing my family and then I'm going to the Zionist offices," said the Judge as the boat drew up against the pier. "But I want this made clear. I did not attack Chaim Weizmann in my Vienna speech. Neither in my Vienna nor in my London speech did I offer any opinion as to whether Chaim Weizmann's resignation should or should not be accepted by the World Zionist Organization."

Judge Mack stated to a representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency that he had acted as the spokesman of American Zionists when he declared in London that no action should be taken upon the Weizmann resignation until the Zionist Congress. "The acceptance of his resignation, if it should be accepted, is a question that only the Congress may decide, and no committee should act upon the matter before the Congress meets."

Enthusiastic Over Palestine

Judge Mack was more willing to talk about his impressions of Palestine than about his official Zionist work in Europe. He exuded enthusiasm as he spoke of Palestine. His short, stocky figure, wide shouldered, became alive with the energy of his enthusiasm.

"What I saw in Palestine was permanent, while political situations are temporary. I left Palestine on October 17, just a few days before the news of the White Paper was issued. When I left, a great spirit of work and achievement prevailed among the Jewish settlers.

"I had not been in Palestine for nine years. On this trip, I was struck with the actual material evidence of Jewish accomplishment within that time.

Settlers Spirited

"But the first and most important thing, the most impressive thing, was the spirit of the settlers. In the agricultural settlements and in the towns, it was overwhelming. It wasn't the dark brooding spirit of hopeless determination, but the live spirit of a people who saw that their determination was bringing them that which they had sought."

Judge Mack was waiting in the passport line. Even a Judge of the U. S. District Court has to do that. His bailiff had already come on board the boat and handed him a huge envelope filled with important papers that needed his immediate attention. The judge shifted his wife's fur coat from one arm to the other, trying to be free to look at the papers.

Material Advance

"Second, in Palestine, was the impression made by the material advancements in the orange-growing district. All we read about the Jewish success in orange growing can give us no idea of the immense development that has taken place along the coastal plain. Huge settlements have grown up. Jewish orange plantations reach as far as the eye can see. And the area of newly planted trees increases every day. That is perhaps the most effective sign of the Jewish settler's spirit. New beginnings are everywhere."

Judge Mack, as most every traveller, found that he had been waiting in the wrong line. When this mistake was adjusted he continued.

Industrial Improvement

"Thirdly, I was impressed in Palestine by the industrial developments and the general colonization work. When I left, Mr. Ruttenberg said to me that he would be ready within a few weeks to turn the waters of the Jordan into the huge pipes that feed his hydro-electric generating plant. That will mean the realization of the greatest project so far undertaken in Palestine.

"By the Dead Sea, I saw the first loads of salt that have been extracted under the Dead Sea concession, another Jewish undertaking, and a big thing, in our own American sense of things that are commercially big.

"The small industries in Palestine are increasing, and are doing well. All sorts of new little factories are opening, particularly in Tel Aviv, and they seem to establish themselves soundly."

Judge Mack, who is honorary chairman of the Zionist Organization of America, was delegate extraordinary to the meetings of the Administrative Committee of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, held in Berlin in August, 1930. After that he visited Palestine. On his return to Europe he took part in the storm of protests against the British White Paper, addressing meetings in Vienna and London.

Jewish Tribune Will Publish National Monthly

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

Beginning January, 1931, the Jewish Tribune will publish two separate publications—a national monthly and a New York weekly. In making this announcement the editors of the Tribune state that the monthly will not be restricted to any one section of this country and will truly be a national magazine with an international scope and unlimited interests, while the weekly will confine itself entirely to Jewish life in New York.

The Jewish Tribune was founded in 1903 by Dr. Nehemiah Mosessohn in Portland, Oregon. Twelve years ago it came to New York. Herman Bernstein, now U. S. Minister to Albania, was for a time its editor. Sidney Wallach will be managing editor of the national monthly.

Will Dedicate Memorial Window to Leo Feist

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 12—A memorial window in memory of the late Leo Feist, song publisher, has been contributed by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, which includes practically all of the outstanding song writers and musicians of America. Gene Buck is president of the Society and John Philip Sousa is vice-president.

The memorial window will be placed in Sinai Temple of Mt. Vernon, of which Mr. Feist was for many years a member, and will be dedicated on Friday evening, November 14. Mr. Buck will deliver an address and a delegation of notable personages will represent the Society on this occasion. A delegation of the Wendell Phillips Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will also attend.

Rabbi Solomon A. Fineberg, rabbi of the Temple, and Mr. Benjamin Slete, its president, will participate in the ceremonies.

Hias to Expand Work to Meet Crisis of Unemployment

An appeal for funds to enlarge the activities of its Department of Shelter, in view of the acute distress occasioned by the unemployment situation will soon be issued by the Hias. This was decided upon at a meeting of the board of directors of the organization presided over by Abraham Herman, president. This decision was arrived at after a report had been presented to the effect that the number of applicants for food and shelter was increasing, taxing the Society's capacity.

People applying to the Hias for food and shelter receive three meals a day and a night's lodging, and in many cases this relief is extended for a longer period.
