Nazis Campaign Against Reinstated Jewish Lawyers In Upper Silesia Region (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 7—Pointing out that the National Socialist movement respects the decisions of the Government and does not intend to hinder the Jews of Upper Silesia who were ordered reinstated in their civil and political rights yesterday by adoption of the Lester report by the Council of the League of Nations, the National Socialist Party bureau for the district comprising the Upper Silesian industrial cities has issued an appeal urging the population not to patronize reinstated Jewish lawyers.

The stand of the party in respect

Bureya Settlers Quota Again Reduced for Lack Of Food and Shelter (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

MOSCOW, June 7—This year's quota of settlers for Bureya, the autonomous Jewish region which Soviet Russia is establishing in the Far East, originally fixed for 25,000 and subsequently reduced to 17,000, has now been cut down to 6,800. This drastic cut is not due to any lack of prospective immigrants, who this year are more numerous than in the past, but to the absence of food supplies and shelter for a large number of people.

A complete cessation of emigration to Bureya until the latter half of the year has been ordered. It is hoped that conditions will improve later in the year and permit the resumption of the colonization program.

The central committee charged with the development of the region, scolds local organizations throughout Russia for their bad selection of settlers, in a statement announcing the stoppage of immigration. It charges them with sending the most unsuitable people without sufficient clothing or training to fend for themselves, and threatens severe action against those responsible for this state of affairs.

Schick, J.T.A. Berlin Editor, Freed by Nazi Police After Week in Prison (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 7—One week to the day after he had been arrested on a charge of allegedly putting a false interpretation upon news concerning police actions in a raid on the Jewish section of the city, Otto Schick, editor of the Berlin bureau of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, was freed by the Nazi authorities.

His release was due chiefly to the informal intervention of Raymond Geist, American consul, who interceded in his behalf as soon as he was informed that Schick had been put under arrest. The Austrian Legation also intervened officially in behalf of Mr. Schick, who is an Austrian citizen.

Mr. Schick has reassumed his duties as head of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency service to newspapers within Germany and as editor of the Berlin Bulletin of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

Mr. Schick was arrested last Wednesday by the Berlin secret police,

League Unions Congress Takes Protest Action Against German Policies (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

MONTREAL, June 7 — A strongly worded resolution against discrimination against the Jews of Germany was adopted here today in the closing session of the congress of League of Nations Societies. The German society representatives surprisingly did not vote against the resolution, but abstained from recording its stand in the voting.

The resolution declares "we are deeply concerned over the situation created in Germany regarding the population of Jewish origin. We note with satisfaction that the Council of the League of Nations has embarked on an examination of the German-Jewish situation and express the hope that the German Society of the League of Nations Union will do its best to obtain the restoration of civil and political liberty."

The resolution further requests Lord Cecil, as president of the congress, to interpret the sentiment of the congress in a letter of appeal to

MacDONALD PAYS TRIBUTE TO ACHIEVEMENTS OF JEWS IN SPEECH OPENING EXHIBITION (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, June 7—The opening of the Anglo-Palestine Exhibition this afternoon was turned into an imposing pro-Jewish manifestation when Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, in his address opening the exposition, admitted that the special reason for his presence on the occasion was his desire to express, at this particular time, his pleasure at being associated with this Jewish enterprise and to pay tribute to the great service which the Jewish people have rendered in the progress of science, art, politics and civilization generally.

After describing the Jewish achievements in Palestine and the enthusiasm of the workers, Mr. MacDonald exclaimed, "My Jewish friends, as long as that is the stuff of which you are, you can face many proscriptions and persecutions and flourish as a result.

"Palestine has less of an unemployment problem than any other country. You balanced your budget. I saw the first scratching of the ground for the first colonies which are now represented at this exhibition, not only as a big declaration of faith and loyalty but as the fruit of hard labor in a rich soil. I hope you will be ready to use your intelligence and your muscles in laying the foundations of a still more beautiful home and land."

Turning to the non-Jews, Mr. MacDonald urged them to visit Palestine and "enjoy life right down to the roots of your being. But to Government decisions, the appeal carefully pointed out, does not mean that National Socialists and "conscious" Germans should give an opportunity to the reinstated lawyers of "foreign origin" to regain their influence over German legal life.

The municipality of Glatz resolved yesterday to withdraw all its official announcements from newspapers publishing advertisements of Jewish firms.

"The German Government will naturally respect the Council's decision in the Bernheim case as it has other League decisions. Practically, however, today's decision is not of special importance." This was the conclusion of the Berliner Tageblatt regarding the Geneva decision yesterday. Other Berlin newspapers which featured the League action in the Bernheim case did not comment on it.

Rubber Company Not "Non-Aryan"

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 7—The German Dunlop Rubber Company, which is affiliated with the Dunlop organization in the United States, announces itself as "free of non-Aryan influence." It has procured a ruling to this effect from the Nazis.

Palestine Economically Sound, Visitors Report

Two reports on the current economic situation in Palestine were given Tuesday evening to members of the American Economic Committee for Palestine by Sidney Matz and Edward A. Norman, members of the body's executive board, both of whom have recently returned from Palestine. Both stressed the economic soundness of the country and the self-reliant attitude of the inhabitants.

Mr. Norman declared the capacity of the country to support a large population seems more dependent on the people than on the land and said that the industrial opportunities are unlimited.

Mr. Matz compared the Palestine Jewish community of two years ago with that of today. "The fundamental note," he said, "is a difference of feeling as to what existed in Palestine then and what exists now. Two years ago, except for Hebrew, which is the vernacular among Jews, the predominating language on the streets of Tel Aviv was Russian; today it is German. Two years ago Tel Aviv had 40,000 souls; today it has more than 60,000. Two years ago landlords were looking for tenants; today there are insufficient houses and people are living on the outskirts of the city in tents, waiting for homes to be prepared for them. Two years ago there was considerable unemployment; today there is a lack of labor. Two years ago was as different from today in the spirit of Tel Aviv as 2,000 years ago might have been.

"Two years ago there were a few German Jews in Palestine," Mr. Matz continued. "They had come there for idealistic reasons. Today one finds all types of German Jews in the country. There are the well-to-do, the professional, the white collar class and the artisans. Walk along the streets of Tel Aviv and you see Mercedes automobiles with fine liveried chauffeurs and owners dressed appropriately for the grand march along the boulevards of Berlin and Munich. You see houses built in the modern German form. You see also large restaurants where before there were empty spaces. You see liveried waiters and doormen. You see all of these things and for a moment you stop and wonder whether this is Palestine or Central Europe transplanted physically into Palestine."

Start Brooklyn Drive For Jewish Education

A campaign to enroll 25,000 new members in the Brooklyn Committee of the Jewish Education Association, and to increase attendance at the Jewish religious schools among the 80,000 Jewish school children in Brooklyn, was inaugurated Tuesday evening at a dinner given at the Hotel St. George. More than 1,000 were present at the dinner, including leaders of Brooklyn Jewry, officials of the Board of Education and the heads of various educational institutions in Brooklyn.

Municipal Court Justice Nathan Sweedler, head of the committee, explained that the committee will urge basic Jewish knowledge for Jewish children in the borough, stressing the language, faith and traditions of Jewish heroism. The program will be guided by the parent association founded twelve years ago.

Other speakers included: Magistrate Jonah J. Goldstein, the guest of honor; President George J. Ryan of the Board of Education; Deputy Superintendent Harold G. Campbell; Dr. Eugene Colligan, president of Hunter College; Miss Adele Bilderssee, dean of women at Brooklyn College, and Dr. A. Broderick Cohen, dean of the evening session at Hunter College.

The executive board, in addition to Judge Sweedler, will include Jacob H. Cohen, Philip Brenner, Dr. Charles F. Fisher, A. Krumbein, Dr. Leo M. Taron, Israel Matz and Martin Fechsler.

Louis Bamberger Gives $25,000 to Relief Fund

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

NEWARK, N. J., June 7—Louis Bamberger, retired Newark merchant and outstanding Jewish philanthropist in New Jersey, set a pace for contributors to the Joint Distribution Committee's German relief drive here, with a personal subscription of $25,000.

It was announced last night at an Initial Gifts meeting of the volunteer county relief drive. The appeal starts next Monday. It will be non-sectarian.

James N. Rosenberg, vice chairman of the Joint Distribution Committee, in addressing the meeting, announced a personal contribution of $500 to the Essex County campaign.

Aryan Certificates Issued By Nazi Party Officials (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 7—German firms not having any Jewish employees are now receiving from Nazi headquarters official certificates testifying that they are "pure Aryans". The certificates, which resemble business licenses, are usually displayed in a prominent place in the offices or stores of the company.

The Jewish Telegraphic Agency has secured one of these certificates issued to the Olex gasoline concern which is located in the Martin Luther strasse. The certificate reads as follows:

"The economic-political department of the National Socialist party headquarters testifies that the Olex company has fired all non-Aryan leading employees and is henceforth to be considered Aryan. All authorities may patronize Olex unhesitatingly."

On the strength of this certificate, Olex has circularized its stations, ordering that while a copy of this certificate is to be kept in each station, nevertheless it is not to be displayed prominently because "we undoubtedly have also many Jewish and other thinking customers who might feel offended if the certificate is prominently displayed."

The certificate is intended for customers doubting the Aryanism of the firm, according to the instructions to the station managers.

'A Nation Gone Mad' Browne Says of Germany (Jewish Daily Bulletin)

LOS ANGELES, June 7—Lewis Browne, author and lecturer who recently returned from a world tour in which he spent some time in Germany, said that it may be possible to bring so much pressure to bear upon Germany by means of a boycott that the Nazis will be forced to discontinue their persecution of the Jews.

In an interview here, Mr. Browne stated that he did not see any acts of atrocities while in Germany.

"But the situation is far more tragic. A much more grievous wrong is being done. A people is being starved to death. Bankers have been forced out of their positions. Merchants are being ruined. Physicians, scientists, lawyers, teachers and artists have been driven out of their professions. Only one per cent of the Jewish children can receive any schooling. Jews may not receive treatment in public hospitals, and Jewish hospitals are being forced out of existence.

"Germany is a nation gone mad."

Maryland Physicians Protest Nazi Treatment Of Jewish Colleagues (Jewish Daily Bulletin)

BALTIMORE, June 7—A protest against the treatment accorded physicians of the Jewish race in Germany has been recorded by the Medical and Chirurgial Faculty of Maryland in a resolution passed by that organization.

The resolution has been forwarded to the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association with a recommendation for adoption. The local body asks that, if and when it is adopted by the national medical group, it be sent on to President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull and the two Maryland Senators, Millard E. Tydings and Phillips Lee Goldsborough, for insertion in the Congressional Record.

"That this body of American physicians", the resolution says in part, "indignantly protests against the injustice visited upon members of the medical profession in Germany, who, because of their race or faith or descent, have been thrust out of their positions in dispensaries, hospitals and universities, and greatly hampered in their practice.

"Among them are many whose contributions to medical science and art have been invaluable, and have brought great credit to Germany, irrespective of birth or descent, to vindicate that honor by bringing about the abolition of a discrimination so repugnant to the spirit of science and humanity."

Five hundred members of the Buffalo Jewish community attended the meeting at which Eugene Warner presided. The speakers were Rabbis Israel Efron, Harry Silverstone and Joseph L. Fink. Rabbi Joseph Giten offered the invocation. The campaign will continue until the quota is raised.

Social Workers, Teachers Open Sessions Today (Jewish Daily Bulletin)

DETROIT, June 7—Social workers from practically every state in the Union and from cities in Canada are here to attend the convention of the National Conference of Jewish Social Service which opens tomorrow and will continue through Monday. Mr. Wineman will extend the Jewish community's welcome to the visiting social workers. Dr. I. M. Rubinow of Cincinnati, the conference head, and national secretary of the B'nai B'rith, will address the workers on "The Credo of a Jewish Social Worker." The invocation will be offered by Dr. Leo M. Franklin, and Rabbi Leon Fram will pronounce the benediction.

apart from the touristic and Biblical aspect of Palestine," he said, "it is of the utmost importance from a commercial viewpoint."

The Prime Minister joined Lord Reading who presided, in an appeal for cooperation between Arab and Jew "on which the future of Palestine rests."

"You have had your grievances against the British Government," he declared. "So have I. Governments were made to disappoint people in too great a hurry. The Palestine problem is exceedingly difficult, involving the settlement and development of immigration."

"Go on with your pushing and demanding and we will do our best to satisfy you."

Lord Reading thanked the Prime Minister especially for showing sincere sympathy and interest in Palestine and in the work of the Jewish National Fund under whose auspices the exhibition was organized.

The exhibition, Lord Reading declared, "shows the remarkable manifest progress of Palestine under the British mandate. It shows the advantages of reciprocal trade. Apart from the material side of the exhibition, it shows the cultural and educational in the archaeological and historical sections. We look forward with confidence."

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, former president of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, speaking of Palestine, said, "Here is a country which opens wide its doors to the persecuted today as in the past. We look forward with pleasure to the future cooperation of the Jews and the Arabs living in happiness and contentment, rejoicing in the advantages of a British administration under the mandate."

Lord Melchett stressed that the Jewish people have not had recourse to arms in two thousand years. "Their weapons are the forces of intellect and spirit and will be so in the future. In Palestine, the past and the future will work together."

The exhibition today attracted thousands of visitors, Jewish and non-Jewish who came to see the 5,000 exhibits in the Palestine section and, in addition, the number of exhibits in the British section where machines and other products designed for export to Palestine are displayed.

The achievements of the Jewish National Fund in the development of Palestine are strikingly and colorfully displayed.

the German body.

While the German group confined itself to not voting either for or against the resolution, they strongly objected to Lord Cecil's letter, actually leaving the hall in protest as the letter was read.

It declared: "The action taken against the Jewish citizens has caused the most serious uneasiness in many parts of the world. It is not too much to say that the events, in the words of the covenant, have impaired good understanding between the nations. The German Government has taken legislative and administrative measures against a body of their citizens solely because they belonged racially to the Jewish people. This discrimination is impossible to reconcile not only with the spirit of the Covenant, but even with the progress of Western civilization during two or three centuries, to which Germany has made eminent contributions. The Federation hopes and believes that in the future nothing could more effectually promote good feelings between Germany and other countries than decisive evidence that in the future all citizens of the Reich can rely on equal treatment before the law irrespective of race, language or opinion."

Congress circles consider the resolution, and the letter, in particular, as an important Jewish success and unmistakable condemnation of Germany's Jewish policy.

The German delegation will probably publish a letter in reply to Lord Cecil.
