Central Verein Involved In Charges Against Marx In Frankfurt Arrests

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, May 10—Grave charges against the Central Verein, the Central Union of German Jews, in connection with the arrest of Dr. Marx, representative of the organization, in Frankfurt, are disclosed today in the Frankfurter Zeitung for the first time, although Dr. Marx has been under arrest for about two weeks. Allegedly, Dr. Marx bribed a Frankfurt police officer and former member of the police presidium, named Moehrdel, who also has been arrested for combatting the Nazi movement, and illegally secured copies and photographs of official acts and helped cover up the tracks of other officials who helped the work of the organization.

The charges against Herr Steinberg, former police president and prominent Frankfurt Jewish leader, who was released yesterday after two weeks' imprisonment on charges of "passive bribery", have not been dropped, it was learned today, despite his release. Investigation of the case is expected to be concluded within a few days.

The Nazi commissar in Baden has issued a decree that Jews in public markets must not converse in Yiddish or Hebrew. His ruling applies to other public places as well. The Mayor of Kottbus has gone even further in ordering Jewish vendors

Jews Boom Palestine Commerce Report States

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, May 10 — A wave of prosperity in Palestine, exceeding that of the pre-depression days, is reported by the United States Department of Commerce. Factories are working at full capacity to meet the increased demands for domestic products, the department said, "and the demand for labor in the building trades and agriculture is growing daily. The steady immigration of Jews from other countries is believed largely responsible for the upturn."

Goering Speech Reveals Continued Use of Terror To Oust Jews from Firms

Jewish Bankers Arrested in Drive;
Manufacturers Report Daily to Police; Boycott Hurts Fur Trade

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, May 10—Confirmation of the existence of terror to drive Jewish proprietors out of business is seen today in the statements of Captain Hermann Goering, Premier of Prussia, announcing punishment of fighting units, especially middle-class trade organizations which have intervened illegally in the management of various enterprises. Simultaneously with this declaration of Captain Goering, however, additional announcements were made of the expulsion of Jews from business concerns. These show that Goering's opposition is directed merely against independent acts by individual bodies, but that the Government plan for the elimination of Jews continues unrestrained.

Jewish bankers, until recently exempt from this drive, apparently are now to be accorded the same treatment.

Torchlight Procession Through Berlin Streets Precedes Book Burning

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, May 10—The most extensive preparations were being made throughout the Reich today for tonight's funeral pyres of "un-German spirited" books, mostly by Jewish authors. Over twenty thousand volumes were collected in Berlin in specially mobilized motor cars and trucks, from private libraries and homes. For several hours preceding the bonfires, a torchlight procession was marching from the Oranienburgerstrasse in military formation to the Brandenburger Gate and along Unter den Linden to the Opera House Square, where the huge fire was to be lit.

Not all the books collected were to be burned, however. A large proportion of the seized volumes are to be sent to the paper mills to be reconverted into pulp. For this reason several paper mills provided the vehicles used in collecting the condemned books.

Philadelphia Society Protests Treatment Of Doctors by Nazis

May Invite Profession's Leaders
To Hold Clinics in America;
Replace German Products

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

PHILADELPHIA, May 10—The Philadelphia County Medical Society, one of the largest of its kind in this country, yesterday raised its voice "against the injustice visited upon members in the medical profession in Germany" and called upon the Pennsylvania State Medical Society and the American Medical Association to communicate with their colleagues in Germany "irrespective of birth or descent" to bring about the abolition "of a discrimination so repugnant to the spirit of science and of humanity."

It is learned here on reliable authority that in many hospitals acting individually, medical instruments made in Germany have been or are gradually being replaced. Drugs made in Germany are being accorded the same treatment. A movement is about to be launched to invite some of the leaders in the medical profession in Germany to come to this country to hold clinics. It is pointed out that hundreds, possibly thousands of American physicians go to Germany annually to attend the clinics and the classes of these distinguished medical scientists. Not to lose the benefit of this experience, an effort

Report Another Example Of Nazi Torture Methods

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, May 10—The Manchester Guardian reports today that in the latter part of April, a Jew, S—, was cremated in Germany by order of the authorities after they had certified the cause of the death as suicide. According to the Guardian, the man had been arrested early in April and a fortnight later his body had been found near a sewage disposal plant near Berlin, horribly mutilated, with his face smashed and lips cut.

The Nazis notified the relatives of the victim and told them if the circumstances of the man's death were divulged, they would share the same fate.

ment. Otto Bernstein, co-proprietor of the banking house of Schlutow and Stettin, has been dismissed from his post. Erich Meyer, director of the Berlin Bourse, has been arrested for alleged irregularities. Herr Meyer was for many years manager of the Bourse office of the Dresdener Bank. Ludwig Freudenheim, director of the German Corn Trading Company, has also been arrested for alleged irregularities.

The police of Chemnitz have ordered all Jewish industrialists to appear at police headquarters twice daily to make certain that they do not close their factories and escape.

A noticeable drop in the Leipzig fur trade as a result of the Jewish anti-Hitler boycott has led the Nazi burcan at Leipzig to announce today that there was no intervention in Jewish business firms, particularly in the fur trade, and to offer assurances that Jewish clients at the fur market would receive the best of attention. The announcement stated that the Government's measures were directed only against "corrupt" enterprises, irrespective of whether they were Jewish or non-Jewish.

Kurt Glaser, director of the State Library of Art, has been dismissed without notice at the orders of Bernhard Rust, Minister of Education for Prussia. Wolfgang Herrmann, custodian of the library, has also been discharged. Even the German press cannot refrain from expressing its regret at the dismissal of these two men, pointing to their outstanding achievements in the world of German art and their world-famous standard works on art.

Senator Copeland at Boycott Conference Sunday

United States Senator Royal S. Copeland will address a boycott conference Sunday afternoon at the Hotel Astor under the auspices of the American League for the Defense of Jewish Rights, it was announced yesterday. The purpose of the conference is to organize and coordinate boycott activities directed against the Nazis in Germany.

The American Jewish Legion, composed of World War veterans who fought in the British army in Palestine under Lord Allenby, has adopted a resolution supporting the boycott movement and the conference.

A cablegram has been received by Dr. Abraham Coralnik, chairman of the provisional boycott committee of the league, from M. Lecache, head of the French Anti-Nazi Boycott Committee, commending activities to establish a strong boycott here.

A protest was filed with the District Attorney's office yesterday by the National Committee to Aid the Victims of German Fascism as a result of an attempt Tuesday by two detectives to raid the offices of the committee, allegedly in an investigation of organizations soliciting funds for charitable purposes.

Alfred Wagenknecht, executive secretary of the committee, said the organization had been established recently to raise funds for the relief of "victims of the Hitler terrorism in Germany and to disseminate the truth about the continuing outrages of the Nazi rule, much of which is withheld from publication because of censorship imposed."

He said the organization was affiliated with similar groups in England and France.

Jewish Education Week opens May 12 and continues to May 21. A number of conferences and other events will feature the week, including the seventh annual Jewish Education Dinner, at which Dr. I. M. Rubinow will be the guest speaker.

Jewish Girl Honored At California University

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—To a young Jewish student of San Francisco has gone the honor of being selected as commencement speaker at the University of California exercises to be held Saturday. She is Miss Eleanor Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Morris, of this city.

When a freshman, Miss Morris was awarded one of the Kraft Scholarships, given to the 50 freshmen students receiving the highest scholastic standing. In her junior year she was elected to Theta Sigma Phi, national women's honorary journalistic society. In her senior year she was chosen an associate editor of the Daily Californian, student newspaper.

She was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national college honor society.

Abraham Meyer Dies, Was Chicago Attorney

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

CHICAGO, May 10.—Abraham Meyer, nationally known authority on banking law and long a member of the famous Chicago law firm of Mayer, Meyer Austrian and Platt, died Saturday in Paris, France, after a three-month illness, according to word received here at his firm's offices today. He was 61 years old.

Mr. Meyer, a brother-in-law of the late Levy Meyer, with whom he ranked as a corporation lawyer, had gone to Paris on the advice of his physicians to consult noted specialists there. He was especially famed among lawyers as an authority on the intricacies of the law of negotiable instruments.

Born in Chicago, July 27, 1871, he was educated in the public grammar and high schools, received his bachelor's degree at Yale in 1892 and a law degree at Lake Forest University in 1896. For a time he was counsel for the old American Trust and Savings Bank, a constituent of the present Continental Illinois Bank. That association gave him his first deep interest in banking law, which he retained throughout his life.

He is survived by four sisters. He was a member of the American, Illinois and Chicago Bar Associations, and the Standard, Harvard-Yale-Princeton and Lake Shore Country Clubs.

D'AVIGDOR GOLDSMID APPEALS FOR AID FOR GERMAN JEWS; SAYS PALESTINE SOLE REFUGE

In the only public address he is scheduled to make during his ten-day visit to this country, O. E. D'Avigdor Goldsmid, chairman of the council of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, addressing the Eastern Parkway section of the American Palestine Campaign at the Brooklyn Jewish Center, called for "exceptional sacrifices to meet a unique situation" in extending relief to the Jews of Germany.

Mr. Goldsmid asserted that in addition to the claim which Palestine has upon Jews "on sentimental and religious grounds, it has, under present day circumstances, a still greater claim at being to all intents and purposes the only country open to those suffering from discriminatory legislation of the German Government."

His views on the importance of Palestine for meeting the problem of homeless Jews were emphasized in the address of Morris Rothenberg, president of the Zionist Organization of America. Other speakers at the dinner were Rabbi I. H. Levinthal, of the Brooklyn Jewish Center, and Milton Goell, Chairman of the Eastern Parkway fund-raising effort for Palestine.

"The rebuilding of Palestine should be acceptable to every thinking Jew," Mr. Goldsmid said. "It should be acceptable to those who have hitherto considered Palestine as an experiment. It should be acceptable to those who have been out of sympathy on other grounds with the movement. And today in addition to claim which Palestine has upon us on sentimental and religious grounds, it has, under present day circumstances, a still greater claim as being to all intents and purposes the only country open to those suffering from discriminatory legislation of the German Government. We know that a number of the refugees, particularly the younger generation, are desperately anxious to go to Palestine today. The arrival of new immigrants involves additional expenditures of all kinds which the Agency must be in a position to meet, as it is the only body in Palestine that is responsible for the admission of the immigrants. In order, therefore, to meet that situation, it is essential that additional funds should be provided the Agency, quite apart from the current day to day expenditures, which the Agency has not been able to meet."

Unheard of Situation

"I know that this country is passing through difficult times, but we have today a tragedy in Germany which I cannot say is unique, but takes us back to the Middle Ages, takes us back four hundred years ago to the period when the Jews were expelled from Spain. Their numbers then were much smaller and the world was not conscious of what was happening, as it is today. You have a tragic situation, unheard of in our lives and the lives of our fathers or grandfathers. To meet that situation, I think some of us, or most of us, ought to be prepared to contribute not out of income, but we ought to be prepared to pledge our capital in order to meet the obligations which are imposed upon us. We cannot let our co-religionists starve or die from troubles arising through no fault of their own. We must make exceptional sacrifices to meet a unique situation.

"We have a tide of refugees leaving Germany. How much greater the number will be in the future, nobody can foretell. But, under present conditions, with the numbers they are today, it is essential to give the Agency those resources which will enable it to provide a home for as many who want to live out their lives in Palestine."

Palestine Promises Solution

In his remarks, Mr. Rothenberg pointed out that while Jews will never yield their inalienable right to live on a basis of equality with and to enjoy the same privileges as all other citizens in the lands of their birth or adoption, the task of finding a solution for hundreds of thousands who must flee from persecution or whose existence has been made impossible by economic discrimination, is inescapable.

"Palestine," he said, "while not offering a complete solution to the physical aspect of the Jewish problem, is at least the most promising solution for hundreds of thousands of our people seeking a refuge and longing to live a consciously Jewish life. Every other country has its doors barred. The noble tradition which this and other enlightened countries long honored of opening their portals to the oppressed and the disinherited of the earth, has under the newer conception of civilization been thrown into the discard."

Arab Claim Dismissed

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, May 10—The court at Nablus has dismissed the Arab claim to pasture-rights in the Nahal forest near the Jewish village of that name. The Nahal forest belongs to the Jewish National Fund and the claim of the neighboring Arab villages to pasture-rights has occupied the attention of the courts for several years.

Synagogue Group to Act For United Leadership In American Jewry

Louis J. Moss was re-elected President of the United Synagogue of America at the closing sessions of the convention held here at the Hotel Pennsylvania. The remaining officers will be elected by the executive council of the organization at its next meeting.

Matters varying from the persecution of the Jews in Germany to birth control were discussed at the final meeting. A series of resolutions were adopted, one of them deplored "the division within the recognized leadership of American Israel" in the matter of the German situation. The resolution provides for the appointment of a committee to work towards a "united leadership for our people."

Another angle towards the solution of the problem of German Jewry was approached in a resolution which urged the adoption "on the part of England of a more liberal policy with reference to immigration into Palestine of Jewish refugees from Germany."

The convention also went on record as endorsing the program of social justice, outlined by the special committee of the United Synagogue. A supplementary resolution calls upon the incoming social justice committee "that it study the question of birth control and present definite recommendations on the subject at its next convention."

A final resolution deplored the practice of some congregations engaging as rabbis those who have

Bloom Bill to Permit German Aliens' Stay Here

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, May 10—A bill permitting German aliens now in this country, whose passports are about to expire, to reside in the United States an additional two years, was introduced in the House of Representatives yesterday by Congressman Sol Bloom, of New York.

"There are many Germans here under special classification," Congressman Bloom said in explanation of his bill. "This group consists principally of students, business representatives, research workers and others. Many of these people, because of their race or political affiliations, fear to return to their own country while it is under the Hitler regime."

"I introduced this bill to give such people a haven of refuge for two more years. By that time, it is hoped by all civilized people, Germany will come to its senses and the Hitler terror will be a thing of the past."

will be made to have a number of the leading hospitals in America invite these men to carry on their scientific researches here. Instead of going to Germany, the American physicians will be invited to attend these classes and clinics in the American hospitals.

The resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia County Medical Society follow:

"That this body of American physicians indignantly protests against the injustice visited upon members of the medical profession in Germany, who, because of their race or faith or descent, have been thrust out of their positions in dispensaries, hospitals and universities and greatly hampered in their private practice.

"Among them are many whose contributions to medical science and art have been invaluable and have brought great credit to Germany; but our protest is not because of the wrong done to the eminent only, it is for the humblest as well.

"The honor of our profession has been attacked, and we look to our colleagues in Germany, irrespective of birth or descent, to vindicate that honor by bringing about the abolition of a discrimination so repugnant to the spirit of science and of humanity.

"Be it further resolved that these resolutions be forwarded to the Pennsylvania State Medical Society and from them to the Board of Trustees of the American Medical Association with their recommendation for adoption.

"Be it also further resolved that a copy of these resolutions or others, when finally adopted by the American Medical Association, be sent to President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull, and Dr. Royal S. Copeland, United States Senator from New York, with a request that they be spread upon the Congressional Record."

not to appear in the market on market days and has also decreed that the licenses of Jewish peddlers should not be renewed.

A new decree published today prohibits people in Germany who bear citizenship in no country from accepting employment without first obtaining a special permit. Only "staatenlose" residing in Germany for more than ten years will be exempted from the provisions of this decree.

Thanks to the intervention of the Danish Government, German Jews will be able to continue the importation of kosher meat from Denmark. In accordance with the Danish-German trade agreement, importation of meat from Denmark is allowed on the basis of the treaty. When the Nazis endeavored to prohibit the importing of kosher meat, the Danish Government intervened, pointing to the provisions of the treaty. Thus the Jewish restaurants have now reopened and the Jewish population is being supplied with imported kosher meat.

Magistrate Goldstein Pleads for Social Work

A plea that social work be not overlooked during the present period of depression was made by Magistrate Jonah J. Goldstein at the annual dinner meeting of the Jewish Big Brothers, held at the Y.M.H.A., Tuesday night. Neglect of character building efforts is short-sighted and socially criminal, he said.

"One dollar cut today from budgets dealing with social service will cost a thousand dollars twenty years hence," he said. "We have no right to declare a moratorium on matters of the spirit, health and character."

Morris L. Ernst, attorney, also spoke at the dinner and urged continued protest against Hitlerism, "even though a rigid censorship in Germany prevents the people from knowing we are protesting here. He attacked censorship. Harold L. Bache, chairman of the organization, presided at the affair.

The affiliated Women's League of the United Synagogue also adopted a number of resolutions, one of them, with reference to the German situation, voicing full confidence in the work of the American Jewish Committee.

Another resolution touching the same topic called upon "constituent Sisterhoods to agree to impose upon themselves a self-denying ordinance and determine in spite of difficulties to make personal sacrifices in order to be able to forward monies to the Joint Distribution Committee for Germany."

Still another resolution voiced regret at the chaos existing in the kosher meat business.
