

Vol. LXII - 67th Year

Tuesday, June 5, 1984

No. 106

KIMCHE SAYS BEIRUT REGIME MUST APPROACH ISRAEL ON WITHDRAWAL;
ISRAEL WILL NOT MAKE FIRST MOVE
By Gil Sedan

JERUSALEM, June 4 (JTA) -- Israel will not approach the Lebanese government for any deal aimed at the withdrawal of the Israel Defense Force from south Lebanon. But it will consider any proposal offered by the Beirut regime, David Kimche, Director General of the Foreign Ministry said today.

Speaking on the second anniversary of the start of "Operation Peace for Galilee," Kimche said Israel will follow a "pragmatic" course for the time being and will seek security arrangements in south Lebanon in cooperation with local elements, not the Lebanese government.

"We will not run after them, neither do we intend to repeat the process of Khalde and Kiryat Shemona," Kimche said. He was referring to the long drawn out negotiations in those towns that led ultimately to the May 17, 1983 withdrawal and security agreement between Israel and Lebanon -- an agreement repudiated this year by the government of President Amin Gemayel.

Nevertheless, Kimche said, if the government of Lebanon offers Israel proposals that would make feasible the withdrawal of the IDF from south Lebanon, "we shall be pragmatic and consider them."

According to Kimche, Syria is anxious for an Israeli pull-out of Lebanon and would be likely to ignore negotiations between Jerusalem and Beirut as it had a year ago. Gemayel's repudiation of the May 17, 1983 pact was attributed to intense pressure from Syria.

Kimche repeated that no formal request has been received from the Lebanese government to shut down the liaison office Israel maintains in a northern suburb of Beirut. However, he believes such a request is "imminent."

MONDALE, HART CHALLENGE JACKSON ON U.S. RELATIONS WITH ISRAEL
By David Friedman

NEW YORK, June 4 (JTA) -- Former Vice President Walter Mondale and Sen. Gary Hart (D. Col.) rejected last night the Rev. Jesse Jackson's contention that the United States favors Israel to the detriment of its relations with the Arab countries.

The three Democratic Presidential contenders repeated their positions on the Middle East in response to questions from NBC's Tom Brokaw in the last nationally televised debate of the primary campaign. They were in California for the debate, one of five states holding primaries Tuesday, the last primaries before the Democratic National Convention opens in San Francisco July 16.

Jackson, who said too much attention had been paid to the Middle East in the campaign while other areas such as Asia and Africa had been ignored, reiterated his position that the U.S. in the Mideast has "too many interests and too few friends." He said Israel's friends should not only seek to provide Israel with aid but to "get Israel's enemies to stop being her enemies. That means having leadership that's bold enough and courageous to meet with all forces."

Mondale and Hart asserted the problem in the Mideast has been that except for the Egyptian President Anwar Sadat the Arab countries have refused Israel's right to exist.

"It is not as if we haven't talked to Israel's enemies," Hart said. "We have armed them." He said Jordan, Saudi Arabia and other Arab countries "now possess very sophisticated American military equipment."

Mondale said that the "greatest mistake" the U.S. can make in the Mideast is to accept the "notion that only by somehow pressuring Israel, by expressing some kind of tentative relationship between the United States and Israel" peace can be achieved.

Noting that he participated in the Camp David talks during the Carter Administration, Mondale declared, "It was only when it was clear that the United States was unequivocally supporting Israel and their Arab neighbors had to make peace with that permanent nation" that Sadat decided to negotiate with Israel. He said Sadat demonstrated the path for the other Arab leaders to take.

JUSTICE MINISTRY TO PROBE
DEATH OF 2 BUS HIJACKERS
By Gil Sedan

JERUSALEM, June 4 (JTA) -- The Justice Ministry announced today that State Attorney Yona Altman will head a special investigation into the killing of two young Arab bus hijackers by Israeli security forces April 13. He will be aided by a team of military and civilian prosecutors and regular and military police.

The hijackers, taken alive when Israeli troops stormed the bus to free its passengers, were later bludgeoned to death according to the report of a special committee of inquiry headed by Maj. Gen. (res.) Meir Zorea. "Members of the security forces" have been implicated in the killings. The investigation will try to determine what charges should be pressed against which individuals.

Two officers not directly implicated have been reprimanded by their superiors for negligence in preventing the killings. They are Maj. Gen. Moshe Bar Kochba, commander of the southern region where the incident occurred and an officer of the Shin Bet (secret service) whose identity is secret under the law.

EUROPEANS EXPRESS CONCERN ON SOVIET JEWS

STRASSBOURG, June 4 (JTA) -- A formal declaration expressing concern over the treatment of Jews in the Soviet Union and viewing the curtailment of their right to emigrate as an impediment to improved East-West relations, was released here today bearing the signatures of 240 members of the Parliament of Europe.

The President of the Parliament was instructed to send the document to President Konstantin Chernenko of the USSR and to the heads of government of the 10 member states of the European Economic Community (EEC), and the Secretary General of the United Nations, the World Jewish Congress European Branch reported.

The declaration expressed hope that the Soviet Union will honor its commitments under the Helsinki Agreement guaranteeing basic human rights and voiced great concern over the upsurge of anti-Semitism in the Soviet press and other media. It also regretted the restrictions on Jewish emigration which it saw as a barrier to improved relations between the USSR and the West.

The signatories urged the Soviet government to allow all Jews who wish to leave to reunite with their families abroad to do so freely and called on the Soviet authorities to end the harassment and persecution of Jews who have expressed their desire to leave. The Soviet government was also asked to allow Jews remaining in the Soviet Union full freedom to observe and practice their religion and culture.

DULZIN SAYS JEWISH SCHOOLS IN LATIN AMERICA NEED TRAINED TEACHERS

NEW YORK, June 4 (JTA) -- The major problem of Jewish schools in South American countries is lack of professional teachers of Jewish subjects, Leon Dulzin, chairman of the Jewish Agency and World Zionist Organization executives, said on a visit here on his return from a conference in Caracas, Venezuela. He promised "we will do our utmost to obtain competent Israeli teachers for them."

He met at the two-day Caracas meeting with leaders of Zionist organizations and Jewish communities of Mexico, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Venezuela, Columbia, Ecuador and Peru. He reported that Latin American Jewry "is fully cognizant of the crucial importance of Jewish education and aliya for creative Jewish survival," the primary topics of the meeting.

He said Jewish communities of all of the seven countries have Jewish schools which are attended by 70 to 80 percent of their Jewish children. He described the "Senior High School Year in Israel" program in Peru in which the Jewish day school's graduating class participated with "enthusiastic success," adding that Mexican Jewry had adopted such a program and the Jews of Venezuela will start it this year.

Venezuela Jewry has just built a modern Zionist center in Caracas to accommodate all Zionist activities, including offices for the United Israel Appeal and the Jewish National Fund. In Caracas, Dulzin opened Venezuelan Jewry's JNF campaign which he said was one of the best in the diaspora.

New Generation Committed To Israel

He said that though Latin American Jewry is beset by severe economic problems, the new generation of Jewish leadership is of a high quality which intends to fulfil its commitment to Israel. He reported that "your children cannot be accepted in Venezuela's first rate Jewish school unless you have fulfilled your obligation to Keren Hayesod."

He announced that the United States "Think Tank" will study reorganization of the world Zionist movement September 16-18. The think tank is made up of one representative of each Zionist organization and a number of intellectuals and academics, among them the presidents of three religious institutions, Gerson Cohen, chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America; Dr. Alfred Gottschalk, president of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion; and Dr. Norman Lamm, president of Yeshiva University; and Prof. David Sidorsky, Saul Cohen, president of Queens College, Prof. David Landis, Prof. Howard Adelson and Eliezer Lipsky.

In New York, Dulzin met with the Board of Governors of the Jewish Agency, with Max Fisher and Jerold Hoffberger, and Gerald Kraft, president of B'nai B'rith; Alleck Resnick, president of the Zionist Organization of America; Martin Citrin, president of the Council of Jewish Federations; Morris Abram, chairman of the National Conference on Soviet Jewry; and Martin Mandell, chairman of the Jewish Agency's education committee.

LAW CHANGES THREATEN JEWISH ACTIVISTS By Maurice Samuelson

LONDON, June 4 (JTA) -- The life of Jewish activists in the Soviet Union could be made harsher than it already is because of new alterations in Soviet law, says a study published here by the Institute of Jewish Affairs.

Major amendments in the Soviet criminal code were made following a decree adopted by the Presidium of the USSR Supreme Soviet earlier this year.

Analyzing the changes, the institute, research arm of the World Jewish Congress, says they make Soviet law "considerably more repressive," that they restore features of Stalinist legislation, and that some of the changes contradict the spirit of the Helsinki final act.

Major amendments in respect of so-called anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda provide for tougher penalties for actions committed with foreign support.

The report says this could affect dissidents and refuseniks who receive help from abroad, making them liable to more onerous punishment and discouraging them from accepting foreign help even when they lack other means of support.

These and other changes, says the institute, can be partly regarded as the restoration of provisions removed from the criminal code in the destalinization program of the late Nikita Khrushchev.

CORRECTION

A story on Page 2 of the JTA Daily News Bulletin of Friday, June 1, erroneously identified Charlotte Jacobson as chairman of the World Zionist Organization-American Section. Mrs. Jacobson is president of the Jewish National Fund. She was succeeded in the WZO post in 1983 by Bernice Tannenbaum.

STONE SAYS JEWS IN LATIN AMERICA SPECIAL TARGET OF LEFTIST GUERRILLAS

NEW YORK, June 4 (JTA) -- Jewish businessmen in Central and South America are special targets of left-wing guerrillas, according to Richard Stone, President Reagan's former special envoy to Central America. He said they have become victims of kidnapping, extortion and anti-Zionist propaganda.

Addressing the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith's National Commission last week, the former Florida Democratic Senator said the number of Jewish businessmen who have been abducted is far out of proportion to non-Jewish businessmen who have suffered the same fate. He said the guerrillas responsible have close connections with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

The pressures on Jewish businessmen in Latin America have become "particularly intense" during the last five years, Stone indicated. The fear of retribution against themselves and fellow Jews deters the businessmen from reporting their victimization, Stone said. This, he added, makes it difficult to determine the actual extent of the problem.

As a result of their victimization at the hands of guerrilla forces, Jews make up a very large portion of those forced to flee from the politically volatile regions, Stone said.

WIFE SAYS SHCHARANSKY HAS LEARNED MEANING OF BEING A JEW AS SHE ACCEPTS YESHIVA U.DEGREE IN ABSENTIA

NEW YORK, June 4 (JTA) -- Yeshiva University today presented its first honorary degree in absentia to Soviet Jewish Prisoner of Conscience Anatoly Shcharansky, who is currently serving a prison term in the Soviet Union's notorious Chistopol prison. Avital Shcharansky, Anatoly's wife, in accepting the award at commencement ceremonies at the University, said, "Anatoly has learned the meaning of being a Jew in its deepest and most trying sense."

"As nations the world over quiver before the might of the Soviet Union, as principles are compromised around the negotiating tables as a sacrifice to realpolitik and balances of power and terror, a single supposedly defenseless man, suffering from a serious heart condition, stands firm and does not flinch before the tyrant," Mrs. Shcharansky told the graduates at the University's 53rd annual commencement. "His tormentors have not broken his spirit," she said.

Sen. Alfonse D'Amato (R, NY), who also addressed the graduates, assailed the Reagan Administration's sale of Stinger anti-aircraft missiles to Saudi Arabia. He described the sale as "sinister." He asked, "Why should we arm the Saudis? Why should we arm the Iraqis?" The Senator expressed the hope that both Iran and Iraq, engaged in the Persian Gulf war for nearly four years, succeed in destroying each other.

JEWS COMPLAIN ABOUT GERMAN NEO-NAZI

By David Kantor

BONN, June 4 (JTA) -- The Jewish community of Lower Saxony has accused the West German authorities of allowing wanted neo-Nazi leader Michael Kuehnen to travel freely and leave the country despite several warrants for his arrest issued by various courts.

Michael Fuerst, a Hannover lawyer who is chairman of the Jewish community, told reporters today that legal proceedings have been initiated against still unknown persons who deliberately prevented the prosecution of Kuehnen. He said the intention is to find out who is responsible for the failure to arrest him.

Kuehnen was interviewed on West German television from Paris several days ago and at a house where he is staying in a remote part of France. He said he had little difficulty leaving West Germany for Switzerland. He was held in custody for a few hours and then allowed to cross the border. According to Kuehnen, the highest authorities in Bonn were consulted by telephone while he was being detained and a decision was taken to allow him to proceed.

Asked why the German authorities were so lenient, he replied that there was "some, though limited level of understanding the need to promote national elements," meaning, presumably, neo-Nazi elements. He admitted that his house in France was made available by an old French "comrad" who was once but is no longer an active member of the Nazi movement.

Kuehnen also admitted freely that he is engaged in a worldwide effort to raise money for his movement and bring together German "national forces." He said that since he left Germany he has travelled extensively in Europe and intends soon to visit sympathizers in South America.

ISRAEL READY TO AID LIBERIA

By Gil Sedan

JERUSALEM, June 4 (JTA) -- A senior official said today that Israel is prepared to give military aid to Liberia to bolster the regime of President Samuel Doe against opposition elements trying to undermine it.

But the question of military aid was not discussed in any detail when Premier Yitzhak Shamir met here recently with the visiting Liberian Defense Minister, Gray Allison, the official said. Shamir however promised to continue economic aid to Liberia.

Liberia and Zaire are the only Black African states to restore diplomatic relations with Israel which were broken at the time of the Yom Kippur War in 1973.

MOSLEMS PROTEST ISRAELIS IN LEBANON

By Hugh Orgel

TEL AVIV, June 4 (JTA) -- Lebanese Moslems staged a general strike today against the continued presence of Israeli forces in south Lebanon. The occasion was the second anniversary of the Israeli invasion of Lebanon. The strike was effective in Moslem areas but largely disregarded in Christian zones.

In south Lebanon, Israeli troops patrolled areas affected by the strike. Tires were burned on the coastal road south of Sidon, halting traffic for a time. Many merchants observed the strike nominally. While their show windows were plastered over with strike notices, business as usual was conducted inside.

A remote controlled explosive device was detonated near Joiya village as an Israeli patrol passed by today but there were no casualties.

KOLLEK DENIES STATEMENT ON EMBASSY

By Gil Sedan

JERUSALEM, June 4 (JTA) -- Jerusalem Mayor Teddy Kollek denied that he objected to the moving of the United States Embassy in Israel from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

Sol Linowitz, former U.S. autonomy negotiator, was reported recently to have quoted Kollek as being opposed to the move, because it would embarrass President Reagan.

However, in a cable to Linowitz, Kollek stressed that Jerusalem was the capital of Israel and it was too bad that the American Embassy had not been moved there many years ago. Kollek said he did not believe that giving in to Arab demands would improve the standing of either the U.S. or Israel.

Linowitz replied to Kollek that he was misquoted and that he was well aware of Kollek's position on the status of Jerusalem for many years.

IAI BUILDS F-15 FUEL TANKS

TEL AVIV, June 4 (JTA) -- The Defense establishment's Israel Aircraft Industries (IAI) has completed manufacture of a series of special fuel tanks for F-15 fighters in use with the U.S. Air Force, designed to increase the plane's internal fuel capacity by 70 percent.

IAI built 50 sets of the tanks for the American manufacturer of F-15s, McDonnell-Douglas, under a $30 million deal as part of an agreement whereby the U.S. orders parts in Israel to reciprocate for Israeli purchases in the U.S.

Unlike conventional extra fuel tanks which are placed under the wings of aircraft, the conformal tanks, which are also produced in the U.S., are attached to the plane's fuselage. They are specially contoured to prevent additional drag at subsonic speeds and create far less drag at supersonic speeds than the conventional under-wing external tanks.

REMINDER: There will be no Daily News Bulletin dated June 7 because of the Shavuot holiday.

TWO JEWISH GROUPS MEET WITH UN SECRETARY GENERAL, COMPLAIN ABOUT ANTI-JEWISH, ANTI-ISRAEL ATTACKS

NEW YORK, June 4 (JTA) — United Nations Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar met separately with the leadership of two major Jewish organizations over the weekend to hear expressions of grave concern over the rising incidence of anti-Jewish and anti-Israel attacks during the deliberations of the world organization.

A delegation of the American Jewish Committee, headed by its president, Howard Friedman of Los Angeles, was received by de Cuellar at his office Friday. The Secretary General also had a private luncheon with Edgar Bronfman, president of the World Jewish Congress and other senior WJC officials.

Both meetings took place on the eve of de Cuellar's departure Sunday on his first visit to the Middle East since taking office. He will visit Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Israel.

According to a WJC participant, their three hour discussion dealt with general international problems, especially the Middle East and East-West relations and specific concerns relating to the WJC's role at the UN where it holds consultative status as a non-governmental organization.

Bronfman Expresses Outrage And Concern

Bronfman expressed a deep sense of outrage and concern felt by the WJC at the use of unambiguous anti-Semitic language on the part of certain representatives during UN debates. The Secretary General said that his office categorically dissociates itself from such developments and promised that he would personally and publicly make clear his determination to act against the use of any form of racist or anti-Semitic language within the UN, the WJC participant reported.

Bronfman stressed that the Jewish people had been and remain the firmest supporters of the principles and purposes of the UN Charter and are deeply troubled by recent developments which undermine the Charter, such as efforts to isolate and exclude Israel from UN bodies. The Secretary General affirmed his support of the principle of universality of membership in the UN and pledged to fight for its continuance.

Anti-Jewish Incitement Outlined

The AJCommittee leaders presented the Secretary General with two memoranda dealing with Jewish attitudes toward the UN and its international agencies. One of them, prepared by Sidney Liskofsky, an expert on the UN and human rights, detailed the long history of the AJCommittee's involvement in the promotion of human rights, dating from the 1912 London Peace Conference and the 1919 Paris Peace Conference, through the formulation of an international bill of rights that was included in the UN Charter adopted at the founding conference of the UN in San Francisco in 1945.

The second document, by Allan Kagedan, an AJCommittee research analyst in international relations, outlined "Anti-Jewish Incitement at the UN" which has led to "disillusionment... widely shared not only among Jews but by the American people at large" and by "the people of the democratic nations generally."

Kagedan cited specifically outbursts at the 1983 General Assembly by the representatives of Libya, Iraq, Syria and Belorussia against Jews that were reminiscent of "the themes and rhetoric of the Nazi era." The AJCommittee leaders told the Secretary General that "As troubling as the incitement itself is the failure of virtually the entire membership — all but Israel and the U.S. — to speak out in condemnation of the Hitlerian obscenities uttered in the hallowed chambers of the world organization."

ORTHODOX RABBIS URGED TO STUDY RELIGIOUS NEEDS OF WOMEN

LANCASTER, Pa., June 4 (JTA) — Rabbi Gilbert Klaperman, outgoing president of the Rabbinical Council of America, an Orthodox rabbinical group, said here that he hoped his successor would create a commission on religious needs of women which he had not been able to do.

He told the 48th annual convention of the Rabbinical Council there was "an urgent need" for such a commission to deal "with the needs of women to find some form of rewarding participation" in the Orthodox synagogue. He added that such a commission should study and issue guidelines on areas in which women "may legitimately take part in women's prayer groups, as well as in the administrations of synagogues, within Halachic parameters."

Rabbi Klaperman said he had been unable to form such a commission during his presidency "because of many other pressures which preempted my time." He said he left to his "successors the urgent request" to create such a commission.

No action on the proposal was taken at the convention but Rabbi Klaperman, who was succeeded as president by Rabbi Louis Bernstein of the Young Israel of Windsor Park in Bayside, N.Y. said he would propose establishment of such a commission at the next executive board meeting of the organization.

In Orthodox synagogues at present, women sit separately from the men during services; only men lead the services; and in most congregations only men are officers.

Rabbi Klaperman said the guidelines he hoped that the commission would approve need not be applied mandatorily in each congregation. But, he added, the guidelines would "first, demonstrate our concern and interest, and, second, make it possible to implement a Halachically-acceptable program where desired."

He listed among the items that might be considered as women membership on synagogue boards, women carrying the scrolls on Simchat Torah, women's prayer groups, Torah study and Bat Mitzvah. He declared there was "a heightened consciousness of women which requires recognition and there is no reason to withhold it from them so long as it is within the framework of Jewish law. The issue of women in the synagogue must be addressed squarely and fairly with the intention of coopting the talents and dedication of women who wish to serve our people and our God."

He noted that many Orthodox women were educated in Orthodox day schools and are able to be actively involved in synagogue experience.

TEL AVIV (JTA) — Israeli physicians believe they have made an important breakthrough in the treatment of burns. Medical researchers at the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical School and doctors at Shaare Zedek Hospital, both in Jerusalem, are reported to have perfected a new technique for culturing skin tissues. The Israeli researchers say they can grow a 4 by 8 inch sheet of skin from a few cells in about two weeks.