Second Mightier Than P. E. N.

THE resolution proposed by Ernst Toller, the German Jewish writer, now a refugee, protesting against the imprisonment of German writers by the Hitler government and against the burning of books that were distasteful to the Nazis, was adopted by the International Congress of P. E. N. Clubs. Dr. Olden, former editor of the Berliner Tageblatt, supporting the resolution, declared that many Germans were exiles because they were for peace, whether they were Jews or Communists, and that anyone in Germany wanting to reorganize the world along peaceful lines is branded there as a traitor.

Efforts were made to have this resolution adrekked, but finally it was passed, with only the literary delegate from Switzerland dissenting.

If the P. E. N. Clubs at their International Congress had lacked the courage to adopt this mild resolution, it would have been water for the organization provided its usefulness and moral prestige would have been at an end.

Emil Ludwig, the famous biographer, appealed to the P. E. N. International Congress, held in Edinburgh, that the writers of every land establish their position in the event of war and replace what he described as the "impotent" League of Nations, by "acting with the strong, direct medium of the written word."

"Twenty years ago," Dr. Ludwig declared, "intellect, labor and the church surrendered to force, to the force of arms, and now efforts at prevention of war are hopeless or ineffectual. In several countries the universities are government instruments. The Vatican is powerless and labor is divided. Government is now a dangerous today because of the certainty of attack and the greater chance of prevention by menaces than agreements."

H. G. Wells, president of the P. E. N., threatened to resign if Ludwig's proposal were approved by the International P. E. N. Congress. He said that such a proposal as impractical and added that "if we came we would forget P. E. N. and writing men would become simply men."

The Ludwig proposal was shelved. Mr. Wells was re-elected President, and the P. E. N. International Congress went on record that the sword is still mightier than the pen.

Gov. Lehman Voices Plea For Aid Fund

Addresses 1,000 Jewish Leaders at Dinner in Brooklyn

A stirring plea to Jews and Christians of New York to get behind the United Jewish Appeal for the relief of German Jewry and thereby strike a blow at those iniquitous forces which invoke discrimination and hatred and denial of opportunity was voiced last night by Governor Herbert H. Lehman at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn.

The Governor was the principal speaker at a dinner arranged by the United Jewish Appeal, which is seeking to raise $1,200,000 in New York City for the relief and rehabilitation of German Jews and for the settlement of Jews in Palestine, to honor him in his capacity as honorary chairman of the drive.

Borough President Raymond V. Ingersoll welcomed the Governor to Brooklyn and Edward L. Zansky, Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division in New York, presided. More than 1,000 Jewish leaders, representing industry, religion, business, and various professions, attended the dinner. Other speakers included Morris Rothenberg, national co-chairman of the German Jewish relief drive, Aaron W. Levy and Albert D. Schanser, co-chairmen of the Lehman dinner committee.

Cites Jews' Past in Reich
In his address the Governor paid tribute to the part the Jews of Germany had played in building up that country, painted a dramatic word picture of their present tragic position, described the work of the United Jewish Appeal in alleviating it and delivered an

Renowned Hebrew Scholar Had Won High Praise For Researches

(Special to the J.D.N.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Phineas Mordell, philologist and Hebrew grammarian whose original researches and revolutionary views on Hebrew grammar won the praise of Ahad Ha-Am and Israel Zangwill, here today at the age of 73.

His brochure on Sefer Yetzirah, originally published in the Jewish Quarterly Review, which Dr. Cyrus Adler is the editor, and reprinted in 1922 with a supplement containing a solution of the Pythagorean number philosophy, was regarded by scholars as the true solution of the origin of letters and numerals.

Mordell's theory was that strokes were used simultaneously to represent vowel and numbers. He identified Pythagorean philosophy with that of Sefer Yetzirah, which usually was considered the work of rabbis, but which really was the earliest Hebrew grammar, according to Mordell.

The scholar wrote articles in English and Hebrew for the J.D.N. (Continued on Page Three)

Austrian Jews Subjected to Nazis' Terror

Bombings Are Reported — Government Attitude Unfavorable

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
VIENNA, June 21.—The Jews in Austria are being subjected to a Nazi terrorist campaign which has taken the form of the most dangerous sort of violence. A series of bomb explosions causing considerable damage was reported by Jewish merchants but the reports were suppressed in the Austrian press.

Accompanying the Nazi campaign is an increasing tendency on the part of the government circles to adopt tactics decidedly unfavorable to the Jews.

One report of an explosion in the large Schiffman store, headed by Max Schiffman, also president of the Hakoah organization, was suppressed in the Austrian press. Likewise the news of an explosion which partly wrecked a Hebrew bookshop in the Belt neighborhood of Vienna, and another in the main synagogue here, was censored.

Jews Fear Nara Drive Boomerang

Concentration Camps for 'All Radicals,' Pro-Immigration Paper Announces, Pointing to Alleged Jewish Defense Group

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)
WARSAW, June 21.—While unverified reports were being circulated that the assassin of Minister of the Interior Bronislaw Pieracki was a Ukrainian who had been captured by police in Lwow and brought here today by airplane, the Jewish population of this city was beginning to wonder whether the government's intensive drive against anti-Semitic Nara and Endeks might not prove a boomerang.

The latest development that has given Warsaw Jews pause is the announcement that appeared in today's issue of the Express Poranny, usually well-informed pro-government organ, relative to the use to which the government's newly ordered "concentration camps" were to be put.

The concentration camps, which were ordered established following the assassination last week of Col. Pieracki, are destined for all radicals, the newspaper stated. "All radicals," the announcement pointed out, "was meant to include all radicals either the right or left." Specifically mentioned in the paper's statement was "the Red Front, comprising Jewish groups for a defensive fight against Enak's youth organization."

Fear New Plots
Mention of "the Red Front," which never has been mentioned in any official or unofficial communications since the beginning of the Nara-Endek excesses, is considered of ominous import by the Jewish population. It tends to lend added credence to recent reports to the effect that new plots against the Jews are being hatched by the various anti-Semitic organizations here.

Adding to the fears of the Jewish population in the territory affected by anti-Semitic violence is the fact that the Nara who were arrested in the drive to suppress the wave of terrorism that was climaxed by the assassination of Col. Pieracki are being released. The last batch of Nara was freed today, including Jan Mosdorf, their leader, and all Endek lawyers who had been arrested previously were also set free.

Although the question has been asked at least twenty times, Sir Philip said, the government never has been actuated by politics. It is influenced in framing its policies only by the capacity of Palestine to absorb new comers. Colonel Josiah Wedgwood, Barnett Janer and C. H. Summers renewed their questioning with regard to immigration policies in the Holy Land. Colonel Wedgwood advanced the suggestion that the Colonial Secretary allow an increase in Palestine population rather than an increase in immigration.

National Guard to Give Nazi Lowdown Tonight At Army Meeting

Results of the investigation into Nazi activity allegedly carried on in the Seventy-first Regiment of the National Guard by Sergeant Gottlieb Haas will be revealed at a meeting tonight in the Regent Hotel. Major Frank P. Thornton and Major Grant Layne, who, with Brown, compose the board of inquiry, will be present.

Reporters will be given an opportunity to quiz Sergeant Haas in connection with the charges that he drilled Nazis with United States rifles, Lieut.-Col. Brown said. Major Frank P. Thornton and Major Grant Layne, who, with Brown, compose the board of inquiry, will be present.

Butchers Meet To Set Boycott Of 'Big Four'

Workers Union Will Decide Tonight on Strike

The immediate economic destinies of 4,000 kosher butcher shop proprietors and their 5,000 employees will be decided today by the two organizations of which they are members.

A committee of twelve men selected by the Federation of Kosher Shop Owners will meet at Federation headquarters, 147 West Forty-second street, this afternoon to set a date for starting a boycott of the "Big Four" packers in protest against prevailing meat prices.

The Hebrew Butcher Workers Union, whose members work in stores owned by those who belong to the Federation group, will meet tonight at the Public School, 7 East Fifteenth street, to decide whether to call a strike.

Whatever action is taken, both organizations expect to cooperate. Although the union's working agreement does not expire until October, Joseph Belsky, union secretary, said the Federation would readily grant a waiver of the pact. Belsky said, it will do so only with the understanding that it will have a voice in any negotiations which the two groups might send its members back to work.

Boycott by the shop owners, who object to prices they are paying the Cudahy, Swift, Armour and Wilson companies for their merchandise, will mean that all independently operated kosher stores will be closed until some adjustment is reached.

Union Members Meet

In an effort to whip up waning interest in the city-wide strike, the Unanimous Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers Union met last night under permission from police to hold an open air mass meeting at 10 o'clock this morning at Forty-second street and Broadway, near where most of the slaughter houses are situated. Bill Tate, former Negro sparring partner of Joe Louis, will speak.

Tate yesterday received official union sanction of his suggestion that Max Baer be given a card as an honorary member.

The card will be presented to the heavyweight champion some time today at the Park Central hotel by the Park Central Hotel.

Zion Absorbs Jews

The total number of new immigrants into Palestine in 1933 were absorbed in Israel was 15,000. Industry received 4,000 new workers; construction, 4,000; Jewish agriculture, 2,000-2,500. The remainder were absorbed in Jewish employment, transportation, domestic service, etc.

Mayor Dissatisfied With Fama Probe; Plans Own Inquiry

"I still believe in the Constitution," Mayor LaGuardia shouted yesterday when asked what he intends to do about Dr. Charles A. Fama, branded a religious bigot by a unanimous vote of the Board of Aldermen, which termed him unfit to be a member of the medical board of the New York City Employees Retirement System.

The Mayor said he is dissatisfied with the results of an investigation conducted by a committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen and plans an inquiry of his own.

Investigation of Fama's conduct in office was occasioned by charges that the physician was making inflammatory speeches and had written anti-Catholic articles.

Mexican Jews Give 4,000 Pesos to Zion Labor Campaign

Four thousand pesos was raised for the Palestine Labor Campaign at a mass meeting of Jews in Mexico City last Sunday, which was addressed by Philip Cruso, field worker of the National Labor Committee for Palestine, according to announcement made in New York yesterday by the Committee.

At the same meeting a permanent body was formed to continue the Palestine Labor Campaign in Mexico.

Mr. Cruso will report on his Mexican visit at a banquet tomorrow at Central Plaza, New York, which will mark the close of the Palestine Labor Campaign for this year.

AJC Calls For Vigilantes Body To Aid Boycott

To Form Battle Array at June 28 Rally in Jewish Institute

A conference of leading Jewish organizations in Greater New York, sponsored by the American Jewish Congress, will be held next Thursday to intensify the boycott against Nazi-made products and to form a vigilante movement to check up on organizations purchasing Reich goods and secure a discontinuance of this practice.

Representatives of 500 fraternal, religious, social, labor and communal groups have been invited to gather in the auditorium of the Central Jewish Institute, 125 East Eighty-fifth street, it was announced by Dr. Joseph Tenenbaum, chairman of the Boycott Committee. These organizations already have pledged support to the boycott at a conference held May 6.

The membership of the 500 groups, totaling more than 250,000, will be asked to enlist in the vigilante movement.

In the statement announcing the June 28 rally, Dr. Tenenbaum explained that intensification of the boycott at this stage has become imperative since it may become a decisive factor in bringing to an end the apparently already-tottering Hitler regime.

In the statement has the moral expression of condemnation of Hitlerism, as exemplified in the boycott, had a better opportunity for important practical results than at present, when Germany, by its betrayal of foreign confidence abroad and domestic confidence at home has practically united against her the nations of the world," he said. "The boycott to day can become the instrument of release for the German people from the yoke of medievalism."

Philadelphians Complete 4-Year Course In Hebrew Studies

(Special to the J.D.B.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Forty-six students will be graduated from the regular and special courses of the elements of Hebrew of the Jewish Educational Center No. 2 Sunday afternoon. They have completed a four-year program of studies which included study of the Hebrew Bible, Jewish history, customs and institutions of Jewish life, Jewish current events, the Prayer Book and Jewish law.

Jewish Educational Center No. 2 is the largest constituent school maintained by the Associated Talmud Torahs. It provides daily instruction to 676 children. This center, opened in 1928, is one of the two educational centers elected by the Federation of Jewish Charities. During these past six years the school has graduated about 250. Many of them continued their studies for another four-year period in the Hebrew high school. Since 1929 graduates of the Hebrew high school have continued their studies for another four-year period at Gratz College. As result of the trials which the students received before entering the college, the college was able to raise its standard of admission considerably. The center is the largest of its type in Philadelphia, and one of the largest in the East.

The chief speaker at the graduation exercises will be Rabbi R. L. Levitsky, chairman of the committee on education. Greetings in behalf of the board of the Associated Talmud Torahs will be extended by Robert M. Bernstein, chairman of the executive committee. Diplomas will be distributed by Ben Rosen, director. Dr. Joseph Levitsky, principal of the school, will preside.

Anti-Nazi Quiz Turns to Reds; Hearing Today

Dickstein Annoys Face Probe; No Hitlerites to Be Queried

Private hearings of the Congressional committee investigating Nazi and other foreign activities will be diverted to Communists today, when Samuel Dickstein, vice-chairman of the group, interviews a number of alleged reds in the Bar Association Building on West Forty-fourth street.

While names of those subpoenaed to appear could not be ascertained yesterday, it is learned that they took occasion to annoy the Congressman at his home here recently. It is reported that they forced entrance into his home where they entered upon a lengthy harangue for work and bread.

So far as is known no Nazis will appear at hearings this week. Announcement was made yesterday that open hearings in the Nazi investigation will be held at the Supreme Court here on July 9. Other private executive sessions are scheduled for July 5, 6 and 7. Committee members are leaving for the Pacific Coast on July 25 to quiz Nazis there.

Fifth avenue, New York, I suffered the same as all other countrymen of mine. I was robbed of the firm, worth about $800,000 by the Right Honorable Mitchell Palmer, Allen Property Custodian, who sold the firm after the armistice at a forced auction for about $9,000 to a Jewish firm in New York. This may serve as a hint to the dear reader as to who in reality won the war."

Dr. Hanfstaengl also writes for the Harvard book: "In 1921 I returned to Germany, finding the country 'flourishing' under the blessings of the Versailles treaty." A year later I ran into the man who has saved Germany and civilization—Adolf Hitler."

"Putzy" Hanfstaengl tried to avoid interviews on the situation of the Jews in Hitler's paradise. He also tried to avoid the various anti-Nazi demonstrations. He went incognito to a night club. He is being lionized by certain society dames. He is a guest of Harvard University. Before coming here he did two things. He made an offer of a Hanfstaengl scholarship which Harvard cannot accept, and he wrote for the Harvard classbook an autobiographical sketch which is offensive to the United States, and to the Jews, and which extols Hitler as the savior of Germany and civilization.

Hanfstaengl is here not in his official capacity as Hitler's aide and foreign press liaison. He came to Harvard merely for the purpose of attending the reunion of his class. Hanfstaengl has done nothing in his life that could reflect any honor on Harvard University. On the contrary, by his recent offensive remarks in his autobiography published in the Harvard classbook he is disgracing the American institution of learning which has a record of the finest American traditions.

Hanfstaengl's gentle hint that the Jews won the war is quite in keeping with the loud-mouthed "ideology" of his master—Adolf Hitler—"the man who saved Germany and civilization."

Germany lost the war. Only now people everywhere are realizing what a misfortune to civilization a German victory would have been.

Hitlerism has caused Germany also to lose the peace that was being established in Europe with the aid of Rathenau and Stresemann. Hitlerism is now leading Germany to the abyss of moral and economic bankruptcy, and on the road to a new war.

Hanfstaengl, the clownish apologist and admirer of "the savior of civilization," merits the contempt of all decent Americans.

Judges Vote Down Proposal at Beth Shalom Convention

(Special to the J.D.B.)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 21.—Establishment of an American Jewish university was voted down by judges of the debating contest sponsored by Beth Shalom at its convention here.

On the question, "Resolved, that a Jewish university, similar to other denominational schools, established in the United States," the decision was given to the negative team. Its members were Charles G. Elsen, chairman, Beryl Price, Irving R. Shull and Joseph M. Lisay, all from Sol. C. Kraus Lodge, Philadelphia. The affirmative team comprised Morton A. Seidenfeld, chairman, Max M. Goldstein and Herman Tolt, all of Samuel I. Vogelstein Lodge, Philadelphia.

Judges were Frank A. Simons and Alex P. Stanton, Philadelphia, and Joseph Fishberg, Trenton.

Pittsburgh Drive Nets $92,000 for Appeal; Quota Fulfillment Seen

(Special to the J.D.B.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 21.—The local United Jewish Appeal for German Jewish relief will hold its closing report meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. and Y. W. H. A. Returns up to last Wednesday showed $92,000 received toward the goal of $100,000.

All workers in the campaign are making strenuous efforts to reach the goal. A final follow-up committee was organized by Seymour Rosenthal and it is hoped that this group will be able to raise enough to complete the quota.

San Francisco Sends Group To Jewish Juniors Party

(Special to the J.D.B.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—The San Francisco section of the Council of Jewish Juniors has sent a delegation to the Western Interstate Conference of the National Council, meeting in Los Angeles from June 21 to 24 inclusive.

Representing this city are Dorothy Tonn, president; Frances Mordecai, Mrs. Schwartz, Mrs. Pearl Levin and Audella Wyatt.

Keep up with Jewish news by reading the Jewish Daily Bulletin, only English-language Jewish daily newspaper.

Sons of Zion Three-Day Parley Will Discuss Zionist Problems

(Special to the J.D.B.)
BRADLEY BEACH, N. J., June 21.—Zionist problems of the day will occupy the major attention of the delegates at the La Reine Hotel here tomorrow night and will continue until Monday night. Delegates from seven states are expected, but since the bulk of membership is concentrated in New York and New Jersey, delegates from these states will be the most conspicuous.

It is regarded as a virtual certainty that Joseph Kraemer, Newark lawyer, who has rendered devoted service as Grandmaster during the past year, will be returned to that office unanimously.

VIII Attend Services
Delegates arriving for the weekend will attend services Friday and Saturday in the Bradley Beach Synagogue. J. T. Kaplan, grand secretary of the order, will officiate and Mr. Kraemer will speak.

The convention will get under way Saturday night with a large public gathering, music and reception. The Grandmaster and grand secretary will deliver their respective reports. Harry Pine will give the delegates as chairman of the convention committee. The Sons of Zion Sextet will give vocal selections and violin selections will be rendered by Miss Betty Eskin.

On Sunday the business sessions will be held, and in the evening, the convention banquet. Morris Rothenberg, president of the Zionist Organization of America, and Louis Lipsky, former president, are expected to be the principal speakers. Harry Grayer, counsel to the Order, will be toastmaster.

Conclusion Monday
The business sessions will be continued Monday, with resolutions, nominations and elections and installation concluding the convention in the evening.

Insofar as New Jersey is concerned, constituent camps in Newark, Bloomfield, Paterson and Perth Amboy will be represented at the convention.

Duly elected members of the national executive board from New Jersey are Jacob Convisser, Louis Weiss and Isadore Kronstein, of Newark, and Louis Blaler, of Paterson.

B'nai Brith Council Holds Parley Sunday At Asbury Park

(Special to the J.D.B.)
ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 21.—The annual meeting of the New Jersey B'nai Brith Council will be held here all day Sunday at Temple Beth El, First avenue and Emory street. Delegates from all parts of the State will attend.

The business session will take place in the morning and in the afternoon a public meeting will be held. Speakers at the latter event will include Rabbi Ralph E. Hershon, spiritual leader of the Temple; Rabbi I. Roenthal of Lancaster, Pa., and Prosecutor Jacob Tannen of Monmouth County. Harry Green, of East Orange, is president of the Council.

Jewish Girl Receives Fellowship for Study in Oceanography

(Special to the J.D.B.)
SEATTLE, Wash., June 21.—For her scholastic excellence in oceanography and bacteriology—fields where women are the exception to the rule—Miss Rose Cottrill, graduate student at the University of Washington, this week was awarded a fellowship at the Woods Hole, Mass., only laboratory for the study of deep sea fish and water on the Atlantic Coast.

Miss Cottrill, only Jewish co-ed enrolled in oceanography, was selected for the honor because of her exceptional record in University studies. Prof. Thomas G. Thompson, head of the University Oceanographical Laboratory, declared. Miss Cottrill has already left for Woods Hole. She is 24 and a member of Sigma Xi.

Atlanta Synagogue Receives Gift of Covering for Ark

(J.D.B. Special Correspondent)
ATLANTA, Ga., June 19.—A covering for the ark of the Shearith Israel Synagogue was presented to the synagogue by Mrs. M. G. Weisman and the Independent Shearith Israel Lodge. The covering was accepted in behalf of the congregation by Rabbi Abraham A. Gelfen. Cantor Elmer Gelfen of Savannah, his brother, sang. He also was heard on the Jewish Variety Hour radio broadcast over station WTSA.

Baron Rothschild Will Attend Jewish Day at Chicago Fair

(Special to the J.D.B.)
CHICAGO, June 21.—Baron Maurice de Rothschild of Paris is the first of a number of invited international figures to accept a bid to attend the Jewish Community Day festivities at A Century of Progress on July 29. It was announced by the committee in charge.

Word of the French Jewish leader's acceptance was received here from Washington where a committee headed by Congressman Samuel Dickstein called upon the Baron. Among others joining in extending the invitation were Congressman Adolph Sabath, Congressman Florence P. Kahn of California, Congressman Emanuel Celler and Theodore A. Poyer of New York; Herman P. Koppelman of Connecticut, and Henry Ellenbogen of Pennsylvania. Congressman Dickstein told Baron Rothschild:

"I consider it an honor and a privilege to extend to you, Baron Rothschild, and your brother, Lord Rothschild of London, an invitation from the Jews of America to be their guests of honor at A Century of Progress World's Fair in Chicago to celebrate Jewish Community Day on July 29. And in this connection, I may say that you will be welcomed by the American people as a whole who like you, believe in tolerance and justice to the civilized world."

Look to U. S.

In reply Baron Rothschild told the delegation:

"I must thank all of you very much for the invitation to come to Chicago. I shall plan to remain in this country long enough to be able to be in Chicago on that great day which will mean so much to the Jewish people, not only in this country, but in the whole world. 'Tis an sure that Jews everywhere look to this great country, the United States, where prevail liberty and tolerance, with the greatest of hope and respect; and this manifestation in Chicago will be considered by them a sign that somehow there will be peace for them in Europe."

"I should like to say that it is wonderful the way that in this country have joined together in expressing your naturally violent feelings against Germany's behavior."

Tells of Reich Acts

"It has been perfectly awful how few Germans have treated Jews and what caused more anxiety than anything else was the propagation of German propaganda that it was not true at all, that the Jews were being treated very nicely. Luckily, Americans are well aware of this and that propaganda takes no effect. I would not be surprised at all if some lieutenant of Hitler who arrived here and who was supposed to have come here to go to a class reunion goes about the country spreading the gospel of Nazism."

"I have witnessed the way they behaved in Germany. I was there last year. The head of the government told me that the lieutenants of Hitler were trying to organize a movement, not the Silver Shirts, but of 'Iron Crowns,' which has for its main purpose the creation of feeling against the Jews of Rumania. The man who spoke to me in that way was John Duca, who had been friendly towards the Jews. And I remember at the end of this conversation he told me he would not be astonished if some day Hitler money would persuade some Rumanian to get him, and a few months afterward in Paris I got a wire that he had been killed. That is the way they work."

Junior Hadassah Elects Atlanta Officers After A Successful Season

(Special to the J.D.B.)
ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—Closing one of the most successful seasons in its history, the Atlanta Chapter of Junior Hadassah elected officers for the new term at its regular monthly meeting.

Chosen to head the organization were the Misses Jennie Shamos, president; Rosalie Hirsch, first vice-president; Lottie Goncher, second vice-president; Dorothy Davis, recording secretary; Ida Mae Goldstein, corresponding secretary; Rose Norman, assistant corresponding secretary; Bertha Fisher, financial secretary; Rose Cherkan, treasurer, and the Misses Emma Tomiak and Annette Davis, editors of the "Alarm Clock," monthly bulletin of the chapter.

The local chapter, one of the largest and most active in this section comprises approximately 150 members. Miss Lillian Reisman is the retiring president.

Vets' Protests Bring Ban on Nazi Meeting

Paterson Police Rescind Permit as Trouble Is Feared

(Special to the J.D.B.)
PATERSON, N. J., June 21.—Local police yesterday rescinded a permit which would have allowed a Nazi meeting to be held last night in Oakley Hall. The action was taken on complaint of the Jewish War Veterans, Reuben Kaufman Post No. 36, of which Albert M. Dorfman is commander, and State Commander Nathan Rabinowitz, who lives here. The veterans opposed the meeting because disturbances, that have characterized similar meetings held in Union City and other northern Jersey cities, were feared.

The use of Oakley Hall for the Nazi meeting had been granted to Paul Reiffen, of 159 North Fifth street. Circulars were distributed advertising the rally of the "Friends of New Germany." According to them, the meeting was to have been addressed by W. Brink, in German, and W. L. McLaughlin, editor of the Deutsche Zeitung.

Religious Bias Taboo At Children's Camp, Sponsored by Jews

(Special to the J.D.B.)
DES MOINES, Iowa, June 21.—"Religious prejudices are taboo at the Home Camp of Des Moines, sponsored by the Jewish Community Center," declared Mrs. Max Mayer, director of the center. Mrs. Mayer emphasized that the camp is non-sectarian and that children in it have no prejudices. Except for a five-cent swimming fee once a week, no charge is made for the facilities, which include dramatics, games, sports, handicrafts, dancing, sewing, journalism and musical comedy. The camp has just opened for its third season.

The Bulletin's Day Book

At the Strand

CRITICAL MOMENTS

By GEORGE JOEL

Key Francis, who appears in the film, "Dr. Monica."

On the day Maxie Baer paired off with Primo Carnera, Herr Hitler met El Duce at a private champagne party. It was conducted in the utmost secrecy and there was no working press men at the ring-side to tell the world whether Dr. Fuehrer led with a left and whether Mussolini came armed with a right to the chin. The ripple of news that did emanate from this meeting apparently did not make the European situation at all.

However, Maxie Baer, the shy, modest, retiring, Livermore butcher boy, besides revealing his talents as a tap-dancer, a singer, a ladies' man and somewhat of a boxer, has new aspirations along the diplomatic lines. He claims he can solve the Hitler situation in one minute twenty-five seconds. He says if he could get Herr Adolf into the ring for just one round he could settle the difficulty with one punch.

Maxie is all steamed up about Hitler. His picture, the "Prize-fighter and the Lady," was banned in Germany because it was so close to the German people, and this burned the American Baer to a frazzle. The reason given for this was that Maxie decidedly was not of the Aryan stock that holds sway in the Reich. Maxie says himself, "You can imagine what the Nazis would have done with me." However, we hate to believe that Maxie would have done in return.

Maxie has been called the dizziest heavyweight ever to hold the title. In fact he has been called the dizziest heavyweight to hold the idea. Since he won the fight last week ago Thursday night he has been on the front page of every newspaper in the country. He has been called the dizziest heavyweight because of his happy go-lucky antics. He has two legal department members taking care of his difficulties.

Years ago this growing Baer was the most managed fighter in the ring game. Every boss with a stable of his own had a string on Baer's purse. One legal department handles these troubles. The other staff handles his amorous woes. Maxie is a chap who loves men and leaves 'em and is just as effective in cracking a chin as he is at breaking hearts.

Of course it is none of our business, but it does seem as if the way Maxie has neglected the Jewish angle of the feminine business. His first wife was a "shiksa," Dorothy Dunbar. His later and more publicized affairs with June Knight, Sally Rand and more recently Jean Harlow, are none of the Semitic type.

Maxie Baer's fight fans treat at the Madison Square Bowl last week and next week he intends to do justice to his female admirers. So opens at the New York Paramount a song and dance extravaganza which will be different from the tours that Sharkey, Jeffries and Corbett made not so long ago.

When Sharkey, or, for that matter, any great fighter tours the country in vaudeville he takes along a couple of sparring partners, punching and getting punched. In fact, the stage is transformed into a miniature gymnasium. Not so with Maxie Baer. His stage act consists of a bevy of beauties, a pair of tap shoes and a set of the best make-up and, believe it or not, some lip rouge.

According to a dispatch from Germany some time ago, no news of Jews in sports was to appear in the German papers abroad. That's why we doubt whether any news of the Baer-Carnera fight was published all over the pages of the German press of this country. In fact, the D.A.B. is starting a campaign to boycott Maxie Baer along all lines. No German girl is allowed by her parents even to harbor a picture of Baer in her room. No German will go to see Maxie fight. When Maxie appears at the Strand, it is expected he will be booed heartily by the huge German element present.

Regardless of this German boycott of everything Baer, Walter Neusel and Max Schmeling, two German jockeys, are expected to win the boxing commission to meet Maxie Baer, the Jewish world's heavyweight champion.

B'nai B'rith Set For July Parley In Vancouver

San Francisco to Send Large Group for 3-Day Session

(Special to the J.D.B.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—An unusually large delegation will leave San Francisco for the annual convention of District Grand Lodge No. 4 of the B'nai B'rith, meeting in Vancouver, B. C., July 3 to 5.

The district grand lodge embraces all subordinate lodges in California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah and British Columbia.

Among those who will attend are Richard E. Gutstadt, national director of the order, and Judge Isador M. Golden, first grand vice-president.

Anti-defamation will be one of the principal subjects to engage the attention of the delegates. Plans will be formulated for intensifying activities of the order against Nazism and other anti-Semitic propaganda. Gutstadt and others will give the most detailed information on what the order is doing and plans to do along these lines.

German Jews Witness Athletic Carnival on Own Sports Ground

(J.D.B. Special Correspondence)
BERLIN, June 7.—More than 5,000 spectators witnessed the jubilee sport festival of the Berlin Bar Kochba Hakoch, a section of the German Maccabees, on the sports ground of the Jewish community of Berlin. It was the largest Jewish sport festival ever held in Germany, according to Maccabee officials.

Representatives came from Jewish sport clubs abroad, notably the Hagibor of Prague, and there was a football match between Czechoslovak Maccabees, which defeated the Berlin Hakoch and won the Juedische Rundschau cup. Sternheim of the Breslau Bar Kochba won the 100 yard race in 11 seconds, with Schattmann and Aufrichtig of the Berlin Bar Kochba Hakoch following in 11.1 and 11.2 seconds. In the 20 metres Aufrichtig came first in 26.2 seconds and in the 800 metres Orgler won in 2.04 minutes.

Stavsky Defense Committee Appeals for Aid

To the Editor, Jewish Daily Bulletin: May I, through your columns, appeal for financial aid for the defense of Abraham Stavsky, who at present is under sentence of death for the alleged murder of Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff.

The non-partisan committee was called into existence at the request of the revered Chief Rabbi of Palestine, Rabbi Kook. To his support have rallied not only all the rabbis of Palestine, but one hundred representative Jews, men, in the normal course of affairs, are not associated with agitation, and on whom those accustomed to the present situation in Palestine matters have had hitherto occasion cause to rely for sound judgment and cool action.

These men, responding in part to the written report of the fourth of the judges to try Stavsky, Judge Valero, who himself is a native of Jerusalem and descended from an old Palestinian family, are convinced of the innocence of Stavsky. They are asking all Jews everywhere to aid in preventing what they believe is a miscarriage of justice.

The non-partisan committee has gone no further than to do whatever lies in its power to safeguard the rights of the accused. It is anxious that the truth prevail, whatever the truth may be, but the appeal and possible retrial, as every reader of the Bulletin knows, is a costly process.

Checks, however small, will be fully received and should be addressed to the Stavsky Defense Committee, 50 Morningside Drive, New York City.

JACOB DE HAAS, Co-chairman, Stavsky Defense Committee, New York City.

Old Age Insurance for U. S. Seen by Dr. Rubinow

(Special to the J.D.B.)
CINCINNATI, June 21.—"There looms on the horizon the possibility of direct legislation by Congress to cover all of the country with old age pensions, health insurance or unemployment insurance," states Dr. I. M. Rubinow, international secretary of the B'nai B'rith, in his new book "The Quest for Security."

Murder on the Blackboard

It was last Tuesday night that I saw "Murder on the Blackboard" at the Rialto and if you remember, it was a wet, dismal evening with the rain sweeping up and down Broadway as though some gigantic comedian had gotten hold of a trillion dollar hose and set out to see how uncomfortable he could make people feel. Even the bright lights of Broadway blinked through the mist with the subdued glow that made them look as unimportant as they really are. It was one of those nights in which the setting seemed perfect for a murder and being by nature a law-abiding person with the usual number of repressions, my thoughts naturally turned to things of horror and gore.

Perhaps these circumstances accounted for my enjoyment of "Murder on the Blackboard," a play produced by Rialto and adapted from the detective novel by Stuart Palmer, but even had the night been a perfect June evening I think I would still have enjoyed Edna May Oliver, who plays the part of a school "marm" who can teach the police a thing or two, Miss Oliver, who has been around for a good many years, has never received the recognition she deserves. She is one of the ablest and most natural of the elderly women on the screen. Her work in the present film should do much to gain her a host of new admirers.

Not Gladly

Unlike most Hollywood mysteries that reach the screen, "Murder on the Blackboard" contains a minimum of horror and screams. It concerns, as you might guess, a puzzling murder. The police, led by the slow-thinking police inspector (James Gleason) attempt to solve the murder but it is heeding at the Rialto and if you remember, it was a wet, dismal evening with the rain sweeping up and down Broadway as though some gigantic comedian had gotten hold of a trillion dollar hose and set out to see how uncomfortable he could make people feel. Even the bright lights of Broadway blinked through the mist with the subdued glow that made them look as unimportant as they really are. It was one of those nights in which the setting seemed perfect for a murder and being by nature a law-abiding person with the usual number of repressions, my thoughts naturally turned to things of horror and gore.

Your enjoyment of this film would be spoiled if I were to tell you more about the plot. Be satisfied to know that "Murder on the Blackboard" is exciting, entertaining and amusing.

The Screen This Coming Week; Other Notes

"Let's Try Again," with Diana Wynyard and Olive Brook, is the feature at Music Hall this week. At the Strand, Kay Francis is beginning a series in the long "Dr. Monica." "Operator 13," with Marion Davies and Gary Cooper, is the offering at the Capitol, but more about these pictures anon. . . .

"The World in Revolt," the newspaper news reel, was pulled out of the Rialto after a one-week run but Zasu Pitts, in "Private Secular," had been held over for a second week at the Mayfair. . . .

Paul Muni, who has been inactive of late, will soon be seen in a new picture, called "Black Hell." It is a little known of this vehicle, except that it has been adapted from two stories. . . .

At the Embassy News Reel Theatre, the picture "The Jews and the King Carol of Rumania" making one of his public appearances. While he walks through the streets, heavily guarded, you can hear distinct the cries and jeers of the crowd above the cheering. . . .

Palestine Citizen Stays Briton, Jaffa District Court Decrees

(J.T.A. Special Correspondence)

JERUSALEM, June 6.—"The Jaffa District Court here has ruled that 'a British subject who voluntarily acquires Palestinian citizenship does not thereby lose his British nationality, nor should a different rule apply when Palestinian citizenship is acquired automatically on marriage by a woman.'"

Some time ago the Department of Immigration brought an action against Mrs. Esther Danon, of Tel Aviv, who was born in England and married subsequently to a Palestinian here whom she divorced on the ground that she had wrongfully given her status as "single" when filing in the query "married or single" on an application form for a British passport. Mrs. Danon had also given her maiden instead of her married name.

The case was defended by M. Seligman before the Tel Aviv Magistrate, and his client was acquitted on both charges.

The Department then prosecuted the woman for making in the same application a declaration that she had not since birth lost her British nationality, and she was acquitted on this charge. M. Seligman argued that it was doubtful whether a British woman on marrying a Palestinian did lose her British nationality, and in support of his argument brought evidence to prove that a British subject who naturalizes as a Palestinian does not thereby lose his British nationality.

The Attorney General, acting on behalf of the Director of Immigration, appealed against the acquittal and the Jaffa District Court, sitting in Tel Aviv, has now delivered judgment, dismissing the appeal and upholding the Magistrate's decision.

Saar a Beehive Of Activity for Hitler Agents

'We'll Get You in 1935,' Declare Nazis; Boycotted There

(J. T. A. Special Correspondence)
LONDON, June 2.—Spying and informing are commonplace in the Saar according to Evening Standard. The Nazis have detailed lists regarding the administrative and political attitude of all Saar officials, about whom information is almost always furnished by their juniors.

Quoting the Copenhagen Politician, "The Saar is a beehive. One hears of nothing but what will happen 'after 1935,' and the Saar inhabitants live in an atmosphere poisoned with informing and with political mistrust, in a fear of future concentration camps and 'Aryan paragraphs.' The Nazi press of the district is already talking of future vengeance and recalls the punishments inflicted on the Rhine Separatists. . . .

At a Nazi meeting a Socialist in the Saar greeted the speaker with the words: "We know where you will go in 1935." In many factories and works the Hitler salute is already obligatory, and was to the worker the forgotten word.

Amassed Archives.
The Saar Nazis have amassed complete archives against their fellow citizens. These archives are full of photographs showing a Saarlander in conversation with a Jew or a Frenchman, the latter talking during the singing of the Horst Wessel while all else are standing at attention.

The boycott of Jewish shops would not of course be proclaimed under the present régime. But the spies have taken care to note the names of everyone who contravened the total boycott, and the 100 Jews in the Saar live a life of dull terror. . . .

I was able to speak to several members of the governing commission which rules here in the name of the League of Nations. All are unanimous in deploring the existing situation and, above all, the fact that a government interested in international peace should declare, contrary to the Treaty of Versailles, to let loose prologues and terror in the territory.

Boiler Gives Orders.
The Saar Nazis have frequent meetings with Hitler, Goering and von Papen and carry out their orders. But it must not be supposed that the terrorist methods invariably serve the cause of the Reich. Very often the opposite happens and, according to what the Communists told me, if the Saar were to be divided into certain definite districts, it is certain that several of them would vote with a considerable majority for maintenance of the present régime.

A Nazi leader, Anton Scherer, declared quite recently, during a meeting in the Dillingen district: "After the 1935 plebiscite our Party will, over the whole Saar District, exact exemplary vengeance for twenty-four hours. We shall order the Saar Police Service mission to avenge for forty-eight hours, but we were only allowed twenty-four. Therefore, brothers, sharpen your knives and get ready for the job, for we shall have a moment to use. We shall have to finish in twenty-four hours a job for which forty-eight wouldn't have been too long. . . ."

Rabbi Delivers Sermon at Belle Isle Sunrise Service

(Special to the J. D. B.)
DETROIT, June 21.—Rabbi David Cedarbaum of Lansing, Mich., participated in the Sunrise Service arranged by the Detroit News at Belle Isle. He delivered one of three sermons, the others being given by Christian ministers.

Will Defend Title Tomorrow

SLANTS ON SPORTS

By MORRIS WEINER

Lester Rosner on All American Lacrosse Team

Lester Rosner, captain-elect of City College's 1934 lacrosse team, has been added to the all-American lacrosse squad, which plays the Crescent-Athletic Union at Hamilton Club at Erasmus Field tomorrow.

This is the second time a Jewish athlete has been named for an all-American post on the national team. Ralph Singer, star goalie for the Lavender ten a few years ago, was selected as the outstanding goalie in the country.

The addition of Lester Rosner to the team will boost the total of the squad to thirty-three and the number of New Yorkers striving for a position on the team to four. Those from New York are Lawrence Robbins of Syracuse, James Humphrey of Rutgers and Charles Wadrell, captain-elect of the Princeton lacrosse team.

Senior Track and Field Championships

Stars of the cinder paths and the field events will vie for honors tomorrow afternoon and Sunday morning at the senior track and field championships of the Metropolitan association of the A. A. U. The contests will be staged at Travers Island. Many Jewish stars have been entered in all events.

Jules Finkelshtein, defending title holder in the sixteen-pound short put class, will take on all comers in the Dillingen district. He will defend his crown in a May.

Milton Sandler, national 600-meter indoor and outdoor champion and record holder, will defend his laurels against the best middle distance sprint men New York has to offer. Sandler has been setting records all winter and repeated his successes at the Casey meet, the Milrose specials and the Seton Hall track carnival. He has been pegging along in grand style all through the past indoor season and is in excellent shape to smash his own record tomorrow at the senior championships.

Harry Hoffman, violet quarter miler who received the Gene E. Siga trophy, awarded for high scholasticism to an athlete in the school of commerce, also will defend his title tomorrow.

Emanuel Krooney, another of the violet entries, is entered in the 800 and 1,500-meter runs. Krooney is the present metropolitan tan junior champion at 100 meters.

The Best Athlete At City College

Sam Wingroad, all-American basketball selection at a forward post by every basketball expert in the country, captain-elect of the team of his sophomore year in 1933 as the outstanding athlete of the 1933 semester. He was the heaviest hitter on the City College basketball team during the past season and played a bang-up game at short-post. He handled the hot corner post like a veteran major leaguer.

The Yankees scout has slated for the big time ball parks when he graduates from City next June.

The Olympic Situation

Tom Akers, Sports editor of the San Diego Evening Tribune, also has come to the front against American participation in the German 1936 Olympic games. He has argued heavily with what we said in our columns June 8. Mr. Akers says, "Germany, according to Associated Press dispatches, is so hot and bothered because the United States has not sent an official notification that the athletes of this country will participate in the Olympic Games in Berlin."

"They admit, however, that they have received word that the United States will reserve its decision until after every Executive chairman of the American Olympic Committee, has made a visit to Germany and has determined at that time whether or not Jewish athletes are to be accorded fair and impartial treatment in the coming games. Just why anyone should be confused about the attitude of the United States in the face of such a clear statement, does not appear. As this writer understands it—and apparently he has grasped the attitude of the American Committee—there is no real assurance from Germany that Jewish athletes who might represent this country in the Berlin games would be given anything like an even break. Certainly it would be a serious matter to permit American athletes to compete under a regime which would discriminate against the representatives of any country because of racial, religious or political differences. It is a principle of the

Nazi Insurers Beg Surrender From Stoners

Howl for Mercy Since They Pay for Jews' Broken Windows

(Jewish Telegraph Agency)
PRAGUE, June 21.—Losses of insurance companies from stonings by Nazis of windows of Jewish stores and homes in the Reich are so great that the companies are making a public appeal declaring that Jews are not suffering from the stonings, since Germans are ultimately shouldering the burden of paying for the outrages, it was reported here.

Insurance companies state that Nazi shots are "hitting the wrong target." Another case of "fron-tiers" is reported in the Franken-sche Tageszeitung, which announces that the Nazi smoking public in Pilsen and Sturmgau is acting on the belief that it is buying "Aryan" tobacco. But, the newspaper continues, they are really allowing their money to flow into Jewish pockets.

Many tobaccoists, the publication charges, are still making purely from Jewish firms and a warning is issued by the Hago, the Nazi trade association, that if the tobaccoists do not alter their selling methods, their names will be published.

Named by Accountants

(Special to the J. D. B.)
DETROIT, June 21.—William B. Isenberg, who recently retired as president of the Zionist Organization of Detroit, was elected vice-president of the American Association of Certified Public Accountants.

Constitution of the United States "all men are created free and equal" and to say that a Jew is not receive a opportunity to prove his prowess merely because he is a Jew or Gentile, an Englishman or a Jew, is a degrading violation of the very tenets upon which the American government is founded."

It is heartening to this department to see that the sporting press of the country is taking the stand assumed by the Jewish Daily Bulletin against participation in the Berlin Olympic games in the face of racial and religious discrimination.

THE SPORTING CALENDAR

A feature bout to a finish, staged because of public demand, will bring together Ernie Dusek, the Omaha roughneck, and Sam Corovano, the Columbia football coach, in the Velodrome tonight. The pair wrestled at Stauch's arena last winter and the bout was one of the season's most exciting in the season's record in the Velodrome. The Jewish idol, will tackle Ad Gieczewski, the Polish champion. Sammy Kosch, Jewish sensation, meets Frank Williams of Texas, in the opening fray.

Next week the first amateur boxing carnival will be staged by the Jewish Pleasure League in the same arena, with Mrs. Agnes Brantman, former women's tennis star, as head of the boxing committee. Many of the leading amateurs, including national and golden gloves champions, have promised Mrs. Brantman to be on hand a week from tonight.

Benny Leonard, former world's lightweight champion, will be a guest star. Efforts are being made to persuade Benny referee several of the bouts.

Golden City Arena

Long Island flyweight champion, will box in a special bout tonight against Bernie Friedman of Brownsville. This was a rather close fight. The defeated Friedman last time they met in the finals of a four-man class after very close fighting all through the scrap.

20 Seniors Get Yeshiva College A. B. Degrees

President of C.C.N.Y. Speaks Words of Advice to Class

Dr. Frederick B. Robinson, president of the City College of New York, yesterday advised members of the third graduating class of Yeshiva College, Amsterdam avenue and West 166th street, that they must master the "art of using the creative faculties, of having a hobby and smiling." He said discouragement often acts as a decidedly poor influence in the development of a career.

Twenty seniors received A. B. degrees. Honorary degrees of LL. D. were presented by Dr. Robinson to general survivors Judge Otto Rosalkey and Borough President Samuel Levy.

Dr. Revel's Talk
Dr. Bernard Revel, president of Yeshiva College, in his address said that education is the "only salvation from the moral crisis facing civilization."

"The world is not safe," he continued, "for peace and democracy; can know no rest, while the forces of darkness smother the bloody creed of racial supremacy and of ill will toward men, in defiance of humanity's urgent cry for understanding among men and nations. The embattled fortresses at the gates of civilization shall not succeed in their mass offensive against humanity's abiding values." Speaking of the Nazis outside the gates of Jewry in Germany, Dr. Revel added: "Medieval darkness has settled upon a great country that was once a home of culture and idealism. We stand again, bewildered and humiliated witnesses of the moral degradation of a once great nation. Germany is celebrating a bloody renaissance of cold bigotry and savage arrogance."

Other Speakers

Other speakers were Rabbi Joseph Konovitz, rabbi of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis of the United States and Canada, who delivered the invocation; Rabbi Joseph Rosalkey, president of the benediction, and Max D. Steuer, who presented the awards.

Dr. Shelley R. Safir presented the candidates for diplomas. Isidore Fine was valedictorian.

Twenty received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the institution, which is the only liberal arts college in the United States giving baccalaureate degrees under Jewish auspices.

The graduates included:

- January, 1934
Benjamin Rosalkey
June, 1934
Abraham N. Avrutsky, Jacob Hochman, Samuel Deutsch, Jacob Hurwitz, Isidore Fine, Bernard D. Milman, Isidore Fine, Bernard D. Milman, Herman Friedman, Chai Siegel, Joseph Straus, Joseph Straus, Abraham H. Hinkin

The following prizes were awarded:

Austrian Jews Target of Terror

denounces the government press for not leaving the monopoly of anti-Jewish incitement to the Nazis.

Paper Denounces Regime

Every day that department of the public press which describes itself as being closely connected with "Christian German leadership of the state" indulges in the bitterest kind of slander of Jewish citizens, states Neue Welt.

Simultaneously government circles are demanding the institution of measures for the exclusion of Jews from academic life. Nazis are waging a persistent battle to capture leadership of the universities and colleges in spite of official resistance.

An instance of the struggle going on in the cloistered halls of learning is provided in the election of a new rector for the University of Vienna.

Collector of Nazi and Animal Trophies Steals 'Putzy's' Hat

(Special to the J.D.B.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 21.—"Putzy" Hanfstaengl today appeared at the Harvard class of '09 reunion wearing a new hat, following the mysterious disappearance of his old fedora, which is believed to be resaff in the collection of some of New York's other animal trophies. It could not be learned whether the new chapau was the size of the kidnapped klap, which was reported to be somewhere around an eight.

Some wags would have it that "Hanfstaengl's head size has diminished since his departure from Germany."

"Putzy" yesterday marched to

Governor Lehman Voices Plea For Aid Fund at Appeal Dinner

eloquent testimony "to the work being done in that respect by James G. McDonald, High Commissioner for Refugees."

The United Jewish Appeal, Mr. Lehman declared, "is the concrete answer to the prayers and needs of hundreds of thousands of men and women and children of our kind in Germany or among the refugees who have fled to other lands."

"It is our response," he continued, "to the urgent plea of the High Commissioner for Refugees representing eleven nations, including our own, who are concerned with the plight and the problems of the refugees."

"It is our answer to that splendid and devoted American who is struggling against almost overwhelming odds to bring alleviation and aid to the homeless and hopeless and to the millions who are congested in refugee centers in many countries, the High Commissioner for Refugees, James G. McDonald."

"In a large sense, too, this United Jewish Appeal is our answer to those iniquitous forces which involve discrimination and hatred and death of our people. The two organizations which make up the United Jewish Appeal have been working desperately to rebuild the broken lives of thousands upon thousands of the Jews of Germany who have suddenly found themselves without a home in the very land in which for countless generations they have lived and worked. For countless generations Jews of Germany had given to their country their sole allegiance, to the death of their lives; they had fought and died for it. They loved Germany, they had deep pride in its achievements, in its national culture, in its history, their work and in their native places. In every activity, in every walk of life, loyal citizens of Germany, they contributed to the up-building of what has been a great nation, in science and literature, in music and art, in business and industry and in every form of spiritual, moral and intellectual activity, they gained and held an honored place."

In Peace and War

"In peace they contributed to Germany's well-being; in war they laid down their lives for Germany's good and their own."

"They could not do so otherwise as good Jews. Their spiritual tradition, their deepest aspirations permeated their lives; they were their faith, halowed by the tradition of countless centuries, is based on loyalty and good citizenship."

"Suddenly, almost without warning, by official and national edict, all of the Jews of Germany—600,000 people—were singled out for destruction, economically, socially and physically. They have been harried and driven out of their positions in business, in public life, in industry and in commerce and in the professions.

"There has been no secrecy, no equivocation on the part of the German government. Hundreds of thousands of men and women in all walks of life have been ruthlessly and without pity deprived of their means of livelihood and of the primary rights of citizenship. Loyalty, patriotism, service have counted for naught. Doctors, lawyers, civil servants, university professors and other teachers, scientists, musicians, industrial workers, have been driven from their positions and have been denied the right to work at their vocations. Even the right of education is now being denied many of the Jewish children and youths, regardless of their intellectual attainments."

"These men and women in great numbers are now undergoing indescribable suffering and hardship. They must be helped lest they go hungry; they must be aided lest they yield to their despair and die."

Morris Rothenberg Speaks

The Nazis aim at "the complete elimination of Jewish economic life in the German Reich," Morris Rothenberg asserted. He said in part:

"Let no one be misled as to what is in the minds of the present rulers in Germany with respect to the Jewish population. It is no transient spirit of injustice that has taken hold of them. They aim at the complete elimination of Jewish economic life in the German Reich. Having first deprived them of their education and the opportunity of earning a livelihood, they next turned to the destruction of the laboring elements, and now they extend their extermination program of ruin to the Jewish industry."

the Jewish Quarterly Review. He also wrote in Hebrew for the periodicals Hashiloah and Leshonenu. He was completing a Hebrew manuscript when he became ill several months ago.

Born in 1861 in Zelm, Province of Kovno, Mordell arrived in this country in 1881. He was a member of the Russian army and read fluently in German, Aramaic, Hebrew, Russian, Yiddish and English.

During the past thirty years he has tutored in Hebrew and also had conducted a private Hebrew school. Among the men who encouraged his researches were Mayer Sulzberger and Marcus J. Row.

He is survived by his widow, Annie; four sons, Albert Mordell, attorney, editor and author of numerous books; Israel Mordell, "Quaker Militant," a biography of John Greenleaf Whittier; Professor Louis J. Mordell, member of the management faculty of the Hebrew University; Maurice M. Mordell, attorney and former ensign in the navy; and David Mordell; three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Rosen, Mrs. Mordell, Mendelshen and Miriam Mordell, and three sisters, Mrs. Fannie Spielman of Chicago, Mrs. Ada Wolfe of Philadelphia and Mrs. Rose Weiss.

Olympics Member Reassures Jews

He further observed, "There will be a number of Jews on the German Olympic team. I learned definitely that there are a number of Jewish athletes who are training for the Olympics in Germany and that when the games take place, they will be on a parity with other German contenders."

America Unites Foes of Nazis After 2 Years

Rosenfeld, Who Acted For Baer In Trial, Meets Again

America, land of the free, was the scene yesterday of a reunion between an anti-Nazi lawyer and a former client, both exiles from Germany, land of the "Aryen" mad. Dr. Kurt Rosenfeld—in this country to testify on law, justice and civil liberty in Germany, on June 27, before a group consisting of Arthur Garfield Hays, Dudley Field Malone, Clarence Darrow, George Z. Medalle, Stanley High and George Gordon Battle—had a pleasant chat with Hans Baer, whom he hadn't seen since the end of the trial of Baer in 1932 on the charge of killing a Storm Trooper.

Baer, who was acquitted, was forced to leave Germany immediately after the trial. Dr. Rosenfeld had been in Paris since March 15, 1933, editing Impress, a paper circulated throughout Europe giving the text of the trial of the German scene as Dr. Rosenfeld sees it.

Dr. Rosenfeld, "the Clarence Darrow of Germany," has the reputation of being the only lawyer ever to place Hitler on a witness stand in a court of law. He was the trial of Walter Abel, journalist who wrote things of the Fuehrer disapproved of, and who shortly after Hitler came to power, was found dead in a prison cell.

Dr. Rosenfeld stated there is a crisis in Germany and that civil war is extremely likely. A military dictatorship is probable, he believes, and the Hohenzollerns are expected to return. However, they would long endure, however.

The Nazis have lost ground because they have failed to keep a promise to abolish child and demerit laws. The young Germans are bitter over the restoration of the old inheritance laws.

Brest Litovsk Forms Stavsky Defense Unit; Issues Plea for Funds

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

WARSAW, June 21.—Leaders of the Brest Litovsk Jewish Defense Committee today issued a Stavsky defense committee and the joint presidency of Rabbis Ischok Zev and Solomon Wiczok.

The committee has issued an appeal for funds to promote its activity in regard to the young revisionist, who recently was sentenced to die for the murder of Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff in Palestine last year. The appeal described Stavsky as one who would be a righteous man and incapable of murder.

Brazilian Jews Support Stavsky Appeal

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

SAO PAULO, June 21.—A resolution pledging support to the appeal issued by Chief Rabbi A. H. Cohen of London, who called for further defense of Abraham Stavsky, the young Revisionist sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff, was adopted at a meeting held here by Revisionists and Zionist groups. Protests against the verdict, were also voiced at the meeting.

A similar meeting for Dr. Arlosoroff was held under the auspices of the Poale-Zion party and the League for Labor Palestine on the first anniversary of the labor leader's death.

"All the news concerning Jews is faithfully and promptly reported in the Jewish Daily Bulletin," the Jewish Daily Bulletin newspaper printed in English.
