WEIZMANN RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ANGLO-ZIONIST FEDERATION; SAYS JEWISH AGENCY WEAKEST LINK IN PALESTINE STRUCTURE

Appeals for Keren Hayesod; Brodetsky Asks Consideration for Jews Who Come Neither in Chalutzim or Middle Class Immigrant Category; Weizman Says Jews Must Continue to Employ Jewish Labor, So Long as Arabs Fail to Employ Jews

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, former president of the World Zionist Organization, was re-elected president of the English Zionist Federation yesterday. His election was uncontested.

The Federation adopted a resolution condemning the projected establishment of a Legislative Council in Palestine. Another resolution expressed regret that the Palestine Government has failed to grant the full quota of immigration certificates requested by the Jewish Agency.

Ica to Extend Colonization Activities in Palestine President Announces

Will Seek to Avoid Conflict with Existing Organizations, Sir Leonard Cohen Says

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Jewish Colonization Association is planning an extension of its colonization activities in Palestine, Sir Leonard Cohen, president of the Association, revealed at yesterday's meeting of the Anglo-Jewish Association.

The few colonies established in Palestine by the Jewish Colonization Association are doing well, Sir Leonard stated.

In the past the Association has had to use all its available resources for colonization work in the Argentine and on land which it had long acquired. For this reason it could not consider new activities, even in Palestine, where political and economic risks were non-existent. Circumstances have changed, however, in the last few years, so that the Association will be enabled now to undertake its work in Palestine, he said.

The Association, Sir Leonard stated, will conduct its work in Palestine along colonization lines purely. It will not take any part in politics and will seek to avoid any friction with existing colonization activities.

The conference, which opened on Saturday evening and resumed on Sunday concluding with a mass meeting attended by a thousand people, was addressed by Dr. Weizmann; D'Avigdor Goldsmid, president of the British Section of the Jewish Agency and Dr. Selig Brodetsky, member of the World Zionist Executive in charge of political affairs. Simon Marks reported for the Keren Hayesod.

Two hundred delegates attended the conference.

Dr. Weizmann, in two lengthy addresses, appealed for wider support for the Keren Hayesod and discussed the present Zionist position in the light of the crisis in world Jewry.

Dr. Weizmann declined to discuss political questions, preferring, he said, not

Congress of Jewish Societies Opens in France

PARIS, Jan. 9.—One thousand delegates and guests from all sections of France are attending the three day congress of Jewish Societies, the purpose of which is to establish a Federation representing the entire Jewish Community of France.

Delegates include representatives from Metz, Nancy, Strasbourg, Lens, Bordeaux, Valenciennes and minor centers. The Federation of Algerian Societies, with a membership of 30,000, is also represented.

The opening session on Saturday evening was addressed by Baron Alfred Guinzbourg, Israel Yefroykin, Rabbi Eisenstadt, Professor William Qalid and Henri Sliosberg, who presided.

Dr. Yefroykin declared that the congress is not seeking to bring about a separation of French Jewry but rather to bring about a gradual unity of all sections of Jews resident in France. While assimilating the best of French culture we desire to conserve our heritage of two thousand years, he said.

Urge That Palestine's Industrial Development Be Planned by Experts

Members of American Economic Committee Elated by Reports of Work Done in Past Year

A plea for the planned industrial development of Palestine was made by Joseph Winston, engineer and city planner, in an address delivered at the first General Meeting of the American Economic Committee for Palestine, held last night at the Park Royal Hotel.

"Palestine is old in human history," said Mr. Winston. "Within its confines was born much that has determined the course of contemporary civilization. Yet, from the industrial point of view it is still new territory." Referring to the rapid growth of Palestine under Jewish influence, particularly since the World War, Mr. Winston declared that "Palestine was converted from a sleepy, indolent, changeless, primitive country into a beehive of activity and industry."

"Other countries have gone through the various stages of development before arriving at their present industrial position. But in the process, their people endured much and suffered many setbacks. Palestine must profit by their example and avoid their pitfalls. This can be done only if the development of the country takes place in a logical, uniform and balanced manner. There must be a plan—a practical, comprehensive plan, carefully thought out and with a definite purpose in view."

"Palestine will be developed through the utilization of its abundant resources and its strategic location. Palestine connects Occident with Orient, the North with the South. Surrounded by backward countries, Palestine is

Revisionists Sharply Score Court Decision

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

WARSAW, Jan. 9.—A Revisionist statement has been issued here sharply criticizing the decision of the Zionist Congress Court of Honor held at Berlin last week, which ordered the suspension of the Revisionist Separate Union within the World Zionist Organization.

Revisionists yesterday organized ten meetings to be addressed on sensational themes: The Zionist Dreyfus Affair, The Parody of Justice at Berlin, Double Dealing Lacquers, Plutocracy in the Struggle Against the Jewish State Idea, The Marionettes of Berlin, and other titles of a similar character.

Radical Groups Confer

On Pogroms in Poland

A conference called by the United Committee for Struggling Against Pogroms in Poland was held at the Manhattan Lyceum Sunday. The bodies represented included various Communist and radical groups throughout the city, as well as a number of landsmannschaften.

The conference was opened by M. Rokochi, who represented the Ukrainian United Tailors.

Joseph Brodsky of the International Workers' Order was elected chairman.

Among the speakers were P. Novik, who spoke in the name of the Communist Yiddish daily Freiheit. He said that the Jewish capitalist press had defended Pilsudski. Another speaker was Charles Kuntz, president of the Icor, which is devoted to colonization in Soviet Russia.

Jacob Levin, who was present on behalf of the Jewish Culture Society, objected to the conference being made a platform for propaganda for secret purposes and of identifying it with Communist policy. He pointed out the unfairness of using the pogroms on Jews in Poland as a means of furthering the aims of particular political groups. In particular, he indicated the danger involved in broadening the issue as suggested by most of the speakers, by associating themselves with minority groups in Poland whose aims were not identical with those of the Jews.

The Conference elected a committee of 27.

Professor Einstein will speak on "German-American relations".

Zionist Region Resolves on Palestine Savings Groups

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The Hudson Valley Zionist Region, at its second annual convention here yesterday, resolved upon the organization of Palestine savings-investment groups to undertake practical economic work for Palestine in cooperation with the American Economic Committee for Palestine.

Two hundred delegates and guests from thirteen Zionist districts attended the convention, which concluded with a mass meeting at Temple Beth Emeth. Dr. Stephen S. Wise and Morris Rothenberg, president of the Zionist Organization of America, addressed the mass meeting. Joseph S. Shubow, representing the American Economic Committee for Palestine, addressed the afternoon session on the economic development of Palestine.

Officers of the district elected by the convention are: Rabbi Maurice J. Bloom of Newburg, President; Rabbi Sephard Z. Baum, Albany, Harry Wolfe, Poughkeepsie and Nathan Sahr, Schenectady, vice-presidents; Samuel Beeback, Newburg, secretary; M. Ewing Kingston, financial secretary; Louis Laber, Albany, treasurer.

Matzoth Tax for Yeshivah And Talmud Torah Fund

A tax on all religious articles entering Jewish homes, the income of which is to be used to defray the maintenance costs of the Yeshivoth and Talmud Torahs in New York, was decided upon at a joint meeting called by the Federations of Yeshivoth and Talmud Torahs on Sunday at the Central Jewish Institute.

The tax is to take the form of a Torah Stamp and will be applied, first of all to matzoth designed for Passover use.

The conference decided to bake its own matzoth to be sold in competition with the product of the larger concerns. The baking of matzoth is to be entrusted to a joint committee and was undertaken, Isaac Allen, president of the Federation of Talmud Torahs explained, because the large matzoth bakers refused to co-operate.

A one cent tax is proposed on every pound of matzoth sold. Mr. Allen estimated that 8,000,000 pounds of matzoth are consumed by New York Jewry during Passover, which would net an income of $80,000 annually, if the tax were permitted.

The Joint Matzoth Committee consists of Jacob Goodman, chairman; Jacob Dunn, vice-chairman; Jacob L. Andron, secretary; C. Joshua Epstein, treasurer; Philip Jeffer, Joshua Goldman, Joseph Goldberg, Louis Gross, Leon Grill, David Werblowsky and Abraham Geritzman.

Dignitaries Attend Last Rites in Berlin for Professor Sobernheim

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The last rites for Professor Moritz S. Sobernheim, Orientalist and German Foreign Office Official, who died on Thursday in his sixty-first year, were held yesterday and were attended by the highest dignitaries.

High officials of the Foreign Office, where Professor Sobernheim has served since 1918 as First Councillor and Rapporteur on Jewish political matters, Mayor Sahn of Berlin, leading professors, Jewish scholars and representatives of various Jewish organizations with which he had been affiliated, attended the funeral services.

Foreign Minister von Neurath sent a wreath and a message of condolence was received by the Sobernheim family from him.

Rabbi Leo Baeck delivered a eulogy at the grave.

Jewish leaders expressed their deep sense of loss in Professor Sobernheim's passing in statements to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency and expressed the belief that his office as Rapporteur on Jewish Political Affairs will in all probability remain unfilled.

Congress Mourns Sobernheim

The officers of the American Jewish Congress learn with great sorrow of the passing of Professor Moritz S. Sobernheim with whom they have had the privilege of collaborating in some of his works for the Jewish welfare.

Last August at the sessions of the World Jewish Conference at Geneva Professor Sobernheim was in constant attendance as an interested and vitally concerned observer of the proceedings. Professor Sobernheim's position as official adviser on Jewish affairs to the German Government brought him in close contact with the general problem of the Jews.

"Professor Sobernheim was an active worker in the Minorities Congress, representing the Jewish minority interest."

Agudath Israel Asks 1,100

Certificates for Members

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9.—The Agudath Israel has submitted an application to the Palestine government for 1,100 immigration certificates to be granted for the special use of its members abroad.

The certificates if granted would be distributed to members of the Agudath Israel in Poland for the most part, it is learned.

It was reported some time ago that the Agudath Israel had made representations to the High Commissioner for a separate immigration, distinct from that accorded the immigrants under the Jewish Agency. It was then understood that the High Commissioner had promised to consider the matter in receipt of a formal application.

destined to become a thriving, industrial nation."

Other speakers at the meeting were Dr. Paul P. Gourrich, consultant economist; Edward A. Norman, financier; Joshua Morrison, economist, and Robert Szold, ranking American officer of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, Vice-President of the Zionist Organization of America and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Economic Committee for Palestine.

Israel B. Brodie, President of the Committee, who presided, delivered an introductory address in which he recalled that the American Economic Committee for Palestine was founded in New York early last year "to encourage and give guidance to a continuous and ever-increasing flow of investors and of well-managed investments in Palestine." He pointed out that the committee of which Judge Julian W. Mack is the Honorary President, consists of one hundred leading friends of Palestine throughout the country.

Sounds Warning of Land Speculation

A warning that, unless proper steps are promptly taken, the present prosperous status of the citrus industry in Palestine might lead to harmful inflation in the price of land suitable for orange growing was sounded by Dr. Gourrich, who is connected with one of America's leading banking houses and is a member of the Executive Board of the Committee dealing with the functions of the Committee's Economic Bureau in Tel Aviv. He expressed gratification at the recent news that a body, representative of various elements of the Jewish community of Palestine, including the Farmers' Federation, and the General Zionists and the Jewish Federation of Labor, had been organized through the Committee's Tel Aviv Bureau, with matters in connection with the sale of agricultural land and orange groves. "Frankly," said Dr. Gourrich, "we are disturbed by the possibility of speculation in orange groves. We would much rather see profits made by selling oranges than by selling orange land."

Declaring that "the absorptive capacity for settlers in Palestine will be what Jewish capital and brains will make it," Dr. Gourrich stated that the growth of Palestine will depend upon the expansion in the industrial basis of Palestine's economy, "an economy whose markets logically include its adjacent areas in the East, outlets in the British Empire at large, and for some products, such as oranges at present, the world market at large. It is for this reason that in such investigations as the Committee conducts with regard to potential markets, we always endeavor to take into consideration conditions in territories adjacent to Palestine. The primary asset of the Com-

Lord Melchett Guarded on Arrival in Palestine as Rumor Spreads Arabs Plan Attack

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9.—Lord Melchett arrived in Palestine today and measures to insure his safety were ordered when a rumor was spread that Arabs were planning to attack him.

Lord Melchett, who is accompanied by Lady Melchett, arrived in Palestine after a triumphant tour to leading European centers in the interests of the World Maccabee Union of which he is the Honorary president.

Lord and Lady Melchett were met at the Syrian frontier by a Maccabee delegation. They proceeded at once to their estate in Migdal where they will remain until Saturday, before proceeding to Jerusalem.

From the Syrian border they were escorted up to Rosh Pinah by mounted members of the Maccabee organization.

Receptions in their honor are being arranged by various groups throughout Palestine.

mittee's Tel Aviv Bureau is that it is entirely disinterested. The facilities accorded by the Tel Aviv Bureau were increasingly recognized by prospective investors now living in Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Danzig, Roumania, Holland, South Africa and even in the Sudan.

"It is," Dr. Gourrich continued, "perhaps too early to give a full account of the work of the Tel Aviv Bureau. However, it is worthwhile to note that of the sixty-one inquirers at the Tel Aviv office who expressed their intention to invest an aggregate minimum of $1,500,000 in Palestine, fifty-one are already resident in the country. Mr. Brodie, the President of the Committee, estimates that about 300 American Jewish families, possessing resources of $2,250,000, settled in Palestine during 1932."

After reviewing the present status of the orange industry in Palestine, which, said Mr. Norman, had thus far resisted the fall in prices which had affected almost every other agricultural commodity in the world, Edward A. Norman declared it is to be essential that a plan be devised for assuring the continued prosperity of the Holy Land's citrus industry. Edward A. Norman is the author of a memorandum dealing with the development of cooperative methods in Palestine, written as long ago as 1929. He is particularly interested in the cooperative possibilities of the country, having made an exhaustive study of cooperative movements in America and Europe. He expressed the belief that the need for adequate planning is particularly urgent in view of the recent increase in acreage under cultivation and of the considerably larger crops which will be available for marketing within the next few years. He characterized the meth-further to aggravate an already aggravated situation.

Dr. Weizmann emphasized the satisfactory position in Palestine; the steady flow of immigrants to Palestine, the absence of unemployment and the influx of capital.

"This satisfactory situation, does not, unfortunately, affect the Jewish Agency which today is the weakest spot in the structure we are building in Palestine," Dr. Weizmann asserted. "A great many efforts and enterprises have been undertaken in Palestine over the head of the Jewish Agency, which has had the effect of weakening it the more," he said.

The Keren Hayesod and the Jewish National Fund are also experiencing difficulties, he declared. Dr. Weizmann appealed to Palestine colonists to make larger contributions to these two funds and called upon the rich colonists to make payments on the loans they have received from the Jewish Agency.

He paid tribute to the Palestine High Commissioner, "who," he said, "has our respect and who has affection for our home, but we are still struggling to attain a fair share for Jewish labor in the Mandatory's public works.

"No Arabs think of employing Jews, so we must insist that Jews employ Jewish labor until there is more co-operation between the three elements for the general benefit of the country," Dr. Weizmann's reference was to the recent disputes over the employment of Arab labor by Jews, particularly in the Gan Sharon orange groves.

D'Avigdor Goldsmid, Chairman of the British Section of the Jewish Agency, agreed with Dr. Weizmann that the Jewish Agency had failed to fulfill the expectation which its formation aroused. In extenuation, he pleaded that conditions throughout the world, since the establishment of the Agency in 1929, had militated against its success. He expressed the hope that non-Zionist members of the Agency would, directly and indirectly, prove their value in the near future in the Palestine work. "The Zionists," he said, "should realize that their non-Zionist partners in the Jewish Agency are equally enthusiastic concerning Palestine." He appealed for unity in the rebuilding work.

Dr. Brodetsky, who returned last night from a tour of East European countries, described the distress there and said that there are thousands of Jews who desire to go to Palestine, but who do not come into the category of those admitted to the country at the present time.

The majority of the Jewish masses whom he encountered, Dr. Brodetsky said, are neither Chaltuzim, nor middle class elements, possessing £1000. Therefore they are not given the possibility of securing a livelihood in Palestine.

Bialik Disappears from Festivities (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

TEL AVIV, Jan. 9.—While all Palestine joined yesterday in celebrating his sixtieth birthday, Chaim Nachman Bialik, the distinguished poet, disappeared from the scene of festivities.

A sensation was caused by Bialik's absence, which is attributed to his modesty.

Funeral Services Today For Mrs. Hannah Simon

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. Hannah Simon, prominent in Jewish communal affairs.

The services are being arranged by the Illinois Chapter of the Eastern Star of which Mrs. Simon was a charter member. She was eighty-eight years old.

The group deserves the greatest consideration from the Zionist Organization which cannot exclude or ignore an element which is most typical of the Jewish people. A special effort in their behalf, with the Palestine government is imperative, Dr. Brodetsky urged.

Dr. Brodetsky stressed the need for a revision in the ordinance governing the procedure in Land Disputes, since the theory of the large number of landless Arabs has now been exploded.

This referred, in particular to the regulation which made it possible for Arab squatters or trespassers to retain possession of disputed land pending settlement by the courts.

He expressed opposition to the proposed income tax, showing that the Jews are already paying three times as much in taxes as the Arabs.

He complained that the Moslem courts are subsidized by the government while the Rabbinical courts are not, although their authority was recognized by law.

Referring to the death of J. Jakoby, a Jewish colonist of Nahalal who had come from America, and his nine year old son, both of whom succumbed to injuries received when a bomb, thrown by an unknown, exploded in their home, Dr. Brodetsky said, that this tragedy shows that Palestine still rests under the shadow of organized terrorism.

For the next five or ten years, the Jews will have to concentrate their energies to maintain intact that political status which was assured by the Mandate, Dr. Brodetsky emphasized.

Mr. Marks reported that the income of the Keren Hayesod for the year was £31,000.

ods now in vogue as little short of hazardous. This situation, if permitted to continue, he said, would inevitably cause great loss to the industry. He stated that, while "Pardess" (the largest orange-growers cooperative in Palestine) is a noteworthy and efficient organization, it fails to assume the proportions for a solution of the whole problem.

In order to meet the needs of the situation, Mr. Norman suggested the establishment of a cooperative marketing system which would embrace a large majority of the Jewish growers.

"An organization," Mr. Norman said, "that controlled a few million cases per year could pool the fruit of its members and it would be able to pack its fruits by grades. At the end of the season each farmer would receive for the oranges marketed for him the average price realized on each grade. A trade mark could be established for the high qualities and advantageous disposal in various directions could be made of the poorer ones. Public knowledge of the brand could be created by wise advertising. In the end such a cooperative might obtain or hold for the fruit the higher prices to which consistent good quality would entitle it."

The farmers, Mr. Norman pointed out, have not proven to be readily and generally responsive to the idea of a coordinated marketing agency. Experience with farmers' cooperatives in other countries indicates that it would be inadvisable to superimpose such an agency upon existing forms; it would have to be developed naturally out of the circumstances prevailing within the Palestine citrus industry itself. However, there are, he stated, indications that in Rehoboth, Petach Tikvah, and several other colonies in Palestine local sales cooperatives are in operation which may some day be the first units of a federation such as the situation seemed to require.

Mr. Morrison described the work of the Palestine investment groups with which the Committee has been experimenting and which are being directed by Joseph Shubov in the Committee's behalf.
