Nazi Spies in This City Believed Revealed by Daily Paper's Expose

The Daily Worker, Communist newspaper published in New York, yesterday carried a facsimile of a letter which reveals several phases of Nazi activity both here and in Germany, among them that there are Nazi spies and workers at a New York Medical Center, at the Amtorg and at the Office for Exchange Students, that the Nazis intend to hang some one else in place of Marianus Van der Lubbe, one of the accused in the Reichstag fire trial, and that they hope to distribute free in this country many copies of "the Hitler book," presumably Hitler's "My Struggle," published here by the Houghton Mifflin Company.

The letter, written on what is presumably the stationery of the "Friends of New Germany," was addressed to "812 No X" at a Berlin address. It is dated September 23, 1933, and is signed by "W. Haag, adjutant of the National Leader," who wrote the letter according to instruction by the National Leader, Heinz Spanknoebel.

Haag's letter further suggests that

Frankfurter Zeitung Hopeful of Pin Holes in Reich Press Gag

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Although the journalists' law framed by Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi Minister of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment, makes no exception in the case of Jewish war veterans, ordering a clean expulsion of all who are of Jewish origin, the Frankfurter Zeitung declared today that it has learned that modifications of the law may be expected. The clean sweep provided for by the law at present, will not be executed, it declares.

The Frankfurter Zeitung sees the following loopholes in the law:

1. The possibility that it may not be made retroactive: Thus persons of Jewish origin already in posts may possibly be permitted to retain them.

2. Certain concessions may be made for Aryans married to Jew-

JEWISH MINORITY RIGHTS RECOGNIZED IN RESOLUTION BY LEAGUE SUBCOMMITTEE

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

GENEVA, Oct. 7.—Minority people will be afforded tangible and substantial protection by the League of Nations, if a resolution adopted at a session of the subcommittee dealing with the question wins the support of the parent body.

Meeting here today in an atmosphere charged with tense feeling, the iron front put up by Dr. Friedrich von Koller of Germany against recognizing the Jews as a minority, thereby disqualifying them from League intervention, was broken through by the opposing opinions of the delegates of other nations.

The question of whether the Jews constitute a minority was answered with a definition which was woven into the main resolution, as follows: "Assembly considers foregoing principles are applicable to all categories of nationals who differ from the majority by race, language and religion."

Most vigorous was the counteraction of Dr. von Koller when this definitive phraseology, presumed to be a virtual condemnation of the Hitlerite measures against the Jews, was adopted together with the resolution.

Vienna Stuermer Attacks

League, Wilson, Poincare

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

VIENNA, Oct. 7.—Today's issue of the Vienna Stuermer, virulent anti-Semitic newspaper, carries an attack on the League of Nations as an instrument of the Jews, which was created by the late President Woodrow Wilson. The Stuermer declares that of the 150 experts who assisted President Wilson, 117 were Jews and that the President himself was a Freemason and his wife a Jewess.

In an editorial on the discussion of the Jewish situation carried on at Geneva, the Stuermer denounces was explained as being simply a vote, and not a condemnation of Hitler or of any other state.

It is the general feeling here that condemnation of Germany's repressive anti-Jewish measures is being soft-pedalled.

Christian L. Lange of Norway, rapporteur for mandates, submitted a resolution at the sixth commission meeting today expressing the League's confidence in mandatory power. The resolution also calls upon Great Britain to fulfill her obligations undertaken for the establishment of a Jewish national home, and establish a method for the settlement of refugees and other immigrants who at the present time might possibly create a serious unemployment problem in the Holy Land.

Guarantees Jewish Rights

Not a Jewish Lawyer In Marburg, Press Boasts; More Dismissals Announced

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Not a single Jewish lawyer now remains in Marburg, today's press boasts, declaring that the city is completely "Judenrein" (free of Jews). The press disclosed that the last Jewish lawyer has just been suspended, in spite of the fact that this is in open contradiction to the declaration of the Minister of Justice that there will be no further dismissals of Jews.

At the same time a large number of Jewish professors and employees of the University of Frankfurt were dismissed today, including ten professors, twenty-five honorary professors, twelve privatdozenten (instructors) and four commissioned lecturers.

It was also revealed that on October 1, not a single Jewish doctor was left in the Berlin ambulance service.

Protestant and Catholic Condemnation of Hitlerism in "The Voice of Religion"

Editorials from the religious press of more than fifteen Christian denominations and statements by lay and religious leaders of Christian opinion on the persecutions of the Jews in Germany are gathered in a booklet published today by the American Jewish Committee under the title, "The Voice of Religion." Bishop William T. Manning of the diocese of New York; Hilaire Belloc, noted Catholic; Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, former president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; Michael Williams, editor of the Catholic weekly, Commonweal; the Archbishop of York, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and Dean Inge are among those who have spoken for the religious conscience of America and England on the oppression of hundreds of thousands of Germans who have worshipped or whose ancestors have worshipped in the Jewish faith. The pamphlet also prints the text of a protest against these persecutions written by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick and signed by 1,200 Christian clergymen of the United States and Canada.

A section devoted to the comments of the Christian religious press prints editorials from the Adult Bible Class Monthly (Methodist Episcopal), the Baptist Courier (Baptist), the Christian Advocate (Methodist), the Christian Century (Unitarian), the Christian Herald (Interdenominational), the Christian Leader (Universalist), the Christian Register (Unitarian), the Churchman (Episcopal), the Congregationalist (Congregational), the Epworth Herald (Methodist), the up for discussion at the present assembly. This resolution would guarantee Jewish rights in all countries now threatened with anti-Semitism, and protect them on humanitarian grounds.

Although it is claimed that the resolution does not justify modification of the original resolution adopted before the opening session of the League Agenda Committee, it is urged that the Haiti delegate submit his proposals to the committee, since they are intimately related to the minorities question.

A deadlock in the proceedings of the League of Nations subcommittee dealing with the Jewish question was reached here earlier today when the German delegates made a strong attempt to block the debate on the grounds that the League cannot consider the minorities question. Every other delegation at the session has backed the resolution but unanimity is required for final adoption.

Negotiations are going on with the Reich representatives to induce them to pass the resolution, but little headway is expected. The matter will be brought up before tonight's assembly and is to be submitted to the second committee by Tuesday when it is expected the matter will be decided. The subcommittee's proposed resolution reads as follows:

"The Assembly having regarded the situation created by the fact that a large number of persons, including members of the Jewish faith, have left Germany and in recent months taken refuge in several countries; considering their presence in those countries constitutes economic, financial and a social problem which can be solved only with international cooperation, makes the following suggestions:

"1. The League Council nominate a High Commission to negotiate and direct such collaboration.

"2. The expenses of the office of the High Commission are to be defrayed out of a fund contributed by private individuals and from other sources.

"3. The Council is urged to approve a sum not exceeding 2,500 francs to be a working capital for the Commission.

"4. Those states which are members of the League that have not as yet received many of the refugees will be urged to open their gates to as many refugees as possible, giving them employment when possible.

"5. The League's Geneva secretary will convey the resolution to states that are not members of the League of Nations, requesting them in behalf of the League to give their assistance in every way possible to the refugees. They are also to be urged to provide employment whenever possible for the refugees and assist the High Commission to the best of their ability.

"6. The Assembly expresses the firm hope that governments and private organizations cooperate in every way with the High Commission for the success of this relief action."

The names considered for membership on the High Commission were those of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Sir Austin Chamberlain, former President Herbert Hoover and Christian L. Lange.

Sir Austin told representatives of the press that he has not been approached about the matter. He was unable to say whether he will accept the membership on the Commission.

The Canadian delegates are believed to be opposed to the fifth article of the resolution. Their contention is that it is a broad hint that the United States and indirectly Canada, lower the bars of immigration. Dr. Riddell, Canadian delegate, declared that he will consult with the government before ratifying the resolution.

all the statesmen who spoke for the Jews as being either Jews or Freemasons, including former Premier Lloyd George of England and former Premier Raymond Poincare of France. President Thomas G. Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, comes in for special abuse.

The Vienna Stuermer, sister paper of the notorious Stuermer of Nuremberg which is edited by Julius Streicher, continues to appear unhindered by the government authorities in spite of its continuous attacks and calumnies against the Jews.

In order to increase its circulation the Stuermer today announced a series of book prizes for subscribers. Henry Ford's "The International Jew" was among the prize books listed.

(J.D.B. Special Correspondence)

Flemish Nazis in Ghent Riot; Police Halt Opening Of Hitler "Green House"

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

ANTWERP, Belgium, Oct. 7.—The demonstration of Flemish Nazis in Ghent, which was to have taken place last week on the occasion of the opening of a Nazi Green House, was frustrated by the police, who surrounded the building and prevented the demonstration, whereupon the Nazis announced that the inauguration of the Green House had been indefinitely postponed.

The Belgian government is preparing a law to prohibit the wearing of party uniforms.

A fierce agitation by the anti-Semitic group, headed by the daily newspaper L'Assault, has developed in Antwerp in connection with the decision of the Antwerp municipality to withdraw subsidies from all religious schools. Despite the fact that the Jewish schools are also affected, L'Assault alleges that the Jews continue to obtain a subsidy of 250,000 francs, inciting the population against this alleged domination by the Jews.

Jewish Candidates Run On Parties' City Tickets

With eight or nine candidates for mayor in the field and with at least four political groups putting complete tickets in the field, the large Jewish vote in New York City assumes an added importance in this year of complex and tangled political lineups. All the groups have Jewish candidates in key positions.

Running on the fusion ticket with Major Fiorello H. LaGuardia are Bernard S. Deutsch, president of the American Jewish Congress, for President of the Board of Aldermen. Irving Ben Cooper, one of Judge Seabury's assistants in the recent municipal investigation, is seeking the post of city judge. Judge Edgar J. Lauer and George Trosk are candidates for the Supreme Court bench.

In the Bronx the fusionists have nominated Abraham Grenthel for Sheriff of Bronx County, Abraham Mandel for County Clerk, Joseph S. Israel and Harry L. Wechsler for justices of the city court.

On the same ticket with Mayor John P. O'Brien are Samuel Levy, candidate for Borough President of Manhattan and Judge Samuel I. Rosenman who was nominated for the Supreme Court bench.

The political group headed by former Mayor Joseph V. McKee has nominated Nathan Straus, Jr. for President of the Board of Aldermen and Joseph I. Baker for Borough President of Brooklyn.

The Socialists have nominated Charles Solomon for Mayor of the City of New York.

"The Christian religion," Bishop Manning declared in his statement, "calls upon men not only for justice but for brotherliness toward all, and in these days of world crisis we see clearly that we must sweep out the spirit of hate and fear and banish war and draw all nations together in brotherhood and fellowship if civilization is to be saved."

"Race prejudice, oppression, religious persecution, have no right to exist anywhere in this world, and we have no right to condone or countenance them."

Hilaire Belloc points out the flagrant injustices that have been committed by the Nazi rulers. "I am not speaking," he states, "of the atrocities committed. . . . But I am here speaking of what has admittedly been done and that, it seems to me, is definitely opposed to good morals. Men who have passed their lives earning their living by their professions in a particular trade have been reduced, through no fault of their own and merely by the accident of birth, to penury at a moment's notice. How can that possibly be excused?"

Violation of Contract

"What excuse is it to say that in such and such a profession such and such a majority was Jewish? The Jews attained their position in that profession in open competition; everybody knew that they were Jews; they worked under the handicap of their unpopularity (which always attaches to their race in that part of Europe where they lived, though it does not yet attach to their race in this happier society to which we belong). I should have thought that the proposition was elementary; when a profession is thrown open to such and such candidates, when they pass the required tests, when they advance in their careers after passing these tests, what possible right can you have to go back on

Lewis Douglas to Address Federation Dinner Starting 1933 Appeal for $4,200,000

Lewis W. Douglas, Federal director of the budget, will head the list of speakers at the opening dinner of the 1933 appeal of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies to be held next Sunday evening at the Hotel Commodore. The dinner, at which Supreme Court Justice Samuel I. Rosenman will preside, will launch the campaign to complete a budget of $4,200,000 for the support of the Federation's ninety-one affiliated charitable agencies.

Chairmen of 130 committees, each designed to promote the raising of funds in a specific trade or profession, were announced by Samuel D. Leidesdorf, chairman of the Business Men's Council, the Federation's money-raising unit. Membership in the committee will be drawn from an army of 2,500 volunteer workers.

Speakers at the dinner will include former Justice Joseph M. Proskauer, the Federation's president, and Mrs. Felix M. Warburg, co-chairman of the campaign in the Women's Division, in addition to Mr. Douglas and Justice Rosenman.

Early responses from civic, business, social and philanthropic leaders indicate that a record number of persons will attend the event. More than 1,200 men and women are expected to be present.

In announcing completion of the list of trade chairmen, Mr. Leidesdorf said: "The enthusiasm with which our chairmen, all men of prominence in their respective fields, volunteered their services makes us extremely hopeful of attaining our goal in this year's campaign. The responsibility of our institutions to the sick and handicapped, the orphaned and aged, the discouraged and destitute are so great that we dare not fail."

your word and deprive them of that which you have promised them by the social contract into which you have entered?

"But there is more than this: there are very many cases in which not only an implied social contract is involved, but also a direct personal contract. For instance, I read of one distinguished professor, to mention only one out of very many, who had a definite contract to occupy the position which he held and to draw the salary of it for so many years, presumably with a pension thereto attached. Without compensation, without warning, the man is suddenly thrown onto the streets. If that is not theft, what is?"

there is cooperation between American and Berlin Nazis by the hint that since he will find it difficult to bring Van der Lubbe into the United States, as he was apparently requested to do, some means be found of throwing Van der Lubbe overboard while en route to some other country.

The letter also contains a request for "a new code," since the local Nazi office "believes" that the code it now uses "can be read by Untermyer." On the letterhead is a swastika, and Haag's closing salutation is "Heil Hitler!"

The complete text of the letter reproduced in the Daily Worker is as follows:

In reply to your letter of September 5th:

The development of the special division cannot take place as rapidly as you desire, since conditions here are more difficult than you suppose. We are being watched and must be careful. Count Sauerma is out of the question for the proposed position, as he lacks experience. It is better to employ him for the Bu-niaste. Count Norman returned from Berlin, bringing his brother with him. Dr. Spanner asks energetically that the General Electric representatives in Germany be watched, as they intend to carry on espionage there. The General Electric stole his invention, and he is now going to take steps against them. As his brother in the Medical Center has done a lot for us,—for instance, he has won two of the professors there for our cause,—we request that Dr. Spanner's business affairs be speeded up and given protection.

Send us a young lady of good appearance, who is very reliable; it is best if her father and brothers are S. A. men (storm troopers). She should speak some English and Russian fluently and must take the place of our agent in the Amtorg. She should come over on the Europa or Bremen as a hairdresser, then we'll send another person back to Germany on the ship, thus evading the immigration authorities and avoid a check-up by Untermyer.

I cannot find a place for van der Lubbe here; it is best if you throw him overboard into the ocean while enroute to another country. Whom do you intend to hang in his place in Germany? I agree with you entirely that it would be good to give the damned Communists in Leipzig an injection of syphilis. Then it can be said that Communism comes from syphilis of the brain.

Send us a new code; we believe that the old code can be read by Untermyer.

Spanknoebel has just entered the room and sends you his best wishes. He would like to have a physicist assigned by the Office for Exchange Students, to do a few little jobs for him. Theremin is lazy and wants too much money, and what is more, he seems to be half a Jewish swine himself. The man betrays his own country and therefore we cannot trust him, despite all assurances. And the little Katja—that is how Count Sauerma calls Konstantinov—is a dumb and conceited girl, who is doing good work on the whole, but is always crying now; therefore I think she would be better taken care of over there. She could be used for Russian translations.

Let us know how things stand with the Hitler book. We must distribute many of them free; we'll have considerable success with it. It is child's play to make good anti-Semites out of the Americans.

Please work fast in the Spanner affair—lots of money for us depends on it.

Heil Hitler!
