Words and Deeds

THE SUGGESTION contained in Isidore D. Morrison's communication to Morris Rothenberg, co-chairman of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, published in yesterday's Bulletin, deserves serious and immediate consideration. It is high time that a clear and definite understanding is arrived at between the mandatory power over Palestine and the Jewish Agency with regard to Jewish immigration. The provision in the mandate granted to Great Britain by the League of Nations is to the effect that it is "the duty of the mandatory to facilitate close settlement of Jews on the land" (Palestine). The Churchill White Paper, of 1922, declared "Jews may enter Palestine as of right and not on sufferance." Premier MacDonald's letter to Dr. Weizmann, then President of the Zionist Organization, contained the declaration that Jews would be permitted to immigrate into Palestine in accordance with the economic absorptive capacity of the country.

Premier MacDonald's statement served to offset the earlier declared declarations and understandings with regard to Jewish immigration to Palestine. It is true that Premier MacDonald's letter to Dr. Weizmann was written at a time when the economic situation of Palestine was not as good as it is today, and when Palestine experienced a difficult unemployment problem. But things have changed since then to a marked degree. Palestine is now enjoying economic prosperity as a result of Jewish constructive effort, of Jewish labor and Jewish investments.

To refuse a larger number of immigration certificates to the German Jewish refugees desiring to find refuge in Palestine at this time is inexcusable from any viewpoint. The absorptive capacity of the country now justifies a very much larger Jewish immigration. There is a shortage of labor in Palestine. The colonies are prospering and industries are increasing and growing.

Surely from a moral point of view the mandatory power is justified in opening the gates wider now than the Jews of Germany are subjected to racial persecutions that are crueler in the methods of their inquisition and the pogroms of their Russia. The British statesmen were among the first to raise their voices in protest against the German White Paper. The boycott of German goods.

Zionists Protest To British Envoy On Palestine Bar

Jewish Leaders Cite Benefits of Holy Land's Development

(Special to the Jewish Daily Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A delegation of leading American Zionists headed by Morris Rothenberg, president of the Zionist Organization of America and joint chairman of the council of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, today presented the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, with a copy of the resolution protesting against recent restrictive measures curtailing Palestine immigration.

Others in the delegation included Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, co-chairman of the American representatives of the Jewish Agency; Louis Lipsky, member of the executive of the Jewish Agency; Mrs. Anna Halprin, president of the Women's Zionist Organization; Chaim Greenberg, of Poale Zion, Zionist Labor Organization, and Rabbi Wolf Gold, president of the B'nai B'rith.

The resolution, adopted at a conference on Jan. 10 of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, the Zionist Organization of America and representing the majority of the leading national Jewish organizations, in substance protested against "restrictive measures," declaring that settlement of the Holy Land by Jews has brought prosperity to the country.

Called Mandate Violation

The measures were assailed for being passed in the face of the accepted fact that Palestine is today suffering from a shortage of labor. The petition insisted that the restrictions were in violation of the Mandate issued by the League of Nations to Great Britain. "The prosperity which was brought about by Jews has not," according to the resolution, "benefited the Jews alone but has reflected on the entire Jewish population as well. To the Arab population all of this has meant increased opportunities for employment and in constant rising standard of living."

The resolution adds that "the Jews of America in common with the Jews of the world have noted with deep disappointment recent decisions of the British colonial administration in regard to the proposed immigration schedule suggested by the Jewish Agency."

This schedule which requested 24,700 immigration certificates for labor immigrants for a period from October, 1933, to March, 1934, and which was based on careful and detailed analysis of existing and prospective requirements, were reduced to twenty percent by the Palestine government.

This action on the part of the British administration greatly endangers the very existence and expansion of many agricultural enterprises and retards normal development of the country in general.

Such action, moreover, is in clear contradiction to the spirit of the Balfour Declaration, the League of Nations Mandate for Palestine, the Churchill White Paper, and the organizing that Jewish enter into Pal-

Jerusalem Woman, 60, Weds Her 13th Husband

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Jan. 25.—A sprightly dame of sixty years of age, living in Jerusalem, has just been wedded to her thirteenth husband. She was divorced from twelve predecessors.

Her name is Mrs. Sara Deutsch. She is quite up-to-date, and uses cosmetics. She is wealthy and is a Rumanian citizen. Her reasons for getting rid of her previous husbands are because she was dissatisfied with them.

She does not seem to be the worse for so many changes of name. Deutsch was the patronymic of her first husband. But whether or not her present spouse believes that his number "thirteen" is a lucky one, cannot be ascertained.

Dr. Panofsky Is Named To N.Y.U. Fine Arts Chair

Professor Erwin Panofsky, formerly of the University of Hamburg, Germany, an eminent authority in the field of Northern European Paintings, has been appointed visiting professor of Fine Arts in the Graduate School of New York University. He will lecture under the auspices of the University at the Metropolitan Museum of Art during the coming semester. It was announced by Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase.

Dr. Panofsky's appointment was made possible by the patronage of a group of well known artists and connoisseurs including Paul Baerwald, George Blumenthal, Leonard A. Cohen, Alfred A. Cook, Mrs. W. Murray Crane, Henry Goldman, William Goldman, Henry Hilsen, Arthur Lehman, Philip Lehman, Emanuel Libman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Mack, Walter W. Naumburg, William C. Osborne, Rev. Mr. S. Prumty, Ernst Rosenfeld, Arthur H. Sulzberger, Lionel F. Straus, Mrs. Lillian Wadsworth, Felix M. Warburg and an anonymous donor.

Edwin Emerson Makes Hasty Exit; Propagandist "Just Went to Europe"

By PHILIP MACK

"Where did the Colonel and his lady go last Saturday night?" This question piqued the curiosity of New York's anti-Nazi factions yesterday when it became known that Colonel Edwin Emerson, an ex-prisoner of war in Germany, post war repatriate to the United States, and present-day Hitlerite propagandist, sailed with his wife aboard the Bremen on Saturday.

As far as could be learned yesterday, he "just went to Europe." Whether or not he will visit New Germany could not be told. Who will do the propagandizing until the propagandist returns was another poser that defied explanation. When will he return and what does he hope to do in Europe? There are other sticklers that remain unanswered.

The only substantiated information that could be obtained merely consisted in the clause, "He just went to Europe."

Colonel Emerson's office, from which he dispatches encouraging bits of news to Hitlered papers in Germany and where he broadcasts awful incriminations against the Jews, did not respond when called over the telephone. The non-receptive approach to a response came when the caller once received a busy signal.

Colonel Emerson's home at 215 E. 15th St. was barely more communicative. "We don't know nothing about Colonel Emerson, here," the voice answered. "He just lived here, and he never told us nothing about his business." The only thing we can say is what he told us, 'I'm going to Europe,' he told us. No, I don't know why. No, I don't know whether he is still going to Germany. No, I don't know who is taking care of his business while he is away. No, I don't know nothing about him or his business."

Nazis Put Clamp On German Jews' Efforts To Enter New Trades

Greek Parliament in Uproar as Member Calls Jews Aliens

Premier Tsaladaris Upholds Equal Rights of the Jewish People

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

ATHENS, Jan. 25.—The group opposed to Premier Tsaladaris created an uproar in parliament today when Deputy Apostolidis exclaimed that the Jews are foreigners in Greece.

In reply to this accusation Premier Tsaladaris said that the Jews were entitled to the same rights as Greeks, stressing the fact that the Jews are peaceful and loyal citizens.

The Premier's words were a signal for the organization of a Jewish demonstration by the opposition, which shouted abuses and disrupted the session.

FIND ROMAN REMAINS IN CAVE OF PALESTINE

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

JERUSALEM, Jordanian, Jan. 25.—Terracotta Roman busts and oil lamps were found in a cave uncovered accidentally here by workmen engaged on constructing a road.

Hundreds of such busts were excavated by Department of Antiquities officials, including many of great artistic taste. In some cases, the original colors were preserved.

The find is dated approximately the second or third century A.D. It is believed that the cave was the storehouse for some Roman temple near by.

Brown House in Munich Defies Gov't Order On the Jews

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Efforts by German Jews to readjust German Jewish youths to present-day conditions in Germany through encouraging them to adopt other professions, including artisanship, has encountered strenuous opposition from the provincial Nazi leaders.

Acting on the orders of the Munich Brown House, national Nazi headquarters, and in direct contradiction to the orders issued by the Reich government, provincial Nazi leaders have warned all artisans, including the Jews, not to accept Jewish youths as apprentices or to employ Jewish apprentices. In a number of instances arrests were threatened with the withdrawal of their licenses and boycotting if they disobeyed the instructions of the Nazi chiefs. They were also told that they would be classed as "enemies of the state."

The Artisans Chamber, which is dominated by Nazis, has begun a secret campaign against the government order not to discriminate against Jewish apprentices. Government officials have little influence in the Chamber and are unable to halt the campaign against the Jews.

Jewish Youth Hurt

This propaganda by the Nazi party makes difficult, if not impossible, the activities of the newly formed Jewish organizations, which are sponsored by all Jewish bodies, formed to relieve Jewish youth, agriculture and trades. The new organization is called "Land and Hand-work."

Formation of this group was stimulated by the government order not to discriminate against the Jews.

The new group works in close conjunction with the Hechalutz, pioneer organization, but while the Hechalutz trains boys for work in Palestine, the new group is chiefly concerned with boys who are unwilling to leave Germany.

McDonald In London For Conference On Relief

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, Jan. 25.—James G. McDonald, U.S. Commissioner for German Refugees, arrived here today for a meeting on Monday with the executive heads of Jewish private organizations including the Jewish Agency, the Joint Distribution Committee and the Jewish Colonization Association are to be represented.

Concrete measures for relief will be discussed on Tuesday at a meeting of the permanent committee of the advisory body to the High Commission. This committee is headed by the chairmanship of Lord Robert Cecil and consists of representatives of five governments.

Rabbi Silver Predicts All Europe Will Tread Path of Dictatorship

Decries U. S. Position Leading World Peace Movement As "Too Costly"

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 25.—Predicting that all Europe will go Fascist or Communist in the next decade, Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, speaking at Rodef Sholem Temple under the auspices of the men's club, vigorously opposed the United States' policy of leading the world peace movement.

"We should have learned that we should not play the Messiah to other nations of the world because that is too costly," Dr. Silver continued. "No nation has ever successfully played that role."

"We should cooperate with the nations toward an everlasting peace and economic progress, but we should not in the future seek the position of stage director."

Advocate Humbler Part
"Europe is today willing to let us play the role if we are willing to pay enough, but we are not willing. We must play a humbler role in international affairs. The armies of Germany, flanked on the left by the armies of Fascism and Communism, will rise in the years to come to encompass the world because none of the achievements of the other armies justify the price that was paid."

Nothing that has been accomplished in Russia, Italy or Germany, he stressed, "justifies the conclusion that those forms of government are more productive of social good than a democracy."

Washington Heights 'Y' Elects B. F. Schreiber

Benjamin F. Schreiber was unanimously re-elected president of the Y.M.H.A. and Y.W.H.A. of Washington Heights at the annual meeting of the board of directors.

A report of activities of Samuel S. Solender, executive director of the organization, stressed the adult education program recently begun through the assistance of CWA, the lecture forum, the psychology clinic and the summer camp for children as outstanding activities of the past year.

Arab Robs Farthing, Gets A Year Imprisonment

(J.T.A. Special Correspondence)
JERUSALEM, Jan. 25.—Mahmud Said Kassa, a Mahmal pickpocket, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for his 7th offense. His little piece of pickpocketing this time was to relieve a Jerusalem beggar of a considerable sum of money—no less than the sum of 60, in small coins equivalent to 10 shillings. So for sixpence he is going to prison for a year.

goods in England has met with a very sympathetic response and has been carried out effectively. But the strange interpretations of Premier MacDonald's statement regarding "the economic absorptive capacity of Palestine" to an insignificant minimum, has both puzzled and disillusioned the Jewish people.

As the Arab agitation against the increased immigration of German Jewish refugees is not representative of the Arab masses. It is propaganda concocted by a small group of Arab leaders under the direction of the Grand Mufti. This group, agitating against the Jews, again more concerned in undermining the prestige of the mandatory power.

The Colonial Office and the High Commissioner, in their desire to appease the Arab, are taking backward steps. They are attaching an exaggerated importance to the artificial Arab agitation. To please the Arabs, they are prepared to sacrifice the rights of the Jewish people. To please the Arabs, they curtail the number of immigration certificates to Jewish would-be settlers in the land, even though Palestine could easily absorb a far larger immigration at this time.

The rehabilitation of Palestine in the spirit of the Balfour Declaration did not intend the promotion of strife and conflict between the Jews and Arabs. The Arab masses have already profited immensely through Jewish initiative, investment and a higher standard of living introduced by the Jews.

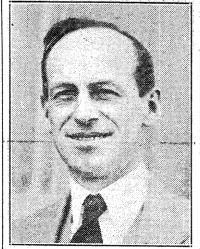

Various interpretations have been placed on the Balfour Declaration from time to time. But amidst all the intricate definitions of the purpose of the initiative, the Balfour Declaration, it is strange that Lord Balfour's own definitions are hardly remembered. In two exhaustive addresses delivered on this subject before the House of Lords, Lord Balfour defined the Arab claims and the Jewish rights to Palestine. He pointed out that Great Britain had no intention of giving the Arabs to acquire vast states and territories and that only a small strip of the ancient land of Israel was given to the Jews in order that by their skill, energy and hard culture the Jewish national home could be rebuilt, without in any way affecting the status of the Jews in Palestine. Lord Balfour was after all the best qualified to interpret the meaning of the Declaration bearing his name.

The present arbitrary restriction of Jewish immigration to Palestine is quite indefensible. The Mandate Commission of the League of Nations should be called upon to ascertain if a serious violation of the mandate.

Anti-Hitler Gentiles

A testimonial luncheon will be given in honor of Charles Edward Russell, president of the Pro-Palestine Federation of America, at the Hotel Commodore on February 12. Speakers will include Harry W. Mack, Bernard S. Deutchman and Rabbi David de Sola Pool. Gratitude will be publicly expressed to the distinguished Gentile Americans who have fought the battles against Hitlerism and the attempt to transplant Nazism to American soil.

AMENDS RESOLUTION

Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland who has amended his resolution asking action on behalf of the German refugees by the President. The new proposal would have the Senate interpose in behalf of the Hitler victims. Germany's dictatorship is asked "in the name of humanity" to do something that would bring an end to its repressive measures against non-conformists.

Vilno Jews Oppose Use Of Cemetery for Games

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
WARSAW, Jan. 25.—The Haint, Warsaw Jewish daily, reported today that the Vilno Jewish community is up in arms against the proposal of the local military authorities to convert the historic Jewish cemetery there into an athletic field. Jewish leaders are exerting every effort to have the decision set aside. Aside from the sacrilege involved in the destruction of the cemetery, Jewish leaders pointed out that it contains a number of valuable monuments in addition to the graves of a number of noted rabbis.

To Appeal Decision Of Egypt Tribunal On Jew's Libel Suit

German Honor Outcome of Trial, Hailing the Verdict in Broadcast

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
CAIRO, Jan. 25.—The noted Egyptian advocate M. Castro, who represented Umberto Jabes, an Italian Jew in the libel action which was decided by the Mixed Egyptian Tribunal, as being outside its jurisdiction, announced today that he would appeal the verdict.

Jabes brought action against W. van Meerstein, president of the Cairo Democratic Verein and A. Safrowsky, a printer. He charged that they libelled him in a pamphlet entitled "The Extension of Judaism in Germany."

The German press, which had been following the trial closely jubilantly hailed the verdict as the "failure of world Jewry." The verdict will be appealed to the Egyptian government in a special broadcast over the government-owned radio system.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR GROSSMAN

Funeral services are to be held today for Herman Grossman, first president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, who died at Mount Sinai Hospital Wednesday.

Mr. Grossman, who had been ill for some time, was seventy years of age. He was elected president of the International when that organization was founded thirty-four years ago and held the office for two terms.

The funeral will be held from the Grand Concourse Funeral Home, 165 East Tremont Avenue. From there the body will be taken to the International Garment Workers Center at 3 West 16th Street, where leaders of the International will pay their last respects to the deceased. Burial will be at Washington Cemetery.

Belgian Socialists Fight Libel Charge Against Jewish Aliens

Action Taken to Punish Anti-Semitic Story of "Sold Citizenship Rights"

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
ANTWERP, Jan. 25.—The Socialist deputies in the Belgian parliament today began an action against the notorious anti-Semitic newspaper, L'Assaut, because the paper charged that the Socialist deputies headed by Mayor Camille d'Antwerp had formed a naturalization office where "every foreign Jew, on payment of money, obtains Belgian citizenship rights."

Belgian Jewry is awaiting the trial with great interest since the verdict of the court is expected to help check the growing Nazi anti-Semitic agitation in a section of the Belgian press.

Harry Gluckman, On Eve of Testimonial Fete, Advocates 'Cultural Biceps' for Jewish Youths

Story of Y.M.H.A. Growth Gained from Jewish Welfare Leader

Strictly speaking, there is little of the quality of a testimonial, "human interest" in an anniversary celebration by a Young Men's Hebrew Association. A story, to attract attention, must deal with action, be warm with novelty and rich with drama.

Behind the sixty years' progress of the Y.M.H.A. organization there is merely a record of repeatedly published, small notices of meetings, contests, lectures, campaigns and anniversaries. Nevertheless the story of Y.M.H.A. when pieced together is a moving history.

The writer gathered much of his information from a man who tomorrow night will be honored at a testimonial dinner marking the completion of twenty-five years of service that has resulted in the creation of hundreds of community centers in this country and Canada. He is Harry L. Gluckman, executive director of the Jewish Welfare Board.

Looks to Youth

"I believe," says Mr. Gluckman, "that our present leadership in Jewry needs repair. It is growing old. The average young man today is twenty-two years of age. In 1874, when a group of men, including Sol D. Solomon, Dr. Simon Newton Leo, Julius J. Frank, Dr. de Sola Mendes, Meyer S. Isaacs, William Strauss, Arnold Tanzer and Adolph S. Sanger, gathered at 230 West 33rd Street for the purpose of creating a Jewish youth men's organization.

The idea met with approval, especially among the people for whom the organization was created. A group convened, avowed its interest in Jewish affairs and headlined their interests as religious and cultural. An objective was physical and intellectual self-development.

Movement Spread Quickly

In many cities and villages similar groups were organized. Isolated groups in some cases succeeded in obtaining the cooperation of the older Jewish community organizations and rabbinical leaders. For a few dollars they rented gymnasiums and meeting halls.

James W. Wise Says Jews Have Peace as Objective

The Jews are the chosen people looked upon as the way to a peace-producing internationalism through roads of revolutionary and reactionary movements," James Waterman Wise, editor of "Opinion," declared in an address at the weekly Bronx Forum which met in the synagogue of the Temple Adath Israel, 169th Street and the Grand Concourse, Bronx.

"The hostility that is manifesting itself in Germany, he warned, 'has not yet run its course. Let's at least derive the benefit out of what has happened. Let not the tragic events that have attached a stigma to Germany, have occurred in vain. It is time for us to awaken to the actualities of Jewish life."

Women Instructed On Care of Infants

More than a thousand mothers last year attended the school for mothers operated by the Bronx Hospital, Fulton Avenue and 169th Street, William B. Seltzer, superintendent announced yesterday.

Classes are held once a week for the purpose of giving instruction to mothers in the care of bathing their babies. They are under the direction of the obstetric department of the hospital. The hospital provides this service to all mothers in its care.

HARRY L. GLUCKMAN

For several months the Manhattan unit met in the trustees' room of Temple Emanuel. Later a small house at 112 West 21st Street was rented. Success accompanying these efforts, the pioneer group was obliged to take larger quarters. A commodious building at 110 West 42nd Street was subleased. Gymnasium, bowling alleys, reading rooms, club-rooms were among the conveniences offered members.

It is not difficult to understand the enthusiasm which seized the members of the organization who without evangelizing managed to spread the good word and attract a considerable number of supporters. For a modest sum a young man could enjoy the conveniences of otherwise expensive club life, and good companionship in the labyrinth.

Gluckman Interview

"When Harry L. Gluckman first joined the Y.M.H.A. he was seven years of age. He took an active interest in the work at the institution, growing with it.

Yesterday, in an interview at his offices in Federation Building, he spoke of the spontaneity with which the Jewish youngsters began playing ball games, joined forces with the Y.M.H.A. He spoke of many other things as well, anti-Semitism for instance, which he reflected is a problem which faces not only the adult Jewish population. At the age of eleven or twelve youngsters are face to face with the problem of discrimination. Members in "A" or a community center, therefore, becomes of first-rate importance.

The great hope of Harry Gluckman is to stage a meeting that will hold the attention of young men and women between the ages of twenty and thirty, and which will eventuate their participation in Jewish affairs, arouse their Jewish consciousness and bring them together in strong union. The convalee would be called an international youth conference, held in Washington, D. C., or in Tel Aviv, and would be financed by accumulated contributions of world Jewish organizations. Gluckman could describe precisely what machinery he would use in putting his plan into execution, but he was clear as to the purpose of such meeting:

"Hundreds of thousands of Jewish young people are today not in any way playing a part in the communal life of their people. They must be aroused. They must take the reins of leadership into their own hands. The leadership of their elders is fast waning."

Mr. Gluckman is a member of the board of directors of the "NY," of the National Council of the B'nai B'rith of America; of the Council and of the Administrative Committee of the World Jewish Agency for Palestine, and treasurer for the American Palestine Campaign. He was chairman of the "Romance of the People" pageant committee.

One of the complaints Mr. Gluckman makes is that there is overemphasis among young Americans upon athletic development, reacting to the disadvantage of their cultural growth.

He is behind the proposed Macabre movement in the United States, now progressing under the leadership of Nathan L. Goldstein, but he holds that the physical training aspect must be relegated to secondary importance.

We must think first of developing our "cultural biceps," he says.

The French paper revealed that Darius, publisher of the Bordeaux newspaper Midi, sold to the Nazis forged bonds given him by Stavisky, which the Nazis knew to be fraudulent but accepted in order to control the paper's circulation. Darius, a "right-winger," submitted himself to the controls of the Gestapo, directly to the director of Berlin, attacking the German refugees in France on direct orders from Berlin. At the same time it was revealed that Stavisky was non-Jewish and that both his parents and grandparents were non-Jew. He was instrumental in converting his mother to Catholicism from the Greek Orthodox faith, which the French press mistook for conversion from Judaism. There was some agitation against Jews, but was confined to the main to insignificant anti-Semitic aspects.

Sapiro Takes Stand At Conspiracy Trial Before Chicago Court

New York Lawyer Outlines How He Organized the Laundry Business

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Aaron Sapiro, New York lawyer on trial here as one of eighteen defendants on racket conspiracy charges contended to act as his own attorney today, outlining how he organized the laundry business in Chicago.

"It was for the good of the industry," Sapiro said. "We were trying to build a real industry here just as we are now attempting to do for many businesses in Washington. We had our little troubles, but as the NRA is having it troubles with chiselers."

Sapiro declared that he alone was responsible for the acts of the associates while he was organizer. He said that Alderman Oscar Nelson, another defendant, had no connection with activities other than as attorney for one of the unions involved.

Rogny Congress Stand Assailed

January 24th, 1934.
Editor, The Jewish Daily Bulletin:
Dr. Rogny's article in your paper is a conspicuous indication of the confusion of thought which prevails in our community with regard to the most vital problem with which we are confronted. His statement is a conglomeration of inconsistencies and shows a complete lack of comprehension of what is essential in the Jewish situation. None of the opponents of the Jewish World Congress has offered such absurd arguments against that movement as presented by Dr. Rogny, at one time ardent adherent to the Congress idea. Let us analyze his argument point by point. Dr. Rogny claims that unity in Jewish life is not obtainable unless under dictatorship, and a dictatorship in our community, bound together by purely voluntary and moral forces, cannot be enforced, unity is therefore cut of the question.

I beg to differ with Dr. Rogny. I do believe that unity can be achieved, if the Jewish masses throughout the world, by means of democratic elections would bring into effect a united action at this most crucial time in Jewish history.

The Zionist movement is split into many warring factions and if nevertheless the Zionists have succeeded in uniting hundreds of thousands of Jews under their banner in service to the Zionist ideal, why should it be impossible to unite still larger numbers for the sake of defense against the most ruthless attack on our rights and existence?

Dr. Rogny says there has been from time to time effective unity, such as at the peace conference and at the recent London conference in behalf of the German Jewish refugees. Dr. Rogny states that in these cases a specific goal was to be reached on which unity could be based. Let me ask Dr. Rogny whether maintaining our status as equal citizens in every part of the world is not such a specific goal on which unity can be attained. As a matter of fact, the examples stated by Dr. Rogny are rather ill chosen. No real unity prevailed among the Jewish delegates at the peace conference nor at the recent London conference. Louis Marshall, for example, and other delegates, were not in favor of the nationalist demands raised by the representatives of Eastern European Jewry. They were not even heartily in favor of the minority rights, for which they were a valiant fight. But they felt that they should help the Jewish communities in Eastern Europe to obtain those rights which corresponded to the wishes of the large Jewish masses of these communities. While the Alliance Israélite Universelle refused to join the Committee of Jewish Delegations.

At the recent London conference the delegates agreed to disagree. The autonomous status of the participating organizations was recognized, and Jewish unity was not one bit advanced by the deliberations in London.

The World Jewish Congress, Dr. Rogny further states, cannot drown opposition or cover conflicts of divergent theories and ideologies of Jewish life. It was possible to achieve unity of action between Zionists and non-Zionists with regard to the upbuilding of Palestine, with regard to the question around the Jewish logic which attacked the differences prevail, but according to Dr. Rogny, unity is not attainable with regard to the fight against anti-Semitism. No ideological differences whatever exist among Jews with regard to the necessity to combat the anti-Semitic menace. This statement of Dr. Rogny is proof of the utter lack of understanding of his entire argument, which tries to simplify the complicated and to complicate the simple. At no time were the Jewish people so ready and eager for united action as at present. I am eager to learn from Dr. Rogny what are the ideological differences which divide the Jewish people with regard to combating the present crisis, which has reached an unprecedented scope.

Dr. Rogny is worried that the World Jewish Congress will assume the right to guide the policies of the present crisis, which has reached an unprecedented scope. Dr. Rogny is worried that the World Jewish Congress will assume the right to guide the policies of the present crisis, which has reached an unprecedented scope. Dr. Rogny is worried that the World Jewish Congress will assume the right to guide the policies of the present crisis, which has reached an unprecedented scope.

The obvious purpose of a World Jewish Congress is to unite the Jews in the fight against the growing anti-Semitic menace to life and to shape the internal relations of each community to its government. None of the Jewish world conferences has ever attempted such an task. It is clear that Dr. Rogny deliberately chooses the term "parliament" in order to create the impression that it will be the purpose of the World Congress to legislate and not to organize the Jewish communities. It hardly requires any argument that a voluntary assembly can and will never impose laws on the participating communities. The task of the World Congress is to help each community in its fight for the maintenance of their legal, political and economic position. To obtain the aid of World Jewry for those measures each of them considers as serving their best interests and to complicate matters for them.

the Jews. It is again obvious that the World Congress will never try to impose minority rights upon the Jews of the United States, France or England, where minority rights are not desired by the Jewish population. The Congress proponents have at no time proclaimed such a goal. Dr. Rogny further enlightens us by stating that minority rights mean the establishment of a caste society. However there are minority rights, he claims, there are also minority disabilities, numerous classisms in political life, in the professions, in general schools, etc. Dr. Rogny displays an amazing ignorance with regard to the meaning of minority rights. Minority rights are not minor rights. To declare minority rights to be identical with numerous classisms and other disabilities is an unpardonable error. Minority rights, as a matter of fact, mean full equal status for every Jew as an individual citizen, with the addition of guaranteeing him also the right of cultivating his own language, culture, etc. Dr. Rogny is afraid that minority rights might hasten the coming of a caste society and he urges the Jewish world to continue its struggle for the retention of democratic traditions. It is true and genuine democracy not to permit the major part of the population to suppress the minority. The attempt of Dr. Rogny to discredit the minority groups by terming them castes is neither reasonable nor logical.

Are the Jews in Poland or in Lithuania a caste? Dr. Rogny should know that in eastern European countries conditions prevail which are very different from ours. In the province of Galicia it deals on the 800,000 Jews whether Galicia should be termed a Ukrainian or Polish province. If at the census they declare themselves to be Poles, the Ukrainians might revenge themselves with pogroms, and vice versa. To adopt a neutral or Jewish position is for them a command of wisdom and necessity. This attitude of division prevails in a city like Wilno with regard to the Lithuanians and the Poles, and I could enumerate many number of similar examples. And once more Dr. Rogny reiterates his claim that the Congress desires minority rights for the Jews of the United States, Great Britain and France, a claim too preposterous to justify serious attention.

Let me say in conclusion that we are lost if the Jewish community in every country has to fight single-handed. Adopted by World Jewry, the Jewish position in this matter will still be saved. But left to themselves, Austrian Jewry is unquestionably doomed. The 17,000,000 Jews throughout the world, if united, are a material moral and political force of considerable strength. Disunited, divided and scattered, we are bound to be the defenseless object of attack and contempt. Only in unity and organization lies our future.

If the representatives of American Jewry could join with the representatives of other communities in 1919 in order to obtain minority rights, they certainly would be justified today once more in combining forces in order to defend their hard-won rights, and the Jewish position in Germany from destruction, and to help them in their battle against the sinister medieval forces which threaten their very existence.

Kashruth Body to Be Formed in Detroit By Synagogue Group

Will Aim to Establish the Kosher Law in the Whole Community

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)
DETROIT, Jan. 25.—An organization adequate to insure kashruth in Detroit will be formed here by a council of local synagogues organized as a result of a series of meetings held under the chairman Rabbi A. M. Hershaman.

Definite decision to form such a central organization was reached at a meeting of representatives of twenty-two synagogues held at Congregation Shaarey Zedek. Findings and recommendations of a survey conducted by the Detroit Kashruth Committee were submitted to this meeting. The survey committee consists of Maurice H. Zuckerman, J. K. Smith and Ben. F. Goldman. The committee was recommended to hire a man to conduct the desired survey. Following submission of the report the committee stated:

"In view of our findings, the committee feels that it is absolutely necessary for the synagogues of Detroit to form an organization adequate to insure kashruth for the community."

The first of the recommendations adopted by the meeting calls for the organization of synagogues. A copy of the findings and recommendations of the committee has been sent to each synagogue. All congregations are asked to select official delegates, who on Monday evening, January 29, will meet at the Shaarey Zedek Council of Detroit, at an organization meeting at the Shaarey Zedek on Wednesday, January 31. At this meeting the delegates will elect the members of the Kashruth Council of Detroit, and the officially chosen spokesmen will then call a conference of rabbis, schochetim, wholesalers and butchers to discuss the kashruth problems that have arisen here.

S. Rothstein, En Route to Palestine, Realizes Dream

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SEATTLE, Washington, January 25.—The dream of a life time for S. Rothstein has been realized. Last night he and his wife, their eleven-year old son and five-year-old daughter boarded a ship for New York, where they will sail, January 31, on the Aquitania to make their home in Palestine.

For twenty-five years, the eyes of Sam Rothstein have been turned to "Eretz Yisrael," the land of Israel. He built a prospering business as a bag manufacturer, became president of the Zionist Organization, founded the Young Judea movement in Vancouver, headed a Jewish National Fund drive, is a B'nai B'rith leader, has been a member of the Community Chest board of governors and treasurer of Shaarey Zedek congregation.

"But always my heart longed for the Jewish homeland," he said. "I want my children to learn to speak Hebrew there as their native tongue, to live in the Jewish atmosphere, to help build a Jewish homeland."

"And now I will fulfill my dream. My family will stay in Palestine, but this summer I plan to return to Vancouver to dispose of my business and to take my fifteen-year-old son, now in high school, back with me to the Holy Land."

Canadian Anti-Semites Call for United Front to Boycott Jews

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—The local French Canadian Daily Le Devoir has openly espoused the cause of anti-Semitism and is using scare headlines in an attempt to organize a boycott against the Jews.

Quoting printed material of the Canadian Jewish Congress, the paper demands: "If the Jews organize for mutual defense why cannot the French Canadians do the same?" The documents of the Congress, appeal for funds and a "confidential" circular describing the anti-Semitic activities in Quebec are used to "prove" that the Jews are organizing against other nationalities in the province.

Nathan I. Saltzman, president of the district, will be chairman of the gathering. Nathan E. Goldstein, chairman of the Western Massachusetts Zionist districts, will bring greetings.

RABBI LEVELS ATTACK AT 'DEADEST' JEWS

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 25.—Springfield was characterized as the "deadest Jewish community in the country" by Rabbi David M. Eichhorn of Mount Sinai Temple, the only reform congregation in the city, in an appeal for the support of the World Jewish Congress. The president of the Springfield Branch of the American Jewish Congress, he scored local Jews for their passive stand in the German situation. "Not one mass meeting was held to protest the German atrocities, nor to build up a boycott against Germany," he said. "You can point to a single worldly element of propaganda for putting an end to Hitlerism, in a city of 100,000 Jews."

Remains of Lost Ages Are Found in Palestine

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 25.—Dr. Nelson Gluck, professor in the American School of Oriental Research and faculty member of the Hebrew Union College, addressing the Classical and Semitic Clubs of Yale University, announced that traces of the culture of prehistoric man have been recently discovered in Palestine. Dr. Gluck leaves this country shortly to join another expedition which will excavate in the region.

Speaking on "Archaeological Discoveries in Transjordan and Palestine," Dr. Gluck said that the ancient city of Jericho, a Jewish city was one of the most typical Roman cities left today, despite its great distance from Roman centers. Excavations have been in progress here for many years.

Springfield Silver Shirts Push Candidate for Congress

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 25.—The Silver Shirts of America, who have recently organized here as a political group, will have a candidate for Congress in the forthcoming second district campaign. Earl W. London, of Temple Street, unsuccessful aspirant two years ago for the Republican nomination for Congress, will eventually be joined by Joshua L. Brooks, has announced his candidacy.

With German affairs. Born in Germany, he emigrated to this country at an early age and became a soldier under Teddy Roosevelt, when the man who was later made President of the United States took part in the Spanish American War.

Later Emerson earned the title, "Colonel" by appointment to that rank in the New York State National Guard.

Early in the World War, Emerson was given the opportunity to clear out of enemy territory, according to statements by American citizens in Berlin at the time, but he remained until he was taken as prisoner of war. He was interned in enemy territory during the balance of the war, at the close of which he has returned to the United States.

He has spoken frequently during recent months in behalf of the Hitler government, and at one public session in a White Plains church he gave vent to a merciless attack upon the Jews.

New Orleans Relief Quota Set at $10,000 Intensive Drive

Campaign Officially Launched At Luncheon Honoring Rabbi Heller

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25.—A $10,000 quota for the emergency campaign to settle German Jewish refugees in Palestine was accepted last night at the Orleans Jewish at one of the largest mass meetings held here in recent years. An intensive drive to reach the objective set by the meeting got under way at once, leaders declaring that they were confident of success since all elements among the Jews are behind the drive.

The drive was officially launched at a luncheon at the Hotel Elmer in honor of Rabbi James G. Heller of Cincinnati who delivered the principal address. Monte Lemann, noted Jewish leader, spoke for the American Wickersham Crime Commission and the Jewish Agency for Palestine, presided at the luncheon. Among the speakers were Rabbi Louis Emil Leizer, Mendel Silber and Louis Binstock, who pledged their support for a drive. A resolution was adopted to support the emergency campaign for the Jews and pledging united support for German Jewish settlement in Palestine. Mendel N. Silver, director of the American Palestine Campaign for the South, appealed for support for the Gevushshafen campaign.

Hebrew Union College To Hold Summer Session

(Jewish Daily Bulletin)

CINCINNATI, Jan. 25.—Hebrew Union College Summer School, closed for the winter session, will hold a session beginning July 9, the board of governors announced. N. Henry Cohen, president of the college, said the economies effected by the budget committee would enable it to close 1933 without a deficit. Appropriations in 1932-1933 totaled $439,319. Nineteen New Companies Are Booked in Palestine

(T.A. Special Correspondence)

JERUSALEM, Jan. 3.—Fifteen new Jewish banks are included among nineteen new companies registered here, according to the first issue of the Palestine Gazette of January, 1934. One of the banks has a capital of £1,000 and another of £5,000. There is also a health company and a life insurance company.

Other companies include an electroplated and metal goods factory, chemical works, textile factory, the Jewish Electric Shipping Agency, the "Silvia Marxist" (Marxist Library) for publications on social subjects, a candy factory, and a water installation. The industry is cooperative society, a Jewish transport concern.
