Nazis Press Jews Hard In Frankfurt

Survey Discloses Loss of Nearly All Civil and Human Rights

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

FRANKFURT-AM-MAIN, July 8—The position of Jews in Frankfurt is today even worse than in Nuremberg, the seat of Julius Streicher's anti-Semitic activity, a survey by a special correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency discloses.

For the last six months the condition of the Jews has been going from bad to worse. Jews have virtually been deprived of every civil and human right here, and are daily subjected to the most humiliating experiences.

The streets of this town are now hung with streamers saying: "Jews are Not Fellow Citizens." Large banners are displayed everywhere flaunting the demand: "Jews Must Go From Frankfurt."

Drive Intense

The anti-Semitic campaign is so intensive here, that ninety per cent of the German shops are forced to display signs reading: "This is a German Business."

Most of the restaurants in this town make their appeal to "Aryan" trade by hanging out signs announcing that "Jews have been thrown out of here," or "Jews are not admitted here."

The large hotels are displaying announcements to the effect that "Jews and dogs are not allowed here."

Jews are not even safe when walking down the streets. Gangs of young Nazi hooligans follow every Jewish pedestrian taunting him with vile epithets, and making his passage impossible. And the Jews do not dare defend themselves against these attacks.

The Jews of this city have also been notified that they may not use the municipal baths, a ban that is now general throughout Germany.

From another Frankfurt in Germany, Frankfurt-am-der-Oder, it is reported today that twenty-five additional names are listed of Jews who are deprived of their citizenship.

Jews Refused Right To Statue of War Hero

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BERLIN, July 8—The statue of Ludwig Frank, the only Reichstag member to be killed in the World War, which was recently removed from the Goetheplatz in the city of Mannheim, may not be placed in the Jewish cemetery there, the municipal authorities of that city decided today.

The Frank statute was removed from the square by Nazis. The Jewish community petitioned the authorities for permission to place it in the Jewish cemetery. In refusing, the authorities gave as the reason the opinion that Frank had died for his country, not for the Jewish Community.

Jews to Mark Court Victory In Czernowitz

To Celebrate Ruling That Returned Autonomy To 11,000

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

CZERNOWITZ, July 8—A decision to celebrate the recent ruling of the Czernowitz court against the Minister of Public Worship and in favor of the autonomous existence of the Jewish Community, was adopted today by the Jewish Community here.

The celebration is intended to serve as a lasting memorial so that posterity may remember how the autonomy of the Jewish Community in Czernowitz was secured, leaders declared today.

At the same time, officials of the Jewish Community announced today that they will not consider themselves responsible for the tax debts incurred by the government commissioner during the period of his regime. The government commissioner was appointed by the Minister of Public Worship to administer the affairs of the Jewish Community here immediately after the dispute between the Community and the Minister started.

The debts incurred during the government commissioner's regime amount to millions of lei, it was disclosed today. These debts have endangered the existence of the entire Jewish Community of this city.

The government commissioner was appointed when the Minister of Public Worship deprived 11,000 Jews in Czernowitz of their franchise by changing the Community's election laws.

The Supreme Administrative Court in Czernowitz, however, ruled

Report Need For Labor In Crimea

Bumper Harvest Finds Dearth of Farm Hands In Jewish Colonies

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

MOSCOW, July 8—A shortage of labor is reported today from the Jewish colonies in Crimea in connection with the bumper harvest there.

The lack of farm hands in the Jewish colonies is endangering the harvesting of the crops. The shortage is ascribed to the fact that a large number of Jewish settlers left the Crimean settlements last year and returned to the cities to engage in industrial work.

The Moscow Emes, official Jewish Communist daily, reviews today the Jewish situation in Biro-Bidjan and emphasizes that the Far Eastern Jewish autonomous district is experiencing a period of prosperity. This prosperity, according to the paper, is expressed in the greater turnover in the local stores where the Jewish settlers spent 500,000 roubles in the month of May alone. It is also seen in the fact that the settlers are inviting their relatives from other parts of Soviet Russia to come to the Bureya.

The Soviet radio station in Chabarowsk, the largest radio station in the Far East, announces that it will include ten Yiddish programs in its monthly schedule.

4 Jews to Sit In New Lodz Body

New Council to Replace One Dissolved on July 2

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LODZ, July 8—The new Municipal council to be appointed by the government will include four and possibly five Jewish councillors out of a total of twenty-four councillors, it was learned here today.

The Lodz Municipal Council was officially dissolved July 2 when Minister of the Interior Koscialkowski issued an order to that effect.

The Lodz Municipal Council had consisted of a majority of anti-Semitic National Democratic (Endek) councillors, who opposed the present regime in Poland, and who on May 29 launched an attack on the Jewish councillors in the Lodz council, seriously wounding several of them.

Belgium Honors Jewess For Charitable Work

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BRUSSELS, July 8—The Belgian government today conferred the Order of the Belgian Knighthood on Mrs. A. Kubavitzki.

Mrs. Kubavitzki, who is the president of the Jewish Charitable Women's Organization in Belgium, was given the award for her philanthropic work.

Jewish Radio Plans Unknown in London

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, July 8—Postmaster General Tryon knows of no Jewish radio station that is to be erected in England, he stated today in the House of Commons. The Postmaster General declared that he has received no request to issue a license for such a radio station.

The erection of a Jewish broadcasting station in England had been reported in a number of English newspapers, provoking great interest. According to the report the station was to be devoted to Jewish programs only, avoiding anything that could be construed as propaganda.

Graft Attempt Costs Official His Soviet Job

Asked 25 Jews for 'Gift' In Exchange for Citizenship

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

MOSCOW, July 8—For extorting money from twenty-five declassified Jews on a threat of refusing to grant them citizenship, A. Greenblatt, chairman of the local Soviet in the township of Slavuta, Ukraine, was removed from his position today and will be put on trial together with a number of other local Soviet officials.

The twenty-five Jews discriminated against were recently permitted to take jobs in a local lumber mill, despite the fact that they were still being considered in the category of "declassified" elements. While working at the mill they proved to be among the best workers and were recommended for citizenship.

The local Soviet had no objection to granting them full citizenship. However, they were notified by some of the officials of the Soviet, including the chairman, Greenblatt, that citizenship would be granted to them only if they paid 500 roubles as a "gift" to the Soviet.

Having no alternative, the Jews sold everything they possibly could, and raised the 500 roubles. At the same time, however, the district prosecutor got wind of Greenblatt's demand and arrested him and several of his accomplices on the charge of "trading with citizenship."

Riots Flare In Several Polish Cities

Campaign by a Catholic Paper Stirs Attack in Upper Silesia

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

WARSAW, July 8—Anti-Jewish attacks in which the windows of many Jewish houses and shops were smashed are reported today from the town of Rybnick in Upper Silesia, while a wave of anti-Jewish propaganda is reported from several places in Pomerania.

The Rybnick riots started as a result of particularly venomous anti-Semitic propaganda conducted by the local Catholic paper, Zwiazek Katolicki. The report does not indicate whether any arrests were made.

Posters Urge Boycott

Slowo Pomorski, a leading Polish newspaper, reports today from Semplona, Pomerania, that many houses in the neighboring townships are displaying posters calling upon the Polish population to boycott the Jews. "All those buying from Jews are traitors to the country," the posters read.

The Polish paper emphasizes that the anti-Jewish campaign in Pomerania is being conducted most vigorously.

The Plock Assizes today acquitted three persons and sentenced one to a year imprisonment for the murder of Sindel Joskowitz, a Jew, who was killed last October 10.

Jaskowitz, a member of the Brith Hachail, Revisionist military organization, was fatally wounded, and several others were severely injured when they were attacked with knives by a band of anti-Semitic Polish peasant youth, while on an outing on the outskirts of Nowemiaso, in the district of Warsaw.

General Zionists Lead In West Galicia Vote

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

WARSAW, July 8—Incomplete results of the elections to the Zionist Congress from West Galicia give the World Union of General Zionists 13,000 votes, Mizrachi 4,000, the Laborites 5,000 and the Judenstaadt Party 600.

Ballot boxes in several districts were demolished as a result of heated disputes between the party-watchers and workers at the polls.

Col. Beck of Poland Part Jew, Report in London Newspapers

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, July 8—The assertion that Col. Josef M. Beck, Foreign Minister of Poland who is responsible for the friendly policy which the Polish government has adopted toward Nazi Germany, is "of partly Jewish origin," is made here in the English press.

The English press also pays a good deal of attention to the recently concluded Anglo-Polish trade agreement, declaring that Polish exporters will find a market in England for articles which were hitherto imported from Germany. In connection with the Anglo-Polish trade compact, it was pointed out here today that there has been a marked increase in the exchange of goods between Poland and Palestine during the past year. Poland imported from Palestine during 1934 goods to the value of 1,058,000 zlotys and had exported to Palestine goods with a value of 9,067,000 zlotys.

Intermarriage Fails to Give Jews Immunity to Diabetes

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

LONDON, July 8—Intermarriage does not lead to the decline of diabetes among Jews, Dr. E. Mueller establishes here in an article in the British Medical Journal.

Dr. Mueller bases his statement on observation made of the case histories of 1,372 patients studied with a view to establishing the hereditary factor in diabetes. In this series there were 132 Jewish patients in whom intermarriage was the rule. Of them thirty-three had diabetes.

The author postulates that diabetes is due to a congenital inferiority of the pancreas. This inferiority is an hereditary factor, he asserts.

Jews and Monarchs

Is monarchy good for Jews? This question is now being asked in two European countries: Austria and Greece.

In Austria, where the Jews fear the eventual coming of the Nazis to power, the restoration of the Hapsburg monarchy and the bringing of Archduke Otto to Vienna is looked upon with favor in some Jewish circles. It is believed that with the proclamation of Archduke Otto as Emperor of Austria, the Jewish position there may be more secure than it is now.

Similar is the situation in Greece where the movement of restoring a monarchy there is considered a realistic possibility. Though the Jewish population in Greece has no reason to complain against the present Tsaldarist regime which is very friendly toward the Jews, no one can predict what the future holds in store for Greek Jewry as long as there is no political stability in the country. Only a monarchy can save Greece from repeated civil wars and thus forever establish safety for the Jews, numerous Jewish leaders in Greece believe.

Monarchy in Austria

There are today thousands of Jews in Austria who still remember the regime of the Emperor Franz Joseph, who was known for his friendliness toward the Jews. In the event of restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty in Austria, many Jews believe that the pro-Jewish tradition of Franz Joseph would be revived by his successors.

With Austria what it is today and with the constant fear of a turn which may hand over the administration of the country to Nazis, the Jewish population would rather see the return of Archduke Otto to the throne than eventual control by Hitler. With Otto ruling Austria, the Italian influence over the young Austrian Emperor will no doubt be greater than that of Nazi Germany. The Jews in Austria have, therefore, nothing to lose if monarchy is restored there.

A King for Greece

In Greece the Jews will also lose little if the king is returned to power. The present regime, which is not anti-Jewish, is silently sponsoring the idea of bringing the king back to Athens. The one who opposed this idea was Venizelos. The Venizelist party has turned out to be definitely anti-Semitic, just as it is anti-monarchistic. Under a monarchy it will definitely not be permitted to grow. Hence the anti-Semitic movement in Greece will be checked if the king returns to the throne.

Officially the Jewish leaders of both Austria and Greece are refraining from an express of opinion on the advancing monarchist movements in these countries. The issue is too serious and too complicated and it is, therefore, logical that the Jews in these countries should abstain from committing themselves to any definite opinion. The situation, however, in these two countries—especially in Austria—is quite clear. It cannot get any worse under a monarch than it is today under the Cabinet of Dr. Schuschnigg. The promises made by Dr. Schuschnigg with regard to normal treatment of Jews in Austria are not at all being kept. Perhaps a Hapsburg will keep his.

The earliest extant manuscript of the Torah, of which only fragments have been preserved, was written in the fifth century.

Sees Extermination Facing Whole Race

Reviewing the growth of anti-Jewish persecutions in Germany, Ludwig Lore comes in the New York Post to the following conclusion:

The younger generation of Jews can no longer find a basis for social or economic life in the Reich. Many tens of thousands have left their homes in the hope of starting life anew elsewhere. All over Europe—everywhere—the question of saving the Jewish refugees from starvation and destitution has become one of the great international problems. His chances for finding work are practically nil. He lives in horrible barracks, his children are starving.

An entire race is facing extermination.

Voices Praise for London's Beth Din

The London Evening Standard carries the following editorial:

There is room for several forms of law in British administration.

Beth Din, of which Rabbi I. Abransky has been appointed Judge, illustrates one of them.

In origin it is an ecclesiastical court of arbitration. Today, London Jews who agree to do so may take both civil and religious disputes to it for settlement.

Its reputation for just findings is such that a Jew whose case has been adjudicated there rarely fails to accept its findings.

The Court of Beth Din is held in the East End, but many Jews of foreign birth and from all parts of the Empire seek to settle their differences there.

Rabbi Abransky has attained the honor of a Judge in Jewry at the age of 48.

Role of Jews In British Army

The Edinburgh Evening News, commenting on the role of the English Jews in the British army, brings out the following facts:

One of the greatest of the leaders of the Allied forces, the late General Sir John Monash, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., head of the Australian Army, was a Jew. Mr. Winston Churchill when Secretary of State for War, writing about the services of British Jews in the war, said: "Their record is a great one, and British Jews can look back with pride on the honorable part they played in the winning the Great War."

In Edinburgh at the outbreak of war there were approximately 1,500 men, women, and children of the Jewish faith. There were approximately 200 men of military age. Of these 153 served in the forces, and 20 were killed. Included in the 200 mentioned there were some physically unfit for service, who took work of national importance. During the war 50,000 Jews domiciled in the British Empire served with the various forces, and of these 2425 made the supreme sacrifice, while 6500 were wounded.

British Jews gained the following decorations: Victoria Crosses, 5; Distinguished Service Orders, 49; Military Crosses, 263; Distinguished Flying Crosses, 11; Distinguished Conduct Medals, 85; Military Medals 329; Meritorious Service Medals, 66; mentioned in dispatches, 336; foreign honors, 138; mentioned in home dispatches, 155; other distinctions, 159.

Herr Streicher In Berlin

The London Morning Post, writing on the growing influence of Julius Streicher in Germany, says:

While a half-hearted attempt is being made to curb anti-Semitic window-breakers, the arch-instigator of the anti-Semitic demonstrations, Herr Julius Streicher, is allowed to continue his distasteful propaganda campaign. Herr Streicher has now opened three branch offices in Berlin, from which the sale of his notorious newspaper, Der Stürmer, is organized.

The de Sola family of New York and London dates back in direct descent to ninth century Spain, where Baruch ben Ishac ibn Daud was born.

Mayor Names Kin of Dr. Wise To Family Court

Mrs. J. W. Tulin Is First Woman in State to Hold High Post

Mrs. Justine Wise Tulin, daughter of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, was yesterday sworn in as justice of the Domestic Relations Court at ceremonies in City Hall. She is the first woman in the State to hold a judicial post higher than magistrate.

Mayor LaGuardia, who swore in Mrs. Tulin, lauded her for her work as assistant corporation counsel in charge of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau in the law department.

"You have rendered a very valuable service to the City of New York," the Mayor said. "You have re-established and rehabilitated the workmen's compensation department in saving hundreds of thousands of dollars that formerly went to medical politicians."

"You cleaned that out and did a fine job."

"I may not keep you in this court for very long, but for the present it needs your vision and your understanding. I know you'll make good."

Term Is for 30 Days

Mrs. Tulin, who is thirty-two years old, thanked the Mayor simply for the appointment.

Her term will last thirty days after which it is believed that she will be appointed to succeed Justice Samuel D. Levy who has announced he will retire.

Mrs. Tulin said she had made no definite plans for changes in the court procedure. "My first job," she said, "is to find out all about my job."

Asked about her opinions on how the court should be run, she said, "Ask me that again in a few months."

Mrs. Tulin's last job was as legal assistant to Oswald W. Knauth, city relief administrator.

Authority on Compensation

She is known for her interest in labor and is regarded as an authority on workmen's compensation law. Mrs. Tulin is a graduate of Barnard College and Yale Law School.

After her early studies at Radcliffe and Bryn Mawr, she left school, changed her name and became a factory worker in the silk and woolen mills of Paterson and Passaic, N. J., in order to gain first-hand knowledge of labor conditions.

Her experiences in the mills have made her an ardent champion of social legislation and reform.

She is the widow of Prof. Leon Arthur Tulin of Columbia University, who had been one of her instructors at Yale.

Mrs. Tulin resides with her father and her son, Stephen Wise Tulin, 5, at 23 West Ninetieth Street.

Ancient Jewish Law on Burial Upheld by Court in Richmond

(Special to the J.D.B.)

RICHMOND, Va., July 8—The Schulchan Aruch, code of orthodox Jewish ritual, was backed by Judge William A. Moncure of the Richmond Chancery Court in a case hinging on whether the ancient code is still binding on Orthodox Jews.

The case involved the attempt of Isaac E. Goldman, Francis Goldman, Rebecca Goldman and Rose Goldman to remove their father's remains from an Orthodox to a Reform cemetery. Exhuming corpses is contrary to orthodox law.

Abraham Goldman, the father, who had been a member of the Sir Moses Montefiore Synagogue, leading Orthodox congregation, had been buried in the family plot in the Montefiore Cemetery. After his death, the children joined the Beth Ahabah Congregation, leading Reform congregation in Virginia.

When Rachel, the mother, died, she was interred in the Hebrew Cemetery, controlled by the Reform congregation. The children tried to exhumate the father's corpse so that it could be buried in the same plot, but the Orthodox trustees refused permission.

The children thereupon brought a bill in equity to enjoin the trustees from preventing the disinterment. In court, Rabbis Edwin N. Kallish and Sidney H. Lefkowitz, witnesses for the children, testified that the Schulchan Aruch, which forbids disinterment, is outmoded and no longer binding on Jews.

Judge Moncure accepted the testimony of Rabbis Aaron Lefkowitz and Forman, Conservative, and Rabbi Podhelovitz, Orthodox, to the effect that the disinterment would be highly improper. He refused the injunction.

Leroy Cohen was counsel for the complainants and Aaron Gross of Philadelphia appeared for the defendants.

Cautions Jews On Absentee Land Holding

Freiberger Says U. S. Citizens Must Develop Palestine Property

The danger of American Jews owning land in Palestine and not developing it was emphasized yesterday by the American Zion Commonwealth, in a statement issued by David Freiberger, its president.

"We have many purchasers, devoted Zionists, who in good faith have purchased land for sentimental reasons, who are unable to live in Palestine and have no plans for the improvement of the property," the statement says. "Such ownership is detrimental to the building of Palestine as well as to the owners, for the following reasons:

Cites Land Laws

"1. There is a law in Palestine known as the Land Dispute Ordinance, by virtue of which any person who is in possession of land, lawfully or unlawfully, even by force or violence, is allowed to remain in possession of the land until evicted by order of the Court, which is not easily done.

"2. There is another law in Palestine known as the Protection of Cultivators' Ordinance, which gives almost ownership rights to persons who lawfully or unlawfully take possession of land and cultivate it. These persons become statutory tenants after one year of occupation, and cannot later be evicted."

Trouble With Squatters

The American Zion Commonwealth, according to Mr. Freiberger's statement, has had constant litigation involving an expenditure of tens of thousands of dollars in order to protect the land against trespassers and squatters, because of the above laws.

"The only way to protect the land is to build or cultivate it," Mr. Freiberger warns.

The statement by the American Zion Commonwealth also touches upon the problem of preventing speculation in acquiring land from those who are not ready to improve it.

"We have found a solution to this problem," the statement points out. "An organization has been created under the auspices of the Central Bureau for Settlement of German Jews in Palestine, of which Dr. Chaim Weizmann is the head, and which has been organized for the purpose of acquiring land for German refugees. This new organization, known as the Rassco (Rural Agricultural Society Cooperative), will acquire land especially for absentee owners who have no desire to take possession and cultivate it, at a fair market price, and will resell such land to refugees upon fair prices and terms."

Seen as Bar in Speculation

Mr. Freiberger expresses the belief that in acquiring large tracts of lands, the Rassco will be in a position to regulate and dictate prices which will have the effect of preventing unwholesome speculation.

"We have every reason to believe that those of our Zionists in America who have purchased land from us and have no desire to take possession will not hesitate to dispose of their lands to the Rassco rather than to speculators," the statement concludes.

Reform Group Plans Parley at The Hague

Governing Body of World Union of Progressive Judaism to Meet July 21

(Special to the J.D.B.)

CINCINNATI, July 8—An informal conference of the governing body of the World Union for Progressive Judaism will be held July 21 at The Hague, Holland, it was announced here yesterday, to discuss "The Present Task of Progressive Judaism." The problem will be considered both from its philosophical aspect and also in relation to the practical work of the World Union.

Following the conference, on Monday, the governing body will hold a business meeting. A decision as to the policy to be pursued in furthering progressive work in Palestine will be made. Reports will be given on the development of the work of the Union in Johannesburg, Budapest, and Vienna.

The World Union, an organization for the promulgation of Reform Judaism throughout the world, is closely associated with the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

No Jews Get Degrees At Kishineff University

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

KISHINEFF, Rumania, July 8—The list of students receiving the bachelor's degree at the Kishineff University was made public here today and elicited considerable comment in Jewish circles because not one Jewish name is included.

The complete absence of Jews from the list is regarded here as testifying to the efficiency of the unofficial weeding-out process that is directed against the Jews in the Rumanian universities.

Nazis Press Jews Hard in Frankfurt

day by the Nazi Minister of Education Rust.

The new order calls for the dismissal of those teachers who are married to any "non-Aryans" even though the latter may have served in the German army and have seen duty at the front in the last war.

With this new order the Minister of Education aims to remove any possibilities of "contaminating" the minds of the "Aryan" youngsters in the schools through even the remotest contact with "non-Aryans."

Addressing a church conference in Kassel, Reichsbishop Mueller told his listeners that every German must realize the importance of keeping German blood untainted, and therefore all "non-Aryans" must be exterminated in Germany.

Jews being the enemies of Christ and Christendom, he said, they are therefore also the enemies of every German, and consequently every German must feel it a personal duty to have nothing whatsoever to do with the Jews.

Troubles Beset Famed Author's Heirs in Austria

Wassermann's Villa Near Vienna Is Sold At Auction

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

GENEVA—A picture of the difficulties encountered by Jacob Wassermann's heirs, is given by Mrs. Julie Wassermann, his first wife, in an interview with the "Israelitisches Wochenblatt für die Schweiz." In this interview, Mrs. Julie Wassermann points out that Jacob Wassermann's will showed the same loving consideration for her and her four children, as for his second wife.

The villa which he possessed at Grinzing near Vienna has been sold at auction. This step was not the work of creditors, but the act of a single mortgage holder whose claim, amounting to 3,000 Austrian shillings, was in the end reduced to 1,000. The security offered by a Dutch publishing house was refused. The Berlin publishing house of S. Fischer which owes the family Wassermann tens of thousands of marks and which could have paid them into a German account, refused to give anything to the creditor.

Sold for Small Sum

The villa was sold at auction for the extremely low sum of 58,000 Austrian shillings and it was bought by Herr Kommerzialrat Hollitzer, the husband of the well known Austrian actress, Tiny Sender.

Mrs. Wassermann at first thought that Hollitzer had bought the villa as an act of friendship toward Wassermann's family and was deeply disappointed when the real facts became known to her. The son of Wassermann, who lived in the villa, was informed that he had to move out only three hours before the officials came to claim possession of the building.

Wassermann's valuable library in the villa was packed up by certain people who had no relation with the Wassermann family. The books have now been deposited with the Vienna municipality.

According to Mrs. Julie Wassermann, an attempt is now being made to sell also Wassermann's villa at Alt-Aussee (Styria). According to the author's will, this house had been made over to her children and Mrs. Martha Wassermann. This house, too, contains an extremely valuable library with fourteen manuscripts by the author, and also all the books published by the Insel Verlag bound in vellum, as well as original editions of the publishing house of S. Fischer. Mrs. Julie Wassermann is at present doing her utmost to prevent the second house from falling under the hammer and is trying to raise the 40,000 Austrian shillings required for that purpose.

Zweiback Wins Over Matzoh in Unique Court Test in Budapest

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BUDAPEST.—Cellophane-wrapped zweiback may look for all the world like matzoh, but so long as it does not purport to be matzoh, it may be sold without hindrance.

So the Budapest authorities decided in a complicated case arising from the Altofen Jewish Community's attempt to stop the sale of "Vitamin-Zwieback" on the ground that it resembled matzoh so much that Jews might be fooled into eating it on Passover.

The case ran almost the entire gamut of judicial appeals before it was decided in favor of Alexius Grunzweig and Moritz Marmorestein, two Jewish bakers of Altofen in the Gyor district who make their living in the manufacture and sale of the cellophane-wrapped "Vitamin-Zwieback."

When the product first made its appearance on the market last year, the Jewish Community obtained an order from a local police magistrate enjoining the bakers from manufacturing the food.

The bakers appealed to the district police head who reversed the previous decision. Both decisions were then appealed to the authorities in Budapest who rendered verdict in favor of the bakers.

But the case isn't finished yet. The Jewish Community, not to be daunted, has brought the case to the attention of the Minister of Commerce and the Minister of Interior whose final decision is eagerly awaited by all concerned.

Jugoslavia Honors 5 For Forest Project Role

(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)

BELGRADE, July 8—Five Jews were today the recipients of special honors from the Yugoslavian government in recognition of their work in behalf of the Alexander Forest in Palestine, named after the late King Alexander.

The Jews so honored are: Dr. Marko Bauer, president of the Keren Kayemeth in Yugoslavia; Dr. A. Licht, president of the Zionist Organization; Dr. D. Albala, vice-president of the Belgrade Jewish Community; Falio Koenig, president of the Maccabi, and Mrs. Koenig, president of Hadassah.
