South African Jews

THE report published in to-day's Jewish Daily Bulletin about the tremendous success of the Keren Hayesod banquet held in Johannesburg, South Africa, recalls once more the extraordinary generosity of that Jewish community and its constant devotion to the highest Jewish ideals. Even though South Africa has also been affected by the universal depression, and the Jewish community there is not as prosperous as it used to be, the sum of thirty-two thousand pounds was raised at this banquet. Nahum Sokolow, the president of the world Zionist organization, who came to South Africa by airplane from Palestine for this occasion, was accorded a most enthusiastic ovation. General Jan Smuts, Minister of Justice, was the principal speaker

General Smuts was one of a small group of far-sighted statesmen who were instrumental in bringing about the Bal-four Declaration. Since then he has manifested on all occasions genuine concern for the rehabilitation of Palestine in the spirit of that Declaration. His own interpretation of that declaration is very much like that of Lord Balfour. He visualizes the idealism that has made the rebuilding of Palestine as the Jewish National Homeland such a remarkable practical success.

The Jewish community of Johannesburg has set an inspiring example of generosity and sacri-fice to the Jewish communities of other lands. The Jewish leadership of South African Jewry has again demonstrated its ability to do its full share for the most constructive work in Jewish life today.

Nazi Culture
Colonel von Papen, whose anti-American activities in this country during the early part of the World War are still remem-bered, in a speech before the People's League of Germandom, declares that the German people must extend their view beyond the borders of the Reich and demand for all Germans everythere the right of existence and eedom of development for their culture. He added that this free om would not divide but rathr unite nations and would do way with the disastrous disord that endangers Europe's potion in the world.

Attempt Made to Kidnap College Editor Because Of Anti-Fascist Leanings

An apparent attempt to kidnap James A. Wechsler, editor of the Columbia Spectator, was reported yesterday by Wechsler to univer-sity authorities. No other reason for the attempt can be hazarded, friends of Wechsler say, other than that the left wing activities of the Spectator earlier in the year may have been the cause. It is recalled that swastikas were recalled that swastikas were strewn around the newspaper office then because of its anti-Fas-

General Strike Called by Assembly in Palestine as Gov't Protest

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
JERUSALEM, May 22.—A call for the mobilization of all Jews in Palestine for the general strike to be held tomorrow as a protest against the immigration policy of the Palestine government was is-sued today over the signatures of the Jewish communities of Jeru-salem, Tel Aviv and Haifa, the Vaad Leumi, the Jewish National Council of Palestine, and various business associations.

The strike was decided upon at meeting of the Assefath Hanvicharim, the elected assembly of Jewish Palestine.

During the hours of the general strike '1 Wednesday, between noon and seven o'clock in the evening, all stores, retail and whole sale, all restaurants, cafes, offices, and factories, will remain closed.
All business will be suspended.

Mass meetings will be held all over Palestine, which will be ad-dressed by representatives of all political parties with the excep-tion of the Agudath Israel. The Agudath orthodox Jewish group, announced that it was in sym-pathy with the fight against immi-gration restriction, but declined to take part in the general strike.

Celler Protests U. S. Olympic Participation

Congressman Emanuel Celler yesterday went on record as being opposed to participation by the United States in the Olym-pic games in 1936 which are scheduled in Germany, on the ground that he discredits Nazi claims of equality of opportun-ity for Jewish athletes.

In a cable to Brigadier Gen-eral Charles H. Sherrill, Ameri-

Col. Sanctuary Writes Jewish Expose for 'Spiritual Profits'

In · small office at 156 Fifth avenue a true friend of Jewry holds forth. He "personally" is not anti-Semitic. Some of his best friends are Jews. He is the anonymous author of a recently published volume exposing the insidious secrets of world Jewry and is an official of the World Alliance Against Jewish Aggressiveness under whose sponsorship the book was published and placed in the hands of congressmen and others who might act upon the horrible

Jewish excesses it reveals. The gentleman is Colonel E. N. Sanctuary. The book is called "Are These Things So?"

Colonel Sanctuary gained his title as an officer in the American reserve forces. He has never been in the regular army, but at sixty and some odd years he retains the fine physical development of a soldier. Mentally, however, he leads a less violent life, and for leads a less violent life, and for years he has spent practically all his waking hours poring over musty volumes and current peri-odicals which reveal the diabolical historic and present day plans of the Jews for the overthrow of civilization. Colonel Sanctuary, who deserves share with Congressman Mc-Fadden that glorious title, Grand Old Man of Anti-Semitism, is a bibliophile, and as a result he commands such information on Semitism, including its Communist and other implications, as few persons outside the nuclear international Jewish command itself possess. Friend of Emerson

The doughty colonel shares many of the views of an old ac-quaintance, Colonel Edwin Emer-son, leader of the Friends of Germany, but he disclaims being a Nazi, as he contends Emerson ap-pears to be. He is connected with Protestant activities, and his deep knowledge of present day Jewry rostra of religious groups and through the media of a number of sect organs.
The World Alliance

The World Alliance Against Jewish Aggressiveness is, as the Jewish Aggressiveness is, as the phrase implies, worldwide in scope. Beyond this, however, Colonel Sanctuary will divulge no information regarding the high ideals and operations of the society, nor will he identify the good people describes that himse to be about devoting their lives to the noble cause of saving the world from the blight of Jewish aggressive-

He states that he has sent, in the name of the group, fifty copies of his most recent opus to Con-gressmen, and he indicated that other groups interested in having the government enlightened with regard to Jewish machinations have sent other copies to an en-larged circle of legislators.

The book required fourteen months to write, averaging about one page per day, and its publication was financed by the World Alliance A. J. A. When asked whether it was a work for love

The Revelations
The pamphlet sets forth many startling exposures of Jewry including:

"Litvinoff has many aliases, that he has a criminal record, and that he had an active part in the coldblooded official butchering of 2,

"That Karl Marx, in his Communist Manifesto of 1848, proposed to abolish such things as the home, religion, patriotism, morals, law etc., and his program has been carried on mostly by members of a certain race now controlling the only country being run on Marx's plar

"Members of that race deposited large sums of money to the credit of Lenin and Comrade Trotsky for the specific purpose of overthrow ing Russia

Mrs Lee Tulin, daughter of "Mars. Lee ruin, daugnter of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, was re-ported by a New York daily on her return from Russia as hav-ing said, "The Russian Govern-ment has moved forward with a certain ruthlessness. But suffer-ing is incidental and regretted by those who inflict it.'—

"And the evidence showing how the diabolical plan of the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion is being fulfilled in 1934."

Quote Anti-Semites

All these and many more equally startling things the colonel reveals in his expose. He has avidly pounced upon many public utter-ances of Jews condemning their race, and these statements appear at length as the most brazen proof of Jewish ethical turpitude. In an interview he referred to the state-ments of a number of professional Jewish anti-Semites as crowning proof of his contentions.

Sanctuary does not admit being a member of any of the many anti-administration organizations which are springing up throughout the country, although it is known on good authority that he is an acquaintance of leaders in the Silver Shirt trade

In his own words, Colonel Sa tuary was "inspired to reveal the disclosures embraced by 'Are These Things So?' It is an un-biased statement of historical facts, which allows people to draw their own conclusions as to the answers. I am personally not an anti-Semitic, except in the sense that I abhor 'apostate Jews.' Many critics have taken me to task for having been too mild with the Jews. Some of my best friends are Jews."

Jewish Writer Is 'Amazed' At Cunard Kosher Service

"I am amazed at the efficiency of the Jewish religious and dietetic services on board the Cunard liner Berengaria," Frederick H. Samuel, travel correspondent for The London Jewish Chronicle, writes in a current article.

"There is no detail of the Cun ard kosher service that is not ac-tually and totally supervised by Dr. Hertz's accredited representa-Dr. Hertz's accreates representa-tives at London and Southampton," he continues. Hadassah Leader Speaks on Jewish Daily Bulletin WEVD Program

Palestine, as seen less than a month ago after an absence of several years, was described by Mrs. Samuel W. Herman Bernstein, editor of the Bulletin, introduced the speaker.

Commenting on the "amazingly rapid development" of the Holy Land, Mrs. Halprin dec.ared:: "Non-Jews as well as Jews everywhere recognize the tragedy of the Jewish position and the need for a constructive answer to the problem of Jewish homelessness In Palestine the Jewish community is engaged in the task of rebuilding a home, a task for which it received the official sanction of the world seventeen years ago, when fifty-two leading nations endorsed the Balfour Declaration issued by Great Britain."

Plan Real Funeral at Last For Liebermann, Dead 54 Years

"We Jews are a part of humanity. Our deliverance, therefore, can come only through the deliverance come only through the deliverance of humanity." It is a rather sar-donic comment upon this state-ment that not long after its utterance the writer, a victim of anti-Semitism, shot himself to death. He was Aaron Samuel Liebermann, the father of Jewish socialism. After his demise fifty-four years ago in Syracuse, little was said of his accomplishments in the local journals. The disgraceful combination of socialism and suicide precluded public notice of the subject, however significant were his contributions to civilization.

his contributions to civilization.

It was not until 1916 when members of the Workingmen's Circle under the leadership of Louis Arkin, Boston editor of "The Forward," organized a search for his remains, that it became known that the labor champion of the Jews lay in an unmarked road-Jews lay in an unmarked road-side grave somewhere up-state. The locality, however, was only definitely established last week when the body was disinterred.

Real Funeral at Last And now, after half a century, Liebermann will be given a real funeral. Amid the eulogies of his disciples' descendants he will be disciples' descendants he will be buried in the Mount Carmel Cemetery of the Workingmen's Circle late in June.

Liebermann, who may be de-scribed as the economic emanci-pator of the Jews, was born in Lunno, a small town in the erstwhile Russian province of Grodno, in 1851. Family tradition directed the course of his education to the town of Yeshiva. But during his rabbinical studies he encountered among his colleagues the doctrines

These, aided by the influence of Erler's satiric work, "The Specta-tor in the House of Israel," distracted his interests from the more orthodox channels, and he began to explore the Marxian regions of thought. Thence he arrived at the startling derivation of socialism Hebrew sages. Very definitely, by the use of quotations, he estab-lished the chain of labor apostles from Moses to Marx, and on to Lassalle.

There were, of course, countless other Jewish socialists at that time These, however, treated the prob lem as one affecting only the Russian people. Liebermann intro-duced a consideration of his own race. He rejected the content that Jews as a people of unproductive elements were negligible factors in the social scheme.

"We must enrich the point of view of our wise men," he said, "Those who laid down the prin-ciple of 'Love thy labor,' For that is the best that can be said of any man."

The walls of a theological study hall could not confine his propa-ganda. He decamped, and went the Wilna Technological Institute where, with Aaron Zundelowitz, a member of the staff of the Lon-don Forward, he continued his chosen work along with his aca-demic tasks. After graduation, three years later, he went about the country ostensibly as an in-surance agent, but really as a Marxian agitator. The government quickly punctuated his work, and had him deported. Berlin came next, and there, with Zundelowitz, he organized the first Jewish Socialist League. Thence they trav-eled to London, where Liebermann joined the staff of Let There Be Light, a periodical.

Founded "The Truth

It was not long, however, before he established his own organ. The Truth, written entirely in Hebrew There were translations for the greater Jewish masses into Jewish and Russian, but the official language of this Semitic vehicle of socialism was to be that of the first Semitic scribes of socialism. Difficulties on the Russian border made it necessary for Liebermann himself, after the fourth issue of nimser, after the fourth issue of The Truth, to supervise the trans-fer of the incendiary material on the continent. Leaving London, he went to Vienna. Agents of the Tsar, however, finally outwitted him, and he was sentenced to s year in prison. Following his release, rumors of the freedom of expression in America exerted a strong influence up-on Liebermann. Pursuing the illusion to these shores, he took up his abode in New York, where he associated himself immediately with the Narodowolzy, the People's Party. After two days anti-Semi-tism manifested itself among the comrades and, despairingly, Liebermann fled to Syracuse

Less than a week after his ar-rival there, in his room above a bakeshop he made his final com-ment upon the world.

"For one who suffers there is no place on earth. Judge me not adversely until you come to under-stand my position." Relinquishing the pen that had found a place in the economic sun for his people, he took up his suicidal revolver.

Otto Kahn Home to Echo Soon To Lessons of Catholic Misses

The sale last week of his impos- house. Fitted out with expensive ing mansion at Fifth avenue and Ninety-first street to the Academy of the Sacred Heart gives the final fillip to the story of Otto H. Kahn, late financier and patron of the arts.

In the heart of the fashionable and jealously guarded residential section on upper Fifth avenue, the Kahn residence had long been considered one of New York's most distinguished homes.

It embodied, to some extent, all that Kahn himself lived for. The banker, who was called "the man who made Wall street art-conscious," bought the site of the building from Andrew Carnegie in 1916.

The four-story building was designed by two architests, Charles Plerrepont H. Gilbert and J. Armstrong Stenhouse, Englishman. It is regarded as a fine example of Franch architecture. French architecture and is one of breight architecture and is one of the largest private houses in Man-hattan, covering more than 13, 000 square feet. Atrocity Against Jews in Germany Forces Them Into Cultural Ghetto

The following article was published in the Baltimore Sun on May 18, 1934. Its author is anonymous. He is a special corres-pondent for The Sun and is spending his time in general study of BERLIN, April 15.—This is an atrocity story; the tale of a Nazi atrocity against Jews. I watched it for three hours last night, and so did 800 others. The German Government will not deny it. This is a perfectly official and licensed atrocity. It has been going on for months—every evening of the week except Friday. Any Jew who wishes can subject himself to this atrocity, and thousands wish to.

Jews have been killed, tortured and beaten up since Hitler came into power. Jews have been pil-loried and boycotted. All very bad. But yesterday's atrocity wa much worse. Worse because it is peaceful, continuous, enjoyable and done to a musical accompaniment. It took place in the Ber-liner Theater. No. S. A.'s or S. S.'s were there. The only Aryans pres-ent were the fire inspector and the policeman.

Tales of Hoffman

This is an atrocity which Jews inflict upon themselves while the Nazis look on, It was a perform-ance of 'The Tales of Hoffmann' given by a troupe consisting of Jewish artists only. The spectator buys a ticket which is accomby a mimeographed p mit. The bearer of this permit, it reads, 'who guarantees that he is a Jew, is entitled, on producing an identification card showing his photograph, to attend today's en-tertainment.' Art by, of and for Jews only.

Cultural Ghetto

This excellent performance impressed me as the worst piece of barbarism I had ever witnessed. It was the deliberate creation of cultural Ghetto.

The Nazi regime made it im-possible for any Jew, no matter how talented, how patriotic, how Aryanlike in exterior, to act, play music or conduct before a German audience. Those Jewish artists who could fled the country, but the two thousand who remained were free to sell newspapers in certain districts, or starve, or live on charity. Some of them thereupon took the initiative and organized the German-Jewish League of Cul-ture. This is the body which staged the 'Tales of Hoffmann.'

The directors of the league have strict instructions to bar all What if an Aryan should Aryans. What if an Aryan successful discover that a number of the findest artists of Germany have been pushed into a Ghetto where no Teuton eye can see them! No German newspaper is allowed to print reviews of the league's per-formances. What if some one should delicately hint that there was an oasis in that vast desert of German theater which the Nazis have created.

Night Life

German Jews do not go to German theaters or concerts. In the beginning, when they tried, some were beaten up, and others were conscious of the discomfort which they caused their Aryan seafneighbors. But then the performances proved to be so poor that the Juws became as disinterested in them as the Gentiles. the loud st complaints in Germany from taxi chauffeurs, who declared that since few people now went to theaters and cinemas, night life was dead and they could scarcely get passengers after 10 P. M. In-deed, I could not help but notice that after that hour even popular evening thoroughfares like the Kurfuerstendamm were half-de-

League of Culture. This society, one would think, would maintain closest contacts with Goebbels' Ministry of Proraganda and Education. But no, its most intimate touch with the Hitler regime is through Herr Schmitt, the Minister of Economy. This strange cir-cumstance has a very simple ex-planation: Schmitt's department suffers most from the world-wide Jewish boyco't of German exports, and Schmitt is under the illusion that this cultural atrocity will moderate foreign Jewish opposition to the Nazi regime. The reestablishment of a Ghetto, he believes will impress world Jewry with the freedom which the National So-cialists have granted to German

Impurity

Directly, however, the league operates under the supervision of Herr Goebbels. Before a drama, operetta or symphony is produced his office must approve.

For instance, it vetoed Schiller's 'Wallenstein' on the ground that so classic a German author must not be impurified by having his lines spoken from Jewish mouths. It spoken from Jewish mouths. It prohibited 'Uriel Acosta' because it manifests Jewish spiritual ag-gressiveness and the strength of Jewish convictions. Anything, on the other hand, which emphasizes Jewish separateness and the existence of a Jewish race is enthusiastically encouraged. For such teachings serve the Nazis as confirmation of the fundamental the-sis that the Jews are a foreign element in the German nation.

Zionism, naturally, is therefore nursed by the Hitler regime, and the Juedische Rundschau, the or-gan of the Zionist organization of Germany, has practically quad-rupled its circulation since the National Socialists took office.

Differences

When the Juedische Rundschau appears with a streamer across its first page reading 'Juedische Eig-enart.' or Jewish Uniqueness, the Nazis applaud, for this reflects their own views on the subject. The Jews, they argue, are a peculiar body of people who cannot form part of the German na-tion. The National Socialists are anxious to stress every racial division because it diverts attention from class divisions, and they are particularly happy to stress the differences between German Jews and German Aryans.

Nationalism begets nationalism and in the intensely chauvinistic atmosphere which envelops Germany today the Jews, too, have experienced an accession to nationalistic sentiment. It is wrong to suppose that all Jews are op-posed to Hitlerian philosophy. On the contrary, the Fuelter counts many enthusiastic followers among Jews, and, if the Nazis would only let them, a large number of bourgeois Jews would joy-fully march under the Hakenkreuz banner. But the Nazis do not let them, and Jews accordingly are thrown back upon themselves Jews cling closer to one another Thus it happens that the Ghetto which the Nazis demarcate for the Jews acquires internal cohesion. Jews buy from one another. Jews patronize only Jewish physicians. Jews visit only Jewish-owned

The program book of last night's performance of the "Tales of Hoffmann' looks almost like a directory of Jewish business in Berlin. Only Jews advertise therein. Jews try, if they can, to avoid giving advertisements to German dailies.

In the Ghetto one must walk arily. The German-Jewish warily. The German-Jewish League of Culture must make as In their distress, the Jewish little noise as possible. Its regu-artist and the Jewish art lover lar ticket-purchasers are express-established the German-Jewish ly requested not to wear evening dress at performances, in fact to dress modestly lest the goyim take umbrage at manifestations of Jew-

h prosperity. In the theater fover stood a book kiosk. This is probably the only book store in Germany where Nazi literature is not sold, not even the Fuehrer's Mein Kampf. But there were volumes on the Dreifuss case, on ancient Jewish customs, on racial theory, on the customs, on racial theory, on the history of Zionism, on the geography of Palestine, on various phases of Jewish nationalism, and on the Talmud—and German-Hebrew dictionaries

Among the Jewish bourgeoisie in Germany a strong element op-poses the popular trend toward Zionism because it sees the danger of thereby acquiescing in the Nazi principle that the Jews do not belong to the German nation, but constitute one themselves. wise people, however, are power-less to block the Nazi plan of con-structing a Ghetto wall around the

All Publication Rights Of Wassermann Novel Go to Jewish Book Union

(J.T.A. Special Correspondence) BERLIN, May 8. — The Jewish Book Union of Germany (Juedische Buchvereinigung), announces that it has succeeded in obtaining the rights for the publication of Jacob Wassermann's last novel which he had just completed before he died

The Jewish Book Union, it says, considers it a particularly important achievement to have secured for the German Jews the sole first opportunity of reading this valuable work by one of the greatest Jewish writers in the German language. The novel is entitled "Kerk oven's Third Existence," and is the last part of the trilogy, which began with the "Case of Mauritius." On account of the size of the book, which runs to about 640 pages, the Jewish Book Union will publish it in two volumes, and the first volume will appear on June

All those who are not yet mem bers of the Jewish Book Union are urged to join, which, it is pointed out, is the only way to obtain a copy.

of the German which is at present the Hitlerite view. He demands for Germans everywhere the right of existence and freedom of develop-ment for their culture. He de-mands this for Germans abroad while his government denies this very right to a portion of the Germans at home on racial or religious grounds.

The only "culture" that the Nazis are trying to develop in other lands is the "culture" of hate and bigotry. The only "view" that the Nazis are endeavoring to impose in foreign lands is the view of Hitlerism as opposed to peace, interna-tional goodwill and interracial co-operation. Colonel von Papen, with his notorious record, pleading for the freedom of development for Nazi culture, only accentuates the hypocrisy and arrogance be-hind the Hitlerite regime.

Rosenberg's Anti-Semitic Rag Froths at Mouth on Birthday

AMSTERDAM, May 14.—In celebration of the tenth anniversary of its establishment, "Der Welt-kampf," Alfred Rosenberg's own Jew-baiting sheet, in its latest issue, begins a new campaign of vil-lification and lies aimed at the Jews of the world.

This publication, which prides itself on being the oldest of Germany's anti-Semitic organs and which was founded by Alfred Rosenberg, the arch-enemy of every-thing Jewish, has been devoting all its columns to Jew-baiting. A special feature appearing in every issue of this venomous sheet is a section devoted entirely to news about Jews. It bears the heading, "World - Judaizing and news about Jews. It bears the heading, "World-Judaizing and Our Defense Against It," and is divided into two parts. The first part, under the caption of "Toy-ful news," reports anything un-favorable to Jewish interests, new attacks on Jews, or new Nazi anti-Jewish legislation. The second part, entitled "Sad News," reports events favorable to individual Jews or to the Jewish race as a whole. What Gives Them Joy

Here are some examples of the news carried in the "Joyful" col-umn: "From London-The chairman of the London committee for political refugees announces that young Jews from Germany are not wanted there. The sad thing about this is that we have to keep here these buds of the Jewish nation."
"From Liverpool—one of the oldest Jewish synagogues of England dating from 1690, has been burned down by unknown persons. Evi-dently the friends of 'El Shaddai' in England are becoming fewer

Among the "Sad" items this anti-Semitic paper reports: "From Italy-Raphael Szafar, representa-Italy—Raphael Szafar, representa-tive of the Jewish agency, in War-saw, has been honored by the King of Italy as Knight of the order of Corcha d'Italia. It is painful how ignorant Italian Fascista are of their own dangers." "From Poland—H. Farbatcin, a lew, for-mer member of the Zionist Exceutive, has been appointed Polish consul at Tel-Aviv. We give the Poles credit, however. Evidently, that garlic-smelling Jew-city."

"Evidence" of "Plots"

Another section, which hears as its heading the German transla-tion of the title of the classical Talmudic work, Shilchan Aruch, is devoted to satirizing any state ments appearing in print favorable to Jews. It is preceded by the following introduction:

"The Covered Table: Samplings from the Poison Kitchen of the Powers that Aim to Ruin the World. We especially recommend to our readers to study this section, the purpose of which is to show the world how the Jews are aiming to destroy Western cul-ture. Our readers are requested to co-operate with us and send us in ideas from Jewish writings similar to those we are publishing

The "Samplings" which follow and to which half of the paper is devoted cannot be regarded as anything else but the ravings of perverts and fanatics, without a single basis of fact. The Jewish gle basis of fact. The Jewish "Sanhedrim" have been in session since the time of Christ, and they have sentenced Hitler, just as they sentenced Christ, to d The reason why Germany had the inflation in 1921-1923 and has no gold today is that all the Jews of the world have been plotting against Germany for the last fifty

In the same tone these ravings go on for pages.

Nazism Totters in Milwaukee As Older Settlers Repudiate It

(Special to the J.D.B.)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 22.—
Although in New York and other cities American Nazi sympathizers have gained control of estab-lished German societies, local Hitlerites after a year of activity still find themselves unable to make headway.

At the outset the Milwaukee Nazis, organized to form the Friends of the New Germany, succeeded in arranging meetings that attracted as many as 600 persons. At their most recent public rally slightly over 200 persons appeared. Average attendance at the "Friends" sessions in the past three months has fallen below 100.

Nazi Speaker Heckled

At the last rally, much of the audience was comprised of radi-cals who hooted and hissed the speaker, Rev. John Schoenberger of Chicago, described as a former Russian Catholic priest. At one point they forced the speaker to halt his talk. Three of the radical ringleaders were thrust out by a dozen hefty Nazi ushers.

dozen neity Nazi usners. Schoenberger unleashed a vicious attack on the Jews and pictured Hilter in a "holy war," fighting "not the Jews as a race but the Jewish materialistic spirt." He asserted that Hilter "has at last brought unity to the German people," and charged tha "Stalin is a millionaire" and "mos and charged that of the commissars who rule Russia are Jews"

Disintegration of the Nazi organization here was explained by a local German writer as due part-ly to the character of the city's ermans and partly to the type of leadership in the Friends of the

Malcontents Leaders

One of the leaders was described as a "mad hatter" who was "eased out" of a half dozen established German societies as a trouble maker. Another was declared to be a transient, who was clared to be a transient, who was in the movement in Wilwaukee "for what he could get out of it." The membership of the Nazi group is still made up mainly of

Junket Plan Censure
(J.D.B. Special Correspondence)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 20. Despite protests of a delegation of three representatives of anti-Fascist organizations, sponsors of the Milwaukee State Teachers' College band tour to Germany yesterday again refused to halt the trip.

The delegation conferred with Hugo Anhalt, band director, and Dr. C. M. Purin, University of Wisconsin extension division director, and presented protests against the tour by the Milwaukee Musicians' Union, John Reed Club, Milwaukee Committee Against War and Fascism and ederated Trades Council.

The two men insisted the tour is not being subsidized by the Nazi government, and pointed out that the fifty-two band members are to give concerts in Germany in exchange for reduction in tour rates

All Jewish student members of the band, with one exception, have refused to join the tour, it is reported.

It was first issued by the Deutsche Legion, another fairly well Hitlerized outfit, about a yer ago.

The purpose of the pamphlet os-

This department has been so swamped with the accomplishments of Jews, particularly in Germany, it seems impossible that somewhere Jewis influence has not crept into the success of the listed outstanding "Aryans."

Going down the list of scientists produced by Germary one misses the names of Einstein, Ehrlich, Wassermann, and others whose names are possibly better known than those printed.

If it weren't so hot, and if we weren't s fernally lazy, it would be a good stunt to list the names of famous German Jews and see if it wouldn't top the United Ger-Societies record. On the f. rainy day, beinging with it cooling breezes, we'll go through the files and see what can be done about

In passing, it is interesting to speculate on the peculiar psychosis that causes Germany to refuse to recognize as her own the German Jewish Nobel Prize winners and others who have contributed so

We interviewed a fairly well known anti-Sem e the other day, one who has written volumes on chronic anti-Semitism, and we got from him much more than could be published under the interview. Odd how newspapermen are enjoined from publishing the most interesting aspects of interviews. Perhaps that's the reason columns such as these.

We break no faith in recording impression of William Dudley Pelley, with whom he talked for four or five hours one day, when day, wh the celebrated Silver Shirt leader came to town.

"Do you know what I think of this fellow, Pelley?" he asked. And then without waiting for encouragement, he went on, "He's just (Blue pencilled).

The anti-Semi'e said that there was nothing original in Pelley's theories, and cited authorities, allegedly given by the Chief him-self, for much of the dope peddled through the organs of the Silver Legion. Naturally if you were not in New York you couldn't see one of these speeches but now that Carroll has relented the entire population of the United States, regardless of where they live may, if there is a movie house in the vicinity, see an Earl Carroll

You've probably guessed the answer—he has had a talkie made out of his latest concoction, "Murder at the Vanities." Paramount transcribed a version of the show to the screen and it may be seen at the Rivoli daily,

Jack Oakle, Carl Brisson and Kitty Carlisle, tend to blend for a rather entertaining exhibit of talent. The story concerns the dastardly happenings that occur back stage during the opening night of the show. There is a murder, a display of death dealing weapons, few incidents pointing to dirty work and a solution supplied by Victor McLagien who plays the part of a police detective who has come to see the performance on his night off. This framework has given Mitchell Leisen, the director, a chance typical Vanities show in action both in front and behind the footlights but I must admit fit performance held at the Forty-that the plot itself is only inci-fourth Street Theatre.

However, the tunes although not distinguished are liteing and the dancing is better than average. Jack Oakie as the harassed stage manager is his usual amusing self. McLaglen as a loud flat-foot adds to the gaiety and the minor roles are adequately performed."

THE READER'S FORUM

May I draw your readers' at-tention to the danger of the pernicious boycott movement which has been launched by the Hitlerites in this country, and at the same time warn those who support the boycott of goods made in Hitler Germany against mistakes which unintentionally aid the criminal activities of the Nazis here.

The boycott of German goods arose spontaneously as a protest against Hitler's atrocities. It is a novement, carried out not only by Jewish groups, but by the trade unions, the socialist par-ties, and by all liberty-loving people of all countries. Its succ greatly worrying the present ty-rants of Germany.

Ostensibly as a counter-activity, a movement has been started by the followers of Hitler in America especially in New York, which goes under the slogan "boycott the boy-cotters." It declares a boycott against all those stores which refuse to import German goods. An organization has been created under the name of DAWA (Deutschchuss), to which those stores are invited to belong which do not take part in the boycott of German goods. Stores which belong to this organization get a DAWA sign to display in their windows and are listed in a guide book, so they may be patronized by the Nazi sympathizers. The meet-ing at Madison Square Garden was but a part of this campaign.

This movement, however, cannot be considered the defensive action which it pretends to be. Actually, it is a boycott against Jewish-owned stores. We know. for instance, of cases where a for instance, of cases where a storekeeper who continues to im-port German goods applied for membership in the DAWA, but was refused because he was a become a member, the Nazi symwill patronize his store instead of buying from the Jewish store near-by. Just as in Germany, what pretends to be an idealistic national movement, is in reality an attempt to get the business away from the anti-Nazi competi-

It is hard to say to what extent the DAWA and its boycott of Jewish stores will be effective, but that is not the most important consideration. The crime of this move ment consists in fomenting racial prejudices and hatreds in our country. It therefore becomes more necessary than ever to realize the danger from the Hitlerites' activities, to redouble the boycott of German goods, and to assist all those organizations which fight the Nazi criminals. But it is equally necessary to avoid any possible mistakes in carrying on this fight. The boy-cott of German goods is not di-rected against the German people. It has only one object, to hurt and weaken the Nazi regime of terror which enslaves the German people which has destroyed the labor organizations, done away with liberty, led the great German nation back to conditions of the darkest middle ages, and which seriously threatens peace.

This means also that we are not to boycott Germans or Ger-man-Americans; we boycott Ger-man goods and shipping, but not stores owned by Gern ans here. Most organizations which sponsor the boycott draw this essential distinction very clearly, but many individuals unfortunately do not

SLANTS ON SPORTS

The Big Fight

GROSSINGER'S COUNTRY CLUB, FERNDALE, N. Y., May 22.—We watched Barney Ross go through the lightweight king in better form. Bronzed by the sun to a healthy tan and in the very pink of condition, the champ revealed a more effective left jab than he did in the first Canzoneri fight some time ago.

Benny Leonard, the veteran battle-scarred ring master of a few years ago, is also here planning the strategic moves of the coming battle against Baby Face Jimmy McLarnin.

It is said in this sector of the battle front that Jimmy will be facing two men when he steps into the ring at the Madison Square Gardon Bowl on May 28. He will have to contend against the young and hard-hitting Ross and at the same time he will have to fight with the ghost of Benny Leonard whose spirit and cunning will be helping the Jewish champ in this resined arena.

"Introducing-

"Ladies and gentlemen! For the welterweight championship of the world, introducing in this corner at 138 pounds, the lightweight champion, the Jewish idol, the Chicago lad, Barney Ross."

After the tremendous burst of applause, cheers and boos that will follow this announcement, the veteran Joe Humphreys will continue, "In this corner, at 147 pounds, the welterweight title-holder of the world, 'Poison' Jimmy McLarnin."

Immediately after these words the referee will read the riot act to the boys, the managers will inspect their gloves and the ring will cleared.

However, what the fans, who are at the ringside, won't have to be told is that the fight is being for the benefit of the Milk Fund. And this is another reason why the Madison Square Garden Bowl will be jammed to the gills. The fans are sure that whenever a Milk Fund fight is on the bill the dish served isn't baloney but pure pre-war caviar.

Barney Faces a Good Man

Jimmy McLarnin may be a big soap bubble to Barney's followers but nevertheless he is the chap who has proved to be poison to so many of the Jewish scrappers in the ring. It was his terrific in the ring. It was his terrific punch which sent Al Singer, Sid Terris, Ruby Goldstein, and the great Benny Leonard to the land of ring oblivion.

What is most important, and we must not forget, is that all this happened years ago and Jimmy hasn't grown any younger since then. But he still has his old pepper and his punch, even if his footwork may not be the same footwork may not be the same thing it was when he floored one of the greatest ring heroes of all times, our own Benny Leonard.

Our Money on Ross
Looking facts in the face, we go to bat and say that Barney Ross will win the welterweight crown of the world from the Vancouver tiger. Barney has been fighting regularly in a barnstorming tour that swung him clear around the country. It is true that some of his scraps haven't been up to scratch. But then, Barney had nothing to lose in these non-title bouts, save a little prestige. He lost plenty of popular appeal in of his California bouts, yet after talking the matter over with one of the champ's managers, we were told the reason.

It seems the lightweight king was guaranteed his purse before each of these fights. No matter whether he won or lost he still emerged from the battle a finan-cial winner and the 135-pound champ. There was really no great incentive for him to tear in and rip his opponent apart. Even a great fighter must take an eve-ning off once in a while. We say that Ross will win. We'll place our do-re-mi on the line to this effect. This is the reason why. . . Barney has been in the ring.

He has been sharpening his timing, his speed, his punch. Take that Frankie Klick bout, for instance, in the west. Barney loafed through the first six rounds and as a result the fight was all to Klick. Notwithstanding, Barney showed his true form in the next four rounds to merit a draw, which s that he can fight when he wants to.

McLarnin in Fine Mettle Also

Mettle Also
As for Poison Jimmy, he has fought only a couple of minutes in a couple of years. Look what happened to Jack Dempsey in the Tunney tussle after his layoff Tunney tussle after his lay from the ring for a few years.

Jimmy is a good man and there's no getting away from this fact but even at his best some of our own boys almost turned the trick Benny Leonard, in his great come back, was not the same man who had fought Mitchell and Dundee and Tendler. Benny was just a shadow of his champion self. Yet the night Bonny met Jimmy Mc-Larnin, the boy from the west coast had to use all his ring knowledge to finish up the onetime lightweight ace with a barrage of punches.

However, in all fairness must say that Jimmy is still the wildcat of the ring. He has the finesse, the technique and he still has the punch that sent Singer and Goldstein to sleep. Still, Barney Ross will remind you, "Mc-Larnin isn't getting any younger . . . and my speed will reat him."

A Fight All the Way
Barney really believes he will be the first boxer in ring history to hold the welter and lightweight titles at the same time. Jimmy is convinced that he can beat Ross. Add the fact that when two such men get into action in the resined together you have punches shot with the rapidity of a Gatling

Gum. McLarnin is the hardest puncher, for his inches, in the fight game today. It's going to be a tough job for Ross to take the title bout but Barney will do it. Ross has the youth advantage, what is more he is the eleverer of the two. He took Canzoneri twice when the experts said he couldn't do it. He beat Petrolle, and he realizes that if he can add the fighting Irishman to his list he will be "THE" Jewish Idol of all time

McLarnin's Record Like A Hitler Scrap Book

Years ago, when Jimmy was running wild and taking on all comers he made an enviable record for himself. He K. O'd. Sid Terris Sangor in the third, and took Kid Kaplan in the eighth. He knocked out Goldstein in the second and sent Singer to sleep in the third. Leonard fell before terrific onslaught in the seventh. Fields and Glick both were mowed under in the second rounds. Yet there is no doubt about this scrap. It comes as a spring tonic to the ailing fight game. The Merit Award
