U.N. UNIT TO RECOMMEND STUDY OF RELIGIOUS DISCRIMINATION

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 7. (JTA) -- The United Nations Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities agreed today to add a study of religious discrimination to recommendations from three of its experts for studies of discrimination in the fields of education, employment, political rights, travel and residence.

The sub-commission rejected a resolution which would have the Economic and Social Council recommend to governments of member and non-member states review of their national legislation and administrative practices with a view to abolishing all measures of discrimination that might exist in the field of immigration.

The sub-commission also, after a two and a half hour debate, failed to accept an Indian motion placing the sub-commission on record as favoring establishment of the office of an Attorney-General for Human Rights.

The group acted on the question of religious discrimination after Dr. Isaac Lewin, of the Agudath Israel World Organization, appeared before it and described discrimination against the Jewish religion in many countries. He referred to laws introduced by the Nazis which still remained in force in many countries. Among discriminatory measures he cited were bans on schechita and restrictions on Sabbath observance.

The United Kingdom, United States, Swedish and Indian delegates immediately announced their support of the proposal.

Human Rights Unit to Study Proposal for Attorney General

The resolution on discrimination in immigration was defeated by a vote of six to four after the view was expressed that the sub-commission should not act on the question without first making a study of it.

The proposal for a U. N. attorney on human rights was first made by the Consultative Council of Jewish Organizations and was submitted to the General Assembly in a resolution introduced by Uruguay. The General Assembly in turn referred it to the Commission on Human Rights.

The Indian resolution would have had the sub-commission express its view that the office of attorney general for human rights would be helpful in making the work of the U. N. more effective in preventing discrimination and in protecting minorities. During the course of the debate it was pointed out that the Human Rights Commission would handle this question next year. The resolution was supported by Ecuador, Haiti, India and Sweden and opposed by Belgium, China, Poland and the Soviet Union. The United Kingdom and Iran abstained and the United States was absent.

MILLER SAYS OUTSIDE JEWS CANNOT BE SILENT ON ISRAEL EVENTS

TEL AVIV, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- Jews outside Israel are unable to give up their right to state their attitude on developments in Israel or to give up their right of persuasion by democratic means because decisions taken in Israel affect their lives, Rabbi Irving Miller, president of the Zionist Organization of America, said here last night.

The New Yorker made his first public appearance here at a meeting at Zionist House and discussed questions of relationship between the State of Israel and the Zionist movement. He said the State might prefer that outside Jews be indifferent to events in the State and give help only. This, he said, was not only impossible logically but did not accord with the interests of the State. Israel, he declared, belongs not only to Israelis but to the entire Jewish nation.

It was true, he said, that the Israelis had the right to decide their life but each decision had its positive or negative implication on the Jews of the Diaspora and therefore they were not able to give up their right to state their attitude or try persuasion by democratic means.

Rabbi Miller declared that discontinuance of intimate ties between the State and the Zionist movement would mean the breaking of the State's most reliable and sole ally.

Dr. Peretz Bernstein, leader of the Israel General Zionists, and Dr. Emanuel Neumann, member of the Jewish Agency Executive, who also addressed the meeting, re-asserted the readiness of the General Zionists to join the government coalition since the situation called for national unity. They said, however, that the condition for General Zionist entrance into the coalition must be facilities to enable improvement in the country's difficult situation.

SHILANSKY CHARGED WITH CARRYING EXPLOSIVES IN ISRAEL BOMB CASE

TEL AVIV, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- Dov Shilansky, the man arrested outside the Foreign Office here Sunday with a primed bomb in his possession, was today arraigned in Magistrate's Court on charges of carrying explosives.

He was remanded to jail for two weeks pending completion of the police investigation into the case. The police today continued searching for a definite link between Shilansky and the new underground organization, Sicricin, formed after the Herut demonstration against the German reparations negotiations early last year. It was reported that Shilansky was a company commander in the Israel Army during the War of Liberation.

MAPAM SETTLEMENT DELEGATES DEFEND MEMBER ARRESTED IN PRAGUE

TEL AVIV, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- Members of the Mapam--leftwing Socialist--collective settlement movement last night rejected the possibility that Mordechai Oren, Israeli Mapam leader arrested in Czechoslovakia for "anti-state activities," had committed any act aimed at injuring Czechoslovakia.

In a resolution adopted at the concluding session of Hakhibutz Haartzai conference, the delegates noted that Oren was "missing" from the parley. The resolution added that he might have made "mistakes" during his stay in Czechoslovakia, "but it is impossible to suggest that he did it with aims against the Czechoslovak Republic." The resolution expressed the hope that Oren would be "with us soon again."

SEES AUSTRIAN PAYMENT PACT 'INEVITABLE' AFTER GERMAN TREATY

LONDON, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- The signing of the Luxemburg reparations agreements between West Germany and the State of Israel and the Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany has made "inevitable" the settlement of the same problem in Austria, Dr. M. L. Perlzweig, World Jewish Congress representative, said here today. He stressed that the effect of the German settlement on Austrian public opinion had been "considerable."

Dr. Perlzweig reported that he had visited Vienna to discuss restitution matters chiefly because representatives of the Austrian Government had urged him to do so and described his reception as "very cordial and friendly."

He said he had been received by Chancellor Leopold Figl and Foreign Minister Karl Gruber as a representative of the only organization through which the Jewish people as a whole could speak to a government. "They knew exactly whom I represented and they knew there were organizations in the United States and elsewhere which I did not represent," Dr. Perlzweig declared. He disclosed that Chancellor Figl had said he was willing to discuss matters with representatives of world Jewry, "but I must have one partner with whom to do it."

Referring to the German Government view that Austria, as one of the successor states of the Hitler Reich, must pay its own restitution claims, and to the Austrian view that the Germans should pay restitution claims presented by the Jews, Dr. Perlzweig insisted that this was a matter to be settled between the Germans and the Austrians. He warned that the Jews must not permit themselves to be trapped in the middle of such a dispute.

Moslem Brotherhood Protests to Bonn Parliament Against Israel Pact

BONN, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- The Moslem Brotherhood has protested to the West German Government against the German-Israel reparations agreement and urged Parliament not to ratify it.

The Brotherhood wrote to Hermann Ehlers, president of the Bundestag, accusing the Bonn Government of "a hostile attitude" toward the Arab world. The letter appealed to Parliament not to ratify the agreement and said there was no justification for the pact as Israel was not the proper representative of world Jewry.

Jews From Germany to Discuss Their Restitution Claims

LONDON, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- Implementation of the German reparations agreement as it pertains to German Jews will be discussed at the forthcoming plenary session here of the Council of Jews from Germany Oct. 15. The parley is also scheduled to consider claims of Jews from Germany against the Jewish Restitution Successor Organization for a share of heirless property which the JRSO has taken over.

EX-GESTAPO CHIEF FOR SERBIA ON TRIAL FOR MASS MURDERS

BONN, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- The trial of Emanuel Schaefer, former Gestapo chief in Serbia, on charges of complicity in the murder of 6,000 Serbian Jews, opened in Cologne yesterday.

Schaefer, who is currently serving a sentence based on membership in the Gestapo, is accused of having ordered Jewish women and children loaded into specially constructed vehicles in which they were gassed to death. In 1942 Schaefer reported to Berlin that "Serbia is free of Jews." After the war Schaefer escaped detection as a prisoner in an American POW camp under an assumed name. He was later discovered working in Cologne.

SOCIALISTS ATTACK HANDLING OF RELIGIOUS MINORITIES IN ITALY

ROME, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- An attack on the Italian Government's policy towards religious minorities as a failure to enforce constitutional guarantees of religious liberty was made today at the Italian Social Democratic Party congress in Genoa. The attack followed government action in closing down the Churches of Christ, a Protestant sect.

The congress demanded that the government adopt specific laws embodying the constitutional guarantees, pointing out that the laws which still govern religious minorities in Italy are hangovers of the Fascist regime.

The delegates also paid tribute to the late Emanuele Modigliani, Jewish Socialist leader, who was exiled by Mussolini, for his fight against the dictatorship.

WAR VETERANS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION IN ATLANTIC CITY

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (JTA) -- The 57th annual convention of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States will open at the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City, on Oct. 15 and continue through Oct. 19. The convention will hear Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, and others and will name a successor to national commander Paul Ginsberg from three candidates, Harry Rubin, of Norwalk, Conn., Harry Madison, of Detroit, and Jesse Moss, of New York.
