

Chancellor Dollfuss Is Expected Back to Handle Nazi Crisis in Austria

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

VIENNA, June 14—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was expected to return here today by airplane from London to assume personally full direction of Government efforts directed against the crisis created by outbreaks of the Nazis in this country which culminated in the expulsion by the Nazi authorities in Germany of a member of the Austrian diplomatic staff.

The Nazi party here has been officially prohibited, it was stated, but Government officials were ordered to withdraw from membership in the organization.

At a cabinet meeting last night, it was decided to increase safety measures and to put them into the hands of a state commissar who would rely chiefly on the military forces to preserve order.

President Miklas and Vice-Chancellor Winkler yesterday received a delegation of Vienna Nazi leaders who denied Nazi responsibility for the bomb outrages of the past few days and demanded that the Nazi Brown Houses, occupied by the authorities, be returned to the organization. They also demanded the return of full political equality for the Nazi party.

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, June 14—An appeal to all Jewish physicians and dentists in England to boycott German drugs and all other replaceable German products was decided upon at a meeting Sunday at which Dr. M. D. Eder, noted physician and Jewish leader, presided. A list of alternative drugs which can be used instead of German products has been compiled, it was announced.

Professor Selig Brodetsky, Sir Philip Hartzog, and Harry Sacher, urged settlement of German scientists in Palestine. A letter from Dr. Chaim Weizmann, supporting this action, was read at the meet-

Jewish Schools Affected By New Regulations And Loss of Subsidies

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 14—The Berlin City Council, with the Social Democratic representation abstaining from voting, upheld today the decision of the magistrate's court, returned last month, abolishing reductions in school fees for Jewish children as long as the percentage of Jewish children in the public schools is higher than the fixed quota of one and a half percent. The law will go into effect October 1.

The Ministry of Education has ordered the headmasters of all private schools, including teachers of dancing, athletic instructors, art and theatrical schools to submit proof of their Aryan origin and German citizenship before August 1.

The Wuerttemberg state Ministry of Education has excluded two Jewish schools from the peoples'

German Press Features Oxford Honor to Reinhardt

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 14—The entire German press is featuring the award of an honorary doctorate by Oxford University to Professor Max Reinhardt, noted German-Jewish theatrical producer. The newspapers comment that this is the highest honor that the British university can bestow and all of them, with the exception of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels's Der Angriff, remind their readers that Professor Reinhardt holds similar degrees from Goethe University at Frankfurt (formerly the University of Frankfurt) and from the Christian Albrecht University at Kiel. Several of the papers endeavor to create the impression that Professor Reinhardt was not compelled to leave Germany because of his Jewish origin, but because of financial conditions affecting the theatres under his direction.

Nazis Study Jewish Investments in Reich, Create 'Buy German' Body

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 14—Every firm in Germany will shortly be requested to submit to the Government definite and detailed information regarding the amount of Jewish capital in the concern, the number of Jewish employees still remaining and the number of Jewish stockholders, with information as to whether they reside in Germany or abroad.

This data, it was learned, is being requested at the demand of the economic department of the Nazi party in order to establish the extent to which capital is still controlled by the Jews.

A marketing committee which aims "to popularize goods made by Germans" has been established as a semi-governmental institution, it was announced today. The committee will issue a so-called "ursprung schutzmarke", which only pure Aryans will be entitled to use as a trade mark in order to make possible differentiation between Aryan-made products and foreign and Jewish goods made in Germany.

No Diplomas for Jews Education Minister Rules

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 14—Jewish students completing satisfactorily their university courses will not be admitted to the examinations for graduation and will not be permitted to receive their diplomas according to an order issued by the Minister of Education. Privy Councillor Helfritz, rector of the University of Breslau, referring to this order, declared that an appeal to the ministry against this decision would be useless, since the Minister of Education does not intend to make any exceptions to this rule.

The order applies to all Prussian universities and to all faculties. As a result, Jews who have completed their preparations for the practice of medicine, will be unable to practice since they will be unable to obtain the necessary diplomas.

B'nai Brith 2nd District Holds Annual Convention

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 14—As a result of yesterday's elections during the closing session of the annual convention of Grand Lodge B'nai Brith, Second District, Joseph Cohen, of Kansas City, Kan., is president of the Order. Delegates to the convention decided to hold the 1934 convention in St. Louis.

Louis Kranitz, of St. Joseph, Mo., was elected first vice-president. Other officers were elected as follows: Justin Stillman of Columbus, O., second vice-president; Leonard H. Freiberg, Cincinnati, secretary, and Lou M. Frank of Toledo, treasurer. Freiberg and Frank were incumbent officers. Mr. Kranitz is the only new officer.

Samuel Goldstein, of Loraine, O., retiring president of the organization, presided at the last meeting of the convention. Philip Weisberger, of South Bend, was elected to the District General Committee. Three hundred candidates enrolled in the "World's Fair Class" Sunday night.

The convention went on record as favoring the stand taken by B'nai Brith against anti-Hitler protests, although a paragraph in the committee report referring to this was deleted on the objection of Rabbi Samuel Markowitz of Fort Wayne.

Rabbi Markowitz contended that B'nai Brith is not opposed to protests held under "ostensibly non-Jewish auspices", but the convention was against encouraging such protests lest they appear to be instigated by Jews, he said.

Sydney G. Kussworm of Dayton, O., reviewed practical accomplishments of B'nai Brith and pointed out that the organization is behind most of the steps taken by the gov-

Judge Julian Mack Warns American Jews of Duty

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14—In the light of the present plight of the Jew in Germany, American Jewry faces the imperative duty of mobilizing the opinion of the civilized world, to stop Jewish persecution and anti-Semitic propaganda, declared Judge Julian Mack of the United States Circuit Court in a striking address before the members of San Francisco Lodge of B'nai Brith.

He said that sentiment among conservative leaders in San Francisco is changing from passivity to activity.

Baltimore Lawyers Ask U. S. to Aid German Jews

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

BALTIMORE, June 14—A resolution directed against the treatment being accorded Jews in Germany and urging the administration at Washington, through friendly representations to request the German government to end its racial and religious intolerance was adopted at the June meeting of the executive committee of the Bar Association of Baltimore.

The resolution was presented by Edward J. Colgan jr. Adoption of the resolution carried with it a provision that copies be sent to President Roosevelt, the Secretary of State and members of Maryland's delegation to Congress.

Berliner Tageblatt to Have Second Jewish Issue

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 14—The Berliner Tageblatt, which last week created somewhat of a sensation with a special four-page supplement devoted to the problem of integrating German Jews in the "New Germany," Sunday devoted a full page to the reaction to this step from abroad. Another supplement is announced for next Sunday.

Among the reactions noted, from Paris, London, Warsaw, Prague, Budapest and Stockholm, by correspondents of the paper, were compliments to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency for its interpretation of the supplement. The general reaction was one of mixed feelings.

The paper states that thousands of letters have been received by it from its readers. Jewish circles here, however, continue to regard the Tageblatt's efforts with considerable skepticism, in view of the fact that the recognized Jewish leaders have not been invited to present their side of the question and participate in the discussion. A frequent question is why hasn't the Tageblatt reinstated the Jews dismissed from its own staff if it is really anxious to aid in the solution of the German Jewish problem.

Canadian Jewish Congress To Meet in October

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

TORONTO, June 14—The All-Canadian Jewish Conference which is assembled here is preparing to take action on the momentous problems of Jews in Germany. A committee to study the advisability of declaring a boycott on German goods has been appointed, and they are expected to shortly advocate measures of reprisal against persecution in Germany. A Dominion-wide drive for relief funds for German-Jewish refugees is in the immediate offing.

It was decided that the Canadian Jewish Congress will convene in Montreal on October 21. Popular democratic elections will be held not later than October 1. A. J. Freiman, president of the Zionist Organization of Canada, was elected honorary president of the conference.

Medical Association Protests Persecution of German Jewish Doctors

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

MILWAUKEE, June 14—Repression and persecution by the Hitler regime of Jewish medical men in Germany were denounced by the American Medical Association, holding its annual convention here.

The house of delegates of the organization unanimously adopted a resolution assailing Hitlerism in these words:

"The American Medical Association in annual convention assembled condemns the persecution of any individual on account of race or religion by any state or under any flag."

The action of the house of delegates, it was explained, binds the thousands of members of the association. Dr. C. E. Morgan, of Somerville, Mass., offered the resolution on behalf of the public relations committee.

Dr. Leopold Dichtwitz, former chief of staff of the Rudolf Virchow Hospital in Berlin and president of the German Congress of Internal Medicine, attended the convention here. He declined to comment publicly on his experiences in Germany.

Argentine German Jews Organize to Aid Refugees

(U.T.A. Special Correspondence)

BUENOS AIRES, June 3—German Jews in Argentina who have until recently kept their Jewishness secret and who have had no relations with other Jews, have now organized a society to help German-Jewish immigrants and unemployed.

Although the newly formed society has the objective of social relief, a sign of the times is the very fact that German Jews come together as Jews for the purpose of carrying on Jewish activities.

Four hundred people participated in the organization meeting, most of them coming from the middle class, among them many merchants and importers. Because of the sudden transition from Germans to German Jews, there was great confusion during the discussions. The chairman of the meeting opened with the declaration "We are not interested in politics, our only concern is to help." The same stand was emphasized by the chief speaker of the meeting, Dr. Weil.

Both speakers expressed the repentance of the German Jews in Argentina, who have failed to interest themselves in Jewish affairs. They also expressed their shame that the protest meeting against the persecutions in Germany was organized.

20,000 Trees Destroyed In Balfour Forest Fire

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, June 14—Twenty thousand young trees were destroyed when a fire of mysterious origin swept through part of the Balfour Forest, planted by the Jewish National Fund in honor of the late Lord Balfour. The fire follows a series of uprootings of trees by vandals in forests planted by Jewish settlers. The police, suspecting an incendiary, are prosecuting an extensive investigation into the causes of the blaze.

Must State Religion Registering in Prussia

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, June 14—Henceforth, everyone registering their residence with the police, as required by the regulations, will have to state their religion, according to new police instructions issued by the Prussian Ministry of the Interior. Foreigners in Germany were not previously requested to state their religion when registering. The new order, it is believed, is aimed to furnish a check on the movements of Jews and Catholics.

ized by Jewish immigrants from Eastern Europe without any help from German Jews.

The discussions also touched upon the question whether German Jews should remain in the German societies here which have been built to a large extent by Jews and with Jewish money and most of which have recently become more or less Hitleristic. It was indicated that should Jews leave the Democratic and Republican German societies, they would not be able to continue their existence. The question of the advisability of leaving the German societies was temporarily postponed.

The newly organized society of the German Jews is known as the Hilfs-Verein Deutsch-Sprechenden Juden (Relief Society of German Speaking Jews).

Local Jewish groups expressed great satisfaction with the new organization.

The rise of Hitlerism has brought into existence the organization of another group of Jews who have heretofore not taken any active part in Jewish public life, the English and North American Jews who have formed the Maccabean Association and Club.

The awakening of the English school system. This means that the two institutions will no longer receive subsidies and other Government concessions, but the schools will be permitted to continue as private institutions.

It was also decided to discontinue subsidies to the Jewish communities for their communal, educational, philanthropic and other activities. The right of these communities to collect taxes from their members, however, is not abolished.

List of 'Reliable Jews'

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

PRAGUE, June 14.—The Prague press reports from allegedly reliable sources that the Nazi authorities in Germany are preparing a list of "reliable Jews" who have rendered great service to the German nation in art, science, finance and trade. Completion of the list will take six months and then those Jews included in it will be invited to return to Germany and resume their former occupations.

Slight importance is attached to the report which is believed to have been inspired by the Nazi propaganda department.

day Chronicle here, predicts a new era in Jewish contributions to art as a result of the present persecutions of the Jews in Germany.

"The Jews will rise again in Germany," Professor Reinhardt declared. "They have tried to kill us, torture us and have imprisoned us, but that has been our eternal fate. The Jews will rise again. In ten years time our people will look back on the present period and remember it as the time when Jewish art in Germany began to flourish again. In the Middle Ages, the Jew flourished on misery. When cruelties were worst, the Jew made his finest songs."
