Darmstadt Jews, Terrorized, Not to Attend Synagogues For Yom Kippur Rites

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Sept. 28—Not a single Jew will go to a synagogue on Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, in Darmstadt, Hesse, and neighboring towns, in view of the sudden wave of terroristic acts against the Jews, which were resumed in the last few days, and which are reminiscent of the early days of the Nazi assumption of power.

The Jewish population is terrified. Windows in Jewish houses have been smashed with stones, and the other attacks against the Jews which have repeatedly occurred, bear an organized mass character.

In Berlin itself a quiet Yom Kippur is expected, but special police will be posted outside the Berlin Kunstler Theater (Art Theater) to prevent possible anti-Jewish demonstrations, since the operetta, "The Charming Girl", opens there tomorrow night with a Jewish actor, Max Hansem, playing the leading role.

Is Danish Citizen

In an official communique in today's press, the police notified the public that Herr Hansem is a Danish citizen, therefore obstructions against him will not be tolerated. Recently he appeared in a film, "The JAFFA, Palestine, Sept. 28—Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff, noted Zionist labor leader who was assassinated last June, stated that he did not know who shot him, Jacob Zelivansky, first witness to testify when the hearing in the case of the three arrested Revisionists, extreme right wing Zionists, was resumed today, declared. He told of hearing the shot and running up to the scene of the crime, helping carry the fatally wounded man who made the above declaration at that time.

GOEBBELS DEFENDS NAZI JEWISH POLICIES AS MOVES TO HUSH LEAGUE DISCUSSION FAIL AND DUTCH PREPARE TO PRESENT ISSUE TODAY

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

GENEVA, Sept. 28—In a so-called frank discussion of the German-Jewish question, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi minister of propaganda and public enlightenment, this afternoon defended the Nazi program against the Jews as the "most humane and most loyal method" of dealing with the situation.

Dr. Goebbels's statement was made in the course of a reception to representatives here of the world's press. The Jewish newspaper correspondents in Geneva were also invited.

Goebbels, here to aid the German delegation to the League of Nations Fourteenth Assembly soft pedal the Jewish issue and aid in creating a sentiment more favorable to German rearmament aims, thus far has not met with conspicuous success.

German Efforts Unsuccessful

The German delegation has been endeavoring for the past three days to use pressure on the Dutch delegation to forestall the raising in the League Assembly of the refugee question, but these efforts today appeared to have been futile and the Dutch delegation will probably bring up the matter tomorrow.

The delegation is expected to suggest that the League Council study the problem raised by the presence in neighboring countries of German refugees and take necessary measures for a practical solution.

Holland will be supported in this move by a majority of the delegations, particularly those from the states neighboring Germany which have shared the brunt of the refugee problem.

Sean Lester, rapporteur on the Upper Silesian question, has received the German government's report on the steps taken in the plebiscite area to safeguard Jewish rights in accordance with the League decision in the Bernheim case, it was learned today. Mr. Lester also received, through the German government,

Expect Promulgation of Jewish Law Defining the Status of Reich Jews

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Sept. 28—A special Jewish law which will serve as a constitution for the Jews of Germany, clarifying once for all, their status in the country, is expected soon, it was learned today. The German-Jewish leaders, it is understood, would welcome such a law because it will settle definitely the kind of citizenship for Jews and their legal position in Germany.

In this way numerous pending Jewish problems, including cultural, economic and citizenship rights, would be clarified and the position of the Jews made less vague than at present.

At the same time, orders were is-

Jews Prepare to Observe Yom Kippur Commencing Tonight at Sundown

With the setting of the sun this evening, Jews throughout the land will solemnize their holiest day of the year, Yom Kippur. The shofar, the sacred ram's horn, which is blown only on the highest holidays of the year, will call young and old to atone for their sins.

In most of the ninety-one charitable agencies affiliated with the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies, services will be held for the ill, the aged, the orphaned, the needy and the disabled.

Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Associations throughout the city plan services at which residents of the neighborhood will join members in the atonement prayer.

To Broadcast Services

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue, will conduct the services for the Day of Atonement in a special broadcast over Station WABC and the Columbia network, Saturday from 11:00 A.M. to 12:00 noon. The portion of the ritual to be heard will be the Penitential Service, and the subject of Dr. Wise's sermon will be, "Salvation: Whence?" The Memorial Service Ugly Girl." When the film was shown at the Atrium Theater in Berlin, serious disturbances occurred, the crowd forcing the discontinuance of the film, because a Jewish actor appeared in it.

A Yom Kippur call to the German Jews to unite was issued today by the recently-formed Federal Representation of Jewish Provincial Organizations of Germany, in which the four largest German-Jewish organizations are represented, under the signature of Rabbi Leo Baeck and the other eight members of the executive committee.

Time Requires Unity

The message declares that this is no time for individual wishes to dominate German-Jewish life, but cognizance must be taken of the fact that "the life and future of the German Jews depends on unity." Jewish employers and employees are urged to unite, the Yom Kippur call stressing the necessity to increase the number of Jewish schools in order to prepare the Jewish youth for Palestine.

The hope is expressed that the German government will show understanding of the Jewish problems and that the Jews abroad will increase their relief activities.

"May a new existence emerge for the German Jews from the present suffering," the appeal concludes.

the petition of the Jewish community of Upper Silesia protesting continued deprivation of the rights of the Jewish minority.

The German government report enumerates measures taken only in the past few days to ensure an end of discriminations against Upper Silesian Jews. The rapporteur intends to bring up the report before the League Council although the German delegation demands that the report be kept secret and not be discussed in open session.

The German report, it is reliably learned, paints the Jewish position in Upper Silesia in roseate hues although the effect of the picture is somewhat diminished by the Jewish petition enumerating acts of discrimination throughout the plebsicite area.

Jewish Memorandum Circulated

Reasons for urging the League of Nations to intervene in the Jewish situation in Germany are expounded in a memorandum prepared by the British Board of Jewish Deputies and circulated among delegates to the League sessions here today.

The memorandum rejects the German contention that the Jewish question is purely an internal matter on the following grounds:

First: that revocation of naturalization of Jews and deprivation of equality status of German Jews is bound to arouse international concern.

Second: States having financial relations with Germany cannot view with indifference the German government's deliberate destruction of important economic values dependent on the enterprise and skill of German Jews.

Third: the civilized world cannot remain unconcerned with the German violation of the fundamental principles underlying the public law of civilized nations.

Fourth: the paralyzing sense of physical insecurity caused by the need on one hand to submit to a government depriving the Jews of their means of livelihood and on the other hand, to be exposed to arbitrary arrests and imprisonment without legal process or means of redress, is an issue that goes to the foundations of public law and European peace.

Fifth: the international issue raised by large numbers of refugees is constituting a serious problem for neighboring countries and is aggravated by the difficulties in exporting funds and the release of property of persons forced to leave Germany.

The memorandum concludes with a request for the appointment of a League commissioner or commission to direct the work of settlement of the refugees. Thus the League of Nations would contribute, by international cooperation, to solve a grave human problem, the memorandum declares, in the same way the League functioned in the work done for the repatriated Greeks and the Armenians.

'A Frank Word on the Subject'

"One of the reproaches levied against the Nazis," Goebbels told the newspapermen, all of whom were present this afternoon at the reception by personal invitation, "is connected with treatment of the Jews which is said to be contrary to the laws of humanity."

"Let us say a frank word on the subject, considering the fact that the public opinion of the world is deeply moved by the Jewish question. I frankly admit that in the course of the national revolution, incidents caused by uncontrollable elements occasionally occurred, but this is not decisive. The fact that we opposed Jewish predominance was generally known before the Nazi assumption of power."

Elaborating on the question of Jewish influence on the intellectual German life as a whole, Goebbels asserted that "the action taken against the Jews to remedy the situation was spontaneous and unavoidable."

"Settling the Jewish problem legally," he continued, "the government adopted the most humane and most loyal method. We do not understand while protests are raised against Germany's defensive action by other countries, at the same time they demonstrate their unwillingness to absorb Jewish emigrants from Germany."

Claims No Revenge Sought

"Nothing is further from the intention of Nazism than to exercise cheap revenge. If we abstained from such action, it was to a real, practical solution to the Jewish question. The intolerable atrocity legends have been spread abroad by Jewish emigrants. It would be not only to the advantage of Germany but of benefit to the entire world if the criticism of events could be limited to the actual state of facts and any antipathy resulting from a different philosophy of life could be excluded."

"We have no reason to be afraid of the truth," he asserted, "but we wish an honest effort for truth, not to be poisoned by grotesque allegations."

Replying to questions put to him by the press, the Nazi press chief denied that Germany persecutes Professor Albert Einstein, adding, "we (Continued on Page 4)

Hitler Paper Accuses Jews Of Flooding Geneva With Anti-German Propaganda

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Sept. 28—Jewish organizations are diligently at work in Geneva, flooding the diplomats there with anti-German propaganda, in an effort to drag the great powers into a regular and systematic boycott of Germany, the Voelkischer Beobachter, leading Nazi paper, declares.

"The Jews will find a willing ear among the influential diplomats who eagerly combine Jewish affairs with disarmament problems," the Beobachter stated.

At the same time, the Voelkischer Beobachter called attention to the presence of Leonard Montefiore, president of the Anglo-Jewish Committee, and Norman Bentwich, former attorney-general of Palestine, in Geneva, where they represent the Board of Deputies of British Jews on behalf of the German-Jewish refugees. The Hitlerite organ declares that the presence of these distinguished British Jews in Geneva is evidence that the Board of Deputies is joining the anti-German boycott.

Ban on Swastika Upsets San Francisco German Day

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28—The refusal of J. Emmet Hayden, Acting Mayor and chairman of the Citizen's Committee, to consent to a display of the Nazi Swastika, threw a snag in the plans for the annual German Day celebration by the United German Society.

Louis E. Felner, president of the Society, announced that the Swastika was to be displayed as a sign of respect to the German consul who is scheduled to deliver an address at the celebration. Mr. Hayden announced that he will not approve anything but the Stars and Stripes.

Otto Kahn Returns, Quiet On German Situation

Otto H. Kahn, noted American banker, returned from a two-months vacation in France aboard the Italian liner Conte Di Savoia, yesterday. When asked to comment on the situation of the Jews in Germany, he shrugged his shoulders and replied, "As a German Jew, what can I say?" Mr. Kahn declared that his trip had been mainly for pleasure. He urged the American people to support President Roosevelt.

"I consider it the business of every right minded man to stand behind those who are trying to pull us out of the mess we are in," said Mr. Kahn.

Sirovich Predicts New War, Urges Russian Recognition, Praises Palestine Growth

Congressman William Sirovich, returning on the Italian liner, Conte Di Savoia, after a lengthy trip through Europe and the Near East, yesterday predicted a European war in the near future in which Germany, under the mad leadership of Hitler, would be dismembered, with the southern half of Germany, Bavaria, Saxony and Wurtemberg, together with Austria, forming a new state which would act as a buffer against the militarist aggression of Northern, Protestant Germany.

Congressman Sirovich praised in enthusiastic language the achievements of the Jews in Palestine, particularly in Tel Aviv. "Why," he exclaimed, "when I saw that great Jewish city, I could hardly believe that only a few years ago, ten at the most, there was nothing there but sand and emptiness."

Dr. Sirovich, long an opponent of the Soviet regime, returned praising the Russian Soviets for their accomplishments and urged immediate and unconditional recognition of the Soviet government. When asked about the condition of the Jews in the Soviet Union, the Congressman declared that it was impossible to recognize a Jew, to pick him out from the other citizens. The Jew, he stated, had complete freedom in Russia.

Luther's Milwaukee Visit Stirs Large Crowd to Riot

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 28—One is suffering from concussion of the brain and twenty-three persons, including three women and Fred Bassett Blair, former Communist candidate for governor, are under arrest as the result of a demonstration staged when Dr. Hans Luther, German Ambassador to the United States, arrived here at the doors of the Milwaukee Club to attend a luncheon.

Dr. Luther who was awaited by city leaders at the Club, stopped his car nearby and observed with interest placards denouncing him and the German government posted by the crowd.

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

The Chaim Arlosoroff Memorial Library, which will be established in memory of the late Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff, noted Zionist labor leader who was murdered in Tel Aviv on June 16, will house works dealing with settlement and colonization problems, according to an announcement by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, president of the American Friends of the Hebrew University.

The reading hall of the University Library will be equipped and furnished by means of a bequest of 5,000 pounds from the late Morris Symonds, of Sydney, New South Wales. Prussia Bans the Rond "Black Hundred" Group

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Sept. 28—The Czarist, Nazi organization, Rond, made up of former reactionary, anti-Semitic Russians, was officially declared illegal in Prussia today. One of the German states, Bavaria, had previously prohibited the activities of the Rond.

The members of the notorious Russian anti-Semitic organization, the Black Hundred, and other reactionary, monarchist elements now in exile in Germany, formed their own organization after the Nazis came to power and affiliated themselves with the Nazis with the avowed object of bringing Nazi blessings to Russia. The Soviet ambassador protested against their activities and the Bavarian authorities prohibited their activities and confiscated their property.

Synagogue Robber Escapes With Seat Sale Receipts

A youthful robber who escaped with $91 after a daring holdup in the Talmud Torah Torah Moses Synagogue, 558 Macy Place, the Bronx, Wednesday, was being sought by police yesterday.

The thief entered the synagogue and with a hand thrust menacingly in his pocket, demanded that two women and three men hand over all the money they possessed. Elias Herzberg, president of the synagogue, surrendered returns from the sale of tickets for the High Holy Days.

tive members of the Palestinian Revisionist movement.

Prosecutor Shitrit read to the court fifty-one pages of the statement made by Stavsky, and which contained his alibi. Stavsky declared that he spent Friday in Jerusalem, then on the evening of the murder, he ate supper in a restaurant and slept that night at a hotel. He spent Saturday morning at the consulate, attempting to obtain visas, as he was planning to leave Palestine for Poland. Saturday noon, he stated, he heard of the murder of Dr. Arlosoroff and returned to Tel Aviv Saturday night. He denied complicity in the murder of the Zionist labor leader.

In the statement made by Rosenblatt to the police and which was also read to the court, the accused Revisionist declared that he had attended a Trumpeldorite, Revisionist youth group, social affair at Kfar-Saba, on the night of the murder of Dr. Arlosoroff, and slept that night in the tent of a girl, Zipora Dingold.

Otherwise, the police have been instructed to take action against the boycotters, the orders declare.

The orders make it clear that the Nazi program against department stores, one of the fundamental tenets of the Nazi party, remains unchanged, but present boycotting of the department stores would result in hundreds of thousands of additional unemployed, which is unpardonable now when the Nazi government is conducting a campaign for work and bread. On the other hand the orders prohibit members of the Nazi party from soliciting for department stores.

Apparently unaware that a law is in preparation in Germany regulating the status of the Jews, Goebbels, in reply to another query, declared that "the Jewish question will only be regulated when it is taken out of the sphere of feeling and tempers will quieten down abroad."
