Crowd Kidnaps Victims Of Palestine Immigration Laws As Disorders Grow (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Dec. 26 — Three men, about to be deported for having entered Palestine illegally, were kidnapped out of the hands of the police by a large crowd here yesterday and spirited away to a hiding place.

The three men, Nuri Joshua and his son, of Bukhara, Turkestan, and Rachami Moshe, of Afghanistan, were to have been deported to the latter country with the wife and daughter of Joshua. They had been arrested yesterday together with Yechya Ben-Shabon, also of Afghanistan, and the latter's wife and two children. The three men and the rest of the Joshua family were in a police automobile here when the crowd of unknown sympathizers converged on it, routed the police guard and the driver, and took the three men and their baggage away, leaving the women.

A relation of one of the escaped men was taken into custody last night by the police for interrogation, while a diligent search was begun to discover the hideout of the fugitives.

Eliahu Cohen, a shoemaker who has lived in Palestine since he was one year old, was arrested yesterday on the charge that he had illegally entered the country. He was freed in jail when he proved to the authorities he had resided here since 1905.

To Transfer Faraday On Arab Complaints After Jaffa Disorders (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Dec. 26 — John A. M. Faraday, assistant superintendent of the Palestine police, will be transferred to Beersheba, as a result of Arab complaints against him, it was learned today. Faraday was in command of the Jaffa district and was responsible for the order to fire on the rioting Arab mobs on October 27, when several thousand Arabs attempting to hold a forbidden demonstration, charged the police near the administration building. His firm stand then is considered to have been responsible for preventing the serious disorders from attaining

Egyptian Jews Grant Funds For Two Palestine Colonies For Refugees from Germany (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Dec. 26 — As a result of the visit, to Egypt, of Dr. Arthur Ruppin, member of the executive of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, in the interest of the German relief campaign, the Jewish community in Alexandria granted 15,000 pounds, which had already been collected, for the establishment of a German Jewish colony. Fifty German Jewish families will be colonized on land belonging to the Jewish National fund in Wadi Hararith.

The Cairo Jewish committee pledged the sum of 8,000 pounds for a German Jewish colony of the same size to be located in the vicinity of Petach Tikvah. The money, it was arranged, will be disbursed by the German department of the Jewish Agency. The work of establishing the colonies is to begin in February.

Holiday in Reich Brings Jews Temporary Respite (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Dec. 26 — Christmas passed off quietly everywhere in Germany. Even for the Jewish community, the holiday season was marked by a let-down in the campaign against them. Due to the very strong order issued recently by Minister of Economics Schmitt, pressure on the Jewish merchants was somewhat eased. Even uniformed officials could not resist the temptation to buy in the Jewish shops, where merchandise was cheaper than in stores owned by Aryans.

In Hesse, the Minister of Education of that state, ordered that no more free scholarships be given to Jewish pupils after January 1. A few days ago, the Prussian Ministry of Education made a similar ruling.

Imprison Jewish Butcher For Schechita Practice (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Dec. 26 — A Wiesbaden court sentenced Ludwig Frohweim, Jewish butcher of Hoheim, to imprisonment for two months, and fined his father, Salomon, 600 marks for slaughtering animals in the man-

Weizmann Says Problem Of German Jewry Will Reach Solution Shortly (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, Dec. 26 — German Jewry's position will be stabilized shortly in one way or another, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, former president of the World Zionist Organization, and head of the Zionist commission for settling German-Jewish refugees in Palestine, declared yesterday in an address delivered before the conference of the British Zionist Federation, now in session here. "Even hell has limits," Dr. Weizmann said, pointing out that even in Russia, the position of the Jews has been stabilized.

"Within five or six years, German Jewry will be reduced to half its present number, and will perhaps be digestible among sixty millions of Germans," Dr. Weizmann declared.

"One-third of the total Cholutz (pioneer) immigration into Palestine is from Germany," the veteran Zionist leader pointed out. "Also more than one thousand tourists and capitalists enter Palestine from Germany each month. Assuming an annual emigration of twenty thousand German Jews, half will go to Palestine. The income to be expected for Palestine from various sources will be about one hundred and fifty thousand pounds annually and this will enable the absorption of six thousand German refugees each year.

"Should our campaign for two mil-

Sacred Scrolls Unharmed As Vandals Set Fire to Synagogue in Jassy (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BUCHAREST, Dec. 26 — The Kantarschi Synagogue in Jassy was destroyed Sunday evening by incendiaries who made their escape in safety. The interior of the synagogue was found to have been drenched with petroleum and then fired. The resulting blaze gutted the building completely, leaving it almost a total wreck. Only the sefer torahs, sacred scrolls of the law, were found miraculously untouched.

Jassy, with its large Jewish population, has been the scene of many disturbances caused by the

Thousands Attend Toronto Chanukah Celebration

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

TORONTO, Dec. 26.—The Toronto Hebrew Free School observed the Chanukah Festival by presenting an elaborate Chanukah program before an audience of more than 1,000 people. One of the outstanding features of the program was the presentation of a play, "Chibath Zion" ("Love of Zion"). The play was written and directed by Rabbi Bert. I. Treiger, educational director of the school.

Indianapolis Zionists Present Program

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—The Indianapolis Zionist district conducted a Chanukah celebration here for the first time. Cantor Myro Glass and his choir lit the Chanukah candles in the traditional manner. Miss Constance Borman recited selections from the poems of P. Raschin. Rabbi Elias Karry sang several Hebrew folk songs, and Daniel Frisch read Sholem Aleichem stories. A dance followed the celebration.

Bureau in Palestine Will Clear All Gov't Statistics

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Dec. 24.—A new government department to be known as the Central Statistical Bureau will be established here in the near future, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency learned today.

Eric Mills, Acting Chief Secretary of the government of Palestine, who was superintendent of the 1931 Palestine census, will be appointed temporary director and organizer of the new bureau, it was learned on reliable authority.

Mid-West Young Israel Endorses Nazi Boycott

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

CHICAGO, Dec. 26.—An endorsement of the Jewish boycott on German goods was voted here yesterday at the closing session of the third annual convention of the Mid-Western Young Israel, Orthodox Jewish youth group, at the Hotel La Salle.

Speakers at the banquet which concluded the convention were Rabbis Isaac Stollman of Detroit and Saul Silber of Chicago; Moses Hoenig of New York, and Maurice Nathanson of Chicago, president of Young Israel.

The convention adopted resolutions proposing the extension of Young Israel groups and activities to the Jewish students in the colleges; advocating active participation in the building of Palestine, and condemning the Nazi government for its actions against the Jews.

Earlier the convention had listened to reports on the activities of the various branches of Young Israel and to a detailed report on the work of the National Council of Young Israel concerning Sabbath observance.

Among the speakers at the convention were Professor Meyer Waxman of the faculty of the Hebrew Theological Seminary, and Max Shulman, president of the Zionist region of Chicago.

Harrisburg Synagogue Celebrates Anniversary

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 26.—Impressive services marked the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the founding of Congregation Chisik Emunah of Harrisburg, one of the oldest orthodox congregations in this country.

At the time of its founding the membership numbered less than fifty. Today it has a membership of close to three hundred.

The celebration extended over the entire week-end, beginning with special services on Friday evening, followed by a public reception in the vestry rooms of the synagogue. At the services on Saturday morning, Rabbi M. Etter delivered the special anniversary sermon.

At the banquet on Sunday evening which took place in the Jewish Community Centre of Harrisburg, addresses were delivered by Rabbi Eleazer Silver of Cincinnati; Rabbi David Silver and Rabbi M. Etter of Harrisburg, and Joseph Claster.

Cantor M. Lachmanowitz rendered a number of appropriate selections. Robert Rosenberg, a leader in Jewish communal life in Harrisburg, was toastmaster of the evening.

Hebrew Stressed at Polish Zionist Parleys.

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

WARSAW, Dec. 26.—Hundreds of Zionist delegates are in Warsaw for the sessions of the four Polish-Zionist conferences now being held here. Hebrew dominated all the conferences. The proceedings were entirely in Hebrew. Greetings to the Hitachduth conference were extended by Nahum Sokolow, president of the World Zionist Organization, and by Leib Jaffe, well-known Zionist leader, who represented the Keren Hayesod, the Jewish Foundation Fund. The Hitachduth had refused to join the Poale Zion, laborite group, because of the Hebrew question.

The Tarbut teachers' conference met, and the Tarbut Association, under which all the Hebrew schools are gathered in a cultural association, opened an exhibition of Tarbut school work.

The Hechalutz, pioneer organization of the Polish General Zionists, met with 423 delegates representing 361 towns in Poland. The Hachsharah, or movement for training pioneers before they leave for Palestine, reported 70 training centers. The Hechalutz movement has 20,000 members in Poland. Speakers at the conference emphasized the differences between the Hechalutz organization of the left wing Zionists and the General Zionists.

The all-Polish conference of the Zionist youth groups, including the Brith Trumpeldor, Revisionist youth organization, is dealing with the work of the Keren Kayemeth, the Jewish National Fund.

Mizrachi Launches Drive For Palestine Work

The Mizrachi Organization of America has launched a drive to raise $200,000 for the Mizrachi Palestine Fund, officers announced following a conference held at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

The campaign will raise the money by means of a popular campaign and by the establishment of an organization to be called Agudath Bnei El Chai. Ten thousand members, each contributing the sum of $18, will be sought.

Regional conferences to be held throughout the country will be called by rabbis and other prominent Jewish workers.

Rabbi M. S. Margolies will confer with about a hundred orthodox rabbis in New York in this connection. The quota for the city is $75,000.

Members of the Board of Governors to consist of 500 rabbis and prominent orthodox leaders, will each be asked to contribute $100 to the fund. The organization will also make an attempt to secure 50,000 individual contributions of one dollar.

Anti-Semitism Limits Opportunities for Youth, Rothenberg Tells Masada

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Dec. 26.—The first annual convention of Masada, national Youth Zionist Organization, closed here yesterday with the election of national officers. They include Isaac Imber of New York, president; Isaac Milgram of New York, secretary; Samuel K. Miller of New York, treasurer, and Ben M. Eddin, Niagara Falls; Israel Weiner, Detroit; Albert Elazar, Minneapolis; Milton Selig, Philadelphia; Joseph M. Papo, Cleveland, and Rabbi Samuel I. Porath, Niagara Falls, vice-presidents.

Morris Rothenberg, president of the Zionist Organization of America, and one of the prime movers in the organization of Masada, was the principal speaker at the closing session of the Masada convention.

After describing the preliminary work that resulted in the creation of Masada, the Zionist leader said in part:

"More than ever before there is today a psychological need for the identification of Jewish youth with Jewish life and Jewish problems. With anti-Semitism limiting Jewish opportunity and world economic depression increasing the isolation of the Jew, a psychic danger to Jewish youth lurks, unless normal Jewish impulses and mental processes can function freely.

"It is my deep conviction that if we all work earnestly and wisely, we can make Masada the vehicle for enlisting great masses of Jewish youth in the service of the greatest of Jewish causes, the re-constitution of Israel's land and the revival of Israel's culture, a consummation which will at the same time confer an infinite benefit upon all who participate in this historic task."

Mr. Imber called upon Jewish youth to do away with the multitude of Jewish organizations that divide them.

"We must cut through party lines, allegiances and restrictions," he declared. "The Zionist platform is broad enough for every shade of opinion."

Dr. Alexander Dushkin of Chicago, chairman of the Zionist commission on youth education, stressed the importance of the youth Zionist movement and lauded the Masada group.

Among the other speakers were Isaac Milgram of New York, Joseph Porath of Cleveland, Samuel Miller of New York and Milton Selig of Philadelphia.

The convention adopted resolutions reaffirming its affiliation with the Zionist Organization of America. Mr. Rothenberg received thanks for his

Jewish Agency Recognizes American Economic Group Dispensing Information

The Central Bureau for Industrial and Agricultural Information, established and maintained by the American Economic Committee for Palestine, has been recognized by the Jewish Agency for Palestine as the central source for economic information regarding the country, according to word received here.

The Jewish Agency has decided to join other Palestine economic bodies in making the Central Bureau the clearing house for economic information to immigrants, Israel B. Brodie, president of the American Economic Committee for Palestine, announced yesterday. The committee was organized in 1932 to foster the economic development of Palestine and the encouraging of private initiative is among its aims. The organization also maintains an economic bureau here at 522 Fifth Ave.

Mr. Brodie's announcement was made in his report on the activities of the committee during the past six months which revealed that over seventy percent of the inquiries cleared by the Tel Aviv bureau had come from German Jewish middle-class refugees.

"In designating the American Economic Committee for Palestine, the central source for industrial and agricultural information, the Jewish Agency puts the stamp of official approval on the activities of our Tel Aviv Bureau, which the Jewish community of Palestine and prospective immigrants abroad have for some time come to regard as the authoritative medium for reliable and impartial information on all phases of Palestine economic life. The action of the Jewish Agency comes six months after the national organizations representing Palestine labor, industry, commerce, agriculture and horticulture united in agreeing to centralize all their informational activities in our Bureau," Mr. Brodie stated.

The report continues:

"Since April, our Tel Aviv Bureau has been literally besieged by German Jewish 'middle-class' refugees seeking information and direction for their rehabilitation in Palestine. At present such German refugees constitute well over 70% of the inquirers serviced at the Bureau. A considerable number of these immigrants possess productive experience and capital ranging from £1,000 to £20,000.

"The Bureau has been guiding German business men in transferring and reestablishing their factories and stores in Palestine. It is facilitating the establishment of new industrial and commercial enterprises and is aiding in the expansion of existing undertakings. Reports received from Tel-Aviv list specific

Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi Group Formed to Combat Spread of Propaganda

A new organization has been formed by the American League for the Defense of Jewish Rights which will have as its purpose to launch a campaign against the spread of Nazi propaganda in this country as well as to conduct the boycott, according to Samuel Untermyer, president of both organizations. The new group will be known as the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League to Champion Human Rights.

"The invasion and flooding of our country by Nazi anti-Semitic, seditious propaganda," Mr. Untermyer stated, "is contrary to American institutions and must be met, as must also the recent attempts of the Nazi regime to destroy Catholic and Protestant churches and to substitute in their place the 'German Church' which involves the scrapping of the Old Testament and parts of the New Testament and the proposed destruction of the franchise to women irrespective of race or creed. All this, added to the continuing persecution of the Jewish people in Germany, has imposed upon us greatly added responsibilities. In order to accurately represent these enlarged activities, which have the whole-hearted cooperation of many outstanding Americans, Jews and non-Jews, the name of the League has been changed to the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League to Champion Human Rights."

Mr. Untermyer announced that the reorganized body will continue to concentrate upon the boycott, which he characterized as "the only effective weapon in defense of basic human rights and for the preservation of democratic institutions, religious freedom and the inalienable rights of man against medieval barbarism, which has seized control of Germany, throttled its free institutions and is threatening the peace and freedom of the world."

Mr. Untermyer is president of the reorganized League. Other officers are, Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, first vice-president; Victor J. Dowling, former Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division, First Department; Arthur S. Tompkins, Associate Justice of the Appellate Division; James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany; Dr. A. Coralnik, associate editor of The Day, vice-presidents; J. David Stern, publisher of The New York Evening Post, national treasurer; Louis Myers, acting treasurer and Ezekiel Rabinowitz, secretary.

The following were elected members of the Board of Directors: Abraham Cahan; Dr. A. Coralnik, Jacob Fishman, Dr. B. Dubovsky, J. George work in organizing Masada and Junior Hadassah for its cooperation.

The convention also determined to participate in all Zionist fund-raising drives and the projects of the Jewish National Fund. The convention approved a project for publishing a monthly magazine to propagate Masada work.

Standing committee chairmen were named as follows: cultural, Myron Stanford, Cleveland; finance, David Marcus, Hoboken, N. J.; organization, William Jaffe, New York; Young Judea and inter-relations, Joseph Porath, Cleveland; J.N.F., Harry Sheer, Brooklyn, N. Y.; projects, Joseph Silverman, Minneapolis and Emanuel Bardoff, New York; propaganda and publicity, Lewis Cantor, Brooklyn.

instances of such service. It is largely due to the Committee's development of a single, competent information instrument, in place of the many former information services (issuing conflicting reports at times), that Palestine is in a position to assimilate and absorb the capital and valuable experience of the 'middle-class' German refugees with a minimum of waste and of unwarranted enterprises.

The extent to which the facilities of the Committee's Bureau at Tel Aviv is being taxed by German refugees may be judged, according to the report, by the fact that between April and November, 1933, the percentage of German immigrant inquiries increased from less than 20 percent to approximately 70 percent per month.

Of a total of 1,568 inquirers (families) serviced in person and by mail between July and November, 1,023 were Germans. The aggregate capital reported by those inquirers who specified their capital was more than 2,000,000 pounds of which much more than 1,300,000 pounds were possessed by German refugees.

even wider proportions. Faraday was wounded while commanding the police detachment at Jaffa.

The order transferring him to the outlying Beersheba district will be effective about the middle of next month. It is learned that the transfer was ordered on the highest authority as an apparent result of numerous complaints regarding police activities in quelling the demonstrations. Sir William Mursion is now conducting an inquiry into the activities of the police in putting down the disorders, having been designated as president of the inquiry commission by the High Commissioner, Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope.

Faraday has been in the Palestine service since 1922. Previously he had seen military service and had been a member of the Royal Irish Constabulary.

ner prescribed by Jewish dietary laws. In pronouncing sentence last Saturday the court declared that the punishment was imposed "for putting an alien law, namely the Talmud, above the German law."

Soon after the Nazi regime came into power, a law against "schechita" was passed. The excuse used was that the Jewish way of killing animals was cruel. The German Jewish leaders appealed to Jews everywhere in Germany to obey the law, and at the same time made representations to the Nazi government to have the law modified. But the Nazi authorities refused to modify the law, and announced that violations of the law would be strictly punished.

ten pounds for the settlement of German-Jewish refugees prove successful, half going to Palestine and half to the rest of the world, Palestine will receive a million pounds in the next three years. And I can definitely prove that Palestine is capable of absorbing thirty-five thousand and immigrants in the next three years.

"France cannot absorb twenty-five thousand refugees, but Palestine is absorbing thousands without needing or asking for relief," Dr. Weizmann concluded.

Harry Sacher, British Zionist leader and a member of the allocations committee, urged attending delegates not to treat the German Jewish problem in a way that will encourage the German Jews to become unnecessarily dependent on external help. "We must not encourage imitators of Hitler elsewhere to believe that world Jewry will shoulder any burdens they impose on us. We must assume no long term obligations toward the German Jews," he said.

"The German question must be settled in the shortest time possible. We must have our hands free in case another emergency should arise."

"The declining birth rate among German Jews and the constant flow of immigration from Germany will reduce German Jewry, within a few years, to about two hundred and fifty thousand. Then the situation will probably be stabilized."
